Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

Helping Hanna's Community maintains a reserves policy requiring the organisation to hold unrestricted funds equivalent to three months of operating expenditure. This level of reserve is intended to ensure that the organisation can continue to meet its charitable objectives in the event of unforeseen financial pressures.

At the year end, unrestricted reserves totalled £1,225.35, which remains below the level set out in the organisation's policy. However, this represents an improvement compared with the previous financial year. The organisation is actively rebuilding its reserves and remains committed to restoring them to the required level.

- Housing and shelter services for group-home children, including rent, utilities, and essential household materials.
- Nutrition and feeding programmes, providing daily meals, snacks, and cash-for-food support to children in the community.
- Educational support, including tutorial classes, books, stationery, library services, training, and support for vocational and university students.
- Healthcare services, including first aid, medical follow-ups, and specialist outreach clinics provided by partner hospitals.
- Counselling, life skills, and psychosocial support, delivered through individual and group programmes for children and families.
- Income-generating support to parents and guardians to strengthen family stability and improve long-term wellbeing.

All expenditure directly supported the charity's charitable aims and improved the welfare, education, and resilience of beneficiaries.
