Objectives and Activities

The objects of the Trust as defined in the Trust Deed, dated 1st September 1994 are:

- To relieve poverty, sickness and the distress arising therefrom and to advance education, particularly but not exclusively of children, in the town of Nagpur, India and its surrounding areas.
- This is interpreted into Objectives, reviewed on a regular basis by the Trustees.
- To support and fund CRTDP in developing self-determination, education, health, housing, restoration of human rights and the personal development of rural tribal people, slum residents and women and children from both areas.
- To assist with emergency funding when lives are threatened.
- To meet these objectives, Phoenix India will require CRTDP to submit an annual report on completion of their work. Additionally, PHOENIX-India trustees will make periodic visits to CRTDP to carry out review audits of the work being funded.

Chair's Report

The Covid-19 pandemic continued to cause suffering at the start of the year, with the state of Maharashtra being particularly affected by a second wave sweeping the country. At the peak of the situation, in May 2021, it was documented that over 60,000 people had died and there were more than 4 million confirmed cases. Vimal Jadhav, President of CRTDP, was one of the many who contracted Covid-19. She became very ill and was admitted to hospital twice, once in May and again in June. Thankfully she made a full recovery and was able to return to work at the end of June.

The resultant lockdown caused major disruption throughout the state of Maharashtra and CRTDPs ability to function was significantly compromised. The tough restrictions affected all of the Phoenix India funded projects including health camps, women's support groups, skill training, day care centres, water conservation, agriculture awareness training, landless labour and other village level meetings. By September, the successful rollout of the Covid vaccination programme had led to restrictions easing and the resumption of the ongoing projects.

One project that resumed very positively was the distribution of loans to Self Help Groups (SHGs), for the development of small businesses. CRTDP and DWCDI have been working with women's leadership groups and self-help groups for over 40 years. This has been made possible through the distribution of grants and, more recently, low interest loans through collaboration with two of India's leading financial institutions, ICICI (Industrial Credit investment Corporation of India) and NABFINS (NABARD Financial Services). NABFINS has provided low interest loans for several years, which CRTDP have been able to distribute to over 500 SHGs, allowing many poor people to start their own business. Due to the success of CRTDPs involvement in this project, ICICI agreed to finance another project which has distributed a total of Rs.97,000,000 to 283 women, allowing them to start a new business during the year. This has made a huge difference in the lives of some of Nagpur's poorest people, allowing them to provide for their families.

CRTDP re-established two of the water conservation and agriculture awareness projects. The NABFINS financial involvement has also enabled CRTDP to manage the distribution of low interest loans to poor farmers for the purchase of seeds and fertiliser. This has been particularly beneficial to mitigate the losses incurred by poor farmers when the monsoon fails or devastating rains destroy crops before they can be harvested, and farmers have to start again with no money to do so.

Village level meetings for landless awareness and rural development training, health camps and tailoring classes all resumed during the year.

The women's counselling centre at Khaparkheda police station, managed by experienced social worker, Ms. Savita Fulzele, continued to operate throughout the lockdown period, initially via phone calls and then through controlled environments, which ensured people were maintaining acceptable social distancing. As the restrictions were eased further, the centre was able to resume full functionality. Initial meetings with clients were reintroduced, which was followed up with subsequent counselling sessions to review how things were progressing. Savita was also able to visit clients' homes to ensure that all parties were complying with the agreed course of action. Despite the impact of the Covid-19 restrictions, CRTDP was able to deal with 121 cases during the course of the year, more than half of which were successfully resolved.

Nagazari village continues to be the rural headquarters for CRTDP, where it first started its work in 1980. CRTDP has a registered office, guest house, community hall and medical dispensary, which has been served by a community nurse. Tailoring classes have been conducted there for almost thirty years by one of CRTDP's longest serving employees, Mrs. Manorama Bhoge, who moved to Nagazari in 1994 to work for CRTDP along with her late husband, Arjun. Other activities in Nagazari have included poultry farming, goat rearing, cultivation of tree saplings for watershed projects and the manufacture of compressed earth blocks for low cost houses and toilets. Activities have been limited in recent years due to a lack of funding but Phoenix India will endeavour to continue to support these village projects as much as possible going forward.

CRTDP plan to renovate the Community Centre in the village of Mandwa, which is approximately five kilometres from Nagazari. During my first visit to India in 1995, Mandwa was the centre of several very successful watershed projects. At that time, two engineers stayed in the guesthouse and the community nurse visited regularly, dispensing medication and providing basic care. The CRTDP office has been empty for most of the time since the watershed projects came to an end. However, the office has been renovated and CRTDP hope to be able to cooperate with other NGOs to fully utilise it by implementing computer and tailoring skill development courses.

