Objectives and Activities

	SORP reference
Summary of the purposes of the charity as set out in its governing document	Para 1.17	To further the scholarly study of the history of the United States of America between 1789 and 1917; to advance higher education in the subject; to organise seminars, colloquia, and conferences; to publish scholarly materials and writings; to encourage and assist the education, employment and academic research of postgraduate students and junior academic staff (up to ECR)
Summary of the main activities in relation to those purposes for the public benefit, in particular, the activities, projects or services identified in the accounts.	Para 1.17 and 1.19	BrANCH organises an annual conference and has editorial responsibility for, but no legal ownership of, the academic journal American Nineteenth Century History (published by Taylor & Francis). We also offer small grants to UK-based postgraduate students to help fund research and offer an annual prize for the best dissertation written by a UK-based undergraduate or Masters student in the field of nineteenth-century US history. Finally, in collaboration with the Royal Historical Society, BrANCH offers an annual prize to the best dissertation written by a UK-based BAME undergraduate student on any topic relating to nineteenth-century US history
Statement confirming whether the trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit	Para 1.18	All of the trustees have had regard to the guidance on public benefit issued by the Charity Commission, and this guidance has been considered in undertaking all BrANCH activity this year, particularly the making of grants to help fund the research of UK-based postgraduates, and the award of dissertation prizes to undergraduate and masters students.

Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Para 1.21	The charity is entirely dependent on membership subscriptions and donations. The latter is particularly important for funding the Peter Parish Memorial Fund, from which we make our annual grants to fund research by UK-based postgraduates and ECRs. BrANCH does not aim to make a surplus on its annual conference. However, when this occurs it transfers this surplus into the Peter Parish Memorial Fund so that it goes directly into underwriting its charitable activities. In 2023 BrANCH saw its membership numbers grow as well as an increase in donations to the Parish Memorial Fund. This coupled with a surplus on the conference means that all three of its bank accounts had a healthy balance. This allowed the committee to <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Confirm an increase in the maximum amount award in the Parish Travel Awards from £750 to £1,000 2. The transfer of £10,000 from the Main/Conference accounts into the Parish Fund to underwrite this increased grant amount for the next few years (details of this post-account event can be found in the auditor's report)
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	Para 1.22	The charity trustees follow the advice of our auditor to maintain a balance of approximately £16,000– 18,000 in our accounts to cover fluctuations in receipts and payments, and the risk of reduced receipts at future conferences (which are our main item of expenditure). This represents an increase in the amount the charity has held in reserve in the past (approx. £10,000) caused by inflation in recent years

Although BrANCH does not run its conference to make a profit, and surplus which does appear from the event is diverted back into the Parish Fund or is used to subsidise the attendance of delegates at future conferences
