Introduction

The directors present their report for the year ended 31 December 2020.

If you want any more information about Street Action, our partners, or the figures included in these accounts, then don't hesitate to get in contact. Details can be found on our website - streetaction.org.

We appreciate your interest and support.

Objectives and Activities of the Charity

A summary of the objects of the charity as set out in its governing document

The objects for which the Charity is established are:

- a The relief of poverty and the advancement of education of homeless children living on the streets in the developing world, in particular but not exclusively in Africa, so as to develop their mental, spiritual and physical capacities that they may grow to full maturity as responsible citizens in society; and
- b To educate and relieve the need of homeless children living on the streets in the developing world, in particular but not exclusively in Africa, by disseminating best practice and effective methods of assisting and educating street children by providing training, support and advice to those working with street children.

The charity's aims including the changes or differences it seeks to make

Street Action is a UK charity that partners with local African agencies working directly with street children. Street Action chooses partner agencies that are pioneering models of excellence, often under difficult circumstances, whose empowerment can also bring examples of hope to the sector. In supporting our partners, we are aware that all too often local African agencies have become dependent on foreign donors, so we support our partners in ways that empower them around becoming locally sustainable.

In previous years we have worked with and helped partners who have found their way to independent sustainable funding, and we are currently focusing all our resources on further developing our key long-term partnership with New Generation, which is based in Burundi.

STREET ACTION

New Generation was founded by Dieudonne Nahimana, himself a former street child, as part of a vision to help build a nation free from conflict and poverty, where children are cared for and invested in. By running a centre to help the street children of today, while building up and uniting young people to become strong leaders of tomorrow, New Generation hopes to be part of a movement of change in this small African country, still struggling to recover from decades of conflict and civil war.

An explanation of the charity's main objectives for the year

Street Action started life in 2006 because of personal connections we made with children living on the streets in South Africa and Burundi (and the organisations that supported them). The development of our organisation continues to be driven by relationships – with our partners and those that support our work.

We work alongside small, local organisations that struggle to secure funding from other organisations due to their scale (they may be too small for mainstream support) or location (e.g. Burundi no longer receives support from the UK government or the European Union). Therefore, they depend upon the support of people who have joined us as we work with inspirational projects, led by inspirational people, to make the lives of street children better.

Explanation of the strategies for achieving objectives (including subsidiaries)

Our charity model is simple. We raise money in the UK for our partner projects and work with those projects to determine how they feel the money should be spent, developing the work they do with street children using their local expertise.

Our ultimate aim is to ensure that our partner projects become self-sustainable and don't require funding from the UK (or other third-party countries).

Details of significant activities including its main programmes, projects, or services

All the money we raise is being used to help New Generation develop into a sustainable charity that can fully support the children in their care. In 2019 this included raising £150,000 to help them purchase a second plot of land in Bujumbura, which is now being developed as a long-term permanent base for New Generation. We also provide funds for New Generation to rent two houses (a boys' house and a girls' house) which provide accommodation for forty young children.

The Charity's grant making policies

Street Action financially supports our partner projects, currently New Generation in Burundi, in two different ways – regular monthly support and one-off grants.

The charity only makes grants from funds available.

A limited amount of our fundraising is restricted funding for specific projects at New Generation although all of these restricted funds were spent by the end of 2020.

The restricted funds spent during 2020 (£6,667) include two thirds of a £10,000 grant (£6,667) made towards the Back to School Programme at New Generation (received in 2019).

The contribution of volunteers

Street Action is run by volunteers and, as such, the contribution of volunteers is essential to fulfilling all of our aims.

Summary of main activities of the charity in relation to its objects

Street Action is a small British charity that is committed to meaningful impact and we are keen to be part of the development of a popular movement improving the lives of street children. We are inspired by working with our partners and are energised by the engagement with them and their direct contact with street children.

