THE ALETHEIA FOUNDATION
REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES
FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 AUGUST 2025

The trustees present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 August 2025. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives, policies and organisation

The Aletheia Foundation, registered charity no 1110096 (formerly True Vision Foundation) was founded in 2009 by Brian Woods, Deborah Shipley and Jezza Neumann, producers and Directors of True Vision Productions.

True Vision Productions has an extensive track record producing Emmy, BAFTA and Grierson award-winning films for the BBC, ITV, Channel 4 and HBO with a special interest in giving a voice to young people and socially disadvantaged groups.

Through our films, we're able to provide a window into some of the issues faced daily by children around the world. Some films are not easy to watch as we often work with vulnerable families in a variety of difficult circumstances. We give the children a voice and by doing so, can highlight their true stories, such as coping with abandonment, hunger, poverty, living in refugee camps, homelessness, AIDS and TB.

The Aletheia Foundation was launched for those viewers who wish to help the families and/or children featured in our films. Our promise is to ensure that all donations given reach them directly, giving you the assurance that your money goes to the heart of the issue.

There have been times when a particular film's fund has continually grown beyond the film's children and helped many thousands more, such as 'Zimbabwe's Forgotten Children' and 'Kids in Camps'. Clips from those films featured in the Comic Relief, Red Nose Day Show and raised huge funds to support children all over Africa.

Policies

- The Trustees guarantee complete confidentiality with applicants and beneficiaries.
- The Trustees, in cases of joint funding, do not release funds until all funding is guaranteed.
- The Trustees regularly review all projects in progress.
- The Trustees hold six months' operating costs in reserve.
- The Trust is an Equal Opportunities Employer.

Organisation

The Board: There are currently four Trustees forming the Board, they are all non-salaried:

Mr Brian Edwards (Chair), Jezza Neumann, Annabelle Hall and Nicky Wimble.

Two of the Trustees are completely independent of True Vision, to establish clear blue water between True Vision Productions and the Foundation ensuring transparency and accountability.

Office Staff

Office Staff: The Trust contracts one part-time staff member/volunteer: Sharon Thompson, Foundation Manager whom this report was compiled by.

Developments, activities & achievements

The Aletheia Foundation's main income is derived from donations. This report focuses on funds from the films who consistently evolve, children we continue to support and new films aired.

During the period September 2024 to August 2025, there were no films that highlighted a particular cause which required assistance or attraction donations.

The only film that is currently continuing its fundraising and programmes is Zimbabwe's Forgotten Children – information and update below.

Zimbabwe's Forgotten Children

Released on BBC in 2010, following the stories of Esther, Grace and Obert in their heartbreaking struggle to survive each day and their fight to receive an education. Thanks to our loyal donors, we have transformed their futures and thousands of Zimbabwe's Children. Previously, our work focused one large rural area school, from the film – providing safe water, nutritious food, infrastructure development and child protection programmes – thereby increasing attendance by 80%. The experience our Zimbabwean team gained allowed us to expand to 9 more schools and move onto the next stage, using 3 unique and solid programmes... Feeding, Conservation Agriculture and Redearth Teacher Training.

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 AUGUST 2025

This report covers the period from September 2024 to August 2025 wherein the only programme we worked on was Conservation Agriculture. We were very fortunate to receive funding from The School Gardens Trust, created by Stephen Fuller, a long term donor to expand the CA Pfumvudza plots in more schools after the success of the Kemukaka Primary School garden.

UPDATE: Conservation Agriculture in partnership with the School Gardens Trust

Kemukaka Primary School

This garden, originally a pilot project, started 3 years ago, and is the most established, feeding children consistently, selling surplus which is used to either develop the garden further or for payment of school fees (of vulnerable children/families). This garden is also a training area for the community, parents, children and recently a women's group, who have created their own garden right next to the schools.

Kemukaka is currently self-sustaining, with our team only monitoring its progress now. An exit strategy will be put in place this year to officially hand the garden over to the school administration and school development committee.

We have had 3 training workshops between Kemukaka and Chihwiti Schools as the communities live in between the 2 schools, so there are many home gardens around the area and CA loyalists. FfF have commented that Kemukaka is one of the most impressive school gardens they have seen and donated a drip feed irrigation system to the school which was gratefully received.

The District Schools Inspector from the Chinhoyi Ministry of Education office visits the garden regularly, especially if he wants to show off to Ministry officials from their Head Office.

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 AUGUST 2025

Chihwiti Primary School

We have discontinued with this school due to the Head teacher becoming a political councillor and the school administration not putting enough effort into the garden. They started well, under the leadership of our Head Trainer – Makesure – in 2023. Those who had been trained in 2016 and have flourishing home gardens came and helped Makesure create the perfect start up for volunteers to continue.

However, the school administration has a history of not following through with their commitments, leadership and implementing sufficiently. It is a shame as our team really felt they needed a second chance with the CA school garden and were hoping very much, for the sake of the children, that they would do their part.

It is a real challenge when the school Head and administration do not lead or manage effectively. With the Head focusing more on politics, we felt it was best to distance ourselves, as an apolitical organisation and focus on other schools. We have managed to move the water system to another school but the garden is still there and set up for them to use if they decide to.

Kanyaga Primary School (John and Carol Ridings)

The new Deputy Head teacher has spoken about her return to Kanyaga due to the opportunity of practising CA and how important CA has become to the community. They are feeding the infants and juniors (on average) 3 times per week and are aiming to increase the frequency now that the rains have made the garden more efficient.

It is a relief that Kanyaga Primary School are ahead with their garden and the children are receiving maize, sweet potato, spinach and covo, which provide a good amount of nutrients for all the children. Excess produce is sold to the community to buy cooking oil and salt.

Kanyaga school garden is still very much a work in progress, nevertheless, as per the sustainable goals of the garden, the deputy Head confirmed the following:

- ✓ Nutrition Relief at school – the garden is producing sufficient food for the children to be feed 3-4 times per week.
- ✓ Education of parents – a school community training workshop has taken place with 30 participants.
- ✓ Education of children – weekly agriculture lessons are taking place for Grade 4 – 7's using the CA school garden.
- ✓ Education of Community – the act of parents passing on their knowledge to neighbours has happened but needs to be substantiated.
- ✓ Nutrition Relief at home – it was verified that some parents do have gardens at home and children are receiving food from those gardens. However, as above, full details need to be checked and updated.
- ✓ Clean Water Source – the borehole, solar water pump and water tank are providing clean water to the school, the community, the garden and a second garden for the women's group.
- ✓ Solar Energy source – the solar panels have been put on a building roof to get maximum exposure and are connected to the water pump and school.
- ✓ Positive effect on the environment – rotation of crops have shown improvement in soil fertility and regeneration of the land.

Alongside the school garden, there is a women's group who have created their own garden to put food on the table at home and "so they don't have to depend on their husbands [providing]".

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 AUGUST 2025

In October 2024, we received a £30,000 donation to start 3 more school gardens and the grateful recipients were Nyadengu, Piriviri and Choto Primary schools.

Nyadengu and Piriviri Schools

Nyadengu and Piriviri are hard to access areas, no aid organisations work with them, neither are they visited by the Ministry of Education or Social Welfare. It is for this reason that we do help them – because no one else will! Neglect is a major issue in all matters of life here.

Nyadengu did very well – many parents came to help with clearing the land and since then, the trainers and volunteers have worked hard to plan, design and start planting. The school, amazingly, had a borehole drilled and installed in September 2024 (which saved us a few thousand dollars) through a government programme and now, with the school garden, the community is excited and inquisitive about this large, lushly green area where there is usually dry dust. The garden is on course with consistent progress

Piriviri is a bit behind as one of the volunteers was unwell and one of the trainers was not as committed as we'd hoped, so we have restructured the team working there. Our Head Trainer, Makesure, will be going there as soon as he can to move it forward. Everything has still been implemented but it is not at the point it should be. This is a temporary delay.

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 AUGUST 2025

Choto School Garden

Choto School looks to be the best of the 3 new gardens, which isn't surprising with Makesure leading the way. He informed us that a lot of tree stumps had to be removed and due to the dry, stoney terrain, they had to dig up and bring top soil from just outside the school. They have worked very hard to overcome all the challenges but he said it has been worth it!

From this...

To this...

People are often concerned about CA being a labour intensive method of farming. For the school gardens the land required is larger, measuring 60 x 65 metres and first needs to be cleared of trees, rocks etc. which is why we ask many parents and volunteers to come and help.

Often the terrain is very rough which is exactly why we want them to have a garden – to prove it's possible. With regards to home gardens, Hazel (at FfF) and Makesure explained the following:

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 AUGUST 2025

Gardens at home/in the community:

The CA training uses the “Pfumvudza” concept – which is how to meticulously farm a very small plot of land (1/16th of a hectare or 39mx16m) rather than a large area, with the aim being “less is more”. Because the farmer is focussing on a smaller area he can do it to a higher standard, producing more yield. Once he masters that area and the soil has been regenerated through crop rotation and compost nutrients being incorporated, it becomes even easier, and that’s when he can start another plot.

Although, he/she does not have to start another plot because, if he follows the exact measurements of row spacing, distance in the planting stations etc. that 1/16th plot will achieve optimal plant populations and give them enough to feed a family of 6 for a year. A second, third or fourth plot will bring a bigger selection of vegetables, excess for extended family and/or an income and profit. Thorough weeding is also essential, but this is reduced because of the thick mulch covering. Nothing is wasted – every bit has a valuable use to enrich the process.

The school gardens end up holding 4 x Pfumvudzas (i.e. 4 39mx16m plots) and 24 vegetable beds of 10x1.5m.

Conservation Agriculture is an holistic model, giving small scale farmers a transformed livelihood whilst dealing well with the negative parameters facing them. There are many success stories where farmers have the evidence of food security, radically increased yields, profitability and the restoration of farmers’ self-worth.

The 4 principles are: On Time. At a High Standard. Without Waste. With Joy.

The School Gardens Training

As mentioned previously, the purpose of each garden is more than feeding children, it is about long term food security, no matter what the country’s economic level, and creating a self-sufficient cycle out of poverty for the children, their families and the wider community – with awareness of CA and training.

Children are taught at school with weekly agriculture lessons and 30 parents are invited to workshops as soon as the gardens are established. After the training they are given start up packs and now with the new lightstream gadgets from FfF, they are also able to download further training videos and manuals onto their phones so they are accessible at all times.

The parents are encouraged to ‘pay it forward’ by passing on all their knowledge and the FfF information to their neighbours and support them with creating their own home gardens.

Monitoring and Data Collection

An important part of the project is constantly checking on the school gardens and the training participants at home. Even with the tutorials on their phones, giving in-person support and encouragement can be the difference between success and failure of implementation. We have collected data during other CA training courses which has been valuable – our trainers are all ex-participants of workshops – so we will continue this for the SGT. This includes having a register of beneficiaries and monitoring their progress at home, using their own record-taking (they are trained to do this) as well as the feeding of children at school.

The end result should be:

- ✓ A garden that consistently gives children a meal at school.
- ✓ A home garden that gives the whole family food security and is sustainable through selling surplus to buy next year’s inputs and further developing the garden.
- ✓ An income and profit for all members of the community to pay their school and personal expenses.
- ✓ Continuous training and giving to others.

Having a livelihood full of hope and confidence, feeling liberated from poverty and depression.

THE ALETHEIA FOUNDATION
FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 AUGUST 2025

UPDATE: Child Protection

We use every tiny opportunity we can, within the communities, to talk about the protection and nurturing of our children.

All our programmes include an education on preventing and recognising forms of abuse, violence, exploitation, and neglect, particularly in this poverty stricken, remote district, where strong links to poverty, political and economic instability, as well as traditional cultural and religious beliefs in patriarchy, are some of the main drivers behind child abuse.

