How we change lives

La Vida focuses exclusively on projects supporting communities' health, environment and education. Our targeted support has a positive impact on lives in some of the world's poorest countries.

La Vida has raised more than £1 million so far

More than 99 pence of every £1 raised is donated to our projects

Everyone working for La Vida does so on a voluntary basis. We have an impressively low cost base with almost every penny raised going directly to our projects.

We have a rigorous governance process. We go to great lengths to ensure funds are properly allocated, well-monitored and have a significant, long-term local impact.

We have helped more than 100,000 disadvantaged children and families

Our mission

La Vida raises funds to support community health, education and environment projects throughout Latin America

The charity is registered in the UK and has been established to help disadvantaged people residing permanently in Latin America, by advancing education, preserving and protecting health, relieving sickness, relieving poverty and raising environmental awareness.

Our story

La Vida was co-founded in 2006 by Katy Vatis and Helen Ilsley when, after a business trip to Brazil, they met Dr Monica Nogueira, a paediatric orthopedic surgeon trying to raise funds to train her peers in the non-surgical Ponseti method of treating children with clubfoot.

La Vida raised the funds needed, and the project was a success; in 2008, 556 doctors were trained, and 5,000 children were treated. Thousands more children have been successfully treated in subsequent years.

La Vida has since supported highly effective grassroots projects in Argentina, Brazil, Bolivia, Colombia, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, Peru and Venezuela; some of which we support on a continuing basis and some which are now complete.

The grants aided projects in areas such as youth development, education initiatives and school expansions, as well as community health and environmental programmes.

Despite being a relatively small charity, so far La Vida has raised over £1 million through sponsorship, fundraising events, direct donations and partnerships with other foundations. We estimate the funding we have deployed has directly impacted the lives of over 100,000 disadvantaged children and their families in Latin America.

Brenda, student
FONDO GUADALUPE
MUSALEM, MEXICO

“ The bursary has changed my life. It’s given me the opportunity to participate in activities that push me out of my comfort zone ”

High-school student Brenda has made excellent use of La Vida's funds via Fondo Guadalupe Musalem's support. The ability to afford travel, accommodation and supplies for school has helped Brenda to achieve top marks in her studies.

Brenda has also implemented an inspiring community project, 'Preserving Our Mother Tongue'. She worked with the children of Santa Maria Tlahuitoltepec, promoting the importance of keeping cultural identity alive through language.

Our year

From hosting our first-ever Safeguarding Forum, to laying the foundations of a new partnership in Brazil, 2024 was a year of collaboration and connection for La Vida.

We raised £60,454 through donations, with significant sums contributed by The Royal Bank of Canada, The Alan Goodwin and Aimee Reynolds

Foundation and another large financial institution. We also had considerable donations from private individuals and companies, and our supporters continued to sponsor children's education at Villa Maria School in Peru.

We granted £72,641 to causes throughout Latin America and continued to provide support to 12 projects. We have also been delighted to begin work with a new partner in Brazil. Base Colaborativa offer immersive experiences in the Amazon rainforest in order to promote sustainable tourism and preserve biodiversity while supporting local communities. We look forward to seeing the impact of our work in 2025.

In March, La Vida's second Leaders Forum provided a digital meeting place for our projects, enabling attendees across eight countries to exchange a broad range of ideas and experience. Presentations included topics such as finance and governance. A series of 'breakout rooms' facilitated in-depth discussions on individual challenges and solutions, including how best to build an effective board and ways to implement financial controls.

In November, we hosted our first Safeguarding Forum, allowing Trustees and Leaders to share best practice in order to protect beneficiaries, staff and volunteers from abuse and exploitation. La Vida will continue to promote open communication among our partners.

AMANTANI

>> Grant in 2024: £5,000

>> Location: Peru

>> Partner since: 2014

Empowering young people from indigenous communities in the Andes to access further education and fair employment.

La Vida supports Amantani's Transitions Project, which was developed in response to the growing need for support for school leavers in rural communities. Residents of rural Cusco are 75% less likely to enter further education than their urban peers, resulting in reduced job opportunities.

The project has so far helped over 180 young people to access further education, including 88 in 2024. The project's three phases help prepare young people for their studies, supporting them throughout and facilitating access to fair and formal employment.

When the project started in 2016, only seven residents in the District of Ccorca had accessed further education. Since then, Amantani's work has expanded to the district of Huanquite. Fifty one young people have completed courses so far, and of these graduates, 83% are currently employed in jobs with fair working conditions, 50% with formal contracts.