Following the renovation of the healthcare centre at Sheshnagar village, CRTDP have been conducting meetings to arrange the disbursement of Self-Help Group loans for local farmers and small scale businesses. In addition to this, the centre is being used to undertake social and health surveys in the village. There have also been health camps held to promote health care within the rural setting.

The Phoenix India funded Mother and Child Care Centre at Yerangaon was renamed the Jussi Brodd School of Excellence after the late Rev. Jussi Brodd, who was a great friend and benefactor to CRTDP. The school provides care and education for around 40 children from 10 surrounding villages. CRTDP rents out two rooms within the complex. This substantially funds the cost of running the 'Kindergarten', which is served by three dedicated teachers. This is the first school within the area where villagers feel they can easily enrol their children, who receive an invaluable early life education that would otherwise be unavailable locally. CRTDP have been trying to obtain government permission to start operating classes for older children.

CRTDP has been trying to revive the skill development classes at BMPT since prior to the Covid pandemic. With support from some government funding agencies, there has been some success in this regard. Three-day financial literacy courses were held, at which almost 600 youths gained an excellent fundamental knowledge of how to manage their finances.

Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) is a major constituent element of the Indian Government, Department of Space (DOS). It is India's foremost office in all matters relating to space exploration, and the associated science and technological advances. As well as this, the organisation contributes to science and science education within the country in general and provides support to NGOs promoting science related education as part of their remit. In March 2022, CRTDP submitted a proposal to ISRO, for a three-month health care assistant training course. The proposal was accepted and CRTDP was able to provide training to 30 students from some of the poorest villages in the surrounding vicinity. The course, which was residential, provided training on various subjects including gynaecology, anatomy, physiology, public health, general surgical nursing and midwifery. The students also received practical experience at Mure Memorial Hospital in Nagpur, with which CRTDP has a long association of mutual cooperation. All the students passed the exam and 70% have already obtained positions in hospitals within the Nagpur area.

CRTDP have plans to expand the Fetri complex by constructing additional first floor accommodation. This will be financed by utilising rent from the 24 shops and two banks, which currently lease buildings from CRTDP. Once complete, the new accommodation will generate additional income for CRTDP, which can be utilised to develop existing and new projects and improve terms, conditions and benefits for the loyal and conscientious staff.

In the lead up to Christmas, CRTDP undertook their annual distribution of blankets to the poorest and most needy people in the rural areas surrounding Nagpur. The programme focused on distributing 250 blankets to the elderly and people with disabilities in the villages of Nagazari, Mandwa, Katangdhara and Kanholibara. The blankets were donated by Churches Auxiliary for Social Action (CASA), which has provided CRTDP with blankets for many years. During the winter months, a blanket can make a huge difference in the lives of some of Nagpur's poorest and most vulnerable.

It wasn't possible for any trustee to visit Nagpur during the year unfortunately. However, we have received regular updates from CRTDP, which has allowed us to remain informed with regard to the health and wellbeing of our friends and colleagues, as well as how the projects are progressing and developing. My wife and fellow trustee, Yashoda, plan to return to Nagpur in July 2023 with our three daughters. We are very much looking forward to reuniting with family and friends after an almost four-year absence.

We were deeply saddened to hear of the passing of Phoenix India Life President, Jean Byworth, on 28th November 2022. Jean, along with her husband, Simon, visited Nagpur in the late 1980's and early 1990's. They were so moved by the difficulties being endured by the poor people whom they met, and heartened by the tremendous work being done by CRTDP to alleviate this, that they decided they must do something to help. They met with some friends and, together, they formed Phoenix India, which was formally constituted on 1st September 1994. Jean was instrumental in the development of the charity and the projects it has supported since its inception. Jean returned to Nagpur with Simon numerous times over the intervening years. She had a special affinity for the work being done by DWCDI and a real empathy for the destitute women and children who were being supported. She was loved, respected and held in the highest esteem by all those who knew her. CRTDP have created a memorial hall, dedicated in Jean's memory. As you enter the hall, there is remembrance stone at the doorway. The message is clearly heartfelt and indicative of how Jean was perceived, referring to her simply as 'Mother of the Destitute'.

As always, the trustees would like to extend our grateful thanks to all our supporters for their continued kindness and generosity. We would also wish to commend the love, dedication and conscientious selflessness of Vimal Jadhav, Santosh Pillai, Roshan David and all the staff of CRTDP, DWCDI and BMPT, particularly during this extremely difficult pandemic period, as they work to alleviate poverty and the hardships suffered by some of the poorest and most destitute people in the Nagpur area of India.

