GOVERNANCE

INCORPORATION/GOVERNING DOCUMENT

Incorporated on 6 August 2002, the company - limited by guarantee and not having any share capital - is governed by its Memorandum and Articles of Association.

PRINCIPAL ACTIVITY

The principal activity of the company in the period under review was meeting the objectives of the charity as shown below.

TRUSTEES' RECRUITMENT, INDUCTION AND TRAINING

The method of appointment or removal of trustees is governed by the company's Memorandum and Articles of Association which states that no person other than a trustee retiring by rotation shall be appointed or reappointed a trustee at any general meeting unless recommended by the trustees. At each annual general meeting one third of the trustees, who are subject to retire by rotation, shall retire. Suitable candidates are selected by the existing trustees and invited to become trustees. The selection criteria used are based on knowledge of horticulture, experience of operating and understanding the needs of the various social events, ability to contribute to the scope and activities of social events and their experience and wisdom in guiding the future direction of the Cornwall Garden Society. The induction and training of new trustees is on-going and developed from their established knowledge and experience.

TRUSTEES RESPONSIBILITIES

The trustees (who are also the directors of The Cornwall Garden Society for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing a trustees' annual report and financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice). Company law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable company for that period. In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in business.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

ORGANISATIONAL STRUCTURE

The members of the company elect the trustees, from whose number is formed a Managing Committee consisting of the Chairman, Secretary, Treasurer and other such trustees as required. Operational control is delegated through Executive members, who take responsibility for their own individual activities sometimes with a small team of helpers, made up of Treasury, Membership, Lectures, Outings, Garden Visits, The Spring Show, The Journal, and Publicity.

THE CORNWALL GARDEN SOCIETY

Report of the Trustees (incorporating the Directors' Report) for the year ended 31 May 2024

The President, Chairman, Vice Chairman, Treasurer and Secretary frequently become involved in assisting in the operation of the various activities. The Trustees meet twice a year while the Managing Committee meet four times a year (including the AGM). All the activities are formally discussed accompanied by agendas and minutes. There are other meetings but these are event specific.

RISK MITIGATION

The major risks to which the charity is exposed, as identified by the trustees, continue to be reviewed. The trustees seek to mitigate those risks.

CHARITY BACKGROUND

The Society which has over 800 members started in 1879 with the first Flower Show in Cornwall. It has traded as an incorporated charitable company since 1 January 2003. The original aim was for garden owners in the county to display and compete with each other's gardens and plants. Since then its activities have diversified to take in a wide spectrum of interest under its "garden" umbrella. This includes a programme of lectures, the publication of a Journal, and arranging a wide range of garden visits and outings and other activities. The Cornwall Garden Society is the only county based garden society in the country and is affiliated to the Royal Horticultural Society.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

CHARITY OBJECTIVES

The charity's objectives for the public benefit are:

- 1 the encouragement and improvement of the science, art and practice of horticulture in all its branches;
- 2 the promotion of knowledge and education in good gardening principles and in the national heritage of gardens in Cornwall; and
- 3 to promote, conserve and protect the natural environment in Cornwall.

The trustees confirm that they have referred to the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit when reviewing the Trust's aims and objectives and in planning future activities and setting grant making policies for the year.

The charity runs a programme of lectures, which are open to the general public. The lectures, which are publicised on the Society's website, are held at easily found venues around the county. In the year there were lectures on topics covering a wide variety of matters of horticultural interest. The society invites lecturers with a national or international eminence on the subject to deliver the lectures.

The charity has also introduced a scheme designed to help young gardeners in Cornwall further their knowledge. Initially this is being achieved through a series of workshops, which, subject to availability, are open to the general public. In order to achieve this objective, the society is working closely with the Cornwall Head Gardeners Group, an organization representing many Cornish Gardens.

VOLUNTEERS

The major personal contributions from the society's trustees, executives and volunteers involved in all of the Cornwall Garden Society's activities are enormous and much appreciated. Without this we would not exist.

ACHIEVEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE

REVIEW OF THE YEAR

In the year to May 2024 we held a very successful Spring Flower Show building on the post Covid recovery of the 2022 and 2023 shows. Attendee numbers increased as did the show profitability. However overall the financial year's results reflected a drop in sponsorship income versus an increase in overheads. Encouragingly we now have a successfully updated website and a full programme of events including lectures and garden visits. Membership has increased since the 2024 Spring Flower Show and the merger with the Cornwall Gardens Trust has provided us with many benefits.

FINANCIAL REVIEW OF THE YEAR

In the year ended 31 May 2024 the company had a deficit of £14,469 (2023: £16,701) as shown in the Statement of Financial Activities (Page 6).

At 31 May 2024 the company had reserves of £25,989 (2023: £40,458).

The Society's funds are raised through subscriptions and social activities. There are two primary sources of funding - members' subscriptions and the annual Spring Flower Show and any other activities that show a surplus. The income supports the lecture programme, the Journal and horticultural training grants. The social activities of outings and self drive visits aim to be self-financing. All of the activities promote our charitable objectives.

INVESTMENT POWERS

The trustees have the power to invest the monies of the society not immediately required for its purposes, in or upon such investments, securities or property as may be thought fit, by the trustees.

LEVEL OF RESERVES

The trustees believe that about £100,000 is an adequate level of reserves. This should be retained to provide the stability and security necessary for the Society to run its affairs prudently at current levels of activity. This includes underwriting the annual Spring Flower Show, which is not wholly under cover, and has at times made large losses. The future level of those losses could be as much as £50,000 in any one year. The reserves have fallen in recent years largely due to the impact of the Covid pandemic. However, following the merger with the Cornwall Gardens Trust, they have increased to in excess of £100,000.

Restricted funds consist of monies donated by the Wells family in connection with the Wells Bursary Scheme.

SMALL COMPANY PROVISIONS

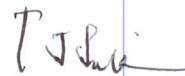

This report has been prepared in accordance with the special provisions for small companies under part 15 of the Companies Act 2006.

The Cornwall Garden Society

Independent examiner's report to the members of The Cornwall Garden Society ('the Company')

I report to the charity trustees on my examination of the accounts of the Company for the year ended 31st May 2024.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the charity's trustees of the Company (and also its directors for the purposes of company law) you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006 ('the 2006 Act').

Having satisfied myself that the accounts of the Company are not required to be audited under Part 16 of the 2006 Act and are eligible for independent examination, I report in respect of my examination of your charity's accounts as carried out under Section 145 of the Charities Act 2011 ('the 2011 Act'). In carrying out my examination I have followed the Directions given by the Charity Commission under Section 145(5) (b) of the 2011 Act.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe:

1. accounting records were not kept in respect of the Company as required by Section 386 of the 2006 Act; or
2. the accounts do not accord with those records; or
3. the accounts do not comply with the accounting requirements of Section 396 of the 2006 Act other than any requirement that the accounts give a true and fair view which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination; or
4. the accounts have not been prepared in accordance with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice for accounting and reporting by charities (applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102)).

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