CORCOVADO FOUNDATION

» Grant in 2024: £5,417

» Location: Costa Rica

» Partner since: 2020

Promoting regenerative agriculture and environmental education within local communities.

The Corcovado Foundation in Costa Rica's Osa Peninsula continues to make strides in regenerative agriculture and environmental education. With support from La Vida since 2020, the foundation initially focused on school-based environmental education. When the pandemic hit, it pivoted to support local families through regenerative farming, a shift that has improved food security and resilience in the region.

This year, the foundation's 'Manos Cambiadas' programme brought together five communities to share labour and knowledge of sustainable farming practices, including planting methods, composting, and biofertiliser production. Corcovado Foundation organised seed exchanges to preserve local biodiversity and also hosted nine regenerative agriculture events with 55 participants. Meanwhile, over 100 families have now learned to make their own compost and biofertilisers.

Environmental education remains strong, with students staging the play La Gotita Tita to highlight the impact of agrochemicals, water pollution, and bullying. Hands-on workshops and creative activities such as poster-making helped over 300 students engage with water conservation issues.

» Grant in 2024: £8,846

» Location: Honduras

» Partner since: 2021

Grass-roots NGO educate. works to empower children and young people in Honduras through community-driven initiatives focused on education.

La Vida helps fund educate.'s scholarship programme, which supports high-potential students from low-income backgrounds and provides access to high school and university education. In 2024, the programme supported 30 students – 25 in high school, and five in university – giving access not only to education but also leadership workshops, empowerment programmes and mental health support. La Vida has sponsored 10 of these students and so far three have completed their high-school programme, and one has graduated from university.

In addition, the organisation's STEM programme saw 36 students graduate from Level 1 courses in 2024, and 27 students participated in the Level 2 programme. All students completed their courses. Participants gained a broad base of skills across Microsoft Office, Canva, and basic coding. Soft skills gained include teamwork and public speaking.

In June, educate. partnered with STEM IN A BOX to facilitate their first robotics camp, attended by 32 students and two teachers. Participants used electronic waste and recycled materials to build robots. They also explored how these skills and ideas could be applied to solve real-world problems in their community.

A dedicated Youth Centre helps support all these projects, with a computer lab funded by La Vida.

I felt that others would make fun of me for giving my opinion. That feeling has now diminished. I continue to learn how to be a great leader with educate..”

EDUCATION FOR THE CHILDREN FOUNDATION

>> Grant in 2024: £4,860

>> Location: Guatemala

>> Partner since: 2022

EFTC's School of Hope and Further Education Program supports over 630 students and their 385 families in Jocotenango, a remote region in Guatemala.

This urban area has one of the lowest literacy rates in the western hemisphere. Extreme poverty, gang crime, domestic violence and alcoholism are everyday realities for local children. EFTC offers extensive education, nutrition, healthcare, social support and employment programs to local children to remove any obstacle to education and enable students to realise their potential.

In 2024, La Vida continued to sponsor a cohort of nine children at the School of Hope, and this group now includes several siblings. The children's ages span across 1st, 3rd and 4th Grades.

The school's broad curriculum includes maths, language and literacy, history, geography, PE, art, music, ICT, and Kaqchikel. Additionally, the children have English classes three times per week. The curriculum also includes Personal, Social, Health and Economic (PSHE) education – for example, 4th Grade students have been working on fostering healthy habits, establishing daily routines, fellowship and reinforcing self care and personal hygiene.

Besides academic and personal achievement, the children benefit from two nutritious meals per day. The school also undertakes health evaluations and provides treatment to students where they are able, as well as eye tests and dental hygiene education.

EL RIO FOUNDATION

>> Grant in 2024: £10,280

>> Location: Colombia

>> Partner since: 2021

El Rio Foundation provides ten educational, sporting, environmental and wellbeing programmes that positively impact five local communities around Buritaca, benefiting more than 600 children.

La Vida continues to support El Rio's flagship Academic Tutoring programme, which provides a safe, positive space for disadvantaged children to access tailored academic and wellbeing support. Local government-run schools often suffer from insufficient funding, lack of qualified teachers and large class sizes. Children can also face significant challenges at home and so El Rio's Academic Tutoring programme offers a vital lifeline of education and personal support. The programme offers a high teacher-pupil ratio, with personalised plans for children with challenging behaviour, designed by their psychologist and delivered in tandem with their teaching team.

