ST LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY (USA) LONDON PROGRAMME

TRUSTEES' REPORT (INCLUDING DIRECTORS' REPORT)

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30 JUNE 2023

The Trustees present their report and financial statements for the year ended 30 June 2023.

The financial statements for St Lawrence University (USA) London Programme ("the Charity") have been prepared in accordance with the accounting policies set out in note 1 to the financial statements and comply with the Charity's Memorandum and Articles of Association, the Companies Act 2006 and "Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102)" (effective 1 January 2019).

Objectives and activities

The Charity has been established to provide University level courses ("the London Programme") for students of St Lawrence University, Canton, New York, USA ("St Lawrence University") and other institutions of higher education.

The Charity's objectives are to establish and maintain a University in London and at such locations as the Trustees of the Charity shall from time to time determine at which students may advance their education.

In order to achieve the Charity's objectives, the Trustees confirm that they have given due regard to the Charity Commission's public benefit guidance in deciding what activities the Charity should undertake, including its supplementary public benefit guidance on advancing education and on fee charging.

Of particular importance to the Charity are the objectives of promoting and encouraging the awareness and dissemination of United Kingdom culture and heritage to a broad range of nationalities and to encourage discussion and debate between students from all over the world and including those based within the United Kingdom.

The Charity aims to provide the following activities to achieve its objectives:

- The conduct of courses, lectures, seminars and discussion groups of humanities subjects, literature, history, history of art, architecture, drama, social services, current affairs and economics.
- Student work experience placements with approved organisations.
- Field trips on English heritage and culture.
- The conduct of research in the fields of the humanities and social sciences, results of which to be published in academic books and journals in the United Kingdom, Europe and USA.
- Teaching workshops for United Kingdom institutions to compare United Kingdom and USA educational and pedagogical practices.
- Holding of annual open days for representatives of organisations which will sponsor student work experience placements as part of academic programmes.
- Holding of guest lectures to the public.
- Seeking connections with United Kingdom associations and charities to promote interaction between students.
- Liaison with other universities for the conduct of culture exchange as a constituent part of their degree programmes.

The Trustees have paid due regard to guidance issued by the Charity Commission in deciding what activities the Charity should undertake.

Achievements and performance

The primary mission of the Charity is to provide upper-level St. Lawrence University students with an exceptional educational and intercultural experience as they explore London, arguably the most culturally diverse city in the world and a true global city. This goal is achieved by classroom lectures/discussions, field trips, and, at the end of each term, a four-week work experience placements with organisations or firms in London or the UK.

Moreover, beginning in 2012-2013, a college of St. Lawrence University's First-year Program (FYP) has been incorporated into the already existing London Programme in order to provide a select number of first-year students with an intercultural dimension at the beginning of their college careers. This is commensurate with St. Lawrence University's overall goal of becoming nationally known for its promotion of intercultural learning.

Forty-one students participated in the London Programme during the academic year. This included eleven First-Year students and eleven upper-level students in the fall semester, and nineteen upper-level students in the spring semester. All were matriculated regular St. Lawrence students.

Our location at 81 Gower Street is in the heart of the Bloomsbury neighbourhood of London and provides space for classrooms, a small library, a computer room, administrative offices, faculty offices, and student lounge areas. The Gower Street facility is located just a few blocks from the UCL Students' Union (which some of our students join) and just a few blocks from the Senate House, whose library is available for our history students and for students doing optional advanced-level study.

For the entire academic year the Charity paid its landlord, Bedford Estates Bloomsbury Limited ("Bedford Estates") £11,250 per month in quarterly instalments of £33,750 to rent the building at 81 Gower Street. The second and lower ground floor were vacant upon arrival this past year. We enlisted the help of Michael Boardman of M B & A Commercial, to secure tenants for these floors and we have issued a licence to The Arts and Business College of London for administrative offices on the second floor. We are currently seeking tenants for the lower ground floor. Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI) rented the first floor classrooms from May 13th – June 30th. As part of the ongoing property maintenance program, the exterior of the building was painted and paid for this past year, and the water heaters were also replaced. We entered into a contract with S&K Properties as our building manager, and they are responsible for cleaning the rooms on a daily basis during each semester and also the regular upkeep of the building and garden.

With all pandemic related restrictions lifted before our academic year began, we returned to the usual practice of housing our students with homestay families in TFL Zone 3 in North London. We regard this living situation as an important part of the cultural immersion of the London Programme where students live with and interact with families in a different cultural context and learn to be sensitive to its different norms.

