Sierra Leone Sickle Cell Disease Society

Annual Report 2020

The COVID-19 pandemic severely disrupted human activities worldwide in 2020. The activities of the Sierra Leone Sickle Cell Disease Society were not spared. But while the pandemic posed challenges, it also provided opportunities for broader cooperation among our partners.

The main challenge was to keep our patients and staff safe from infection by the corona virus. Fortuitously, the society had acquired some experience in dealing with epidemic outbreaks during Ebola. The lessons learned then prepared us for dealing with this new challenge. Infection control measures had been well in place since 2014 and it only remained to scale things up. In this regard, we were aided by material contributions from HACU, the Hematology And Cancer Untold. During the pandemic, staff in Sierra Leone staggered their work hours to minimize their exposure to the corona virus.

In our core operations we remain focused on best quality service for sickle cell patients and their families. The two locations operated well and delivered essential health maintenance and treatments, medications, counseling, and health education and kept our referral lines open to the Ola During Children's (ODCH) and the Connaught Teaching Hospital.

Working relationships with other centres, including the Women's Health Care Centre (Dr IB Peters and Dr Hakim Gibril) and the Aberdeen Women's Centre. However, we are still not able to establish meaningful cooperation with the Sierra Leone Ministry of Health and Sanitation and which reflects in delays at out-patient and emergency departments. In pursuit of a more productive relationship, we considered going through a Parliamentary route to awaken interest in government, a suggestion that was made by a Canadian partner, the Sickle Cell Association of Ontario. However, we did not pursue this route but, instead, registered with the Freetown City Council whose current leadership is very progressive. We will wait and see what emerges from this connection.

We enjoyed the longstanding productive relationship with Ramsy Medical Laboratory who deliver test results for our patients in an economic model that they and us can live with.

There were donations of £500.00 from trustee board member George Stanley Johnson, and from the Chair, through a fundraising exercise on Facebook for his 80th birthday that raised £3,164.94.

Trustee, Mr. George Stanley Johnson, a member also of the Stanmore Edgware Rotary Club offered material help to the Charity that we hope will mature during the next reporting year.

Further donations of £14,000 were made by the Chair and Deputy Chair of the Charity.

Other donations are indicated in the table below.

The research aspect of the Society's work resulted in the publication of a paper at the beginning of 2020 in the journal Social Science and Medicine, entitled: "You have to find a caring man, like your father!" gendering sickle cell and refashioning women's moral boundaries in Sierra Leone, with Dr Maria Berghs of De Montfort University as lead author.
