Independent Examiner's Report on the Accounts

Receipts and Payments Accounts

Report to the trustees/members of — Charity Name: WOMEN IN NEED

On accounts for the year ended: 31 03 25

Set out on pages: (remember to include the page numbers of additional sheets)

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year (under section 43(2) of the Charities Act 1993 (the Act)) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts (under section 43(3)(a) of the Act);
- follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commissioners (under section 43(7)(b) of the Act); and
- state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement

My examination was carried out in accordance with General Directions given by the Charity Commissioners. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention (other than that disclosed overleaf *):

(1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:

- to keep accounting records in accordance with section 41 of the 1993 Act; and
- to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Act

have not been met; or

(2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Where applicable, you may choose to include comments about:

Women In Need (WIN) remains dedicated to empowering women across central India by delivering essential healthcare, education, and socio-economic support. Marking its 25th anniversary, WIN continues to expand its reach and deepen its impact, fuelled by an experienced team of doctors, Social Workers (MSWs), and committed volunteers.

WIN's recent expansion signifies a major milestone in its journey. Originally centred in Nagpur, Maharashtra, WIN has extended its outreach to remote villages along the Maharashtra–Madhya Pradesh border. This development has allowed WIN to serve communities previously deprived of regular healthcare services, with a focus on women's health and empowerment.

The backbone of WIN's operations lies in its mobile healthcare and awareness initiatives. A specialised team of doctors and MSWs travels regularly to distant villages, offering medical consultations, routine check-ups, and health education sessions. Through these outreach camps, WIN addresses a spectrum of women's health issues—ranging from maternal care and nutrition to chronic disease management.

In Nagpur, WIN's socio-economic and healthcare programmes have flourished. The charity runs health clinics, vocational training workshops, self-help groups, and educational seminars aimed at fostering economic independence among women.

WIN is recognised for its expertise in leprosy survey, education, and treatment. The organisation conducts regular field surveys to identify new cases, provides comprehensive treatment regimens, and delivers targeted educational campaigns to dispel myths surrounding leprosy. Women affected by leprosy often face deep-rooted social stigma, which leads to isolation and reduced access to services.

Many women with leprosy suffer from chronic ulcers, which, if left untreated, can lead to severe complications. WIN has pioneered a home-based ulcer management programme, training patients and their families in wound care and infection prevention. This approach enables women to manage their condition discreetly and safely within their homes, reducing the burden of frequent hospital visits and promoting a sense of autonomy. The initiative has seen notable success in improving healing rates and quality of life for affected women.

WIN's collaboration with universities and colleges is a cornerstone of its outreach and capacity-building efforts. By offering internships to MSW students, WIN provides practical training in community health, social work, and project management. Student volunteers play a pivotal role in field activities—conducting surveys, delivering health education, and supporting programme logistics.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year (under section 43(2) of the Charities Act 1993 (the Act)) and that an independent examination is needed.

The charity continues to provide support to the most vulnerable women & girls in Nagpur district. Our services are tailored to the individual's needs and cover complex and varied medical & socio-economic issues. The charity operates a free mobile PHC unit, community-based health screening and awareness programmes, pays for costly medical treatment & provides door to door transport to medical appointments. The charity offers legal aid, counselling, free cooked meals, vocational training, micro credit and guidance to women's self-help groups, support with educational tuition and sponsorship for young women wishing to pursue further education. The charity has a team of highly trained and experienced staff; in addition to which, volunteer MSW's from Nagpur University support the charity's activities during the student's internship placement with Women in Need. The charity also has a network of medical and legal professionals in Nagpur who offer their services at a concession rate. With regards to fundraising initiatives, the charity remains in regular contact with donors, providing newsletters and annual reports. Contact with Durham University's dept. of Social Justice resulted in free improvements to the charity's website and social media platforms. Students in Minnesota University continue to fundraise for Women in Need. Plans for the next financial year include additional efforts to promote the charity's unique services to women and girls. One of the Founders has been invited to talk about Women in Need in Malta and there is a greater drive to attract more supporters over the coming year.

Report to the trustees/members of — Charity Name: WOMEN IN NEED

On accounts for the year ended: 31 03 23

Set out on pages: (remember to include the page numbers of additional sheets)

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year (under section 43(2) of the Charities Act 1993 (the Act)) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts (under section 43(3)(a) of the Act);
- follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commissioners (under section 43(7)(b) of the Act); and
- state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement

My examination was carried out in accordance with General Directions given by the Charity Commissioners. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention (other than that disclosed overleaf *):

(1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:

- to keep accounting records in accordance with section 41 of the 1993 Act; and
- to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Act

have not been met; or

(2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

The charity has focused this year on recovering from COVID & resuming its usual programs of: Free Mobile Health Care, Health Awareness & Cancers Screening. In addition to which WIN continues to provide treatment and socio-economic support tailored to the individual's needs. The following new programs have been developed this year: Menstrual Hygiene with the distribution of eco- sanitary pads to low-income communities / Anaemia Awareness and Treatment / Chronic Kidney Disease Prevention and Treatment. Due to the charity's long-standing rapport with local authority and private hospitals in Nagpur, WIN has a reliable network of medics and social workers who refer women and children in most urgent need of help to the charity's trained Indian staff. With regards to the charity's continued battle to raise sufficient funds to operate at its current level there has been tremendous support from US non-profit JAZBA, The Grand Commnadery of the Castello, Malta, and our individual donors from Canada and the UK. Fundraising programs were stopped due to COVID however we are hopeful that these will recommence in the next financial year as will visitors and volunteers to the charity's programmes in Nagpur once the cost of flights reduce.