The on-site Programme Administrator of the London Programme is always a St. Lawrence University faculty member from the Canton, New York campus. The position rotates annually, which means that the Housing and Work Experience Co-ordinator bears considerable responsibility for programme continuity. We have been extremely fortunate to have had the assistance of Jeannine Wyman for many years, as our Housing and Work Experience Co-ordinator, who has served us exceptionally well for over 30 years. Jeannine retired this past year and we hired Tom Crichlow, her replacement, as the London Programme Assistant Director. Jeannine has remained since Tom's appointment in a part-time capacity to train Tom in the manifold duties that the position entails. Lesley Henderson is a critical participant in finding work placements for students and she is also primarily responsible for budget management. Lesley has an annual contract as Programme Assistant working part time and will be continuing this work next year.

As the demography of the students shifts, and their various needs (special accommodations) increase, we require both flexibility and creativity in our operations to fully accommodate and address the concerns of students and to assist staff and faculty to navigate these concerns and needs. In addition to assisting the Housing and Work Experience Co-ordinator, the Programme Assistant works closely with the FYP Administrator to make all necessary arrangements for the FYP and prepares the monthly financial reports for the Administrator. We wish to particularly highlight Lesley's critical role in the Work Placement process. We have observed and admired Lesley's work ethic, especially the extent to which she committed time and energy towards calling, emailing and visiting with a range of organisations, attending workshops and events, all in the hopes of securing potential placement opportunities for our students as the work experience landscape is increasingly tightened. Furthermore, she committed extra hours to work one-on-one with students on their CVs, their cover letters and their preparations for interviews.

Usually, when the out-going Programme Administrator returns to the New York campus, he or she assists in recruitment and selection of students and promotes awareness among faculty colleagues of the value of international and intercultural studies. Furthermore, the continually refreshed leadership allows the London Programme to evolve in concert with the changing academic climate of the home campus. Each Programme Administrator also brings specific interests and talents that promote interaction with London in many ways.

Course offerings

All upper division students are required to take Encountering Global London and three courses of their own choosing. Students may petition the department offering credit for a course in Canton to take any of the courses as an advanced option. Theatre in London: Classic to Contemporary is already an advanced-level course and so may not be taken as an advanced option.

Encountering Global London (EGL) – Unlike the other three courses that the students take that counts for 1 unit, this course counts for 1.25 units to reflect the number of hours the students put into the two components of the course: The first 10-week academic section of the course utilises London as field site to examine London's urban, social and cultural geographies. The next 4-week workplace experience allows students to immerse themselves in and explore aspects of London and British culture – particularly, the London "workplace" culture. The extra .25 is recognition of the fact that the work placement experiences, associated class meetings, and assessments are in addition to the first part of the course. Thus, the academic section provides students with a conceptual vocabulary and intellectual grammar for thinking critically about the social, economic, cultural and political dynamics that shape contemporary London, knowledge and experiences they can usefully draw on during their work placement part. The aims of the course are:

- To understand the basic geography of London.
- To experience London culture and history through field excursions.
- To develop a sense of place, an appreciation for a London culture by reading seminal London-based literature.

All students in EGL both semesters secured 4-week work placements.

Elective spring courses

Theatre in London: Introduction – Students attend and discuss weekly plays produced in London.

Theatre in London: Classic to Contemporary – An advanced theatre course in which students attend and discuss additional and more difficult plays.

Writing in London – Students further develop their creative writing skills by writing about London. The course included readings about London and field assignments.

Art and Architecture in London - Students study art history by weekly visits to major galleries, museums, and architectural sites.

Issues in British Government and Politics – Students learn about past and current British political and governmental issues. Students attended Intelligence Squared debates and Mayor's question time.

Britain in the 20th Century – Students study the social and political history of the United Kingdom since the election of 1906. The course includes field trips to the RAF Museum, the Imperial War Museum, and the Cabinet War Rooms.

Economic Integration of the European Union (EU) – A study of the policies and controversies associated with European economic integration, especially the expansion of the EU. Students attend Intelligence Squared debates together with those in the Issues in British Government and Politics course. Students also attend two public lectures of their choice at the nearby London School of Economics.