Our 'whole community' approach means everyone, from the smallest child to the eldest Gogo is looking, noticing, finding and talking about child protection. In schools, teachers are asking questions and reporting, especially if a young girl is missing school.

And that is how real change happens... building awareness, questioning, saying no, standing together - one day at a time.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Principal funding sources

Income from 1st September 2024 – 31st August 2025 enabled the Aletheia Foundation to make grants totalling £87,383 with management and administration costs at £3,079.

There is currently £41,658 held at the bank, which will be released over the coming years to support the children. Throughout the year under review, the Aletheia Foundation is confident it has significantly helped the children who appeared in their films towards a brighter and better future and will continue to do so.

The Trust's Foundation Manager, Sharon Thompson works several hours a week, according to need, and maintains the Foundation's relationship with donors and beneficiaries. She is also responsible for overseeing the administration and projects on the ground in Zimbabwe and looks after fundraising and updating donors for Zimbabwe's Forgotten Children.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Developments, activities & achievements

The Aletheia Foundation's main income is derived from donations. This report focuses on funds from the films who consistently evolve, children we continue to support and new films aired.

During the period September 2023 to August 2024, there were no films that highlighted a particular cause which required assistance or attraction donations.

The only film that is currently continuing its fundraising and programmes is Zimbabwe's Forgotten Children - information and update below.

Zimbabwe's Forgotten Children

Released on BBC in 2010, following the stories of Esther, Grace and Obert in their heartbreaking struggle to survive each day and their fight to receive an education. Thanks to our loyal donors, we have transformed their futures and thousands of Zimbabwe's Children. Previously, our work focused on one large rural area school, from the film - providing safe water, nutritious food, infrastructure development and child protection programmes - thereby increasing attendance by 80%. The experience our Zimbabwean team gained allowed us to expand to 9 more schools and move onto the next stage, using 3 unique and solid programmes... Feeding, Conservation Agriculture and Redearth Teacher Training.

In January 2024, our Changemakers (teachers, volunteers, trainers) underwent their annual safeguarding team training. This unique group of people are so passionate about creating a more nurturing and 'opportunity-filled' environment for the children of Zimbabwe, so they are given the chance to reach their true potential. They all have their own story - both of hardship and success - which has brought them on this journey and we are extremely grateful for their enormous efforts and team work. They educate, teach, train and support children, parents, guardians, teachers, community leaders, Government officials and peers. They are life long learners too.

UPDATE: Feeding Programme

We must start by thanking our partners - Ruff's Kitchens - for providing the funding to feed 5,200 babies, children and vulnerable elderly in the Makonde District.

We have 9 schools and 7 ECD centres receiving enough for a mahewu porridge drink (fortified with essential vitamins and minerals) every school day. The difference since we began is very clear - shiny skin, smiling, energetic children that are such a pleasure to see. Even the smallest of children understand the mahewu porridge drink fills their tummies and makes them feel good with it being a slow energy release food.

The hygiene standards of the programme are very high, so every school is given full training on what is expected, and efficient records are kept of all the children who receive food. Spot checks are done regularly to make sure the storerooms, tanks and water are clean so there's no risk of illness. The children love their mahewu!

UPDATE: Conservation Agriculture

Climate-smart Conservation Agriculture enables farmers to sustain themselves on a very small piece of land, heal the soil and nourish it for future generations.

The changing global climate threatens agricultural systems, livelihoods and the environment worldwide. Through the application of the three main principles - reducing soil disturbance, maintaining a permanent soil cover and practising crop rotations - CA improves the soil's physical and chemical properties producing significant environmental benefits. At the same time, the training is based on an holistic approach including personal transformation and support.

The Kemukaka School garden has exceeded our expectations and is now feeding the school children a hot meal 2-3 times per week. All the maize (which is ground down to make sadza) and the vegetables comes directly from the garden. This has been a major achievement and is the foundations of expanding and having many more school gardens - which is a much more sustainable method of feeding the children and will eventually mean they do not have to rely on any food aid and become self sufficient, with much less malnutrition.

Using the same model, we have started another school garden at Kanyaga Primary School - watch this space!

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

UPDATE: Redearth Teacher Training

In the last few months of 2023, our changemakers, with our partners Redearth Education, continued on their quest to train more teachers on the vitally important reading programme. We currently have teachers from 19 schools trained on using phonics-based methodologies, which involves teaching children to hear and identify the sound of each letter, rather than simply learn letter names or words. All of those teachers are now tasked with implementing their training and cascading it to their colleagues in an attempt to get on top of the non-reader crises in Zimbabwe.

UPDATE: Child Protection

The best path to long-term change is, often, through awareness! Because that's when it sticks! And that's what is happening with our child protection programme. We use every tiny opportunity we can, within the communities, to talk about the protection and nurturing of our children.

All our programmes include an education on preventing and recognising forms of abuse, violence, exploitation, and neglect, particularly in this poverty stricken, remote district, where strong links to poverty, political and economic instability, as well as traditional cultural and religious beliefs in patriarchy, are some of the main drivers behind child abuse.

Our 'whole community' approach means everyone, from the smallest child to the eldest Gogo is looking, noticing, finding and talking about child protection. In schools, teachers are asking questions and reporting, especially if a young girl is missing school.

And that is how real change happens... building awareness, questioning, saying no, standing together - one day at a time.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Principal funding sources

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 AUGUST 2023

The trustees present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 August 2023. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives, policies and organisation

The Aletheia Foundation, registered charity no 1110096 (formerly True Vision Foundation) was founded in 2009 by Brian Woods, Deborah Shipley and Jezza Neumann, producers and Directors of True Vision Productions.

True Vision Productions has an extensive track record producing Emmy, BAFTA and Grierson award-winning films for the BBC, ITV, Channel 4 and HBO with a special interest in giving a voice to young people and socially disadvantaged groups.

Through our films, we're able to provide a window into some of the issues faced daily by children around the world. Some films are not easy to watch as we often work with vulnerable families in a variety of difficult circumstances. We give the children a voice and by doing so, can highlight their true stories, such as coping with abandonment, hunger, poverty, living in refugee camps, homelessness, AIDS and TB.

The Aletheia Foundation was launched for those viewers who wish to help the families and/or children featured in our films. Our promise is to ensure that all donations given reach them directly, giving you the assurance that your money goes to the heart of the issue.

There have been times when a particular film's fund has continually grown beyond the film's children and helped many thousands more, such as 'Zimbabwe's Forgotten Children' and 'Kids in Camps'. Clips from those films featured in the Comic Relief, Red Nose Day Show and raised huge funds to support children all over Africa.

Policies

- The Trustees guarantee complete confidentiality with applicants and beneficiaries.
- The Trustees, in cases of joint funding, do not release funds until all funding is guaranteed.
- The Trustees regularly review all projects in progress.
- The Trustees hold six months' operating costs in reserve.
- The Trust is an Equal Opportunities Employer.

Organisation

The Board: There are currently five Trustees forming the Board, they are all non-salaried:

Mr Brian Woods (Chair), Jezza Neumann, Kate van Koten, Annabelle Hall and Nicky Wimble.

Two of the Trustees are completely independent of True Vision, to establish clear blue water between True Vision Productions and the Foundation ensuring transparency and accountability.

Office Staff

Office Staff: The Trust employs one part-time staff member: Sharon Thompson, Foundation Manager whom this report was compiled by.

THE ALETHEIA FOUNDATION
FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 AUGUST 2023

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Developments, activities & achievements

The Aletheia Foundation's main income is derived from donations. This report focuses on funds from the films who consistently evolve, children we continue to support and new films aired during the period September 2022 to August 2023.

Growing Up Poor - Britain's Hidden Homeless Kids

Aired 26th October 2021 on Channel 4 dispatches. Jezza Neumann spent a summer term with three boys from the same class, struggling with poverty, homelessness and overcrowding.

Farley Junior Academy is on the edge of Luton, in one of the most deprived wards in Britain. During the pandemic the partial closure of the airport - the biggest source of jobs in the area - hit the town hard. Schools across Luton found families were struggling more than ever. Kai, Qasim and Yaqub, are in Year 4 and all get help from the school's pastoral care team.

Kai lives on the outskirts of Luton. He shares an over-crowded two-bedroom house with five others: his mum, stepdad, sister and two brothers. Qasim lives in temporary accommodation with his three brothers, two sisters and their dad, Faahid. Yaqub was living in temp accommodation with his mum and sister, his parents are separated.

UPDATE:

Qasim, who is now in Y6, recently went for an assessment at the Edwin Lobo Child Development Centre in Luton and has been diagnosed as having Autism Spectrum Disorder. Qasim and his dad attend the Edwin Lobo Child Development Centre in Luton to learn more about it which his dad says they're both finding very useful. Qasim can talk about gestures and behaviours he's noticed about himself, and his dad is getting a better understanding of how to help him adjust to different environments.

Faahid (their dad) has noticed the same signs in one of the twins so they are waiting for another assessment referral. Qasim's older sister, Naila, is starting Year 11 in September and doing her GCSE's. She recently won a £100 shopping voucher prize when she entered a fictional writing competition. The family are very proud of her as this is the second one, she's won. Naila also attends debate workshops. The twins are now in Y1 and very much enjoying school.

Alefa (the lovely Family Worker at the school) has reported that Yaqub is doing very well. The school selected him to be part of a Luton Council transition programme and she says he is like a different child. He is more exposed to outside school social activities and supported with issues such as correct English, good manners, hygiene, healthy eating etc. Alefa said he's turning into a wonderfully confident and happy young man who is now excited about transitioning to high school, rather than fearful and shy, which he was before. The school is still helping his mother as she really struggles but on the whole she is also doing better, especially with attending English as a second language classes. I have reminded Alefa that we are here and asked her to let us know if they need any help.

Rachel (Kai's mum) has a new job which she is enjoying as the hours mean she can be at home with the children more. She starts at 9am then leaves the office at 3pm to pick up the children and does the last 2 hours at home. When I asked her what the job entailed, she started laughing and said "Can you believe I'm a Housing Officer for homeless people - how ironic!"

Kai is also in Y6 now and they've recently applied for him to go to their local high school with Qasim so they're keeping everything crossed they get in together. Kai was referred to the Edwin Lobo Child Development Centre by their GP too, however he has not had his appointment yet. Rachel believes they will receive his appointment anytime now. His siblings are under CAMS for mental health issues and speech therapy.

TB: Return of the Plaque

Released in 2014 this film witnessed two families, in Swaziland (which has the highest rate of TB in the world), as they battle with Tuberculosis over a 1-year period. Bheki is a builder who lives near the border of South Africa and Nokubegha is a 12-year-old orphan cared for by her older brother.

UPDATE:

Nok finished school and we have funded a vocational training course in dress making which she is currently doing. The Foundation has also purchased an industrial second hand sewing machine for her to start her own business. Within the next 6-12 months we will be withdrawing support so Nok can become independent and learn to look after herself.

Bheki receives a small amount of money every month from a loyal donor and has managed to keep his health in check.

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 AUGUST 2023

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Kids In Camps

Released in 2015 as a documentary for Comic Relief, this film follows 4 children and their families who have been displaced during the South Sudan civil war. With the help of a philanthropist and his wife we are still funding the education of Grace, Anna and their siblings.

UPDATE:

Grace has continued her education into university with the help of Bruce and Wendy who fund the family's monthly bills, such as rent and food. Her siblings are all going through school and Grace provide extras for them, on top of the funds sent every month.

Zimbabwe's Forgotten Children

Released on BBC in 2010, following the stories of Esther, Grace and Obert in their heartbreaking struggle to survive each day and their fight to receive an education. Thanks to our loyal donors, we have transformed their futures and thousands of Zimbabwe's Children. Previously, our work focused one large rural area school, from the film - providing safe water, nutritious food, infrastructure development and child protection programmes - thereby increasing attendance by 80%. The experience our Zimbabwean team gained allowed us to expand to 9 more schools and move onto the next stage, using 3 unique and solid programmes... Feeding, Conservation Agriculture and Redearth Teacher Training.

