Forward from the CEO

Against the backdrop of a challenging landscape in the charity sector, this last financial year has been one of continued steady growth for Restored. Income growth, growth in the Survivors Network, growth in the Beacon Network and growth in the reach and impact of Restored. The year hasn't been without challenges, including a change in staff, personal bereavements within the team, and an ever-changing political and economic environment. The Restored team, however, has demonstrated extraordinary resilience and determination to achieve our mission

That resilience is borne out of a passion to change the story for survivors of domestic abuse. This year, we've seen the number of women in the network rise to over 750, each accessing support at their own level of need. Thirty of those women joined us on our first-ever Restored Retreat, a weekend of friendship, faith, and fun. It was a personal highlight to meet face to face with women I've only met online and to see friendships forged on Zoom have a chance to flourish in person.

Relationships matter to us, and this year we have taken great delight in developing and strengthening our relationships with the Salvation Army, the Church of England, and the Church of Scotland. We recognise that as a small organisation, power lies in partnership. We can achieve so much more together, leveraging the reach of major denominations to raise awareness about domestic abuse throughout the UK Church and internationally.

And we want to do more. We know that what we do transforms lives. One woman put it like this:

"Finding Restored was the difference between me making it, or not."

It's hard to underestimate the impact on a survivor when they find a community of survivors who understand what they have been through. Domestic abuse isolates victims from friends or family; restoration is found in reversing that isolation and providing community. We do that online, but are passionate about equipping churches to do that in person, in their communities. We've welcomed seven new churches into the Beacon Network this year, each committed to walking alongside survivors and demonstrating a better way to model relationships between men and women.

It has also been a year of going back to our roots and revisiting the two questions that sparked the start of Restored. In 2008, faced with the overwhelming realities of Violence Against Women and Girls (VAWG), our founders felt God asking them; “Where is the Church?” and “Where are the men?” when it comes to responding. Over the last five years we’ve been laser-focused on that first question and have created a clear strategy to equip the Church to stand against domestic abuse and support survivors. We now feel God’s call to turn our attention back to that second question, to look for ways to engage men in the conversation about VAWG.

Last year, I had the privilege of speaking to 1,000 men at a festival in a field near Swindon and talking to them about the realities of VAWG. It was a moment that inspired me to revisit the second question, as these men overwhelmingly responded with a desire to know how they could help change the story for women. Since then, we have spoken at the UN about the importance of male allies in the work to end VAWG and are assembling a team to envision what engaging men could look like.

There is, as ever, much to be done. The small but mighty Restored team achieves an astonishing amount with very little. It is time to increase the resources available further, expand the team, and broaden the scope of our work. Restored’s influence is growing year on year both nationally and internationally. In a world where resources are being pulled away from promoting gender equality, Restored must be able to continue to equip the global Church to play its part in ending domestic abuse, modelling healthy relationships and supporting survivors on their road to recovery.

WHO WE ARE

Our mission

To speak up about violence against women and girls, to equip the church to stand against domestic abuse and support survivors.

Our values

The values held by all who work at Restored:

We follow where Jesus leads:

Seeking justice, walking humbly and showing compassion

We have courageous hope:

Believing every story can change

We nurture safe community:

Bringing people together to learn, grow and share stories.

We challenge and change culture:

Working relentlessly to see equality

Objectives and activities

Advancement of Religion

To advance the Christian religion for the benefit of the worldwide public in accordance with the following statements of belief:

1. that men and women are equal in the sight of God;
2. that Violence Against Women (VAW) in all its forms is unacceptable, inexcusable and intolerable;
3. that men and women should work together to end VAW and to transform relationships; and
4. that the Church has a vital role in ending VAW and in transforming relationships both amongst Christians and in the community.

To advance the Christian religion in ending VAW and transforming relationships for the benefit of the worldwide public through the holding of prayer.