STREET ACTION

Achievements and Performance of the Charity

A review of charitable activities undertaken by the charity (including subsidiaries)

Street Action is growing through personal contacts but at the same time we have long recognised that Street Action alone can't provide all the financial and practical support that our partners (specifically New Generation) need. One of our key strengths is networking.

Over the last few years we have developed an informal partnership between Street Action and other UK charities and individuals to coordinate UK support for New Generation. Street Action has played a key role in guiding this partnership due to the strong relationship and mutual trust that we have built with the team at New Generation over the years, with appropriate levels of scrutiny and assurance.

The involvement of new partners and volunteers led to the increase of funding for New Generation to $9,000 per month for the whole of 2017 and 2018. This was been made possible due to the money donated by individuals, companies and trust funds and is great news for the running of day to day activities at New Generation. This figure fell to $6,000 in 2019 as some of this funding ended and has remained at that level throughout 2020.

Our aim has always been to secure the long-term sustainability of the organisation. Following the successful fundraising campaign to buy a plot of land in for New Generation in 2017, one of the biggest achievements of recent years was the purchase of the second half of the land and the development of a campaign to raise funds to build a permanent base for New Generation's operations on that site. The campaign continued into 2020 and beyond.

Fundraising activities

Street Action's fundraising from regular donors remained constant from 2019 to 2020 but donations from trust funds and one-off donors were down significantly (-71% and -88% respectively) due to two large donation of £75,000 made in the previous year (2019) which were used to purchase the plot of land for New Generation.

Corporate income fell in 2020 as payments from a regular corporate donors were affected by Covid. This was a temporary fall in income that has been re-established in 2021. Gift Aid fell in line with the large one-off donations above.

Summary of main achievements of charity during the year (including subsidiaries)

The main achievements of Street Action in 2020 can be summarised as:

- Continued support of New Generation despite a fall in our own income given the onset of the Covid pandemic.
- Ability to sustain regular monthly financial support that we provide to New Generation of $6,000 (around £4,800) which continues to allow them to provide food, accommodation, and schooling for the children.
- Continuation of a process to assist New Generation's as they develop their corporate governance, reporting and accounting structures. This is part of a plan to reduce New Generations' reliance on the financial support of Street Action and other international partners in the next ten years.
- Continued engagement of people in the UK with New Generation, our partner project in Burundi.

Employment of disabled persons

The charity has no employees and therefore doesn't have a disability policy relating to the employment of disable persons.

STREET ACTION

Structure, Governance and Management

Nature of the Governing Document and constitution of the charity

Street Action is a registered charity and a company limited by guarantee. It is governed by its memorandum of understanding and articles of association and does not have share capital.

The methods adopted for the recruitment and appointment of new trustees

Trustees seek to appoint new trustees to maintain a broad mix of skills that are appropriate to the work of the charity and able to cover retirements and resignations.

The policies and procedures adopted for the induction and training of trustees

Trustees are inducted to the charity through an informal process over their first year in position. Given the active nature of our board of trustees, most have been out to visit one or more of our partner projects and the aim is that at least one trustee will visit our principal partner, New Generation in Burundi, each year.

The organisational structure of the charity and how decisions are made

The charity is currently run entirely by volunteers and managed by the board of trustees. Decisions are made by the board of trustees at trustee meetings.

Membership of a wider network

Street Action is a member of the Consortium for Street Children as well as being an active participant of the Street Child World Cup (run by Street Child United). New Generation were one of the teams at the Street Child Games, held in Rio in early 2016. Following their successful participation at the last two Street Child World Cups (held in Rio in March 2014 and Moscow in 2019) they are looking to raise the funds (independently of Street Action) to be part of the next Street Child World Cup to be held in Qatar in 2021.

Relationships between the charity and related parties, including its subsidiaries

Street Action currently works with New Generation in Burundi. Historically we have also supported (financially and through the provision of other services) street child projects in South Africa (Umthombo) and Kenya (AfCiC).

