CHARITY OVERVIEW

The charity, founded in 1994 and run with a Christian ethos, provides essential funding and operational guidance for partner charities providing caring homes for children whose lives have been severely disadvantaged by bereavement, poverty, or disease, meeting not only their essential needs but also giving a good standard of educational support and medical care. The charity also provides other disadvantaged children with educational funding and occasional support, as opportunity allows, for families and communities lacking in life essentials such as heating and food. The charity's primary focus, though not exclusively, is on projects in Southern India and Romania.

STATED OBJECTIVES

The stated and published objectives of the Charity which operates in India and Romania, are as follows: -

1. The provision of residential care for severely disadvantaged children in Christian homes in India, including medical care and educational support/funding.
2. The provision of educational funding for children living in needy communities.
3. The occasional provision of short-term aid to communities in need of essential support as identified by our partner charities, primarily, but not exclusively, in Romania and India.

An update about the projects supported by the charity is given below:

INDIA

Inter-arc provides financial support and operational guidance for an indigenous children's home in India, Blessing Home, based in Bangalore. The children, whose parents have either died or are not able to adequately care for them, are provided with a high standard of residential care from whatever age they are admitted through to adulthood, including education at good local schools and further education colleges, as well as taking care of medical needs as and when they arise. The project has continued to work through significant challenges, including changes in governmental regulations, which have required extensive changes to the operational structure. The professional trustee board members in India are dedicated volunteers who ensure continued adherence to the governmental regulations.

The children at Blessing Home continue to do well, and their care and education are maintaining good standards. Howard Wallace, the director of Inter-arc, visited India in April 2024 for four weeks. The purpose of this visit was to encourage the workers and helpers of the teams supported by Inter-arc, meet the children and parents who are being supported, ensure both the quality and efficiency of the food and distribution, and verify that correct administrative and financial processes are in place and are being followed. Blessing home is looking to move to more suitable premises and a new purpose built house is currently being constructed to satisfy this need.

ROMANIA & UKRAINE

The restructuring of the Romanian board is now complete, which has enabled the charity to engage in providing funding to meet specific needs concerning children and their families. Romania has also been used as a springboard to reach out to Ukraine, where opportunities arose to purchase supplies and bring relief to families. Howard Wallace visited Romania on Tuesday, 19th March 2024, for 10 days to facilitate the ongoing work.

UK UPDATE

On September 14th, 2024, Inter-Arc marked its 30th anniversary at Bethel Church in Coventry. The event was attended by over 100 people, including supporters and VIP guests who included Pastor Barry Killick speaker and the head of Blessing Home, who travelled from India for the occasion. Following the main programme, refreshments were served. The event recognised the charity's work, especially its activities in Romania and India.

Charity Officers: Mr Chris Whitell, Chairman, Joy Wallace and Howard Wallace, Secretary and Director respectively, Mr Ian Watkin, Data Protection Officer. Mr Gordon Sprouse and Mr Andrew Bullock, trustees.

Finance: The charity continues to maintain one of its founding policies of not organising any fundraising events or specific requests for income to meet its needs, preferring instead to emulate the practice of George Muller of trusting God to meet its needs through prayer. It is pleasing to be able to report a good year for income with significant investment in charitable activity also supported by a robust bank balance at the commencement of the financial year which has enabled the charity to continue to meet its obligations. The practice of submitting quarterly accounts to the charity's independent examiner was maintained to reflect an increased robustness in accounting practice resulting in a simplification of the annual examination which received its usual clean bill of health.

Dear Trustees,

Inter-arc Accounts – 2024-2025

I would like to thank you once again for the opportunity to carry out the independent examination of Inter-arc accounts. Also, thanks to Howard Wallace for his assistance in clarifying any queries which arose there from.

Respective responsibilities of Trustees and Examiner

The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year (under section 43 (2) of the Charities Act 1993 (the Act)) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- a) examine the accounts (under section 43 of the Act)
- b) to follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charities Commission (under section 43(7)(b) of the Act)
- c) to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of Independent Examiner's statement

My examination was carried out in accordance with General Directions given by the Charities Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the accounts.

Independent Examiner's statement

In the course of my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

- a) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the trustees have not met the requirements to ensure that:
 - 1) proper accounting records are kept (in accordance with section 41 of the Act)
 - 2) accounts are prepared which agree with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Act.
- b) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable proper understanding of the accounts to be reached

Yours sincerely,

Andrew Varley

Independent Examiner
