THE COMMON PLAYERS TRUSTEES' ANNUAL REPORT

The Trustees, who are directors for Company Law purposes, have pleasure in presenting their report along with the financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2023. The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with current statutory requirements, the charity's governing documents, and the recommendations of the Statement of Recommended Practice "Accounting and Reporting by Charities" (SORP 2005) and complies with applicable law. We have also referred to the guidance contained in the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit when reviewing our aims and objectives for the year.

Objects and Overview

Objectives

To advance education for public benefit by the promotion of the arts, in particular but not exclusively, the art of drama.

Overview

The Common Players was formed in 1989, setting out to create accessible theatre and tour it outside, around the village greens of Devon during the summer months. The intention was to tell stories that involved audiences on different levels so that there was something for everyone to enjoy, no matter their age or experience of theatre.

Since 1996, and when charitable incorporated, the company has developed numerous projects designed to engage wide-ranging rural communities in live performance. These strands include a mix of participative activities, educational projects, semi-professional community projects and professional touring presentations. The company now also works in towns and larger centres as projects dictate.

Over 40 indoor and outdoor professional presentations have been created. These have variously involved commissioning writers or creative teams to respond to themes of rural and human interest, creating productions and then often touring them to up to 50 community venues such as fields, halls and community centres on a single tour.

Skill-sharing and participatory work has taken numerous forms. These include summer youth theatre projects, workshops for amateur companies keen on building performance skills, collaborations with communities to develop celebratory guided walks and community play development.

Since 2012, the charity has morphed into a small and low-cost organisation. Reductions in the availability of general core funding have challenged the model of employing permanent staff and holding premises. Now Common Players retains the loyalty of core artists and associates by encouraging them to develop projects to further the company mission. Projects are selected and supported by the company and developed into project-funded activities. Administrative overheads are minimised thus affording the company financial robustness for leaner times and avoiding the need to produce generalised work, which commands questionable commitment from artists, participants and audiences.

Achievements and Performance Report on 2023

Alice in Wonderland was our main performance activity in 2022, an outdoor touring performance, developing the relationships revived in the previous year.

We began the tour earlier in the year to coincide with Queen Elizabeths' Jubilee celebrations. "The Queen of Hearts" toured to Devon communities to meet her subjects and enjoy a tea party. We were successful in gaining Arts Council support for this and created an original piece touring to 25 community locations.

We gained support from two Charitable Trusts to cover the costs of employing two young apprentices (paying them properly) and this combination of youth and experience onstage proved a winning formula for audiences and the development of all the artists involved. We continued to engage with our volunteer promoter network and offered a number of community workshops. These led to the incorporation of sections of the show performed by school groups and enthusiastic amateurs within our professional performances.

As autumn turned into winter, we decided it was Covid-safe to plan to revive The Lifeboat Theatre project and Arts Council supported a project to undertake feasibility work on a tour of our unique venue to North and South Devon in Summer 2023. We planned to tour seaside town, harbours and beaches with Ancient Mariner together with a new collaboration with Theatre Mittendr in Germany, a production of Noah's Ark for young people.

We worked with Marine Skipper Christian van Meer to scope the practical feasibility and local appetite for welcoming The Lifeboat Theatre and came up with a detailed plan of tides, dates, mooring requirements and local partners keen to support this touring venture in both practical and financial ways. This study formed the basis of an application to ACE for touring funds to support touring this project to around 20 locations in July and August 2023.

During the year Common Players continued to make equipment available to small local groups to assist their creative endeavours.

Partnerships and Projects

Common Players has enjoyed positive relationships with a number of creative stakeholders. We now work on a project-by-project basis with other local and regional organisations, collaborating on mutually purposeful projects. Previous partners have included Exeter Northcott Theatre, Exeter Bikeshed Theatre, Devon Arts in Schools Initiative, Exmoor National Park, Prom Prom Productions, The National Trust, Cygnet Theatre, East Devon Museums and Devon Libraries.

Conclusion

Through all the company developments, Common Players has striven to achieve its core mission: to create exciting, relevant and original theatre, both for and with communities who may otherwise lack local opportunity. We look forward to ongoing engagement with Devonshire and Westcountry Communities, as we continue to innovate artistically and organisationally. Our desire is that the administration costs of our work are kept to a minimum and that the artistic quality and content continues to bring new audiences and participants together to high quality and unique theatre experiences.

