Portfolio of Projects and Activities for the Year ending 31 March 2022

SOCIAL UNITY FOUNDATION OF INNOVATION (SUFİ) TRUST LIMITED
(A company limited by guarantee and registered charity)

1. International Work

Through working at an international level, the Trust were able to;

1. Provide some support to the first aid and ambulance centre in Khanewal,
2. Help poor children
3. Participate in relief work during natural disasters.

1.1 First Aid and Ambulance Centre at Khanewal

First aid and ambulance centre in Khanewal (Pakistan) is to minimise the risk of mortality. In order to achieve this most fundamental aspect, it was important to provide a first aid ambulance service that would benefit those in needs both promptly and efficiently, with the key points being a quick and easy access to resources at all times.

This project was developed in partnership with St. John Ambulance, West Midlands, we were able to sent four ambulances to Pakistan, which are used as mobile hospitals to provide first aid and medical services in villages and to response for emergency calls. These ambulances are providing full service in Khanewal and its surroundings to 550,000 people approximately.

2. Community Inter-Faith work and Preventing Violent Extremism & Terrorism

This is on going programme runner by volunteers and our management committee.

Currently, we are working with Peace Movement and Near Neighbours project to help to reduce the conflict amongst Muslim and Jewish community.

We engaged with communities across Birmingham, to raise awareness and promote the PREVENT strategy. We encouraged multi-agency working, helping others to identify the signs that a member of the public, friend or relative may be vulnerable to radicalisation or support violent extremism.

We also worked to raise awareness of our various projects which aimed to provide early intervention by identifying those vulnerable to violent extremism, from all faiths and backgrounds, providing support to those individuals and their families.

3. Young People Activities

- Six Multi-cultural celebration events were organised for local communities.
- Five seminars and workshops on various topics were arranged for young people.
- 350 Young people attended the young people and children activities.

4. Development and Community Work

We managed to deliver and develop three projects in relations to training, development, networking and access for 350 old people, people with disabilities, women, and asylum seeker, newly arrived people and young people. Activities and programs, we developed incorporated mentoring programs as well. Many of the participants were able to gain jobs in Birmingham City Council, Police, Armed Forces, NHS, Social, Community and Youth work due to a positive attitude, confidence and encouragement. The Trust has delivered international exchange programmes, and participants were given support to travel abroad to have diverse cultural experiences. This also led to overseas befriending service being successfully developed.

5. Elderly People Projects

These projects were aimed to provide a free community based Information, support activity, advice and healthy life style activities to help older people remain healthy, active and well in their own community. They were able to articulate and share their feelings amongst each others. These projects were focused on broadening the minds of old people using active life style; they were mentored and encouraged to participate in health life style activities. There was a 12 week programme. Each session consisted for two hours throughout programme. We have reached out and engaged 250 old people aged over 50 years old from Sparkbrook and Spark hill wards of Birmingham and delivered programmes. These programmes were aimed to improve quality of life by developing the confidence and motivation of people suffering with a long term condition, in order to help them use their own skills and knowledge to take effective control over their life.

7. KHUSHHAAL (HAPPY - WELL BEING) (Supported by Awards for All)

This is a continual project. It aimed at 150 Young People and 100 Older people. The programme encouraged participants to be physically active, have better choice in their lives, able to play more active role as an active citizen working together to tackle their problems, healthier lifestyle, have knowledge, confidence and skills to make informed and positive choices in schools, communities, society and at home. All activities were designed to maximise the potential of the individual at a comfortable and supportive level, as they have diverse needs and needed diverse approaches and methods of delivery. The activities were dynamic and flexible and was continually evolving. Activities and the delivery of these activities reflected current youth culture. This ensured that young people were interested in the activity. Our actual achievements of the project are as follows:

1. Through positive engagement in the programme learning activities and workshops, we build confidence building, literacy and numeracy, decision making and two-way communications.
2. Through increasing fitness levels by participating in 25 mixtures of sports and culturally sensitive activities, we simultaneously gave young people the opportunity to experience new things, for example, Kabaddi as a sport and gave young people the opportunity to experience things they did otherwise not have the opportunity to do.

11. LIVE FOR OTHERS PROJECTS - RESPONSE TO COVID-19

LIVE FOR OTHERS projects provided an opportunity and helped 250 young people and adult to work together to reduce the isolation due to the current situation of CORONA VIRUS COVID-19 by the collective action of networking and volunteering to support people who needed help in essential household shopping, medicines or other essential items. Followings the few examples:

- Ran errands for those who were self-isolating
- Drove people to/from health appointments or other essential appointments
- food deliveries from food banks and/or supermarkets
- Spread awareness about coronavirus scams
- Online or telephone befriending to those who needed to stay indoors.
- Trained how to use coronavirus home test kit and Stay safe when supported vulnerable people
- Cleaning, handwashing and hygiene procedures and use of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE)
- Supported families, friends and neighbours by phone or video call.
- Helped stretched Key Workers-medical staff, police,volunteers and supermarket workers

During the project, SUFI Trust recognised that poverty and the safeguarding of children and adults are related. Families were unable to meet their own basic needs or those of their children, leading to an immediate increase in the risk of harm and other long-term effects on health and well-being. It was particularly true where individuals lost their employment or were forced to isolate themselves due to symptoms of illness. LIVE FOR OTHERS project tried to help these affected people due to the funding, which has now finished and getting difficult to carry on.

Sufi Trust's partnership with faith-based organisations and communities played a core role in individuals' spiritual and social care. It was a vital social network and source of guidance and support during the COVID-19 outbreak. The key members of the faith communities leaders were well recognised and trusted within communities and their networks, including those who were, or maybe, vulnerable.

Faith-based organisations also played an important role in ensuring that those who seek spiritual support and worship were safeguarded from harm. During the current outbreak, there have been significant changes to how faith groups engage with their communities, which was posing additional challenges to adapt safeguarding practices to meet their needs.