Numbers of regular students are rising year-on-year, with more than 80 weekly attendees. Assessments in 2024 concluded that participants' academic and life skills have improved by 57% on average, with maths seeing the greatest progress. The children's English, team-work skills and empathy also saw great improvement.

As a reward for high attendance and good behaviour, El Rio organised several enjoyable trips for students throughout the year, including a pony club theme park day, several trips to Yay Sustainable Eco-hotel, and a Halloween Horror Maze Experience. Multi-sports beach games provided a fun end-of-year celebration.

FONDO GUADALUPE MUSALEM

>> Grant in 2024: £1,450

>> Location: Mexico

>> Partner since: 2022

By providing educational bursaries, one-on-one mentoring and a rich programme of extracurricular activities, Fondo Guadalupe Musalem helps talented girls from indigenous, underprivileged backgrounds access high school and university education. The organisation's mission is to help these girls develop all the skills and ethical values that will enable them to achieve their full potential and exercise their rights.

Since its foundation in 1996, Fondo Guadalupe Musalem has awarded more than 200 high-school bursaries and has supported 66 young women through university. In 2024, La Vida funded bursaries for three girls – Betza (above left), Zeltzin (above right) and Brenda.

Seventeen-year-old Betza lives in a rural community without a local high school. Thanks to a bursary, Betza can afford the accommodation, transport, uniform and school supplies for her to attend school. In addition to achieving top marks, Betza dedicates time to volunteering in her local community and is applying to study medicine.

Brenda is a high-school student who particularly values FGM's extracurricular activities and the opportunity to volunteer in community programmes, which make her feel capable and empowered. Brenda says: "Being part of the group has been very important because we have received love, economic and psychological support, and help in many academic subjects." See our case study on page six for more details of Brenda's achievements.

HELPING HANDS

>> Grant in 2024: £5,000

>> Location: Bolivia

>> Partner since: 2009

Helping Hands provides tailored financial support, mentoring and an enrichment programme for disadvantaged young people in and around La Paz, Bolivia. Participants are encouraged to complete their studies and take their first steps into working life.

Helping Hands has supported more than 500 young people since the organisation was founded in 2004. More than 120 students have finished high school with the support of the project, and more than 250 have finished a program of post-secondary studies. MANO VUELTA

» Grant in 2024: £5,000

» Location: Mexico

» Partner since: 2020

Mano Vuelta was founded six years ago in Oaxaca, Mexico, by a multidisciplinary team of indigenous and Afro-Mexican women. Mano Vuelta's mission is to promote an equitable life and rights for children and women in Oaxaca. The organisation offers a broad range of educational, community and research initiatives with a focus on gender, cultural and ethnic diversity.

In the last year, more than 500 people participated in Mano Vuelta's initiatives including its seventh Artistic and Feminist Retreat for girls and young women, funded by La Vida. The primary objective of the retreat was to educate and empower indigenous and Afro-Mexican girls aged seven to 15, giving them the confidence to address and discuss sensitive and important topics including sexual health and sexual violence.

Through targeted workshops, participants were equipped to understand and express openly their views on women's rights, sexual health and other issues such as harassment, discrimination, and domestic violence.

Throughout the year, the Mano Vuelta team also participated in more than 50 panels at workshops and conferences on topics including gender rights, community participation and PSHE. They led a seminar for 34 indigenous women focused on empowering political participation and organised five artistic festivals to promote PSHE and gender equality.

PLANT YOUR FUTURE

>> Grant in 2024: £5,000

>> Location: Peru

>> Partner since: 2023

Plant Your Future empowers farmers in the Peruvian Amazon through agroforestry, education and promotion of responsible land use.

La Vida's grants have enabled Plant Your Future to support 28 smallholder farmers in Honoria, Peru. The project has helped farmers build sustainable agroforestry systems by providing training, tools, and over 59,000 trees, including valuable native species such as mahogany and cocoa.

Since February 2024, Plant Your Future's regular farm visits and monthly field schools have delivered hands-on support in pruning, pest control, organic fertilisers, and fire prevention. Farmers, including women entrepreneurs, have gained vital skills and are beginning to see measurable economic benefits from harvesting crops like cocoa and guava.

This project is already transforming lives and landscapes. With farmers reinvesting in community nurseries and sharing knowledge, the initiative is fostering resilience, restoring ecosystems, and building a sustainable future for both people and planet.