With Thanks

The Common Players most valuable resource continues to be the energies of our active and enthusiastic team who continue to find imaginative and creative solutions to meet the challenge of delivering artistic and efficacious work. I wish to express my thanks to the entire team; directors, administrators, trustees, actors, musicians, designers, sculptors, writers and the numerous volunteer community supporters who together help create our memorable theatre and events. Particular thanks go to the continued energy and creativity of our Artistic Director, Anthony Richards.

Richard Feltham, Trustee
on behalf of all the trustees

Financial Stakeholders

For some years, 2003-2007, we were in receipt of regular annual funding from Arts Council England. Since then, we have gained from them a number of project grants. We were generously supported by local authorities at County and District level, until recent years saw their budgets for our sort of work disappear. For various projects we have gained financial support from the EU through LEADER projects, Heritage Lottery Fund, Awards for All, and from private trusts including The Foyle Foundation, The Tubney Trust, Fulda City Council, The Belacqua Trust, The Self Heal Association and the Sylvia Waddilove Foundation as well as the producing partners listed earlier.

Reserves Policies

Reserves Policy

The Company aims to maximise the use of available funds to further its creative work as far as this is commensurate with a prudent level of reserves. In this regard our policy is to set aside funds only for known or probable liabilities. Reserves held are matched to projects underway at the balance sheet date.

The total funds, detailed in note 11 and 12, held by The Common Players are broken down as follows:

The unrestricted fund shows a decrease in the movement of funds amounting to £1,175 (2022: decrease of £837). This has resulted in the total fund balance decreasing from £3,474 in 2022 to £2,299 in 2023.

The restricted fund shows a decrease in the movement of funds amounting to £3,107 (2022: increase of £614). This has resulted in the total fund balance decreasing from £3,344 in 2022 to £237 in 2023.

Risk Management

The major risks to which the charity is exposed, as identified by the trustees, have been reviewed and systems have been established to mitigate those risks.

Review of previous years

In 2021 and in the teeth of Covid, we revived our practice of creating outdoor community shows. We wanted to create safe opportunities for people to come together to share culture. Together with a local food charity, www.catch77.org.uk created The Tuck Inn, a touring performance and community feasting event based on the Robin Hood story. We gained Arts Council support and an evaluation of this work can be found here: https://www.common-players.org.uk/_files/ugd/023f3f_e6a94f3ea6a34acda2a16a2f860f24ae.pdf

We often work in partnership. Examples of previous projects include Keep Off The Path which was a national 3-year touring environmental site-specific collaboration with The National Trust. With Devon Arts In Schools Initiative we created Bloody Ambition, an education programme inspiring teachers and pupils to wrestle practically with Shakespeare's Macbeth. In 2013, with Exeter Northcott we directed and produced a regional outdoor large-scale touring production of Jerusalem by Jez Butterworth. This was critically acclaimed and featured a unique blend of amateur and professional artists and support workers working together. A detailed evaluation of this project is accessible on this link https://www.common-players.org.uk/_files/ugd/023f3f_1943a4f2d6344f88897281de5c532d26.pdf

We also explore other aspects of the region's rural culture through performance. An example of this is Cider with Roadies, which since 2006 has found different ways of creating theatrical and cultural events around the focus of a commissioned and practical sculpted apple press, Pomona. We have collaborated with Prom Prom productions to create The Devon Apple Fair, a day of apple related activities and performances touring the region.

In over 34 years of creating varied activity, we have developed a significant network of volunteer promoters in many rural communities who work with us on promoting and supporting activities, connecting our work with people on the ground, who are not necessarily regular consumers of culture. We are proud to claim that we have successfully animated arts activity in rural communities not simply through our own work, but through sharing skills and enthusiasm with arts enthusiasts who go on to promote other activities in their locality.

Uncommon Players

In 2011 we formed the Uncommon Players. We began this loose ensemble to address two opportunities: performances of established plays are difficult for audiences to see in our region and at the same time there is an untapped pool of talented actors and theatre artists in the area. With these factors combined we began to experiment with economically viable ways of producing high quality theatre using local volunteer performers guided by our professional core. The first production, Speaking in Tongues in 2011 was produced in collaboration with Exeter Northcott Theatre, following a series of skill sharing workshops at Exeter College. Productions and tours of Alan Bennett's Talking Heads and Samuel Beckett's Endgame in collaboration with Exeter Bikeshed theatre have followed. Other Uncommon Players productions include Educating Rita and The Browning Version in collaboration with Cygnet Theatre, Exeter.