UPDATE: Feeding Programme

We must start by thanking our partners - Ruff's Kitchens - for providing the funding to feed 5,200 babies, children and vulnerable elderly in the Makonde District.

Getting the food to the schools is not easy at all! We've welcomed the re-gravelling of the road at the Chinhoyi turn off which is approx 40kms (it used to take 1.5 hours to travel that distance) but the last 60-80kms after this are treacherous and often too dangerous to risk. A bridge to one of the schools collapsed causing floods - the road was more like a river! Once the water decreases, parents and villagers bring their scotch carts to transport the food across the river or simply carry them across on their heads (if it's safe!).

The hygiene standards of the programme are very high, so every school is given full training on what is expected, and efficient records are kept of all the children who receive food. Spot checks are done regularly to make sure the storerooms, tanks and water are clean so there's no risk of illness. The children love their mahewu!

Schools that are not opened for learning, due to covid outbreaks, still had their volunteers give out packs of mahewu for children to take home so they can receive the essential nutrients needed to grow and develop well.

The difference since we began is very clear - shiny skin, smiling, energetic children that are such a pleasure to see. Even the smallest of children understand the mahewu porridge drink fills their tummies and makes them feel good with it being a slow energy release food.

UPDATE: Conservation Agriculture

Climate-smart Conservation Agriculture enables farmers to sustain themselves on a very small piece of land, heal the soil and nourish it for future generations.

The changing global climate threatens agricultural systems, livelihoods and the environment worldwide. Through the application of the three main principles - reducing soil disturbance, maintaining a permanent soil cover and practising crop rotations - CA improves the soil's physical and chemical properties producing significant environmental benefits. At the same time, the training is based on an holistic approach including personal transformation and support.

At Kemukaka School, we began a pilot school garden to enable them to grow their own food and educate the children and parents of the CA method. Makesure rounded up the community to develop a dry, barren plot of land into a sustainable, natural, food making wonder! The aim of this project is to reduce the need for the sponsored mahewu feeding programme and replace it with their own self-reliant feeding. At the same time, training is given to parents and children in the school to eliminate food insecurity in the community. Below is a BRIEF SUMMARY of the process.

The plot was completely cleared of all bushes, stones and clods by the community. A water tank was installed over the borehole and a solar powered water pump. Fencing was put around the whole area to protect the crops from livestock.

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 AUGUST 2023

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Carefully measured holes are dug and seeds are covered with soil, which is free of stones and mulch to ensure good seed to soil contact. The planting stations are covered level with the ground and mulch is placed over them, this will protect the soil from drying too quickly and from forming a cap on the surface. It will also capture all the water/rain that falls on the field.

Within a month the change is vast! Vigilant weeding is key to the success. Insects (especially those from large nearby ant hills) feed on the decomposing leaves moving and loosening the soil to increase air and water infiltration. This process enhances nutrients in the soil.

Maintaining a good layer of mulch is vital! Seedlings were thinned from 3 to 2 and chicken/animal manure added. All weeds are removed as early as possible, never allowing them to grow to maturity and infest your field with a new crop of seed.

At maturity the crops were harvested, the cobs removed and the stalks left in place. After harvest, one final weeding is done, and then the stalks knocked down to form the protective blanket for our soil for the next season. Crop diversification, especially the use of legumes in the next season, improves the soil and soil degradation is gradually slowed down.

UPDATE: Redearth Teacher Training

Teachers finished their 4-module development training and a Quality Assessment of the teachers and the children's learning environment took place in January 2023 - what a joy it was to see the results. The lessons witnessed at our schools were high level, captivating, fun and quality LEARNING.

Particular mention to our star teacher - Ambuleji, who teaches Grade 1. Ambuleji used all the techniques he has learnt - most notably, phonics sounds in his local language, Shona, as well as English. This is a new concept in Zimbabwe rural schools which he has mastered. Ambuleji had an excellently planned and structured lesson which was well executed using positive behaviour management strategies, group work, open questions, pupil talk, highly motivated and engaged children who are learning what they're taught.

The Overall Results

2 years ago, all teachers were observed at foundation level 1. (They are able to progress through 5 more levels to Gold.) 88% of our newly trained teachers moved up 3 levels with 12% moving up 4 levels. This is a great success, particularly in view of the fact that teachers and children had long stretches of time out of school during the covid lockdowns. Teachers will undoubtedly improve further to achieve a higher level in the future.

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 AUGUST 2022

The trustees present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 August 2022. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives, policies and organisation

The Aletheia Foundation, registered charity no 1110096 (formerly True Vision Foundation) was founded in 2009 by Brian Woods, Deborah Shipley and Jezza Neumann, producers and Directors of True Vision Productions.

True Vision Productions has an extensive track record producing Emmy, BAFTA and Grierson award-winning films for the BBC, ITV, Channel 4 and HBO with a special interest in giving a voice to young people and socially disadvantaged groups.

Through our films, we're able to provide a window into some of the issues faced daily by children around the world. Some films are not easy to watch as we often work with vulnerable families in a variety of difficult circumstances. We give the children a voice and by doing so, can highlight their true stories, such as coping with abandonment, hunger, poverty, living in refugee camps, homelessness, AIDS and TB.

The Aletheia Foundation was launched for those viewers who wish to help the families and/or children featured in our films. Our promise is to ensure that all donations given reach them directly, giving you the assurance that your money goes to the heart of the issue.

There have been times when a particular film's fund has continually grown beyond the film's children and helped many thousands more, such as 'Zimbabwe's Forgotten Children' and 'Kids in Camps'. Clips from those films featured in the Comic Relief, Red Nose Day Show and raised huge funds to support children all over Africa.

Policies

- The Trustees guarantee complete confidentiality with applicants and beneficiaries.
- The Trustees, in cases of joint funding, do not release funds until all funding is guaranteed.
- The Trustees regularly review all projects in progress.
- The Trustees hold six months' operating costs in reserve.
- The Trust is an Equal Opportunities Employer.

Organisation

The Board: There are currently five Trustees forming the Board, they are all non-salaried:

Mr Brian Woods (Chair), Jezza Neumann, Kate van Koten, Annabelle Hall and Nicky Wimble.

Two of the Trustees are completely independent of True Vision, to establish clear blue water between True Vision Productions and the Foundation ensuring transparency and accountability.

Office Staff

Office Staff: The Trust employs one part-time staff member: Sharon Thompson, Foundation Manager whom this report was compiled by.

Developments, activities & achievements

The Aletheia Foundation's main income is derived from donations. This report focuses on funds from the films who consistently evolve, children we continue to support and new films aired during the period September 2021 to August 2022.

NEW: Growing Up Poor - Britain's Hidden Homeless Kids

Aired 26th October 2021 on Channel 4 Dispatches. Jezza Neumann spent a summer term with three boys from the same class, struggling with poverty, homelessness and overcrowding.

Farley Junior Academy is on the edge of Luton, in one of the most deprived wards in Britain. During the pandemic the partial closure of the airport - the biggest source of jobs in the area - hit the town hard. Schools across Luton found families were struggling more than ever. Kai, Qasim and Yaqub, are in Year 4 and all get help from the school's pastoral care team.

Kai lives on the outskirts of Luton. He shares an over-crowded two-bedroom house with five others: his mum, stepdad, sister and two brothers. Kai's mother is bidding for a bigger council house but has been on the waiting list for eight years. Even though his mum has a full-time job as a care co-ordinator, after paying for housing, utilities, transport and debt repayments, Kai's family are left with just £8 per person per day to spend on food, clothing and anything else they need. Kai's family would struggle without the help they get from the school.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES - CONTINUED

Qasim lives in temporary accommodation with his three brothers, two sisters and their dad, Faahid. As a single dad of six children including twins not yet in school, Faahid can't go back to work, so they live on universal credit. After council tax, rent arrears, utilities and transport, Qasim's family are left with £6.50 a day each to cover food, clothing and anything else they need.

Yaqub was living in temp accommodation with his mum and sister, his parents are separated. Yaqub and his family do not have much at all in the way of clothes, food, beds etc. With no access to technology, the school make up packs for Yaqub to help with schoolwork. On average, the most deprived children lost around four months learning through lockdown. But in Luton, children are now more than seven months behind those from well off backgrounds.

UPDATE:

The donations from the general public were overwhelming. All families had the donations sent in the immediate aftermath of the film. On top of monetary donations, the children received many gifts of toys, books, meal vouchers for restaurants and letters.

Qasim and Kai are still in the same accommodation where they were in the film. Qasim's father, Faahid, now has a job so he's working towards saving for a deposit for a private rental. His sister Naila is doing ok but worries about eviction all the time. His older sister is sitting her GCSEs this year but finding it difficult to study in the overcrowded space. Their father speaks proudly of her winning a creative writing competition and winning £100 for the family. Qasim has been undergoing assessments and has been diagnosed with Autism Spectrum Disorder. The school have the relevant updated SEN plan in place for him and are receiving support.

Kai's mum has switched jobs and has more stable hours - ironically working as a "Housing Officer". Unfortunately, it is not with the council whom she is still bidding for better accommodation. The 9 to 5 work hours have made a difference to the family; however, Kai's stepdad continues to struggle with his health. They have applied to the nearest high school, which Kai and Qasim will hopefully attend together, and awaiting to hear if their application has been successful.

Yaqub's mum was rehoused in a different temporary accommodation which has more space but no furniture, so she has used some of the funds donated to buy a washing machine and a cooker. Yaqub will be part of a piloting programme to support his transition into high school and has started contact with his father again. Khaleda is attending her ESOL course (English for Speakers of other Languages) and is saving some of the donations to help the family with their citizenship.

We will continue to use monthly donations to help make their lives more comfortable.

TB: Return of the Plague

Released in 2014 this film witnessed two families, in Swaziland (which has the highest rate of TB in the world), as they battle with Tuberculosis over a one year period. Bheki is a builder who lives near the border of South Africa and Nokubegha is a twelve year-old orphan cared for by her older brother.

UPDATE:

Nok is currently in her last year of school. Unfortunately, the landlord of the property where Nok was renting, whilst at school, passed away and the deceased's children have evicted all the tenants. She had to move back to her rural home where her brother lives. With money raised by The Aletheia Foundation and True Vision TV staff, we have managed to pay for her transport and keep Nok in school, so she has a better life chance. She is currently healthy and well but often has setbacks with periodic chest infections, due to her lungs being weakened by TB. We continue to support her education, monitor her progress and support her with any medical treatment she requires.

Bheki receives a small amount of money every month from a loyal donor and has managed to keep his health in check although he is struggling the older he gets. We check on him approximately every three months - he has our contact details when he needs support.

Kids In Camps

Released in 2015 as a documentary for Comic Relief, this film follows four children and their families who have been displaced during the South Sudan civil war. With the help of a philanthropist and his wife we are still funding the education of Grace, Anna and their siblings.

UPDATE:

Grace has continued her education into university with the help of Bruce and Wendy who fund the family's monthly bills, such as rent and food. Grace is a very astute and highly driven young woman using her studies in Journalism and her experiences - going from a refugee camp to a university education - to try and motivate young girls/women to not settle for a life as a young bride, but to push forward and remain in education. She has written a book, does talks on the local radio and uses social media to create awareness of issues affecting young woman in South Sudan and Kenya, where they all live now. Her siblings are all going through school and Grace works in fields to provide extras for them, on top of the funds sent every month. She is an inspirational young lady and we are proud to support her.