We work closely in the UK, in supporting New Generation, with Amos Trust (a UK registered charity).

The major risks to which the charity is exposed and reviews

The major risk to which Street Action is exposed is our relationship with New Generation and ensuring that the activities carried out by New Generation are funded in accordance with our MOU with New Generation. Our due diligence and reviewing process looks to ensure that this is the case whilst ensuring that New Generation have the flexibility to manage their own organisation as they see fit.

The political situation in Burundi is still unstable, even following the relatively peaceful election in 2020. This continues to have an impact on the currency exchange rates (between UK£, US$ and Burundian Francs) and this is a major risk to processes we use to transfer money to New Generation, and to the work that can be done with the money we send.

The global Covid pandemic has also led to huge instability in Burundi and has had a significant impact on the day to day operations of New Generation. Emergency funds have been required to ensure that New Generation can put into place the hygiene and safety protocols that are required to protect the significant number of young people who attend New Generation programmes and the smaller number who live in New Generation accommodation. Outreach provision, including providing food and medical assistance, has also increased for young people still living on the streets.

The Covid pandemic has also meant that many fundraising events and opportunities that were planned for 2020 had to be postponed or cancelled. The ongoing impact of the pandemic presents a significant risk to our fundraising targets for 2021.

In addition, the weakness of the UK£ against the US$ means there is a risk that the money we send (which New Generation receive in US$) could be reduced if the value of the UK£ was to weaken further.

STREET ACTION

Relationships with other groups, charities, individuals (including donated services)

Street Action, in partnership with Amos Trust, is also part of an informal UK grouping of charities and individuals who are collaborating to support New Generation in Burundi. This is an informal, rather than a formal partnership.

Financial Review

Policies on reserves

Our policy at Street Action is to maintain a cash flow reserve of at least three months of the regular monthly commitment we make to our partner projects. At 31.12.20 the regular monthly commitment we had was around $6,000 (£4,800) per month and, as such, a reserve of £14,000 is to be maintained. Our non-restricted funds were £46,867 on 31 December 2020.

Principal funding sources and how expenditure has supported the key objectives

In 2020 22% of our funding came from individual donors, 16% from one-off gifts and events and fundraising by supporters and 7% from Gift Aid on these two areas. A further 37% came from Trust Funds and 18% from corporate income.

On a year-by-year basis, overall income has increased by 68% with the bulk of this increase being attributable to the impact of a large one-off capital-focused donation of £150,000 in 2019.

In the same period, UK expenditure fell by 80%, mostly because very little fundraising activity was possible in 2020. It remains very low (at 0.8% of all expenditure) and continues to reflect our policy of transferring all funds raised to our partner projects. The only beneficiary of these funds is now New Generation, our partner project in Burundi. The only expenditure items that do not involve directly transferring funds to our partner project in Burundi are UK accounting support and a few UK digital and operational fundraising costs associated with the running of an annual UK sponsored cycle ride, an event that did not take place in 2020.

Investment policy and objectives, including social, ethical etc,

Street Action has no investments.

Share Capital

Street Action is a charitable company limited by guarantee and, as such, has no issued share capital.

Plans for Future Periods

Street Action is looking to continue to work closely with our primary partner, New Generation in Burundi, as they develop the structure of the organisation and the reach of their work with street children in Burundi.

We are continuing to network with UK organisations and individuals to make the support for New Generation more secure and sustainable over a longer period of time given the volatile nature of the political and cultural situation in Burundi.

Given the successful purchase of a plot of land in Bujumbura, onto which New Generation have moved a series of temporary buildings, we are now supporting them as they work with local and UK architects to prepare the land to build foundations for the first permanent building. This is part of the plan to provide a permanent base for New Generation, which will provide them with long-term security and stability, providing for all of New Generation's operational needs, including the development of accommodation for children, to reduce the need to rent separate properties.

This has been done to accord with current best practice.
