Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

To promote for the benefit of the public and in particular Minority Asian Community Groups the following charitable purposes include:

1. The relief of poverty.
2. The advancement of education.
3. The promotion of equality and diversity and the elimination of discrimination.
4. The promotion of good relations between persons of different racial groups
5. The development of the capacity and skills of the socially or economically disadvantaged members of the community in such a way that they are better able to identify and help meet their needs and to participate more fully in society, and
6. The promotion of such other charitable purposes as the trustees may from time to time determine.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

Before COVID-19 pandemic, CESI has had been supporting the Ex-British Gurkha community in areas of increasing their access to Health and healthier living, Housing and welfare benefits, reducing their isolation and loneliness and integrating them into the local wider communities. These activities were suddenly stopped due to COVID -19 outbreak as they were shielded in their homes with movement restriction which have resulted in severe isolation, loneliness and frustration. Along with the loss of loved ones, this pandemic has created huge unrepairable damage to socio-economic as well as family structure of people. The ethnic minorities had been of the worst affected category. Amongst all, the families of ex- British Gurkhas and other Nepalese had gone through the most difficult situation of their time here in the UK. About 40 older Ex-British Gurkha people died because of COVID-19. Loss of loved ones, lack of socialisation, social distancing and living like an exiled within limited boundaries and fear of death had suppressed people's mental life. They had been mentally worried, physically exhausted and socially despair. The level of distress were elevating causing lowering both physical and mental health condition. Regression, despair, hopelessness, lack of support and absence of initiation had become the fuel on fire.

CESI as an organisation had been affected a lot. Due to the pandemic, CESI staff and volunteers has not been able to provide the services it aimed to provide. Community people have not been able to visit CESI for important drop-in services and the casework support.

Thus, because of COVID-19 crisis there was an increased demand for services and support for these vulnerable people. support communities to work together digitally to respond to COVID-19.

During COVID-19 lock down, many people from this community approached CESI through phone for help and support relating to their isolation and loneliness due to movement restriction.

The idea of such types of support emerged from the beneficiaries itself. As CESI have been working with this community for the last 14 years, they are familiar with CESI and thus they approached CESI to find out ways that they could engage with and reduce their isolation. CESI started the process by taking initiatives to develop the project. The process involved a series of telephone conversions with the community key informants as well as others. In this, almost all of them showed keen interest to take part in some kind of interaction with their fellow community members digitally. Representatives from the beneficiaries would work as volunteers as well as sit in the Project Steering Group that would engage itself throughout the process from development to delivery and monitoring the project activities. They would participate in this project digitally. Therefore, this project was completely adoptable to meet the government's social distancing guidelines. Thus, the activities were designed in consultation with the beneficiaries themselves. Keeping this into account, CESI approached some of the funders and applied projects to help support these most vulnerable older Ex-British Gurkha people. CESI was able to solicit some funding from London Community Foundation, The National Lottery Community fund and Neighbourhood Post code Trust fund. The fund was basically used for reducing isolation and loneliness of the ex-British Gurkha veterans and improving their health/ wellbeing.

With this support, they were trained for using the laptop for participating online meetings using software platform such as zoom or Microsoft team. The participants were contacted digitally to discuss and solicit their stories in relation to what happened to them during the pandemic, what and when did they feel most difficult, when did they become very worried and anxious, how did they manage to live, how did they manage their shopping and medical needs, what they thought was needed to manage such crisis and what do they suggest to be prepared for any possible crisis in future. Apart from the above, other activities such as Songs/jokes for fun, sharing culinary tips and skills, Gardening tips and techniques, Online Yoga sessions, sharing government guidelines and updates about COVID-19, and activities that are refreshing and enjoyable on a regular basis. The above activities were implemented digitally using laptops. To implement the above activities: 30 laptops were purchased and distributed to the beneficiaries, a part time project coordinator was recruited and trained, 3 volunteers were also recruited and trained and participating beneficiaries were also trained on the use laptop and the use of zoom or Microsoft team application. CESI staff and volunteers helped set up the laptops. A two hour session were run two days a week.

The project engaged them online to speak to their fellow community, get involved in activities targeted to reduce their isolation and loneliness. This created an opportunity to come together and deliver the project successfully. The project provided them an opportunity to have an increased interaction and engagement with their community fellows that enhanced their mood/mental well-being and reduced their isolation. This will be achieved through online support for a period of six months. Programme coordinator with support from the volunteers led the programme.