Nature in the City: The Psychology of Urban Green Spaces – This class is the elective course taught by our FYP instructor Dr. Tom Greene. This course, the name implies, uses environmental psychology to evaluate green spaces in London.

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30 JUNE 2023

In addition to the First Year Program Seminar, the visiting director of the London FYP normally teaches a course of their own choosing, available to the programme as a whole. Tom Greene was the FYP director and he offered the following course in the fall:

First Year Program Courses (Fall Only):

First Year Seminar – All students in the London First Year Program will take a seminar taught by the FYP administrator. The topic each fall is specially chosen by the FYP administrator, with this autumn's course entitled "Science, Technology, and Innovation in Global London," which examined the crucial role that London played in the industrial revolution.

London's Urban Geographies – Focuses on the City of London through the lens of urban studies. Students take weekly field trips through various parts of London. This course is available to students in the London First Year Program during the month that the upper-level students are in their work experiences.

Additional Upper-Level Courses offered only in the Spring of 2023:

London's Urban Geographies – Focuses on the City of London through the lens of urban studies. Students take weekly field trips through various parts of London. This course was similar to that offered to FYP students in the autumn.

In summary, all the field components of the courses offered are salient in helping students contextualize what they are studying in the classroom in concrete ways.

Study trips

Encountering Global London (EGL)

EGL had slightly different programme trips in the fall and in the spring. The goal of both of these trips was to supplement the content students were learning about London with similar information from areas outside of London. In the fall semester we did three daytrips to the following locations: 1) Dover Castle, 2) Warwick Castle, and 3) Oxford. We traveled to each of these locations by train and had a blue-badge tour guide accompanying the group to provide historical context. In the spring semester the trip began with a coach that went to Stonehenge, then to Old Sarum, Salisbury, and then to Bath for the evening. The next day we toured Bath before heading back to London on the coach. The third day was spent traveling to Dover.

Overall the students were able to make critical connections between what they were studying in their various classes in London and what they observed, experienced, and analysed in the various locations we visited.

Other Excursions

In addition to the Encountering Global London course, the Art & Architecture and Urban Geographies courses make heavy use of field trips and, of course, the students in the theatre courses are at plays about every week (sometimes twice a week). The history course visits both the Imperial War Museum and the Churchill War Rooms, Government attends Mayor's Question session, and Economics students attend an Intelligence Squared debate. The First Year Program took trips to Brighton for a day trip but also to Ironbridge on a three day trip focused on the industrial revolution.

Assessment

On-going assessment procedures are conducted each semester. Each course is evaluated by each student on a form anonymously, and these results are shared with the faculty member and, if needed, lead to conversations between the faculty member and the director. In addition, both the program as a whole and the individual courses are evaluated on an on-line form that students complete when they have finished the London Programme.

These evaluations are shared with the London Programme Administrator, the Housing and Work Experience Co-ordinator, and the Associate Dean for International and Intercultural Studies on the main campus in Canton, and form part of the Programme Administrator's annual report to the Associate Dean. Our evaluations have been sometimes mixed, with students reporting overall success in their achievements but at times they feel the rigor of the programme and its demands are overwhelming.

We further request evaluations of each student from his or her work-experience sponsor for the final four weeks and an evaluation of the work-experience from each student. Both reports are figured into the student's final grade. In both semesters, most of our students received high praise from their sponsors. The supervisors' evaluation of the students' performances in the workplace also mirror our own informal analysis of the students during the different phases of the application process earlier in the semester. Moreover, students' evaluations of their experiences in the workplace reveal that they were highly valued for their knowledge, background, work ethic and character. Thus, while this experience is intense for the students – given the work hours and commuting times that most Londoners have to contend with on a longer-term basis – we believe it is an enriching component of the London Programme and we are appreciative of the organisations involved in taking on our students year in and year out.

Students are also asked to evaluate their accommodations, which allows us to discern any problems on which we need to follow up. In general, the FYP had a good experience at the Stay Club in Kentish Town. The rooms are indeed tight, but they served their purpose well. One student had issues with a noise in their room that took some time to fix, but aside from that there were no major issues. The upper division students all seemed to have good homestay experiences as well. For the first time in a long time the programme housed three students together (instead of a single or double) in both the fall and spring semester. There were no issues in the fall but the spring semester proved more challenging, with two of the roommates becoming close friends and one being left out. We advise against using triples in the future.