Zimbabwe's Forgotten Children

Released on BBC in 2010, following the stories of Esther, Grace and Obert in their heartbreaking struggle to survive each day and their fight to receive an education. Thanks to our loyal donors, we have transformed their futures and thousands of Zimbabwe's Children. Previously, our work focused one large rural area school, from the film - providing safe water, nutritious food, infrastructure development and child protection programmes - thereby increasing attendance by 80%. The experience our Zimbabwean team gained allowed us to expand to nine more schools and move onto the next stage, using three unique and solid programmes: Feeding, Conservation Agriculture and Redearth Teacher Training.

UPDATE: Feeding Programme

We must start by thanking our partners - Ruff's Kitchens - for providing the funding to feed 5,200 babies, children and vulnerable elderly in the Makonde District.

We conducted a survey using three schools - two in the feeding programme, namely Kemukaka and Obva and one not in the programme, Kanyaga, to measure the impact of the daily mahewu meals. Enrolment, daily registers and pass rates were issued from each of the schools and compared. We also had to look at the physical appearance of pupils and engagement in lessons.

From the exam results, it was seen that the schools in the feeding program had a better pass rate than those without and absenteeism was rife at Kanyaga whilst it was low at Kemukaka as far as registers were concerned. Kemukaka, a small primary school with less infrastructure and resources, scored an 18% higher pass rate than Kanyaga which is larger, has more funding and is better developed. In fact, Kemukaka had the highest marks in Makonde West. The other school being used as a comparison, Obva, had a pupil who attained the highest marks in Makonde West the previous year. Using all the information we noted that schools with the feeding program take turns to beat other schools which do not have any feeding programs. Looking at pupil's physical appearance, schools with the daily mahewu meals looked significantly healthier than those without. This is apparent when looking at the children's skin, which does not have unhealed sores, they have higher energy levels and are happier overall. There is little doubt that schools with the feeding programme have been positively impacted and have enhanced the education system even though they are in very poor communities.

UPDATE: Conservation Agriculture

According to the Food and Agriculture Organisation of the United Nations (FAO) Conservation Agriculture is key to the future of food security with the world facing climate change and 9 billion mouths to feed by 2050.

We are proud to have been pioneers of this method of farming in the district we work. In 2010 we started training farmers to use this new method of farming however, even after the success of the first years harvest, they were not convinced! We supported them through overcoming their skepticism with consistent evidence of success and now the word has spread - far and wide!!

During the last farming season (covid lockdown) Conservation Agriculture farmers took to their fields all over the district working hard to expand their plots. Non CA farmers watched and copied what they were doing in a desperate attempt to provide food for their families. The result is 2021 has been the best farming season for Zimbabwe in many, many years!

The Government of Zimbabwe supports conservation agriculture because of its success in mitigating the adverse effects of climate change and in conserving soil and water resources.

While only five percent of Zimbabwe's maize-growing area is currently under conservation agriculture, those farmers who have adopted it have been able to harvest more from their small plots, averaging around two tonnes per hectare for maize, which is nearly triple what they produced under conventional agriculture. Meanwhile legume production has doubled. The farmers are not only harvesting enough maize and legumes to feed their families - the increased yields actually provide a surplus they can sell, thereby improving their livelihoods while contributing to the national food basket.

UPDATE: Redearth Teacher Training

A study has revealed that 90% of children in Zimbabwe rural schools cannot read at the expected level! For many of us who have been educated, lived in and loved Zimbabwe we are stunned - because it was once the opposite - Zimbabwe's LITERACY RATE used to be 90%!! This statistic takes into account the economic and political hardships, which have affected the lives and education of children in Zimbabwe, but it does not include the covid lockdown where children have missed 16 months of school, so it's very likely to be worse now. During our Redearth Education teacher training programme the low level of reading was quickly identified as a serious challenge in primary schools, and in 2022 we will be introducing - for the first time in Zimbabwe: The Redearth Reading Programme.

Teachers who have already been trained by Redearth over the last two years will progress onto being trained to deliver the reading programme, which includes officials from the Ministry of Education.

The reading programme is based initially around the teaching and learning of phonics. As it progresses, other aspects of reading such as comprehension are also addressed. It has worked in Uganda where, as Zimbabwe, the local Bantu languages are phonetically consistent. This means that teachers can be trained in the teaching of letter sounds. Some are the same as in English with a few exceptions, additions or deletions depending on the language spoken. Learning the letter sounds in local language enables the child to learn to read in the language in which they think.

This programme will run over two years using the lead teachers who have already been trained and working in 18 schools throughout the Makonde district.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Principal funding sources

Income from 1 September 2021 to 31 August 2022 enabled the Aletheia Foundation to make grants totalling £80,141 with management and administration costs at £6,628.

There is currently £52,409 held at the bank, which will be released over the coming years to support the children. Throughout the year under review, the Aletheia Foundation is confident it has significantly helped the children who appeared in their films towards a brighter and better future and will continue to do so.

The Trust's Foundation Manager, Sharon Thompson works several hours a week according to need and maintains the Foundation's relationship with donors and beneficiaries. She is also responsible for overseeing the administration and projects on the ground in Zimbabwe and looks after fundraising and updating donors for Zimbabwe's Forgotten Children.

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 AUGUST 2021

The trustees present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 August 2021. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives, policies and organisation

The Aletheia Foundation, registered charity no 1110096 (formerly True Vision Foundation) was founded in 2009 by Brian Woods, Deborah Shipley and Jezza Neumann, producers and Directors of True Vision Productions.

True Vision Productions has an extensive track record producing Emmy, BAFTA and Grierson award-winning films for the BBC, ITV, Channel 4 and HBO with a special interest in giving a voice to young people and socially disadvantaged groups. We have a reputation for combining journalistic rigor with sensitively made programming, often working with vulnerable individuals involved in a variety of difficult circumstances.

Because of this, we understand that our films can ignite passions in our viewers who may want to help the people featured in the films or help the cause we are highlighting. When donations can be channelled through existing NGOs, we direct our audience straight to these organisations, however, there have been many occasions where no charities are working in the particular area where we have highlighted an issue, or there are compelling reasons why we cannot make direct links to organisations on the ground.

Historically, we would grow charities out of the films that were made, such as - COCOA, Care of China's Orphaned and Abandoned, The Orphans of Nkandla Trust and The Campaign for Bulgaria's Abandoned Children. When we realised that films had the power to raise awareness and support for social issues and injustice, we decided that instead of repeatedly creating new bespoke charities, we would launch The Aletheia Foundation so that anyone who wished to help the people featured in our films would be able to, safely in the knowledge that their donations would help those individuals and the causes directly.

We continue to work closely with charities that support the wider issues raised by our films, and always seek to direct viewers to these charities if they wish to help people in similar situations to those depicted in the films. The Foundation is for those viewers who are keen to help the individuals featured in our films, and provides a more transparent and accountable system for channelling such offers of help than the more informal process of money being sent to the production company and where there is no other charitable vehicle through which assistance can reach contributors.

Policies

- The Trustees guarantee complete confidentiality with applicants and beneficiaries.
- The Trustees, in cases of joint funding, do not release funds until all funding is guaranteed.
- The Trustees regularly review all projects in progress.
- The Trustees hold six months' operating costs in reserve.
- The Trust is an Equal Opportunities Employer.

Organisation

The Board: There are currently five Trustees forming the Board, They are all non-salaried: Mr Brian Woods (Chair), Jezza Neumann, Kate van Koten, Anna Hall and Nicky Wimble. Two of the Trustees are completely independent of True Vision, in order to establish clear blue water between True Vision and the Foundation, and ensure transparency and accountability.

Office Staff

The Trust employs two part-time staff; Klaire Harris, Foundation Manager and Sharon Thompson, Administrator. This report was completed by Klaire Harris.

Zimbabwe's Forgotten Children Report August 2020 - September 2021

Report written by Sharon Thompson.

FEEDING PROGRAMME

Severe hunger and malnutrition are a very real concern for families and children in the remote rural areas of Zimbabwe, especially during severe weather conditions such as long-term drought. The economic and political crises, 90% unemployment and Covid-19 restrictions mean half the population have plunged further into a "hunger catastrophe" according to the UN.

Children couldn't come to school to get food - so we took the food to them!

Over 5,000 children received a highly nutritious porridge based mahewu drink, every day at home.

For the first time we were able to provide food for over 1,000 babies and toddlers.

Coronavirus restrictions made it much harder for parents to access food for their families.

In January, tonnes of food arrived in Chinhoyi, destined for the schools in the Makonde District. Our staff and the driver waited 2 days for torrential rain to stop as the dirt roads out to the schools were blocked with buses that were stuck in the mud. It then took them 2 days to get to the first school as they had to dig themselves out of the mud several times, with the truck slipping and sliding along the roads, which turned into rivers!

It was definitely a village team effort getting the food to the schools as when the rain stopped for a bit, people came with their cattle and scotch carts to transport the food to the school so that parents and guardians could collect it. The school heads and teachers were waiting for "Covid protocol" well organized. Peter and the Heads also tried to talk with the most vulnerable families and the elderly to make sure they are surviving ok. As you can imagine the beneficiaries rely very heavily on our monthly mahewu deliveries as it's the only considered nutrition their children receive, without it, malnutrition would be much higher than it already is in the area. They always send emotional messages of gratitude to all of the donors.

Schools in Zimbabwe returned on 22 March, however with Covid restrictions on food handling, we will continue giving out the bags of food until it's safe to start serving in school again. We thank RUFF'S KITCHENS, WTMD, PAF, SAM and all who donate for making the food deliveries possible.

We got to know the elderly better in our school communities and managed to deliver maize, soya and mahewu to more than 2,000 grandparents. We believe many would not have survived through 2020 without this intervention.

REDEARTH TEACHER TRAINING PROGRAMME

Before lockdown our Redearth rural schoolteachers received their third training module on "Teaching & Learning Strategies" to manage large classes. They have one more module to complete their training.

Our training partners, Redearth Education use a rigorous teacher training process, which has shown to contribute positively to pupil engagement and academic progress. Most importantly - it is designed to meet the needs of the teachers and pupils in a Zimbabwean context. The training is experiential based and builds the capacity of Zimbabwean rural teachers (ie. teachers in remote, often hard to reach destitute areas, with no access to support) to better understand how to support children's learning in very challenging circumstances, especially large classes with NO books or learning aids!

A rural teacher empowerment and pupil motivation is at an all-time high. The Redearth teacher training programme has provided our Zimbabwean teachers with the knowledge, practice, and creativity to turn the most basic shelter into a wonderfully stimulating learning environment.

Teachers welcome the children into class each day and have group activities ready for them to kick off a stimulating day - using materials found in the local environment, like maize sacks, plastic bottles, clay, pebbles and cardboard.

'Even in the best equipped schools, children will not get good services unless teachers are well trained and motivated' - Ritva Reinikka, Director of Human Development in the World Bank (Credit Redearth Education).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Rather than being simply a transfer of knowledge and facts, today's education must foster creativity, problem solving and interpersonal skills. It must instil a desire for lifelong learning, producing a population of empowered, mindful and competent citizens who can help transform the world. (Credit: Redearth Education).

The teachers are trained using a range of teaching and learning strategies which include group work, partner talk and role-play. Positive methods of behavior management (some teachers still used corporal punishment) which encourages, and rewards pupils are taught including the importance of gender equality.

CONSERVATION AGRICULTURE

70 farmers received conservation agriculture training and inputs this year. Since this programme began more than 300 families have become completely self-reliant and do not require food aid from us anymore. This number is growing fast!

GROWING UP POOR IN AMERICA

Early in 2020, it was estimated that almost 12 million children in America were living in poverty and that more than one in six lived in food-insecure households.

Then came the Coronavirus.

The film Growing Up Poor was filmed by our Trustee Jezza Newman and released in September 2020. The film followed the lives of three families. Rebecca and her 2 daughters, Crystal and her 3 children and Fantasy and her 2 daughters.