Financial Review

- We commenced the financial year on 1st April 2021 with £12,077 of funds.
- Regular donations of £16,015 were received.
- Other individual gifts contributed £6,007. This included the sum of £4,636.55 received from Solicitors Mackintosh and Wylie, which was in relation to the residue of the estate of the late Violet Barr. Phoenix India received the interim payment of £7,500 from her estate in June 2009.
- Donations of £3,412 via JustGiving were received.
- Gift aid claims were submitted on eight months during the year, contributing a further £3,592 to an overall total income of £29,026.
- Quarterly payments totalling £15,100 were made throughout the year. Only three Payments were made during 2021/22 as the first quarterly grant was processed in March 2021 and, thereby, in year 2020/21.
- No exceptional one-off payments were made during 2021/22.
- Service charges in relation to the JustGiving account totalled £216.
- Money transfer charges totalled £45. There were no other administration costs.
- Total expenditure for the year was £15,361.
- Net funds have increased by £13,664 to £29,661. This is artificially high due to the receipts from the Violet Barr estate, JustGiving donations and one less quarterly grant payment being made in financial year 2021/22.

Reserves Funding Policy

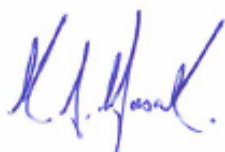

In accordance with our Funding Policy the following funds are retained in the restricted account:

Description	Value
One quarter of annual committed giving	£5,640
CRTDP Staff emergency	£1,000
Emergency appeal (monsoon, crop failure)	£3,000
Total designated funds	£9,640

In December 2021, the sum of £5,720 was transferred from the current account to the restricted account, to retain £9,640 in accordance with the above funding policy. This was to return the sum of £5,720 which had been transferred from the restricted account to the current account in May 2020 to fund the Covid 19 relief appeal. It was agreed that this transfer back to the restricted account would be done once all the Covid Appeal JustGiving donations had been received.

Chair's Report

The Covid-19 pandemic has continued to cause heartache and disruption throughout India, with the situation particularly difficult in the state of Maharashtra, in which Nagpur is situated. The very strict lockdown was maintained for a significant part of the year, restricting every part of society. During the first lockdown, Phoenix India set up a JustGiving campaign page and issued an appeal to all our supporters, friends and family. The response was utterly amazing. Within just a few days of starting the appeal we were able to buy and distribute 300 food parcels. We went on to achieve a total of £6,819, which was used to purchase and distribute a total of 720 food parcels. It also funded the purchase of hand sanitiser and enabled training for villagers and manufacture of face coverings. The face coverings were made by the staff and students of the DWCDI tailoring class, which had ceased operating as a result of the pandemic but was permitted to undertake this key activity.

The tough restrictions affected all the Phoenix India funded projects. Health camps, women's support groups, skill training, day care centres, water conservation, agriculture awareness training, landless labour and other village level meetings were all suspended as people were not allowed out of their homes and all modes of transport were prevented from operating. Government projects were also shut down, resulting in the temporary withdrawal of Government funding for CRTDP. During this period, CRTDP continued to manufacture face masks and endeavoured to distribute these along with hand sanitizer to villages within their catchment area.

As the lockdown in India relaxed, CRTDP was able to resume many of the regular, ongoing projects but it was a slow process as people were reluctant to interact due to the obvious concerns about being infected with the Covid-19 virus. Over the course of the past six months or so, things have improved considerably. CRTDP was awarded project extensions to two of the water conservation and agriculture awareness projects. Funding for self-help groups has also been awarded, which will allow CRTDP to manage the distribution of low interest loans to poor farmers for the purchase of seeds and fertiliser.

Village level meetings for landless awareness and rural development training, health camps and tailoring classes have all resumed. CRTDP is also working hard to re-establish the HIV/AIDS awareness and support project.

Many women in the town of Fetri, where BMPT is situated, and surrounding villages were working as helpers in restaurants, as domestic house cleaners and as farm workers but lost their jobs as a result of the lockdown. These women were left with no means of earning an income and were struggling to survive so approached CRTDP for help. They were invited to join the tailoring centre and received relevant training. After completing the training course, they started to take orders from their villages and are once more in a position to provide for themselves and their families. DWCDI is also helping some of the previously trained women to earn a living by allowing them to stitch clothes using the DWCDI sewing machines. There is a desire to obtain more admissions as time passes and the Covid-19 situation improves further. There are currently two teachers and training is normally at capacity. There is the potential to double the size of this project if two additional teachers could be funded, which would ensure the smooth running of the project and be a tremendous support to many poor women in the surrounding area.

