Trustees' Annual Report

London Rangers Football (London Rangers Football Charity)

For the period: 1 July 2024 – 30 June 2025

1. Objectives and Activities

The charity exists to advance the Christian faith and deliver public benefit through community engagement, particularly for children, young people, and adults who are disadvantaged or marginalised.

This is delivered through a fresh expression of church, where faith is lived out through:

- Sport, particularly football
- Community programmes and outreach
- Education and vocational pathways
- Pastoral care, mentoring, and weekly worship

The organisation's activities are centred around building relationships, supporting individuals, and creating pathways for personal and spiritual development, with sport acting as a primary means of engagement.

Football and community activity provide a practical and accessible environment through which individuals can connect, develop, and experience support, reflecting the charity's values of Love, Relationship, Faith, and Compassion.

2. Achievements and Performance

Football and Sports Development (Core Activity)

During the year, the charity strengthened its identity as a football-led organisation, with the continued development and return of London Rangers FC activity on site.

Key progress includes:

- Increased delivery of structured football sessions and training
- Strengthened pathways between community participation and club development
- Greater use of sport as a tool for engagement, behaviour support, and progression

The charity's long-term vision is to develop a sustainable football club competing at the highest possible level, while maintaining a strong commitment to community impact.

Plans have also progressed for the development of the astro-turf training area which needs upgrading, which will significantly increase capacity for training, improve year-round usage, and enhance both community access and club performance.

Engagement of Marginalised Young People

A central focus of the charity remains supporting young people who are marginalised or disengaged from mainstream systems.

Through a sports-led approach, the charity has:

- Re-engaged young people in structured activity
- Improved behaviour, attendance, and wellbeing
- Created pathways into education, training, and employment

Football continues to be a key mechanism for building discipline, confidence, and long-term opportunity.

Education and Vocational Provision (Supporting Activity)

The charity delivers education through its independent provision, designed to support young people engaged through its programmes.

During the year:

- The provision has demonstrated improvement in Ofsted-related areas, including behaviour, safeguarding, and curriculum delivery
- A stronger focus has been placed on vocational and project-based learning, aligned with the charity's sports-led model
- Functional Skills and employability pathways have been embedded within practical activities

Education is delivered as part of a broader development pathway, supporting young people to progress and succeed.

Growth in Income and Activity

The charity has experienced a notable increase in income during the reporting period, driven by:

- Growth in participation and programme delivery
- Increased education placements
- Stronger engagement with local authorities and partners

This has enabled reinvestment into:

- Sports provision
 - Staffing and support services
 - Planning for future facility development

Church and Community Activity (Core Mission)

During the year, the charity has continued to develop its identity as a church expressed through community activity, including the introduction of weekly church services on site.

The charity's approach is to deliver a relational, community-based expression of church, where:

- Faith is integrated into everyday activities
- Individuals are supported both practically and spiritually
- Programmes such as sport and education act as gateways to engagement and pastoral support

This model enables the charity to reach individuals who may not traditionally engage with church, particularly young people and those facing disadvantage.

3. Public Benefit

The trustees confirm that they have had regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit.

The charity delivers public benefit through:

- Providing accessible football and sports opportunities
- Supporting disadvantaged and marginalised young people

- Delivering education and training pathways
- Offering community and faith-based support

The integration of sport, education, and community activity enables the charity to reach individuals who may not otherwise engage with traditional services.

4. Financial Review

The charity's financial position has strengthened during the year, with increased income and improved operational performance.

Trustees have focused on:

- Maintaining financial stability
- Reinvesting income into frontline delivery
- Supporting sustainable growth

The charity continues to manage resources carefully while expanding its activities.

5. Structure, Governance and Relationship with London Rangers FC

The charity is governed by a board of trustees responsible for strategic oversight, compliance, and ensuring the organisation delivers its charitable objectives.

The charity works closely with London Rangers FC Ltd, which operates as the football club and supports the delivery of sporting activities on site.

This relationship enables:

- The development of football pathways from grassroots participation to competitive club football
- The use of sport as a primary engagement tool for young people
- The integration of community, sport, and development opportunities

The charity and London Rangers FC Ltd have aligned objectives, with the football club providing a platform for participation, progression, and community engagement, while the charity ensures that activities deliver clear public benefit, particularly for disadvantaged and marginalised young people.

Appropriate arrangements are in place to ensure:

- A clear distinction between the charity and the company

- Proper oversight and governance by trustees
- That all charitable resources are used in furtherance of the charity's objectives

The charity also works alongside its education provision and community programmes to deliver a joined-up model, where football, education, and community activity operate together to support positive outcomes.

6. Plans for Future Periods

Lease and Site Development

A key priority is securing a long-term lease for the site, which is critical to:

- Providing stability for football and community activities
 - Enabling investment in facilities, including the planned astro-turf training area
 - Supporting long-term sustainability

Football and Sports Growth

The charity will continue to:

- Develop London Rangers FC
 - Expand participation and competitive pathways
 - Increase use of the site for sport and community activity

Education and Pathways

The charity will further develop its vocational and project-based model, ensuring:

- Strong outcomes for young people
 - Clear progression routes into employment and training
 - Continued alignment with its sports-led approach

Governance and Capacity

Trustees will continue to strengthen governance, leadership, and operational capacity to support growth and compliance.

7. Risk Management

Key risks identified include:

- Securing the long-term lease
- Managing growth sustainably
- Maintaining compliance across all areas of delivery

Appropriate steps are being taken to mitigate these risks.

I verified that the balances presented in the financial statements were supported by adequate and appropriate evidence, including bank statements, invoices, and other relevant documentation.

Internal controls over financial reporting were in place and operated effectively to provide reasonable assurance of the reliability of the financial information.

There were no instances of material misstatement or non-compliance with relevant regulations identified during my examination.

Limitations

It is important to note that my examination was performed on a test basis and may not have detected all errors, irregularities, or instances of non-compliance. The examination does not provide an absolute guarantee of the accuracy of the financial statements.

Recommendation

Based on my examination, I recommend that London Rangers Football continues to maintain and strengthen its financial controls and record-keeping practices to ensure the ongoing accuracy and reliability of its financial reporting.