The film brought in enough money to be able to pay for the basic luxuries that these families had never had before. Laptops, clothes and school trips, household bills and food.

The donations from this film were not longstanding and only continued for 3 months after it was released. In this time, we arranged the transfer of all the donations to each of the families and in turn, changing their lives for the better.

KIDS IN CAMPS - KENYA

Grace, Anne and Family

We are still in contact with Anna, John and Amos even though the Comic Relief grant came to an end in June 2020. We are able to send them a small monthly income to help them to buy some food and also occasionally help with school fees.

The children are doing very well in school and Grace is in her 2nd year of university.

Each of the children are still in school full time but Grace is now arranging the school fees for them.

The Aletheia Foundation has been covering Grace's siblings' family school fees and related essentials, such as books and uniforms. There are still a lot that they are lacking that the 32 ksh that is sent every month cannot cover. Grace explained that Kenya is getting very expensive, and she has to really try to cut it down to a very small budget that is not really a comfortable living. They have been living on a basic diet of githeri (mixed bean dish), ugali (maize flour mash) and sugary tea. Variations to this diet seem rare and they said that often they will only eat one meal a day, usually in the evening. There is of course no room in their budget for an emergency of any sort, particularly medical.

School updates

- Grace is doing well and in her 2nd year of university, she is currently writing her first book all about the fears and struggles that women go through in Africa. She is still at university and pursuing her studies in Journalism.
- Anne, Grace's sister is in Form 4 - her last year of school, she would like funds to attend university to study photography or to be a veterinarian but is undecided.
- Amos is in Form 3 - his second year of High School (Njoro High school).
- John is in the first year of High School (Njoro High school).

Each of the children are still in school full time but Grace is now arranging the school fees for them

Monthly Expenses in ksh

- Food, rent and house supplies - 17,000
- Miscellaneous - 15,000

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES
TB - RETURN OF THE PLAGUE

Nokubegha: The Foundation paid for Nokubegha to be able to rent a room and stay local to her school. She has recently lost this accommodation due to the landlord passing away and his family taking ownership back of the property. Brian has agreed to send extra money each month for the bus fare that is now required for her to be able to get forwards and backwards to school. Every few months she will let us know about the extra personal items that she may need. We then go ahead and purchase these items for her.

Nokubegha is due to finish school this year and hopes to be able to go to university - examination results pending.

We are able to pay her annual school fees, books and send money for exams, food and personal items.

THE SLUMDOG CHILDREN OF MUMBAI

We continue to send Deepa and her family a small sum every month, which is increased each year due to a rise in inflation, this money is used as a support for the family.

Deepa is now 18, married and has had a healthy baby son.

Deepa's house was destroyed in a flood and The Foundation sent £2,000 to rebuild this for her family. Shobna has not been keeping that well, she is getting older, and we need to help her financially so that she is able to get the medication that she requires. We continue to support her and Deepa's younger siblings.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Principal funding sources

Income from 1st September 2020 - 31st August 2021 enabled the Aletheia Foundation to make grants totalling £97,785 with management and administration costs at £8,385. There is currently £61,058 held at the bank, which will be released over the coming years to support the children throughout their childhood.

Throughout the year under review, the Aletheia Foundation is confident it has significantly helped the children who appeared in their films towards a brighter and better future and will continue to do so.

The Trust's Foundation Manager, Klaire Harris works several hours a week according to need and maintains the Foundation's relationship with donors and beneficiaries; she looks after fundraising, social media and event management. Sharon Thompson is responsible for overseeing the administration of Zimbabwe's Forgotten Children's on the ground in Zimbabwe, she also looks after fundraising and all social media for the Zimbabwe's Forgotten Children.

Detailed Statement of Financial Activities	15

THE ALETHEIA FOUNDATION

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 AUGUST 2020

The trustees present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 August 2020. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives, policies and organisation

The Aletheia Foundation, registered charity no 1110096 (formerly True Vision Foundation) was founded in 2009 by Brian Woods, Deborah Shipley and Jezza Neumann, producers and Directors of True Vision Productions.

True Vision Productions has an extensive track record producing Emmy, BAFTA and Grierson award-winning films for the BBC, ITV, Channel 4 and HBO with a special interest in giving a voice to young people and socially disadvantaged groups. We have a reputation for combining journalistic rigour with sensitively-made programming, often working with vulnerable individuals involved in a variety of difficult circumstances.

Because of this, we understand that our films can ignite passions in our viewers who may want to help the people featured in the films or help the cause we are highlighting. When donations can be channelled through existing NGOs, we direct our audience straight to these organisations, however, there have been many occasions where no charities are working in the particular area where we have highlighted an issue, or there are compelling reasons why we cannot make direct links to organisations on the ground.

Historically, we would grow charities out of the films that were made, such as - COCOA, Care of China's Orphaned and Abandoned, The Orphans of Nkandla Trust and The Campaign for Bulgaria's Abandoned Children. When we realised that films had the power to raise awareness and support for social issues and injustice, we decided that instead of repeatedly creating new bespoke charities, we would launch The Aletheia Foundation so that anyone who wished to help the people featured in our films would be able to, safely in the knowledge that their donations would help those individuals and the causes directly.

We continue to work closely with charities that support the wider issues raised by our films, and always seek to direct viewers to these charities if they wish to help people in similar situations to those depicted in the films. The Foundation is for those viewers who are keen to help the individuals featured in our films, and provides a more transparent and accountable system for channelling such offers of help than the more informal process of money being sent to the production company and where there is no other charitable vehicle through which assistance can reach contributors.

TEACHER TRAINING PROGRAMME IN PARTNERSHIP WITH REDEARTH EDUCATION

In our last report we gave full details of the Primary school teachers and Early Childhood Development (ECD) teachers receiving training in Module 1 of the Developing Practice in Teaching and Learning Programme.

When the Module 1 training was complete in May 2019 our Zimbabwean Programme Manager was invited back to the Ministry of Education to meet with Directors. They were extremely impressed with the Redearth teacher training programme and were keen to start rolling it out to other schools - using the teachers who had already been trained. This was very positive! However, it was vital they understood that, even though the aim was for lead teachers to be identified, the teachers had not been adequately trained and required extensive support to disseminate their training to other teachers, for a sustainable outcome.

It was agreed that in September 2019 the Ministry of Education would invite and host 45 teachers from the rest of the District Schools and we would fund the 2 training consultants from Redearth Education Uganda. Limited time and funding meant those 45 teachers would be trained for 2 days on 'creating and using learning resources with recyclable materials'. We believe this was the best compromise and the meeting was a positive step towards the Ministry officials becoming more involved in the programme outcomes.

Primary Schools and ECD Centres

Monitoring and Support Visit

September 2019

Monitoring visits to the primary schools and ECD centres were carried out over 5 days by the team - made up of the District School Inspector, Zimbabwe's Children Programme Manager and 2 Redearth trainers.

Although the schools are very rural, it was found the children are experiencing an improved learning environment. Teachers have put up classroom wall charts and displays made from locally available materials like cardboard and sacks. There were ground maps and shapes made in the external environment for pupils. There are high levels of recycled learning example materials in evidence in many schools and in one this prompted the parents to construct a temporary shelter for learners who were learning under the trees.

At Kemukaka primary school, Seymore (a teacher), reported that she was happy to see her ECD children being able to arrange numbers in order using bottle lines. Her class is covered with a variety of displays and resources for learning. Even without desks, the children were given different games and activities which kept them engaged.

At Piriviri primary school, children were given resources to work in their groups. Empty plastic bottles were being used to create shapes and numbers in the external learning environment and the community has been mobilised to set up play equipment for ECD children.

It was also found that desks were arranged for children to sit in groups, there was no litter and children were being rewarded with table points. Additional training and support were delivered as some teachers needed extra encouragement; however it is clear the teachers are consistently implementing the good practices from the training.

'I am very impressed with the response to the Redearth programme' said Mr Murobe the Chinhoyi Schools Inspector. This was said after visiting classes at Obva primary school where most classrooms were covered with classroom displays including one classroom which had no roof.

The discipline of our learners has improved, the learners are competing for points. In fact, they want to come to school daily' said Clara, a teacher at Kanyaga.

On the last day of the visit, the Inspector led the team to three schools that are not in the programme for comparison purposes. It was clear that the teaching in these schools was mainly characterized by chalk and talk with children seated in rows.

Primary School Teachers Training

Module 2 - The Emotional Learning Environment

September 2019

THE ALETHEIA FOUNDATION

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

The module 2 training went very well, with full attendance, well-motivated and enthusiastic participants that were kept actively engaged. We had the same team from Redearth, the Ministry and Zimbabwe's children and two extra teachers who were identified from the monitoring visits the week before. Module 2 sessions aims covered were:

- To develop an understanding of how shared systems of positive behaviour management fulfil human rights and are therefore more effective.
- To develop an understanding of how all human beings need encouragement to succeed.
- To understand how the use of positive language supports engagement and self-esteem of the learners.
- To further develop the understanding of the need for a positive classroom climate.
- To develop more confidence in the teachers on the use of the reward system including trophies, stars and points.
- Understanding how routines and procedures link to human rights and responsibilities.

In his remarks the Provincial Director emphasised that the information being taught by Redearth was very important not only for teachers but for the education officials too. He further reminded the teachers that everything in the classroom is based on the emotional learning environment.

Due to the practical sessions like roleplays and demonstration lessons, the training was full of enjoyment which kept the participants focussed up to the end. The teachers demonstrated lessons to each other on how they would use positive behaviour management strategies for pupil encouragement. The training ended with teachers making items for rewarding like trophies, merit cards and resources for their lessons.

The District Schools Inspector said, "the training we have received is timely as the country tries to find alternative means to corporal punishment. The workshop is an eye opener as we can now use positive behaviour management strategies instead of the corporal punishment we were once using."

Further comments from the teachers were as follows:

"I find the workshop very useful. My profession as a teacher has been transformed. I have acquired important skills and knowledge. Thank you for the training workshop". Teacher from Chihwiti primary school.

"I wasn't familiar with how best I could discipline my learners besides the use of corporal but now different strategies like the use of stars, being a role model, trophies, and points have been introduced to me." Teacher from Kemukaka primary school.

Impact of the TEACHER TRAINING Programme to Date

At baseline, only 4% of the teachers observed had displays made from locally recycled materials but by September 2019, 100% of the classrooms observed had displays made from locally recycled materials. Many had displays made from sacks and cards which are more durable and had been made carefully so were of good quality. This progress is attributed to the training that sparked teacher's motivation, enthusiasm, creativity and the focus on ensuring the quality of what teachers do.

Teaching and Learning Strategies

Although the teachers were initially trained on module one which addresses the development of the physical learning environment, it was clear during our assessments that teaching and learning is improving simultaneously.

67% of the pupils in the lessons observed were engaged in lessons compared to 13% at baseline. This engagement is attributed to:

- Teachers using learning materials during lessons which aid the teaching and learning process and helped children understand the content. For example, teacher Matemera creatively made a battery cage from cardboard which increased children's understanding of the battery cage system of rearing birds.
- Some teachers are engaging pupils during the lesson by giving opportunities for partner talk.
- VAK (Visual, Auditory and Kinaesthetic) strategy is being developed where children can hear, see and do within lesson to support their learning. (This was more developed in the ECD classes).

CONSERVATION AGRICULTURE PROGRAMME, ZIMBABWE

THE ALETHEIA FOUNDATION

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

We are hugely grateful to Foundations for Farming (our partners in the Conservation Agriculture program) for hosting parents and teachers from the community and schools in which we are working. After first attending our foundation course, They were invited back to the much more extensive and indepth course known as "I was Hungry". This two-week residential course goes beyond farming small family plots and includes how to grow and use natural herbs for medicinal purposes as well as larger scale farming - again using only natural methods. It is through this training that we can achieve 3 main objectives:

- 1 Even the poorest families are able to farm, harvest and eat very well.
- 2 The program provides a sustainable cycle meaning all nutrition and health needs are taken care of year after year - as well as income generation.
- 3 The participants learn how to protect and nurture their natural environment even in the harshest conditions.

