TRUSTEES REPORT 2024

I am very pleased to report that the Aimar Foundation has had another productive year in 2024. In total, we raised £90,000 (2023: £93,447.50) which was another great year for fundraising.

The Crisis at Christmas event went very well this year. As in previous years, it continued to provide the Aimar Foundation team with significant logistical challenges. Our CEO Simon Clark, and CTO, Chris Riley, did an amazing job delivering a complex technology platform that enabled Crisis to deliver critical services to the homeless at an important time of the year.

The cost to the foundation to deliver these services was £36,280 a decrease from last's cost of £47,132. Total profit for the year was £46,282 versus £35,863 the previous year.

2024 will be the last year for the Crisis at Christmas project. We are proud of the contribution that we made to Crisis over the past 15 years and wish them all the success as they continue to provide vital services to the homeless.

This is an exciting time for the Foundation as we set out a new path and determine how we can continue to provide a step-change difference to charities in the UK through the use of our technology.

2025 will mark our 20th anniversary of helping charities in the UK and the Board is excited to begin planning our next chapter.

We are very confident that in the coming years we will continue to build on our successes. As always, we are grateful for our volunteers and strong leadership who make it all possible.

Yours Faithfully,

The Aimar Foundation (Company number:05562679)
Report of the independent examiner

Report of the independent examiner
to the trustees of The Aimar Foundation

I report on the accounts of the Charity for the year ended 30th September 2023, which are set out on pages 1 to 2.

In accordance with your instructions, I have reviewed these unaudited accounts in order to assist you to fulfil your statutory responsibilities, from the accounting records and information and explanations supplied to us.

Responsibilities of the trustees and examiner

As the Charity's trustees (who are also the directors of the company for the purposes of company law) you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts: you consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 and that an independent examination is needed.

Basis of independent examiner's report

An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the Charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosure in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as Trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:
 - to keep accounting records and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting recordshave not been met: or
2. to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

TRUSTEES REPORT 2021

I am very pleased to report that the Aimar Foundation has had another highly productive year in 2021 despite significant challenges with the global pandemic. In total, we raised £90,000 (2020: 88,000) which was another great year for fundraising.

The Crisis at Christmas event continues to be the main initiative of the year and is the cornerstone of our volunteering and fund-raising efforts. It's a significant logistical programme that has grown in size and complexity and which is totally dependent on a stable technology platform to successfully run the event. The cost to the foundation to deliver these services was £34,414 a decrease from last year's cost of £39,889. Total profit for the year was £40,585 versus £17,983 the previous year.

Chris Riley, one of our senior project managers continues to do an amazing job leading the annual Crisis effort. Each year we focus on adding innovative technology to the Crisis solution and continue to streamline the activities and work required for a successful project.

Whilst the pandemic has presented many challenges in our community work it also presented some opportunities for us to continue to evolve our "Aimar in a box" capabilities for charities.

Alongside millions of workers and organisations we fully embraced the public cloud by engineering solutions so apps and data are delivered from the cloud to provide resilience, agility and cost effectiveness by leveraging the capabilities of Microsoft Azure. We also leveraged Microsoft Teams as a collaboration platform for the Aimar core team and used our experience and connections within Microsoft to digitally transform processes and services for charities.

Simon Clark our CEO continues to do an outstanding job developing and building relationships with key technology partners and our strong volunteer network across many industry sectors. This year we have really focused on improving communication on all our activities by significantly improving our social media capabilities.

We are very confident that in the next 12 months we will continue to look for new opportunities in the charitable sector where we can continue to make a "step change" difference to help Charities through technology.

As always, we are grateful for our volunteers and strong leadership who make it all possible.

Yours Faithfully,

Report of the independent examiner

Report of the independent examiner
to the trustees of The Aimar Foundation

I report on the accounts of the Charity for the year ended 30th September 2021, which are set out on pages 1 to 2.

In accordance with your instructions, I have reviewed these unaudited accounts in order to assist you to fulfil your statutory responsibilities, from the accounting records and information and explanations supplied to us.

Responsibilities of the trustees and examiner

As the Charity's trustees (who are also the directors of the company for the purposes of company law) you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts: you consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 and that an independent examination is needed.

Basis of independent examiner's report

An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the Charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosure in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as Trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:
 - to keep accounting records and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting recordshave not been met: or
2. to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

TRUSTEES REPORT 2020

I am very pleased to report that the Aimar Foundation has had another highly productive year in 2020. In total, we raised £88,000 (2019: 59,500) which was another great year for fundraising.

Once again, the Foundation provided innovative technology solutions to Crisis at Christmas, the Shannon Trust, NASA in Newham, and the SS Robin.

As usual, the Foundation provided all of the technology solutions for the Crisis at Christmas project. Simon James, our senior project manager and Chris Riley, our technology architect continue to do an amazing job leading the annual effort. Each year we focus on adding innovative technology to the Crisis solution and continue to streamline the activities and work required for a successful project. This continues to be the main initiative of the year and is the cornerstone of our volunteering and fundraising efforts.

The solution will be very different this year given the impact of the Coronavirus pandemic.

Our goal continues to be to leverage all of the knowledge learned, volunteer awareness, and community support to help smaller charitable organizations throughout London.

The cost to the foundation to deliver these services was £70,017 an increase from last year's cost of £60,171. The increase was mostly due to employer and consultant costs.

Total profit for the year was £17,983 versus a loss of £671 the previous year.

Simon Clark our CEO continues to do an outstanding job developing and building our strong volunteer network. Our volunteer network continues to expand significantly and extends to a number of Financial Services Firms and other institutions in the City. Building on the partnership with Morgan Stanley and winning the social responsibility category at the FSTech awards, the Foundation continues to attract a strong pipeline of technologists for its core activities in providing innovative solutions to charities.

We are very confident that in 2021 we will continue to build on our successes. We are grateful for our volunteers and strong leadership and continue to make "step change" differences through technology in the Charities that we support.

Yours Faithfully,

Thomas Mosimann