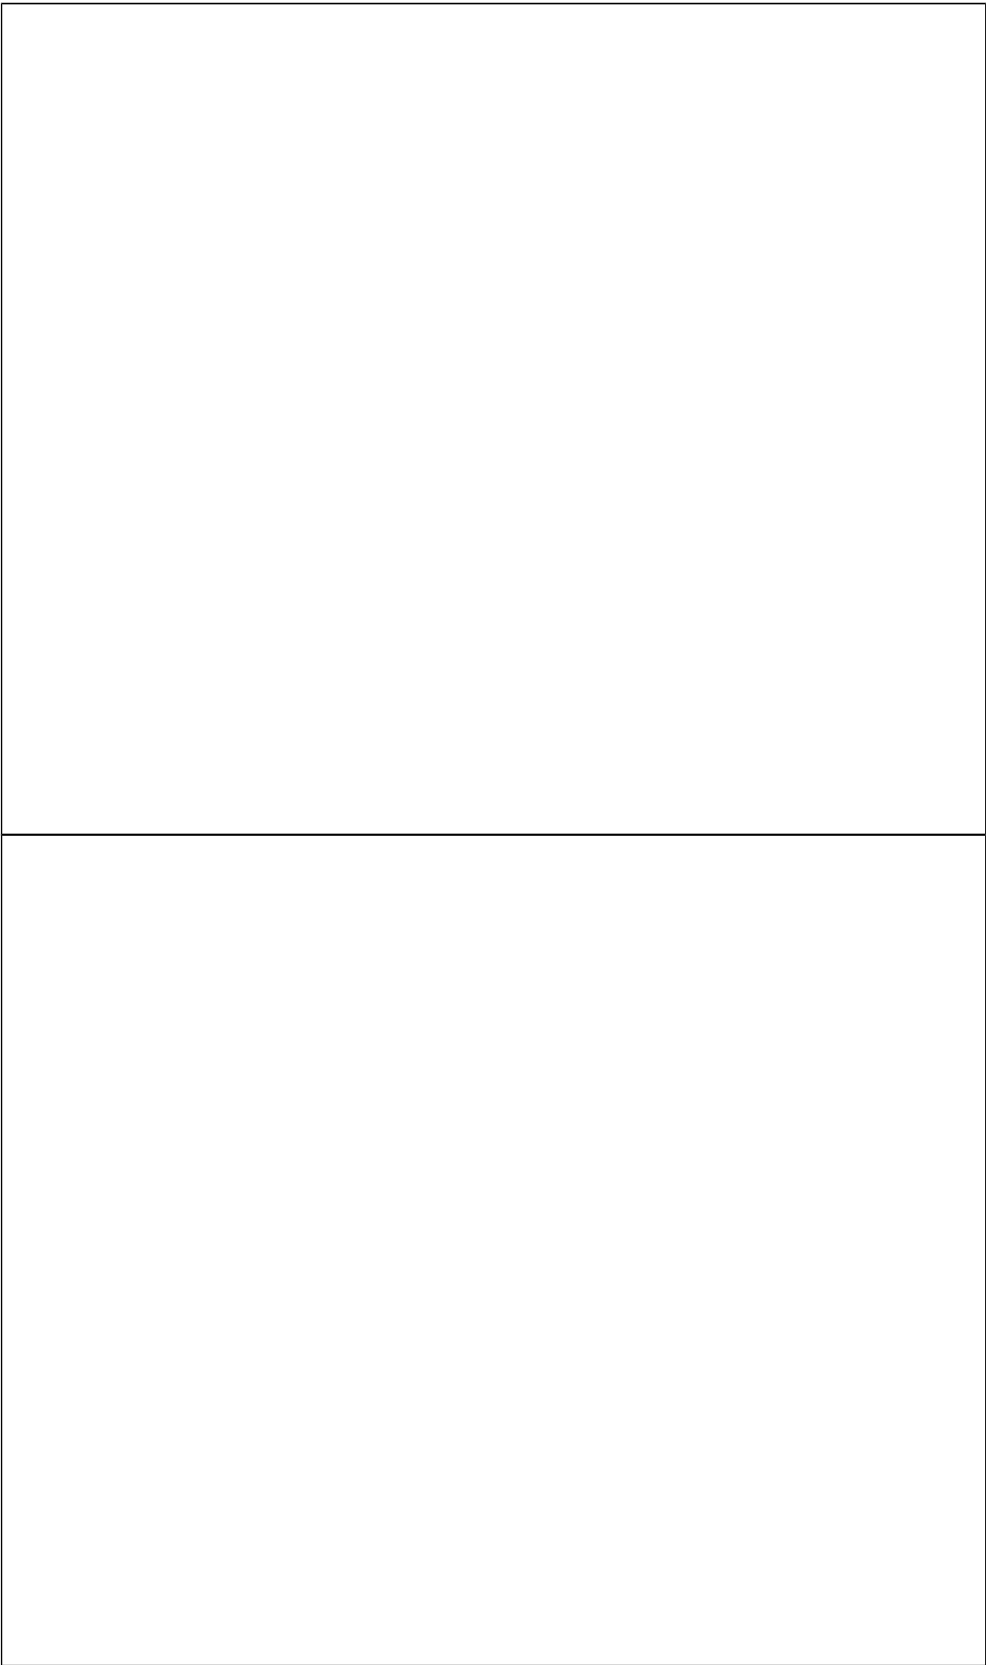

The outputs led to giving an insight on what is needed in this transition for the communities to move towards recovery and renewal and what is possible in the future. A total of 50 older ex-British Gurkhas veterans from 25 household were benefited from the project. This project made a huge difference in the lives of the participated beneficiaries. They have reduced social isolation and loneliness to a greater extent and increased happiness. If there are further lockdowns, we will still be able to deliver the proposed work and will try to bring them in normal situation.