With the many crises the country and people are enduring, there are very few options available to survive. One parent said "finding a job is impossible, there is no money, no electricity, no food, no medicines available - people are dying from very bad health and malnutrition. I'm so happy to be given this opportunity so my family can do more than just survive... we can actually live well!"

COVID-19 RESPONSE

How are we supporting Zimbabwe's children during hunger and COVID-19?

Schools closed earlier than they should have, and Zimbabwe went into lockdown for 21 days - this has now been extended for 2 more weeks. However, most people have much bigger worries - HUNGER! One teacher explained... "We know about Coronavirus, but parents have to find food for their families, otherwise we will surely die of hunger first."

How do our programmes help?

We are in our fifth year of feeding thousands of children. The mahewu porridge drink is a satisfying, slow energy release food PACKED with nutrients. The nutrients are specific to growing, developing children who require an extra boost to build their immune systems and protect them from disease. When schools closed early mahewu was given to each family to take home... BUT they're unable to access more food!

In the meantime, all those families who have been trained in Conservation Agriculture, using only natural farming methods, are harvesting their crops now - fresh vegetables, lentils, sorghum, soya and maize to feed their families along with substantially extra produce to sell. BUT they cannot take their harvest to sell during lockdown!! They risk losing a large part of the crop they have worked so hard to produce.

IT IS THIS PRODUCE THAT IS GOING TO SAVE LIVES!

The answer is simple...

Together we have negotiated a very fair and reasonable exchange with our farmers - they will be (safely) delivering all their surplus crops to our poverty stricken and starving families throughout their area. We have trained 120 farmers in 9 different areas and they are now able to pay it forward.

It is rare that we stop thinking about the children and families in Zimbabwe and how we can support them - especially through the diverse challenges they face. With your help and the hard work of many Zimbabweans - we always find a way! Children who are sponsored continue to receive their monthly food hampers in a safe manner.

COVID-19 MAHEWU DISTRIBUTION TO 6,000 CHILDREN

Last month we managed to reach 204 of the most vulnerable families, in one area, to deliver maize and soya from our Conservation Agriculture farmers. The relief and gratitude from elderly grandmothers and child led households was emotional.

However, before lockdown over 5,000 children were receiving a nutritious porridge-mahewu drink every day at school - we couldn't help but worry, what are they having now?

We had to be creative in making sure the children still received the mahewu - with 700% hyperinflation, a severe fuel and cash crises, lockdown restrictions and villages in impossible-to-reach locations - it had to be an impeccably organised operation by our small team, parent volunteers and school committees. The transport chain varied from large trucks with sacks of food to scotch carts and cattle navigating through dried-up river ravines. We wanted to make sure we got food to the forgotten, beyond-reach children and families so everyone has an equal chance!

THE ALETHEIA FOUNDATION

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

During our fundraising campaign we set a new challenge for ourselves - to add 1,000 babies and toddlers to our list of children receiving mahewu every day. We are so grateful to everyone who helped us reach that target and are happy to share with you that we have succeeded in delivering a supply of mahewu to 6,000 babies and children for the next 3 months! Parents came to the schools, in small groups, to collect the food according to the register and the number of children in their care. Everyone expressed sincere gratitude and had the opportunity to talk with school staff and our small team in an attempt to release the heavy burdens they carry.

Thank you to Ruff's Kitchens, The Phyllis Aspinall Foundation, WTMD, some private philanthropists and our loyal monthly donors for enabling us to feed the many desperate families in Zimbabwe.

"Us Zimbabweans know suffering! We have experienced very bad droughts, severe food shortages due to terrible economical problems and illness. But these days feel even more hopeless... all of those things just get worse. I can honestly say that it is only through people like you that we survive. We just don't know what else to do or say... THANK YOU and please don't forget us." Teacher, Makonde District, Zimbabwe

All donations are presently going towards nutrition relief to ease suffering from starvation and contribute to health and well-being (during the Covid 19 pandemic).

KIDS IN CAMPS - UGANDA

As the Comic Relief grant was coming to an end in June 2020, it was our priority to try to arrange school funds for the 9 remaining school children for the next 3 years.

This was obviously a tricky task and USDC (the local Charity that became involved at the request of Comic Relief last year) had to work with each of the 4 school's that the children attend to arrange contracts be drawn up for the children to prove that their fees had been paid and they were entitled to attend each year. This would ensure everyone completed Primary School and the majority would get at least 3 years of High School.

We had to reduce all of the personal money that the children had previously been receiving so that we could save as much money as possible for the school fees. The children were given counsellors and local support so that they were not just left alone once the grant had finished and USDC would no longer be visiting.

USDC encouraged the children to get jobs so that they could earn their extra personal money that they had been receiving from the grant.

USDC continued to visit the children every 3 months to check on their progress and to encourage the families to become as self-sufficient as possible.

Below is the last report that we received from USDC in June 2020.

Delivery of food and other sanitary wear:

Food items include maize flour, beans and sanitary wear including Jik, detergents and soap where delivered by focal person to the families of the young people. This aimed at supporting the beneficiaries during the COVID-19 lockdown by government.

We also supplied sanitary wear as a measure for preventing the spread of COVID-19 virus in camps especially among the two families. Other items were paid directly to schools as requested.

School selection and Admission:

Project coordinator and focal person worked hand in hand with inclusive community champions to ensure that the two young people named John and David Ajak are admitted in secondary school of their choice.

They were both admitted in boarding school named Inde technical school and Comboni Comprehensive college Adjumani.

Advance payment of School fees and other school requirements:

Between March and May 2020, we were able to receive demand notes and signed agreements for advance payments for all boarding schools.

Schools include St Mary Assumpta SS, Comboni Comprehensive College Adjumani, St Andrews Moyo and Inde technical school.

Learners paid for include Jacqueline, David Ajak, Coline Joseph and John c Ajak.

Other school items like mattress, suit case including transport to and from home were paid for David and John Ajak. It was due to the information got during home visits that we decided to cater for these expenses since this family is child led by John Ajak.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

We were also able to give a recommendation letter for scholarship application for university studies. This was for our former beneficiary named Immaculate who scored 7 points at Advanced level.

Challenges

It has been so hard to reach out to the school heads and other partners due to limitation of transport in the lockdown.

It is also still difficult to travel in border districts like Adjumani which has hindered the payment process

It is also difficult to tell when schools will resume which calls for continuous follow up.

WAY FORWARD

USDC has signed a memorandum of understanding with Windle Trust International to take on the custody of remaining funds worth five million four hundred eighty nine thousand one hundred seventy eight shillings (Ugx 5,489,178/=). It's the leading agency for education in emergencies USDC has also followed-up with the pending receipts paid in advance and other adjustments in school program as guided by Government. We are grateful to Aletheia Foundation for supporting the two families who we are glad to have met and worked with. We trust Windle Trust to do the rest of the remaining work to support the children achieve their education goals

KIDS IN CAMPS - KENYA

Grace, Anne and Family

As the Comic Relief grant for Anna, John and Amos was also coming to an end in June 2020, we reduced the children's personal money to get them used to not having that monthly income and we also wanted to have a little spare so that we could continue to support them for the coming year.

The children are doing very well in school and although Grace is at university. The schools did close because of COVID but not until the summer of 2020. We were able to buy the children a laptop for home schooling.

The annual visit and report this year was completed by Asha Jaffar on behalf of the Aletheia Foundation. The following is what she has written in her own words.

I visited Grace's family on the 5th of March 2020. On behalf of the Aletheia Foundation.

Grace picked me from Nakuru Town station and we both took public transport to their new place. Last year, Grace lived in a 9,000ksh two bedroom house and said she had to relocate because the cost of rent was a bit high. Now that she is in university she needs to save a lot and work part time.

The house is in a really beautiful gated community. With running water, electricity that is built from bricks and cement with very nice finishing. It has two bedrooms, and Grace has divided between the two rooms with the siblings and the mom taking each. A kitchen, a living room and a front yard.

Grace still lives with the mom. The only problem is she cannot speak Swahili so going out to look for a job is an uphill task in Nakuru. Anna requested if Aletheia Foundation could support the mom with a business. She is a great tailor and can roll with it if she gets a start up capital to work with. Meanwhile she helps Grace with house chores like cooking, cleaning and taking care of the house when Grace is in school.

Grace and I and Anna who was home that day, decided to go visit Amos and John who are both in boarding schools. We first went to visit Amos who is a high school student at "Njoro High school". The school is about 1 hour from where Grace now lives, which isn't that far in case Grace and Anna need to go and visit their brother.

I spoke to Amos's teacher and he mentioned that Amos has been improving in terms of performing well in class. His discipline is commendable and he has been putting extra effort in school. Amos also emphasized on the fact that he is doing well in school and just needs more support in terms of getting a stipend that can help him during school trips and even study breaks. Amos is now in Year Two and says he is looking forward to completing high school soon and joining university!.

THE ALETHEIA FOUNDATION

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Anna, Grace and I said Goodbye to Amos and left to go see John. Anna was at home on the day (s) I visited. She mentioned that she was sent home because she had not completed some payments but Grace promised to cover it before the end of that week. Anna said school has been great, she is now in Form 4 and says she is really working hard to join a university coming next year. She is in a catholic school that is rated to be one of the best and says she is sure she will get a good grade.

We went to John's school very late in the evening. John is in a boarding school next to Anna's school. Anna says she feels she can protect the brother because he is young, needs support and someone to talk to on a regular basis. I spoke to John's teacher and she mentioned that John's studies are affected by his condition. He strains to study and she hopes a solution will be found soon. John also said the eyes affect him even though it does not hurt.

The Aletheia Foundation has been covering Grace's siblings family school fees and related essentials, such as books and uniforms. But when I got there and assessed their needs, they were still a lot and they were still lacking that the 15k sent every month cannot cover. Grace explained that Kenya is getting very expensive and she has to really try to cut it down to a very small budget that is not really a comfortable living. They have been living on a basic diet of githeri (mixed bean dish), ugali (maize flour mash) and sugary tea. Variations to this diet seem rare and they said that often they will only eat one meal a day, usually in the evening. There is of course no room in their budget for an emergency of any sort, particularly medical.

Grace was nice enough to walk with me back to Nakuru town...After a few hours I put Grace in a Piki and waved them goodbye. It was raining heavily so I could not go back with them to their home. I left for Nairobi and called Grace when I arrived back well.

School updates

- Grace is in university studying Journalism
- Anne is in form 3- second year of high school (Rorie secondary school)
- Amos is in Form 2-First year of High School (Njoro High school)
- John is in class 6-junior class of primary school (St John's primary school)

Monthly Expenses in ksh

- Food and house supplies - 20,000
- Rent - 7,500
- Miscellaneous - 5,000

TB - Return of the Plague

Nokubegha: We continue to visit Nokubegha and her brother every 3 months, to bring them fresh food supplies and items such as flour and rice that will last them until the following visit. Every few months she will let us know about the extra personal items that she may need. She said she needed some new shoes and new school uniform, so we purchased those items for her.

This year she was invited to the annual Reed Dance Ceremony, which is only for girls of a certain age. We were able to buy her a special dress and pay for her to attend, which she loved.

She is in her 3rd year of high school now and is doing really well. This year she should take her Junior Certificate Exams and she passed her Final Year exams for 2019. She is at boarding school but continues to go home as often as possible to see her brother.

This year due to COVID, Nokubegha has spent most of it homeschooling. We were able to buy her a laptop so that she could continue her studies from there.

