Trustees' Annual Report

Objectives and Activities

- (a) The advancement of education and training in India
- (b) The relief of poverty sickness and distress in India
- (c) The promotion of good health in India

Summary of the main activities

Helping Point UK ("HPUK") achieves its charitable objectives, to the public benefit, by raising funds in the UK and then distributing those funds to our sister organisation Helping Point India (HPI) to run three projects set out below (the 'Helping Point Projects').

Helping Point UK liaises closely with HPI and distributes the funds to HPI subject to being satisfied, through good reporting and accounting measures, that the funds are being properly applied by HPI to run the Helping Point Projects.

Most of HPUK's funds are applied to Helping Point's largest project, St Simons School (Helping Point Canada funds the Children's Home and Daycare Centres). Accordingly this report focusses on St Simon's School.

The Helping Point Projects:

Funded by Helping Point UK:

1. St Simon's School

This is Helping Point's main project. St Simons School is a boarding school located in Gumma, which provides an English-medium education, spiritual guidance, food, accommodation and healthcare to circa 300 pupils, of whom circa 180 board at the school.

2. Jhola Children's Home

A children's home providing round-the-clock residential care, food, healthcare and spiritual guidance to c. 50 children who are either orphaned or whose families are unable to care for them.

3. Daycare centres

Ten educational facilities spread throughout Helping Point's regions of operation which provide additional pre- and after school education, food and healthcare to circa 1000 children from impoverished rural families.

Funded by local income raised in India

4. The Helping Point churches

There are six churches based in: Jhola, Lowpenta, Liviri, Lohari, Gumma and Srikakulam. Between them they minister to circa 1000 people. (NB operation of the churches the churches is funded locally in India and not by Helping Point UK)

Achievements and Performance

ST SIMONS SCHOOL GUMMA

St Simons School, in the village of Gumma and the state of Orissa, India is an English Medium boarding and day school run by Helping Point India.

St Simon's School provides an excellent standard of education. It is ranked by the Indian government's school regulator (equivalent of Ofsted) as the second best school in the Gajapati region. An 'English Medium School' is a type of school in India which teaches children mainly in English. In India, having fluent English is a gateway to better job prospects and career progression. Most Indian parents aspire to have their children attend an English medium school, but normally only rich families can afford this. St Simons, however, provides free and heavily subsidised places to children from impoverished areas; thereby greatly increasing their life chances.

Due to the St Simon's reputation and excellent results, its popularity and pupil admissions continues to rise year by year. Recently constructed new school buildings mean that the school has capacity for more pupils. There are now circa 450 students ranging in age from five to sixteen years, of whom around hundred are day pupils and the others are boarders.

Pupils are from poor, rural families, about half of whom pay a nominal fee (circa £150/year) for their children to attend and others (whose families have no means to pay) attend for free. There are eighteen teachers, one computer teacher, three wardens (two male and one female), two caretakers, four cooks and a driver responsible for the transport of the day pupils.

The students follow an Indian curriculum and are prepared for state exams. In the wake of pandemic school closures, the school day now runs from 8.30am to 4.30pm - having been extended by an hour in the morning and an hour in the afternoon to enable pupils to catch up following the covid pandemic.

MAIN ACHIEVEMENTS AND OUTCOMES

1. Catch up education following lockdowns

Helping Point's main aim for 2023 has been to get all projects running as normal again following the pandemic and there has been a significant drive to help the children catch up with their education.

India imposed amongst the longest and harshest lockdowns in the world and covid restrictions continued into 2022. The Indian government mandated a phased return of school children, with the youngest age groups returning last, having lost circa 18 months of education. Although the Indian government provided resources for online learning, in practice this couldn't happen in the areas in which Helping Point operates, because around 95% of homes there do not have internet access (many homes are 'kacha' houses, made of mud brick walls and thatched roof).

The impact of lockdowns on Indian children has been devastating, as the following article entitled 'India's lost lockdown generation' by Mumbai based journalist Kunal Purohit articulates brilliantly: India's lost lockdown generation - UnHerd. The article reports that younger children lost the ability to write and that many older students turned to manual labour roles to support their families and never returned to school to complete their education. Studies done by the Indian government corroborate the extent of the problem. As this article reports, in one of India's poorest states, Jharkhand, a survey of school teachers revealed that 53% of pupils had forgotten how to read and write.

Staff at St Simon's found exactly the same thing in terms of students' literacy. To counteract this concerning situation, two extra hours of lessons (catch up classes) were introduced since schools re-opened and are continuing. Staff are determined to make up lost teaching hours so that students can cover the entire curriculum, achieve the best learning outcomes and reach their full potential. We are pleased to report that these efforts are bearing good fruit and that St Simon's is performing extremely well academically. In particular the younger children who were struggling with their reading and writing are benefiting from the extra catchup lessons.

The Indian government (Education Department of the Government of the State of Orissa) does regular inspections, the latest of which took place in December. Inspectors checked records and files and spoke to children and teachers to gauge the teaching standards and the atmosphere of the school. The school received a positive report and the school's authorisation to operate was renewed for a further five years. Seventy 10th Grade students recently took their state exams and await their results next month. Last year 90% of students taking these exams received First Division grades, and the remaining 10% Second Division grades. These results mean that St Simons is the second-best performing school in the Gajapati District of Orissa's rankings for High School examination performance.