Community Empowerment and Support Initiatives (CESI)-UK

The board of trustees present their report and the financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2021.

Principal objective

CESI was established on March 2008 with the objective to improve the quality of life of the deprived and minority communities, especially among Nepalese in the UK particularly in the London Borough of Greenwich and raising awareness of the issues faced by them.

Activities carried out during the reporting period.

Before COVID-19 pandemic, CESI has had been supporting the Ex-British Gurkha community in areas of increasing their access to Health and healthier living, Housing and welfare benefits, reducing their isolation and loneliness and integrating them into the local wider communities. Intangible fixed assets and amortisation

Intangible fixed assets (including purchased goodwill, patents and trademarks) are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment losses.

Stocks

Stock is included at the lower of cost or net realisable value. Donated items of stock are recognised at fair value which is the amount the charity would have been willing to pay for the items on the open market.

Trade and other debtors

Trade and other debtors are recognised at the settlement amount due after any trade discount offered. Prepayments are valued at the amount prepaid net of any trade discounts due.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash at bank and on hand, demand deposits with banks and other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less and bank overdrafts. In the statement of financial position, bank overdrafts are shown within borrowings or current liabilities. In the Statement of Cash Flows, cash and cash equivalents are shown net of bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the company's cash management.

Notes to the Accounts

Trade and other creditors

Short term creditors are measured at the transaction price. Other creditors and provisions are recognised where the charity has a present obligation resulting from a past event that will probably result in the transfer of funds to a third party and the amount due to settle the obligation can be measured or estimated reliably. Creditors and provisions are normally recognised at their settlement amount after allowing for any trade discounts due.

Research and development

Expenditure on research and development is written off in the year in which it is incurred.

Foreign currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than the functional currency of the charity are translated at the rates of exchange prevailing at the end of the reporting period.

Transactions in currencies other than the functional currency of the charity are recorded at the rate of exchange on the date that the transaction occurred.

All exchange differences are taken into account in arriving at net income/expenditure. Leased assets

Where the charity enters into a lease which entails taking substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of an asset, the lease is treated as a finance lease.

Leases which do not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to charity are classified as operating leases.

Assets held under finance leases are initially recognised as assets of the charity at their fair value at the inception of the lease or, if lower, at the present value of the minimum lease payments. The corresponding liability to the lessor is included in the balance sheet date as a finance lease obligation.

Lease payments are apportioned between finance expenses and reduction of the lease obligation so as to achieve a constant rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability. Finance expenses are recognised immediately, unless they are directly attributable to qualifying assets, in which case they are capitalised in accordance with the charity's policy on borrowing costs.

Assets held under finance leases are depreciated in the same way as owned assets.

Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term. In the event that lease incentives are received to enter into operating leases, such incentives are recognised as a liability. The aggregate benefit of incentives is recognised as a reduction of rental expense on a straight-line basis.

Pension costs

The charity operates a defined contribution plan for its employees. A defined contribution plan is a pension plan under which the charity pays fixed contributions into a separate entity. Once the contributions have been paid the charity has no further payments obligations. The contributions are recognised as expenses when they fall due. Amounts not paid are shown in accruals in the balance sheet. The assets of the plan are held separately from the charity in independently administered funds.

COMMUNITY EMPOWERMENT AND SUPPORT INITIATIVES - UK

Independent Examiners Report

Independent Examiner's Report to the trustees of COMMUNITY EMPOWERMENT AND SUPPORT INITIATIVES - UK

I report to the trustees on my examination of the accounts of COMMUNITY EMPOWERMENT AND SUPPORT INITIATIVES - UK for the year ended 31 March 2021 which comprise the Statement of Financial Activities, the Balance Sheet and the related notes.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the charity's trustees you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011('the Act'). The trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under the Charities Act 2011, s.144(2) (the 2011 Act) and that an independent examination is needed.

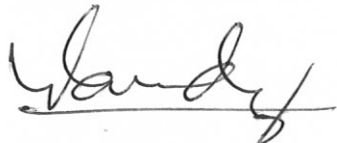

I report in respect of my examination of the charity's accounts carried out under section 145 of the 2011 Act and in carrying out my examination I have followed all the applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I can confirm that no material matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe that in, any material respect:

- the accounting records were not kept in respect of the charity as required by section 130 of the Act; or
- the accounts do not accord with those records; or
- the accounts did not comply with the applicable requirements concerning the form and content of accounts set out in the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 other than any requirement that the accounts give a 'true and fair' view which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination.

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