We are able to pay her annual rent, her annual school fees and send money for exams, food and personal items.

The Slumdog Children of Mumbai

We continue to send Deepa and her family a small sum every month, which is increased each year due to a rise in inflation, this money is used as a support for the family.

Deepa: is now 17, is married and has had a healthy baby boy in February 2020.

Shobha: Shobha has not been keeping that well. She is getting older and we need to help her financially so that she is able to get the medication that she requires. We continue to support her and Deepa's younger brothers.

Terms of engagement – Independent examiner's report for an unincorporated charity

We are pleased to accept the appointment as independent examiners of the charity and are writing to confirm our terms for carrying out the work and to clarify our respective responsibilities.

This letter is effective from 28 June 2021 and will remain so until it is replaced.

We shall be grateful if you could confirm your agreement to the terms by signing below and returning the letter to us.

Yours faithfully

LEES

PLEASE SIGN BELOW:

I confirm that I have read and understood the contents of this letter and agree that it accurately reflects the services that I have instructed you to provide.

Signed
Mr B J Edwards
Signed on behalf of the Trustees

Dated 30/06/21

SCOPE OF SERVICES

Your responsibility to us

The advice that we give can only be as good as the information on which it is based. In so far as that information is provided by you, or by third parties with your permission, your responsibility arises as soon as possible if any circumstances or facts alter, as any alteration may have a significant impact on the advice given. If the circumstances change therefore or your needs alter, advise us of the alteration as soon as possible in writing.

Statutory responsibilities

As trustees of the above charity, you are required by statute to prepare accruals accounts for each financial year which present the income and expenditure of the charity for the period, and its assets and liabilities at the end of the period, together with a trustees' annual report in accordance with the Charities Act 2011/ Charities Act (Northern Ireland) 2008. In preparing those accounts you must:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently.
- make judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent.
- prepare the accounts on the going concern basis unless it is not appropriate to presume that the charity will continue in operation.

It is your responsibility to keep proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any particular time the financial position of the charity and to enable us to ensure that the accounts comply with the Charities Act 2011/ Charities Act (Northern Ireland) 2008. It is also your responsibility to safeguard the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention of and detection of fraud and other irregularities with an appropriate system of internal controls.

You are also responsible for making available to us, as and when required, all the charity's accounting records and all other relevant records and related information, including minutes of all trustees' meetings.

The intended users of the report are the trustees. The report will be addressed to the trustees.

Our legal and professional duty is to state in our report whether any matters have come to our attention which, in our opinion, attention should be drawn to in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached and to report whether or not any matter has come to our attention in connection with the examination which gives us reasonable cause to believe:

- proper accounting records have not been kept by the charity in accordance with section 130 of the Charities Act 2011/section 64 of the Charities Act (Northern Ireland) 2008, as amended.
- the accounts and statement are not in agreement with the accounting records.
- the accounts do not comply with the Charities Act 2011/ Charities Act (Northern Ireland) 2008.
- we also have an obligation to consider whether the information in the trustees' statutory annual report is materially consistent with that in the accounts.

There are certain other matters that, according to the circumstances, may need to be dealt with in our report. For example, material breaches of trust or information not provided to us.

We have a statutory duty to report to the Charity Commission/Office of the Scottish Charity Regulator/The Charity Commission for Northern Ireland/other regulator such matters (concerning the activities or affairs of the charity or any connected institution or body corporate) of which we become aware during the course of our examination which are (or are likely to be) of material significance to the regulator in the exercise of their powers of inquiry into, or acting for the protection of, charities.

Under directions issued by the Charity Commission/Office of the Scottish Charity Regulator/ The Charity Commission for Northern Ireland /other regulator, we are obliged to report to it any matters which we become aware of during the course of our examination, which give us reasonable cause to believe that one or more of the trustees has been responsible for deliberate or reckless misconduct in the charity's administration.

Should you instruct us to carry out an alternative report then it will be necessary for us to issue a separate letter of engagement.

If as a result of the work we perform, we arrive at the conclusion that the charity is not entitled to exemption from an audit of the accounts, or if we are unable to reach a conclusion on this matter, we will not issue any report. We will provide you with written notification of the reasons for this.

We are also required to report any of the following matters that have become apparent during the course of the independent examination:

- whether there has been any material expenditure or action which appears not to be in accordance with the trusts of the charity;
- whether any information or explanation to which we are entitled has not been afforded to us; and
- whether any information in the trustees' statutory annual report is inconsistent in any material respect with that in the financial statements.

As trustees of a charity, you are under a duty to prepare an annual report for each financial year complying in its form and content with the Charities Act 2011/ the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005/ Charities Act (Northern Ireland) 2008. You should also have regard to Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities issued by the Charity Commission and the Office of the Scottish Charity Regulator in their role as the joint SORP-making body, recognised by the Financial Reporting Council.

As trustees you are required to report as to whether you have given consideration to the major risks to which the charity is exposed, and to the systems designed to mitigate these risks. Compliance with the SORP requires you to confirm that these risks have been reviewed and that systems have been established to mitigate those risks. I am not required to audit this statement, or to form an opinion on the effectiveness of the risk management and control procedures.

Our service to you

Our examination will be carried out in accordance with guidance provided by the Charity Commission/Office of the Scottish Charities Regulator/ the Charity Commission for Northern Ireland /other regulator.

Our examination will involve comparing the accounts with the accounting records and making limited enquiries of the charity's officers. In certain circumstances we shall look for independent evidence to support entries in the accounting records or in the presentation of the accounts.

The responsibility for safeguarding the assets of the charity and for the prevention and detection of fraud, error and non-compliance with law or regulations rests with you. Our examination should not be relied on to disclose all such material misstatements or fraud, errors or instances of non-compliance as may exist.

As part of our normal procedures, we may request you to provide formal representations concerning certain information and explanations we have received from you during the course of my examination.

In order to assist us with our examination of your accounts, we will request sight of any documents or statements that will be issued with the accounts. This will include the trustees' report. We reserve the right to attend all general meetings of the charity, and to receive notice of all such meetings.

It is not the purpose of our examination to identify all significant weaknesses in the charity's systems, but if any such weaknesses come to our attention, we shall report them to you. If this situation occurs, the report should not be provided to any third party without our consent. Once we have issued our report we have no further direct responsibility in relation to the accounts for that financial year. However, we expect that you will inform us of any material event occurring between the date of our report and that of the annual general meeting that may affect the accounts.

OTHER TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Applicable law

These terms of engagement, are governed by, and should be construed in accordance with, English law. Changes in the law or practice or in public policy

We will not accept responsibility, or liability for any losses, if you act on advice given by us on an earlier occasion without first confirming with us that the advice is still valid in the light of any change in the law (or the interpretation thereof) or practice or in public policy or your circumstances.

Client identification and verification

As with other professional services firms, we are required to identify and verify our clients for the purposes of the UK anti-money laundering legislation. Save in exceptional circumstances we cannot start work until this requirement has been met. We may request from you, and retain, such information and documentation as we require for these purposes and/or make searches of appropriate databases including ID verification software.

Client money

We may from time to time hold money on your behalf. Such money will be held in trust in a client bank account, which is segregated from the firm's funds. Fees paid by you in advance for professional work to be performed and clearly identifiable as such shall not be regarded as clients' monies.

Commissions and other benefits

In some circumstances we may receive commissions or other benefits for introductions to other professionals or in respect of transactions which we arrange for you. Where this happens, we will notify you of any such commissions or benefits.

Confidentiality

Communication between us is confidential. We shall take all reasonable steps not to disclose your information except where we are required to and as set out in our privacy notice. Unless we are authorised by you to disclose information on your behalf this undertaking will apply during and after this engagement. We may, on occasions, subcontract work on your affairs to other tax or accounting professionals. The subcontractors will be bound by our client confidentiality and security terms.

Conflicts of interest

If there is a conflict of interest in our relationship with you or in our relationship with you and another client that is capable of being addressed successfully by the adoption of suitable safeguards to protect your interests, then we will adopt those safeguards. Where conflicts are identified that cannot be managed in a way that protects your interests then we regret that we will be unable to provide further services. If this arises, we will inform you promptly. We reserve the right to act for other clients whose interests are not the same as or are adverse to yours, subject, of course, to the obligations of confidentiality referred to above.

Data Protection

We confirm that we will comply with the provisions of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) when processing personal data about you.

Processing means:

- obtaining, recording or holding personal data; or
- carrying out any operation or set of operations on personal data, including collecting and storage, organising, adapting, altering, using, disclosure (by any means) or removing (by any means) from the records manual and digital.

The information we obtain, process, use and disclose will be necessary for:

- the performance of the contract
- to comply with our legal and regulatory compliance and crime prevention
- contacting you with details of other services where you have consented to us doing so
- other legitimate interests relating to protection against potential claims and disciplinary action against us.

This includes, but is not limited to, purposes such as updating and enhancing our client records, analysis for management purposes and statutory returns.

In regard to our professional obligations, we are a member firm of the ACCA. Under the ethical and regulatory rules of ACCA we are required to allow access to client files and records for the purpose of maintaining our membership of this body.

Data Protection Act (DPA) 2018 and the GDPR set out a number of requirements in relation to the processing of personal data. LEES take privacy of the information we process seriously. We will only use personal information accessed under this contract to administer your account and to provide the services you have requested from us. For further information on our approach to handling personal data; our privacy notice is available at www.leesaccountants.co.uk/lees-privacy-notice. In agreeing to the terms of this letter you will be indicating that you have read and agreed the terms under which we operate as set out in this notice.

Disengagement

Should we resign or be requested to resign we will normally issue a disengagement letter to ensure that our respective responsibilities are clear. Should we have no contact with you for a period of 12 months or more, we may issue to your last known address a disengagement letter and thereafter cease to act. We reserve the right following termination for any reason to destroy any of your documents that we have not been able to return to you after a period of six months unless other laws or regulations require otherwise.

Electronic and other communication

As instructed, we will communicate with you and with any third parties you instruct us to as set out in our privacy notice via email or by other electronic means. The recipient is responsible for virus-checking emails and any attachments.

With electronic communication there is a risk of non-receipt, delayed receipt, inadvertent misdirection or interception by third parties. We use virus-scanning software to reduce the risk of viruses and similar damaging items being transmitted through emails or electronic storage devices. However, electronic communication is not totally secure and we cannot be held responsible for damage or loss caused by viruses, nor for communications that are corrupted or altered after despatch. Nor can we accept any liability for problems or accidental errors relating to this means of communication, especially in relation to commercially sensitive material. These are risks you must accept in return for greater efficiency and lower costs. If you do not wish to accept these risks, please let us know and we will communicate by hard copy, other than where electronic submission is mandatory.

Any communication by us with you sent through the post or DX system is deemed to arrive at your postal address two working days after the day that the document was sent.

When accessing information held electronically by HMRC, we may have access to more information than we need and will only access records reasonably required to carry out the contract.

You are required to keep us up to date with accurate contact details at all times. This is important to ensure that communications and papers are not sent to the incorrect address.

Fees and payment terms

Our fees may depend not only upon the time spent on your affairs but also on the level of skill and responsibility and the importance and value of the advice that we provide, as well as the level of risk. If we provide you with an estimate of our fees for any specific work, then the estimate will not be contractually binding unless we explicitly state that that will be the case.

Where requested we may indicate a fixed fee for the provision of specific services or an indicative range of fees for a particular assignment. It is not our practice to identify fixed fees for more than a year ahead as such fee quotes need to be reviewed in the light of events. If it becomes apparent to us, due to unforeseen circumstances, that a fee quote is inadequate, we reserve the right to notify you of a revised figure or range and to seek your agreement thereto.

