OBJECTIVES & ACTIVITIES / ACHIEVEMENTS & PERFORMANCE:

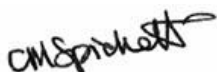

The objective of SFRRRI is to advance education in free radical and redox processes with reference to those of industrial, biological and medical importance, such education being for the benefit of the public and researchers. In 2023, the Society organized its biennial scientific conference in Punta del Este, Uruguay to fulfil this purpose:

<https://sfr.org/sfrbm.org/sfrbm-sfrrri-2023-conference/sfrbm.org/meetings/sfrbm-sfrrri-2023/index.html>. The Society supported three award lectures by eminent scientists to enable knowledge exchange and education for the members and community. These were the Trevor Slater Award (recipient Maret Traber, PhD Oregon State University, USA), the Alberto Boveris Award (recipient Helmut Sies, MD, University of Düsseldorf, Germany) and the Lester Packer Award (recipient Jose Vina, MD, Ph.D., University of Valencia, Spain). Two of these awards were paid in 2023. To support education or early career researchers, ten young investigator travel grants were awarded, of which six were paid in late autumn 2023 and the remainder were paid in winter 2024. The Society also supported an independent but related scientific meeting: the International Workshop on Redox Biology and Nutrition (RedoxBA 23) in Buenos Aires in November 2023 as a satellite of the biennial conference. Financial support came from the Regional Societies' membership dues and a partner organization, the Oxygen Club of California (OCC).

To facilitate sharing of information and news about the society, the website <https://sfr.org/> was maintained with details of education and career opportunities as well as links to the journals in which relevant scientific articles were published. These journals are managed by the publisher Elsevier, which supports the society through contributions to the award lectures (but these were paid in winter 2024).

The International committee met at the biennial conference in Uruguay to plan the next conference and approve the recommendations for the executive committee. Owing to personal circumstances, the President-elect Professor Stocker was unable to attend or to commit to taking over as President on 1st Jan 2024. It was agreed that Professor Mann should continue for a further year and Professor Stocker would take over in 2025. Owing to the packed schedule at the conference an AGM was not held.

The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year (under Section 43(2) of the Charities Act 1993 (the Act), as amended by s.28 of the Charities Act 2006) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to examine the accounts, follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commission, and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

My examination was carried out in accordance with General Directions given by the Charity Commission and included a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with these records. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the accounts.

In the course of my examination, no matter has come to my attention which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the trustees have not met the requirements to ensure that proper accounting records are kept, and accounts are prepared which agree to those records, and comply with the accounting requirements of the Act.
