TRUSTEES' REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDED 6 APRIL 2022

The trustees present their report and accounts for the year ended 6 April 2022.

The accounts have been prepared in accordance with the accounting policies set out in note 1 to the accounts and comply with the Charities Act 2011.

Objectives and activities

The charity's objective is the advancement of education in European economic history through the study of European economics and economic history, particularly through the comparison and analysis of European economies.

During the year under review, the charity's activities included:

- the publication of the charity's journal, the European Review of Economic History (Oxford University Press);
- sponsorship of WEast Initiative;
- the publication of the charity's blog called 'Positive Check'.

The trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit.

Achievements and performance

According to the most recent data available, subscriptions to the European Review of Economic History have remained consistent. There was a slight increase in the total number of subscriptions in 2021 and also an increase in overall income from the journal.

The European Review of Economic History is included in Oxford University Press' Gratis scheme, which provides free or greatly reduced online access to journals for low-income countries.

Structure, governance and management

The charity is an unincorporated association.

The charity is governed by its constitution document and the trustees have absolute discretion to apply the funds for charitable purposes. The trustees are also responsible for the day to day running of the charity.

Trustees are appointed by other trustees of the charity.

Financial review

The Charity reports a surplus of income over expenditure for the year of £25,963.50 (2021: £14,242.22)

The financial accounts covering the period from 7 April 2021 to 6 April 2022, comprise income mainly from OUP's royalty payments to the society and membership fees. Income is broadly consistent with the previous year and is still subject to the uncertainties linked to subscription models. In 2021/22, expenditure mainly included EREH editors fees as well as other miscellaneous expenses (accountants, secretarial fees, IEHA membership). For the first time since the pandemic, we saw the return of the first in-person FRESH meeting hosted by Lund University, subsidised by the Society.

Statement on reserve policy

The Society aims to build up and maintain reserves equivalent to at least three times the average annual income over the preceding three years. This is necessary to maintain committed expenditure should there be an unexpected reduction in the Society's income stream, which is heavily dependent on the European Review of Economic History. The Society currently faces a strong threat to this income from pressures to make academic articles available through open access publishing. COVID-19 has impacted our usual activities, particularly the hosting of conferences and workshops, but we are seeking other ways to support scholars through this difficult time. At year-end, the charity's reserves are £186,386.19 (2021: £160,422.69).

Trustees

The Trustees who served during the year and up to the date of signature of the accounts were:

Dr Leigh Gardner
Dr Olivier Accominotti
Dr Alex Klien

Statement of trustees' responsibilities

Law applicable to charities in England and Wales requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the charity's financial activities during the period and of its financial position at the end of the period. In preparing those financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the applicable Charities SORP;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable accounting standards and statements of recommended practice have been followed, subject to any departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- prepare the financial statements on a going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in operation.

The trustees are responsible for keeping accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities Act 2011. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

This report was approved by the trustees on 22 May 2023 and signed on their behalf.