Despite liking the homestay, most students consistently complain about the distance and time commuting into the city. Whilst some students would rather be housed in student accommodations, we often find that deeper cultural immersion takes place in the homestays. It is also worth noting that housing students in homestays is significantly more affordable (a savings of approximately £1,000 per student) than housing them in student accommodations, even when paying more to homestay hosts to secure and retain them.

In addition to an annual audit, financial accounts are monitored in Canton by both the Associate Dean for CIIS and the Business Office.

St. Lawrence University is a member of the Association of American Study Abroad Programmes, United Kingdom, which has helped us to improve the London Programme by attendance at their workshops on British and American educational practices, immigration requirements, and ways of culturally enriching our programmes.

In the financial year from 1 July 2022 to 30 June 2023, 41 out of 41 students attending the London Programme were awarded scholarships.

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30 JUNE 2023

The statement of financial position set out on page 12 of the financial statements shows the financial position of the Charity at 30 June 2023.

Current assets are represented by other receivables and prepayments of £71,822 (2022: £92,375) and cash at bank and in hand of £166,375 (2022: £150,102).

Other receivables include rent deposits of £52,102 (2022: £52,102) relating to the Charity's leasehold premises and for the London Programme Administrator's accommodation which are repayable on the expiry of the leases.

Current liabilities are represented by a rent free creditor of £61,978 (2022: £71,978) and accruals and other creditors of £25,222 (2022: £72,358).

As at 30 June 2023 there were net assets of £150,997 (2022: £98,141), which is represented by the closing balance on the unrestricted funds.

The Charity is committed to using its resources in pursuit of its charitable objects. It is also committed to maintaining a level of reserves that is prudent to meet on-going liabilities, sufficient to ensure that all commitments can be met and to protect the long-term future of its operations. At 30 June 2023, the Charity had free reserves of £150,997 (2022: £98,141). Given that at the right moment the Charity secures funding for its London Programme from its principal donor, St Lawrence University, in accordance with approved budgets, the Trustees are satisfied that the current level of reserves are appropriate to its circumstances.

The Trustees are aware of their responsibility to ensure that the major risks to which the Charity is exposed are identified and to establish systems to mitigate those risks. They believe that there are in place adequate controls and systems to mitigate any external and internal risks that the Charity may face.

The Charity reviews its work annually and plans to continue the core activities outlined above for the foreseeable future, subject to satisfactory funding arrangements. The Charity will continue to evaluate the content of courses, assess existing and develop new excursions, seek to increase internships, and expand involvement with other educational programmes and institutions.

Structure, governance and management

The Charity is a company limited by guarantee with company registration number 05365587, and is governed by its Memorandum and Articles of Association. The Charity is also a registered educational charity, with charity registration number 1111266.

Board members use their own network of contacts to identify suitable candidates possessing the necessary knowledge and skills to act as Trustees of the Charity. At the present time, the Charity has three Trustees, which is considered adequate for its purposes.

At the Annual General Meeting in every year, one third of the members of the Board retire by rotation but are eligible for re-election.

Statement of Trustees' responsibilities

The Trustees, who are also the directors of St Lawrence University (USA) London Programme for the purpose of company law, are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Company Law requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the Charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the Charity for that year.

In preparing these financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the Charity will continue in operation.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the Charity and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Fundraising Statement

The Charity does not generate funds from public appeals nor does it make approaches to members of the public. The Charity has not engaged with any professional fundraisers to raise funds. No complaints were received in relation to the Charity's fundraising activities.

Disclosure of information to auditor

Each of the Trustees has confirmed that there is no information of which they are aware which is relevant to the audit, but of which the auditor is unaware. They have further confirmed that they have taken appropriate steps to identify such relevant information and to establish that the auditor is aware of such information.

This report has been prepared in accordance with the provisions applicable to companies entitled to the small companies exemptions.

The Trustees' report was approved by the Board of Trustees.