2. Expanding the school capacity

Works were undergone and fairly recently completed to create a brand new, top quality school building. There is also the addition of a new two-bed facility for visitors on a separate floor.

The new buildings mean that St Simon's has been able to achieve its aim of expanding school capacity, in response to ever increasing demand for spaces at the school. Circa 450 pupils are now able to attend. This is enabling more pupils to access high quality education and improve their life prospects.

WHO BENEFITTED FROM PROJECT

Beneficiaries from the St Simon's School project are mainly children aged 5 – 16 years (circa 450 in total). However the school also benefits other individuals in the wider community of all ages, because of other facilities.

RESPONSES GENERATED AND CHALLENGES

1. Education of girls

Parents in poor rural areas are often illiterate and do not always appreciate the value of education, often wanting their children to work with them in the fields. The school therefore reaches out to parents via parent's evenings, visits to the communities or pamphlets to explain the importance of education for their children's (and their own) future prosperity. It is especially challenging to get girls into the school, given that families often regard the education of sons as more important. St Simon's staff therefore seek to gently persuade parents of the need to educate their daughters.

2. High inflation

High inflation leading to significant price rises has been a real challenge for Helping Point since early 2020. Economists have pointed out that the major driving factor in India's high inflation is food price inflation. This represents a particular challenge to the school where a majority of the budget is spent on food. Food price inflation reached as much as 10% during the height of the pandemic. Although it's come down since then, it remains high, at circa 6%. A combination of increasing food prices and rising student numbers makes it challenging for St Simon's School and the other projects to afford their food bills.

Achievements and Performance

As for many organisations, this has been an unprecedented time due to the Covid-19 pandemic. During the first part of the financial year the projects operated as normal and were thriving and growing. For the latter part of the financial year, the projects had to close as a result of the pandemic. Children at St Simons School and Jhola Childrens home were returned to live with their parents or other relatives. The Helping Point churches and daycare centres had to close. The teachers provided remote learning assistance, to the extent possible, delivering books and learning materials to childrens' homes and calling the children on mobile phones to deliver lessons. Doing this was challenging as most children live in areas or in houses without internet and sometimes with poor mobile phone coverage.

Covid Relief Programme

The pandemic hit Helping Point's communities extremely hard. Most people in the area are manual labourers working on farms and other work settings for a daily cash in hand payment equivalent to somewhere in the region of £1 - £1.50. When strict lockdown rules were imposed in around April 2020, many people lost their livelihoods overnight and were unable to feed their families. In addition, thousands of people, originally from the area who had lost their jobs in large cities, flooded back to the region, hungry and jobless. Government assistance was patchy and inadequate.

Helping Point, in conjunction with local government, set up a comprehensive relief programme. Helping India received a lengthy letter from the Indian Home Affairs Ministry requesting it to partner with local government and granting special dispensation to Helping Point staff to deviate from the strict 'stay at home' orders in order to provide aid.

Helping Point India requested emergency funding from its international partners and set up covid relief centres from six of its sites. From there Helping Point distributed thousands of aid packages comprising food, soap, sanitiser and masks. Staff also provided information to people on measures to take to avoid the spread of covid-19. Helping Point staff stayed in close contact with St Simons and Jhola children to ensure they were safe and had adequate supplies. In some cases, staff personally delivered food and aid packages to struggling St Simons/Jhola families.

Another significant contribution to the relief effort was, upon the government's request, providing the use of St Simons school as a quarantine centre for returning migrant workers. The school was empty, as children had been returned to their families, so the government took over the premises and used the school for several weeks to shelter and care for hundreds of individuals. A blessing of this is that the government carried out some upgrades to the school to make it suitable to house the migrants, including a new toilet block, installing water purifiers and some upgrades to the electrical system.

Infrastructure Projects

Nothwithstanding Covid, Helping Point was able to complete two infrastructure projects. The boundary wall at St Simons School was completed in late 2019. The girls dormitory block at Jhola Childrens' Home was also recently completed, having suffered a series of delays due to extreme weather events and then Covid. We are very thankful to our donors and supporters for their ongoing support at this difficult time. Due to their faithful provision, Helping Point was able to support thousands of individuals who had been very severely impacted by the pandemic - feeding, housing and otherwise providing for them. We would dearly love to resume normal services and we hope and pray we can do so before long. However as the pandemic continues on its course we recognise the need to remain responsive and agile and we will continue to support Helping Point project participants and local community members as needed in the coming months.

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash at bank, in hand, deposits and short-term investments. Any bank accounts in overdraft are included within the overall cash balance.

1.3 Recognition of income

These are included in the Statement of Financial Activities (SoFA) when the charity becomes entitled to the resources or it is more likely than not that the trustees will receive the resources; and the monetary value can be measured with sufficient reliability. Donations are only included in the SoFA when the general income recognition criteria are met (5.10 to 5.12 FRS102 SORP).