In some cases, you may be entitled to assistance with your professional fees, particularly in relation to any investigation into your tax affairs by HMRC. Assistance may be provided through insurance policies you hold or via membership of a professional or trade body. Other than where such insurance was arranged through us you will need to advise us of any such insurance cover that you have. You will remain liable for our fees regardless of whether all or part are liable to be paid by your insurers.

We will issue bills, and our invoices are due for payment upon presentation or within 30 days of issue. Our fees are exclusive of VAT which will be added where it is chargeable. Any disbursements we incur on your behalf and expenses incurred in the course of carrying out our work for you will be added to our invoices where appropriate.

We reserve the right to charge interest on late paid invoices at the rate of 5% above bank base rates under the Late Payment of Commercial Debts (Interest) Act 1998. We also reserve the right to suspend our services or to cease to act for you on giving written notice if payment of any fees is unduly delayed. We intend to exercise these rights only where it is fair and reasonable to do so.

If you do not accept that an invoiced fee is fair and reasonable you must notify us within 21 days of receipt, failing which you will be deemed to have accepted that payment is due.

On termination of the engagement you may appoint a new adviser. Where a new adviser requests professional clearance and handover information we reserve the right to charge you a reasonable fee for the provision of handover information.

Implementation

We will only assist with implementation of our advice if specifically instructed and agreed in writing.

Intellectual property rights

We will retain all copyright in any document prepared by us during the course of carrying out the engagement save where the law specifically provides otherwise.

Internal disputes within a client

Where this engagement letter is addressed to a business, and if we become aware of a dispute between parties who own or are in some way involved in the ownership and management of the business, it should be noted that our client is the business and we would not provide information or services to one party without the express knowledge and permission of all parties. Unless otherwise agreed by all parties we will continue to supply information to the normal place of business for the attention of the directors/proprietors. If conflicting advice, information or instructions are received from different directors/principals in the business we will refer the matter back to the board of directors/the partnership/the LLP and take no further action until the board/partnership/LLP has agreed the action to be taken.

Interpretation

If any provision of this engagement letter is held to be void, then that provision will be deemed not to form part of this contract and the remainder of this agreement shall be interpreted as if such provision had never been inserted.

Investment services

Investment business is regulated under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and the Financial Services Act 2012.

If, during the provision of professional services to you, you need advice on investments, we may have to refer you to someone who is authorised by the Financial Conduct Authority or the Prudential Regulation Authority. However, as we are licensed by the ACCA, we may be able to provide certain investment services that are complementary to, or arise out of, the professional services we are providing to you. Such services may include:

- advice to you on investments generally, but not recommending a particular investment or type of investment;
- advice and assistance in transactions concerning shares or other securities not quoted on a recognised exchange; and
- manage investments or act as trustee (or donee of power of attorney) where decisions to invest are taken on the advice of an authorised person.

Lien

Insofar as we are permitted to do so by law or professional guidelines, we reserve the right to exercise a lien over all funds, documents and records in our possession relating to all engagements for you until all outstanding fees and disbursements are paid in full.

Limitation of liability

We will provide our services with reasonable care and skill. Our liability to you is limited to losses, damages, costs and expenses directly caused by our negligence or wilful default.

Exclusion of liability for loss caused by others

We will not be liable if such losses, penalties, interest or additional tax liabilities are caused by the acts or omissions of any other person or due to the provision to us of incomplete, misleading or false information, or if they are caused by a failure to act on our advice or a failure to provide us with relevant information.

In particular, where we refer you to another firm whom you engage with directly, we accept no responsibility in relation to their work and will not be liable for any loss caused by them.

Exclusion of liability in relation to circumstances beyond our control

We will not be liable to you for any delay or failure to perform our obligations under this engagement letter if the delay or failure is caused by circumstances outside our reasonable control.

Exclusion of liability relating to non-disclosure or misrepresentation

We will not be responsible or liable for any loss, damage or expense incurred or sustained if information material to the service we are providing is withheld or concealed from us or misrepresented to us.

This exclusion shall not apply where such misrepresentation, withholding or concealment is or should (in carrying out the procedures that we have agreed to perform with reasonable care and skill) have been evident to us without further enquiry beyond that which it would have been reasonable for us to have carried out in the circumstances.

Indemnity for unauthorised disclosure

You agree to indemnify us and our agents in respect of any claim (including any claim for negligence) arising out of any unauthorised disclosure by you or by any person for whom you are responsible of our advice and opinions, whether in writing or otherwise. This indemnity will extend to the cost of defending any such claim, including payment at our usual rates for the time that we spend in defending it.

Limitation of aggregate liability

The maximum aggregate liability of this company its, directors and employees to all persons to whom the engagement letter is addressed and any other person that we have agreed with you may rely on our work is limited to the sum insured under the company's professional indemnity Insurance (available on request). By agreeing to the terms of the engagement letter, you accept that you have given proper consideration to this limit and that it is reasonable in all the circumstances. If you do not wish to accept it, you should contact us to discuss it before agreeing to the terms.

You have agreed that you will not bring any claim of a kind that is included within the subject of the limit against any of our directors or employees; on a personal basis.

Limitation of Third-Party Rights

The advice and information we provide to you as part of our service is for your sole use and not for any third party to whom you may communicate it unless we have expressly agreed in the engagement letter that a specified third party may rely on our work. We accept no responsibility to third parties, including where applicable any group company to whom the engagement letter is not addressed, for any advice, information or material produced as part of our work for you which you make available to them. It may not be used or relied upon for any other purpose or by any other person other than you without our prior written consent. A party to this agreement is the only person who has the right under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 to enforce any of its terms.

If our advice is disclosed to any third party (with or without our consent), then we accept no responsibility or liability to that third party for any consequences that may arise to them, should they rely on the advice.

If it is proposed that any documents or statement which refer to our name are to be circulated to third parties, please consult us before they are issued.

Money Laundering Regulations 2017

In accordance with the Proceeds of Crime Act, The Terrorism Act, Money Laundering Regulations 2017 and The Money Laundering, Terrorist Financing and Transfer of Funds (Information on the Payer) Regulations 2017 you agree to waive your right to confidentiality to the extent of any report made, document provided, or information disclosed to the National Crime Agency (NCA).

You also acknowledge that we are required to report directly to the NCA without prior reference to you or your representatives if during the course of undertaking any assignment the person undertaking the role of Money Laundering Reporting Officer becomes suspicious of money laundering.

As with other professional services firms, we are required to have appropriate risk-based policies and procedures for assessing and managing money laundering risks: this applies at the start of any business relationship and through the lifetime of the relationship. This includes undertaking appropriate customer due diligence. We may request from you, and retain, such information and documentation as we require for these purposes and/or make searches of appropriate databases. If we are not able to obtain satisfactory evidence of your identity, we will not be able to proceed with the engagement.

Copies of such records created as part of the client due diligence process, including any non-engagement documents relating to the client relationship and ongoing monitoring of it, will be retained by us for a period of five years after we cease to act for the business unless we are required to retain them under statutory obligation, or to retain them for legal proceedings, or you consented to the retention in which case the records will be retained for not more than 10 years.

Notification

We shall not be treated as having notice, for the purposes of our responsibilities, of information provided to members of our firm other than those engaged on the specific assignment (for example, information provided in connection with accounting, taxation and other services).

Our responsibilities

We have set out the agreed scope and objectives of your instructions within this letter of engagement. Any subsequent changes will be discussed with you and where appropriate a new letter of engagement will be agreed. We shall proceed on the basis of the instructions we have received from you and will rely on you to tell us as soon as possible if anything occurs which renders any information previously given to us as incorrect or inaccurate. We shall not be responsible for any failure to advise or comment on any matter that falls outside the specific scope of your instructions. We cannot accept any responsibility for any event, loss or situation unless it is one against which it is the expressed purpose of these instructions to provide protection.

Where you have instructed us to do so we will provide such other services as may be agreed between us from time to time. These services will be subject to the terms of this engagement letter and standard terms and conditions of business unless we decide to issue a separate engagement letter. An additional fee may be charged for these services.

Period of engagement and termination

Our work will begin when we receive your implicit or explicit acceptance of the terms of this letter. Except as stated in that letter we will not be responsible for periods before that date.

Each of us may terminate this agreement by giving not less than 21 days' notice in writing to the other party except where you fail to cooperate with us or we have reason to believe that you have provided us or HMRC with misleading information, in which case we may terminate this agreement immediately. Termination will be without prejudice to any rights that may have accrued to either of us prior to termination.

In the event of termination of this contract, we will endeavour to agree with you the arrangements for the completion of work in progress at that time, unless we are required for legal or regulatory reasons to cease work immediately. In that event, we shall not be required to carry out further work and shall not be responsible or liable for any consequences arising from termination.

If you engage us for a one-off piece of work (for example advice on a one-off transaction or preparation of a tax return for one year only) the engagement ceases as soon as that work is completed. The date of completion of the work is taken to be the termination date and we owe you no duties and we will not undertake further work beyond that date.

Professional rules and statutory obligations

We will observe and act in accordance with the by-laws, regulations and ethical guidelines of the ACCA and will accept instructions to act for you on this basis.

You are responsible for bringing to our attention any errors, omissions or inaccuracies in your returns that you become aware of after the returns have been submitted in order that we may assist you to make a voluntary disclosure.

In particular, you give us the authority to correct errors made by HMRC where we become aware of them. In addition, we will not undertake tax planning which breaches professional conduct in relation to taxation. We will therefore comply with the general anti-abuse rule and the targeted anti-avoidance rule. We will not be liable for any loss, damage or cost arising from our compliance with statutory or regulatory obligations. The requirements are available online at www.accaglobal.com/en.html.

The implications of professional body membership as it relates to GDPR are set out in the privacy notice, which should be read alongside these standard terms and conditions of business.

Provision of Services Regulations 2009

In accordance with our professional body rules we are required to hold professional indemnity insurance. Details about the insurer and coverage can be found at our offices.

Quality of service

We aim to provide a high quality of service at all times. If you would like to discuss with us how our service could be improved or if you are dissatisfied with the service that you are receiving please let us know by contacting a LEES Director. We undertake to look into any complaint carefully and promptly and to do all we can to explain the position to you. If we do not answer your complaint to your satisfaction you may take up the matter with the ACCA. This should be done promptly and, in any event, no later than 6 months after exhausting our procedures.

Reliance on advice

We will endeavour to record all advice on important matters in writing. Advice given orally is not intended to be relied upon unless confirmed in writing. Therefore, if we provide oral advice (for example, during the course of a meeting or a telephone conversation) and you wish to be able to rely on that advice, you must ask for the advice to be confirmed by us in writing. However, bear in mind that advice is only valid at the date it is given.

Retention of papers

You have a legal responsibility to retain documents and records relevant to your tax affairs. During the course of our work we may collect information from you and others relevant to your tax affairs. We will return any original documents to you if requested.

When we cease to act for you we will seek to agree the position on access to cloud-accounting records to ensure continuity of service. This may require you to enter direct engagements with the software providers and pay for that service separately. Documents and records relevant to your tax affairs are required by law to be retained as follows:

Individuals, trustees and partnerships

- with trading or rental income: five years and 10 months after the end of the tax year;
- otherwise: 22 months after the end of the tax year.

Companies, LLPs and other corporate entities

- six years from the end of the accounting period.

While certain documents may legally belong to you, we may destroy correspondence and other papers that we store, electronically or otherwise, which are more than seven years old. This includes your documents if they have not been reclaimed by you within the seven-year period. You must tell us if you require the return of any specific document or their retention for a longer period.

You should retain documents that are sent to you by us as set out in the privacy notice, which should be read alongside these terms and conditions.

Timetable

The services we undertake to perform for you will be carried out on a timescale to be determined between us on an ongoing basis. The timing of our work will in any event be dependent on the prompt supply of all information and documentation as and when required by us.