ST LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY (USA) LONDON PROGRAMME

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

TO THE TRUSTEES OF ST LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY (USA) LONDON PROGRAMME

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of St Lawrence University (USA) London Programme (the 'Charity') for the year ended 30 June 2023 which comprise the Statement of Financial Activities, the Statement of Financial Position, the Statement of Cash Flows and the notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including Financial Reporting Standard 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the Charity's affairs as at 30 June 2023 and of its incoming resources and application of resources for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the accounts section of our report. We are independent of the Charity in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the accounts in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the Trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the Charity's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the Trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The Trustees are responsible for the other information. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

ST LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY (USA) LONDON PROGRAMME

TO THE TRUSTEES OF ST LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY (USA) LONDON PROGRAMME

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of our audit:

- the information given in the Trustees' report for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared, which includes the directors' report prepared for the purposes of company law, is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the directors' report included within the Trustees' report has been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the Charity and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the directors' report included within the Trustees' report.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of Trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit; or
- the Trustees were not entitled to take advantage of the small companies' exemptions in preparing the Trustees' report and from the requirement to prepare a strategic report.

Responsibilities of Trustees

As explained more fully in the Statement of Trustees' Responsibilities, set out on page 7, the Trustees are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Trustees are responsible for assessing the Charity's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Trustees either intend to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

The extent to which the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities including fraud

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect irregularities, including fraud. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement due to fraud is higher than the risk of not detecting one resulting from error, as fraud may involve deliberate concealment by, for example, forgery or intentional misrepresentations, or through collusion. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below. However, the primary responsibility for the prevention and detection of fraud rests with both those charged with governance of the entity and management.

TO THE TRUSTEES OF ST LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY (USA) LONDON PROGRAMME

Our approach was as follows:

- We obtained an understanding of the legal and regulatory frameworks that are applicable to the charitable company and determined that the most significant are those that relate to the reporting framework (Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS102)), the charitable company's Memorandum and Articles of Association, the Companies Act 2006, the Charities Act 2011, and the relevant direct and indirect tax compliance regulation in the United Kingdom.
- We understood how the charitable company is complying with those frameworks by making enquiries of management and seeking representations from those charged with governance. We corroborated our understanding by reviewing supporting documentation including board meeting minutes and correspondence with regulatory bodies.
- We assessed the susceptibility of the charitable company's financial statements to material misstatement, including how fraud might occur by considering the risk of management override of internal control and by designating income recognition as a fraud risk. We performed journal entry testing by specific risk criteria, with a focus on journals indicating large or unusual transactions based on our understanding of the charitable company. We tested specific transactions reconciling to source documentation, ensuring appropriate authorisation of the transactions, and that the income was applied in accordance with the charitable company's Memorandum and Articles of Association.
- Based on this understanding we designed our audit procedures to identify non-compliance with such laws and regulations. Our procedures involved enquiries of management and those charged with governance, review of legal and professional expenses and review of board meeting minutes.
- The charitable company is a regulated entity under the supervision of the Charities Commission. As such, the Senior Statutory Auditor considered the experience and expertise of the engagement team to ensure that the team had the appropriate competence and capabilities.

1.5 Resources expended

Resources expended are included in the statement of financial activities on an accruals basis, inclusive of any VAT which cannot be recovered.

Direct charitable expenditure consists of expenses incurred directly in pursuance of the Charity's principal activity and support costs relating to this activity.

Support costs are those incurred with connection with running the Charity that enables the charitable activity to be undertaken.

Governance costs include those incurred in the governance of the Charity and its assets and are primarily associated with constitutional and statutory requirements.

1.6 Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are initially measured at cost net of depreciation and any impairment losses.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost or valuation of assets less their residual values over their useful lives on the following bases:

Land and buildings leasehold	over the term of the lease
Fixtures, fittings & equipment	1/3 on cost

The gain or loss arising on the disposal of an asset is determined as the difference between the sale proceeds and the carrying value of the asset, and is recognised in the statement of financial activities.

1.7 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash in hand and deposits held at call with banks.

1.8 Financial instruments

The Charity has elected to apply the provisions of Section 11 'Basic Financial Instruments' of FRS 102 to all of its financial instruments.

Financial instruments are recognised in the Charity's statement of financial position when the Charity becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial assets and liabilities are offset, with the net amounts presented in the financial statements, when there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Basic financial assets

Basic financial assets, which include other receivables and cash and bank balances, are initially measured at transaction price including transaction costs and are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Financial assets classified as receivable within one year are not amortised.

Other payables are obligations to pay for goods or services that have been acquired in the ordinary course of operations from suppliers. Amounts payable are classified as current liabilities if payment is due within one year or less. If not, they are presented as non-current liabilities. Other payables are recognised initially at transaction price and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Financial liabilities are derecognised when the Charity's contractual obligations expire or are discharged or cancelled.