In 2024, the organisation continued to expand their conservation area, purchasing 40 hectares of primary rainforest. An international team of scientists documented a wide variety of wildlife, including two species of frog that are yet to be classified.

PODER JOVEN

>> Grant in 2024: £12,570

>> Location: Colombia

>> Partner since: 2010

Based in Medellin, Poder Joven provides support to 75 children, aged five to 17, who live in precarious conditions and often suffer from insufficient food, limited healthcare access and exposure to drugs and gangs. Poder Joven's comprehensive programme offers essential support, including school enrolment, homework and academic reinforcement, nutrition, psychosocial support, vocational guidance and family counselling.

While poverty, violence, and deprivation are prevalent in Medellin, Poder Joven contributes to social development, provides opportunities for personal progress and supports families, ensuring children are well cared for, free of charge.

PROJECT SOMOS

>> Grant in 2024: £1,970

>> Location: Guatemala

>> Partner since: 2023

Project Somos Learning Village is a nurturing educational community for at-risk children in Guatemala. They provide early-childhood education, academic support for primary school students, and nutritional programmes.

Many young women in the village of Tecpán and the surrounding area face economic, cultural and family constraints that prevent them from graduating high school. This limits their future opportunities and can result in early marriage and motherhood.

In 2023, with funding from La Vida, Project Somos launched an eight-week training programme to teach cooking skills, offering participants a chance to work at the Learning Village and then go on to secure future employment. Trainees are empowered to see alternative life possibilities, inspired by Guatemalans and visitors leading vibrant lives. Project Somos also provides educational and psychological support where needed.

At exit interviews conducted by La Vida, trainees said the experience had broadened their horizons and created a desire to finish school and pursue further professional or vocational opportunities. One of the trainees is in the process of opening her own business after leaving the programme.

La Vida is currently funding a second cohort of young women.

VILLA MARIA SCHOOL

>> Grant in 2024: £7,250

>> Location: Peru

>> Partner since: 2007

Villa Maria is a school in Villa Maria del Triunfo, a deprived area on the outskirts of Lima, which is underserved by state schools. Villa Maria School was set up as a charitable organisation to help close the significant gap in the provision of basic education locally.

The school provides 110 primary school students from low-income families with a quality education, free to the neediest children, as well as a programme of outings and extra-curricular activities designed to broaden young minds and offer stimulating, educational experiences.

Villa Maria School's aim is to develop the next generation of community leaders, with strong ethical values and a commitment to help the local community and protect the environment. The school promotes a broad, practical education including creative skills, entrepreneurship, environmental awareness and self-reflection.

La Vida has supported the school since 2007, funding the costs of c.30 children per year and providing additional support for computers, books and sports equipment as needs arise. The school is run in conjunction with Quest Overseas, an organisation which attracts students from the UK to volunteer at the school, helping with leisure activities for local children during the school holidays as well as building new homes for the poorest families in the community through its charitable arm, Quest4Change.

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in this governing document

To further any charitable purpose for the benefit of disadvantaged people residing permanently in Latin America. In particular, by preserving and protecting health, relieving sickness, relieving poverty and advancing education.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects

Provide funding for specific health, education and environment projects identified in any country in Latin America.

voluntary basis and aim to keep expenses to a minimum so the money raised goes directly to the project beneficiaries.

Donations and fundraising have allowed us to improve and directly benefit the lives of over 100,000 children and their families across Latin America.

We continue to fund health, education and environment projects throughout the region. In 2024, we continued to support our existing ongoing projects in Bolivia, Colombia, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico and Peru.

Additional details of objectives and activities

Policy on grant making

The Trustees of La Vida endeavour to directly grant funding to specific projects that relieve sickness and/or improve education in any Latin American country. Preference will be given to independent projects, but trustees could also look to partner with local organisations that will see through the success and completion of compelling projects in health, education and the environment in Latin America.

The project committee meets every 3-6 months to discuss and approve new project proposals. We assess our projects in depth and have a rigorous selection process. Each grant application has to complete our project proposal form and give proof of identity of their organisation and the people running it, plus two years of bank statements.

Every project we support has a partnership agreement signed by La Vida and the organisation receiving the project funding which includes all of our reporting requirements. The agreement sets out the timeline of the project with final goals to be reached, all of our reporting requirements such as photos of the project, receipts for items purchased etc.

The executive committee, all of whom are volunteers, continues to help organise fundraising events, develop the website, publish newsletters and broaden the reach of the charity. ■