International links

From 2015-2018 we evolved an international partnership between the Mid Devon town of Crediton and it's German twin town Fulda to commemorate the 100th anniversary of The Great War. This project culminated in Echoes of Wartime an original and professional work combining artists from both locations performing in both languages. From research into the real stories of the people in the two towns during the war period, we worked with Theatre Mittendrin to create a structure and devise content for a bi-lingual and musical work, which told the stories of both communities during the time of shared conflict. Financial support was forthcoming from Arts Council England, Heritage Lottery Fund and the councils in Fulda and Crediton. A group of young people from each community were incorporated into the performances which took place in large community venues.

Living descendants of the characters that we featured were contacted through the research phases and invited to performances. Their attendance and positive reactions in both countries gave significant meaning to the event for the people living in both locations today and local media gave the initiative significant coverage. For those unable to attend a live performance, we created an adaptation for podcast which remains downloadable from iTunes.

The Lifeboat Theatre

In September 2019 we presented a pilot run of performances of The Ancient Mariner in our Lifeboat Theatre. Since 2014 we had been preparing our salvaged commercial life-saving boat, and preparing a performance which would take place on board. Our ambition for 2020 was to tour this new venue by sea to coastal locations and present performances on beaches and in harbours as tide and time permit.

The performance combines the narrative of Coleridge's Ancient Mariner with the theme of plastic pollution in the sea and is designed to work on beaches and in harbours for people who are not regular theatregoers. We secured the services of actor associates David Sterne (RSC, National Theatre and Pirates of the Caribbean) and Ben Tallamy (Four of Swords and Wandering Tiger Theatre) to perform in the devised event. September of 2019 saw us, prove the logistics of sailing the vessel to a mooring location, setting up for performances at low tide, welcoming an audience to the beach and presenting them with the experience of the performance both on the beach and inside the boat. We developed an embryonic website www.thelifeboattheatre.org.uk

Audience responses were tremendously positive over the five days of the pilot, and we learned more about the operational requirements of the activity as a whole. Covid however got in the way.

In February 2020, due to the Pandemic, we were told that our applications were being nullified, with funding being diverted to other priorities. In April an application to Arts Council for Emergency support was declined. We took out an emergency loan to cover fixed costs of liability insurance for the moored lifeboat and other stored equipment. Applications to local authority Covid-support discretionary funds were successful and the loan was repaid.

TRUSTEES' ANNUAL REPORT

Statement of Trustees' Responsibilities

As a small charitable company, this report is prepared in accordance with the Small Companies Regime under the Companies Act 2006.

Company Law and Charity Law requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial period, which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and the profit or loss for that period. In preparing those financial statements the Trustees are required to:

- Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- Make judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- Prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis, unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue to operate;
- State whether the policies adopted are in accordance with the charities SORP, the regulations made under S44 of the Charities Act 1993 and with applicable accounting standards, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the Financial Statements.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records, which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006, and in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice (SORP 2005). The Trustees are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and, hence, for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

In accordance with company law, as the company's Directors, we certify that:

- So far as we are aware, there is no relevant information of which the company's Independent Examiners are unaware, and
- As the Directors of the company, we have taken all the steps that we ought to have taken in order to make ourselves aware of any relevant information and to establish that the charity's Independent Examiners are aware of that information.

This report has been prepared in accordance with the special provisions of part 15 of the Companies Act 2006 relating to small companies, and was approved by the board and signed on their behalf by:

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF THE COMMON PLAYERS

I report on the accounts of the charity for the year ended 31 March 2023, which are set out on pages 8 to 14.

Respective Responsibilities of Trustees and Examiner

The charity's trustees (who are also the Directors of the company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 act) and that an independent examination is needed.

Having satisfied myself that the charity is not subject to audit under Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006 and is eligible for independent examination, it is my responsibility to:

- Examine the accounts under section 145 of the 2011 Act;
- To follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act; and
- To state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of Independent Examiner's Report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the General Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair' view and the report is limited to these matters set out in the statement below.

Independent Examiner's Statement

In the course of my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the trustees have not met the requirements to ensure that:
 - proper accounting records are kept in accordance with section 386 of the Companies Act 2006; and
 - accounts are prepared which agree with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Companies Act 2006 and with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice: Accounting and Reporting by Charities (revised 2005) have not been met; or
2. to which in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
