The Trust has given support to students in Uganda to gain an education that would not be available to them if they had no financial backing. The number of students supported is decreasing as some have completed their education and no new students are being taken on. New sponsors are not coming forward and coupled with increasing fees means there is a strain on funding to keep existing students going.

Section E Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

All funds raised are used to provide education for young needy people as and when required. The provision for fees required in the coming years is totally dependant on the future donations and sponsorship raised at the time.