The women's counselling centre project in the town of Khaparkheda, approximately 35km from Nagpur, was suspended only for a short period of time and was able to continue functioning by resolving cases through phone meetings rather than meeting in person. In recent months, the further easing of the lockdown restrictions has allowed the counselling centre to resume more fully. CRTDP are permitted to call a maximum of 10 people together in order to discuss and resolve disputes. There are two staff members working on this project, which has been in operation since 2011.

The counselling centre is operated within Khaparkheda police station, where family disputes are discussed and resolved by experienced social worker, Ms. Savita Fulzele. The client initially gives a detailed account of the problems that he or she is experiencing in the relationship. Savita then collates all the relevant information before notifying the partner and inviting them to a group counselling session. The counselling period culminates with the written agreement between all parties, detailing the proposed resolution. This is followed up by a subsequent counselling session after six months to review how things are progressing. Savita also visits the client's home to ensure compliance with the contract. If the contract is violated by either party, the social worker can seek support from the local police or transfer the case to the court. Most of the cases that are handled in the centre are dealing with domestic violence, alcoholism, distrust, infidelity or blind faith. The ultimate objective is to resolve the problems encountered whilst saving the relationship.

Renovation work has been completed at Nagazari village, which included replacement of four toilets, two septic tanks, installation of a drinking water pipeline to the community centre and guest house and painting of the CRTDP buildings. These essential works were completed after the restrictions had been reduced and labour and materials were available.

The Mother and Child Care Centre at Yerangaon has also been fully renovated. The works, which included repairs to the Phoenix India funded building and compound wall and a complete re-painting of the establishment, has been extremely successful. The building has been renamed the Jussi Brodd School of Excellence, after the late Rev. Jussi Brodd, who was a great friend and benefactor to CRTDP. The centre provides care and education for around 30 children from the surrounding villages and is also a source of great support to the mothers.

At present there are 26 shops, including two banks and one ATM, rented out at the BMPT complex. In addition to this, the meeting hall is rented out for special occasions and Government training courses. During 2020-2021, after the Covid lockdown restrictions eased, two Government training workshops took place at BMPT, at which the delegates utilised the accommodation facilities. This all contributes to a substantial income for BMPT, which is used to supplement the financial support provided by Phoenix India.

CRTDP is currently running one children's day care centre located in the Dhobi Nagar slum area, which provides care for 25 children, between 9am and 2 pm, Monday to Friday. Parents are able to bring their children to the day-care centre and are then free to work or take care of personal matters. This provides much needed respite for the busy women of the Dhobi Nagar area, and enables them to have financial independence by working. Furthermore, the teacher at the day-care centre, Mrs. Hafisa Sheikh, teaches the English alphabet, basic vocabulary, nursery songs, numbers, health care and good social skills.

In July we received news that many of the CRTDP staff had contracted the Covid 19 virus. The list of those affected included President Vimal Jadhav, Vice President Roshan David, Ruth David, Rani Bernard, and Director Santosh Pillai. Vimal became very ill and was hospitalised for several days. Thankfully, all made a full recovery, although it took some time for everyone to be back to full fitness. Many of the villages in which CRTDP work were also badly affected, with most villagers contracting the virus, some of whom tragically succumbed to the virus.

During lockdown, although the community health programme, health camps and associated activities were suspended, the CRTDP Community Nurse, Mangalabai Kadav, was able to visit rural areas, where she provided essential medication to more than 200 families. Sadly, Mangalabai suffered a stroke in August and has been rehabilitating since then, making a slow progress towards recovery.

In the lead up to Christmas, CRTDP undertook their annual distribution of blankets to the poorest and most needy people in the rural areas surrounding Nagpur. The distribution programme focused on the elderly, orphans and people with disabilities. The blankets were donated by Churches Auxiliary for Social Action (CASA). CASA has provided CRTDP with blankets for many years. At this time of year, a blanket can be a life saver, so this small gesture can make a huge difference in the lives of some of Nagpur's poorest and most vulnerable.

It wasn't possible for any trustee to visit Nagpur this year due to the ongoing Covid-19 situation. However, we have received regular updates from CRTDP, which has allowed us to remain informed with regard to the health and wellbeing of our friends and colleagues, as well as how the projects are progressing and developing..

As always, the trustees would like to extend our grateful thanks to all our supporters for their continued kindness and generosity. We would also wish to commend the love, dedication and conscientious selflessness of Vimal Jadhav, Santosh Pillai, Roshan David and all the staff of CRTDP, DWCDI and BMPT, particularly during this extremely difficult pandemic period, as they work to alleviate poverty and the hardships suffered by some of the poorest and most destitute people in the Nagpur area of India.