Promotion of Human Rights

To promote human rights (as set out in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and subsequent United Nations conventions and declarations) throughout the world, specifically with a view to ending VAW and transforming relationships, by all or any of the following means:

- monitoring abuses of human rights;
- research into human rights issues;
- providing technical advice to government and others on human rights matters;
- contributing to the sound administration of human rights law;
- commenting on proposed human rights legislation;
- raising awareness of human rights issues;
- promoting public support for human rights;
- promoting respect for human rights among individuals and corporations;
- international advocacy of human rights;
- eliminating infringements of human rights.

In furtherance of that Object but not otherwise, the directors shall have power to engage in political activity provided that the directors are satisfied that the proposed activities will further the purposes of the charity to an extent justified by the resources committed and the activity is not the dominant means by which the charity carries out its Objects.

Promotion of Equality and Diversity

The promotion of equality and diversity for the worldwide public benefit with a view to ending VAW and to transforming relationships by:

- 1) the elimination of discrimination on the grounds of gender;
- 2) advancing education and raising awareness in gender equality;
- 3) conducting or commissioning research on gender equality issues and publishing the results to the public;
- 4) cultivating a sentiment in favour of gender equality.

Trustees' Statement regarding public benefit:

Throughout 2024/25, Restored has undertaken a range of activities and events, creating resources to fulfil its objectives and achieve its mission statement.

The priorities and plan for the charity are developed by the CEO and agreed upon, regularly monitored, and evaluated by the trustees. In agreeing to the charity's priorities and programme for the year, Trustees have paid due regard to the Public Benefit guidance issued by the Charity Commission, in particular the specific guidance on charities and the advancement of religion.

The trustees are in the process of considering a revision of the charity's Objectives and Activities, which go back to its establishment in 2010, to describe more accurately both what now 'drives' the charity and what it does. This proposal was put to the shareholders at the 2024 AGM and will be taken forward with the Charity Commission in 2025.

RESTORED'S IMPACT 2024-5

Speaking up

We spoke or exhibited at 23 church services, women's events and conferences.

We launched our Welsh Edition of the Guide for Churches to Address Domestic Abuse and held a Changing the Story Conference in Cardiff with the Diocese of Llandaff and the Welsh Mothers' Union with over 100 leaders and laity in attendance. We also published the Scottish edition of the Church Guide, meaning that we now have a contextualised version for every nation in the UK.

We contributed to the Project DIdl Annual Conference, delivering a theological paper that examined victim blaming in Judges 19 and sharing the lessons learned from the development of the Restored Beacon Network. Restored was recognised as having a pioneering model of practice that could be replicated across other faiths.

We gave domestic abuse training in three Bible colleges as part of a strategy to reach and educate church leaders before they begin their vocation.

We spoke about Violence Against Women and Girls (VAWG) on 12 occasions on Christian radio and in print media, as well as being a twice-weekly contributor to a news programme.

This year, the Red Chair Campaign gained momentum, launched on the International Day to End Violence Against Women and Girls, to raise awareness of gender-based violence. 210 Red Chair resource packs were downloaded in 10 different languages. These packs included sermon notes, prayer templates and posters.

We spoke to 1,000 men at CVM the Gathering, a national men's conference about the realities of VAWG.

We co-hosted a parallel event at the UN Commission for the Status of Women Forum: Are Men Allies in the Fight Against Domestic Violence? This event explored initiatives from men and women across the world who are working to prevent domestic abuse and engage men in the conversation. A number of members of the Christian Network to End Domestic Abuse, an international network hosted by Restored, shared their stories to inspire others to stand against domestic abuse.

Equipping the Church

We continued to run online domestic abuse training courses:

- 3x Level 1: Domestic Abuse awareness (63 attendees)
- 4x Level 2: Understanding Domestic Abuse (34 attendees)
- 4x Level 3: Supporting Survivors (56 attendees)

We delivered bespoke, in-person training sessions for organisational groups and denominations across the UK, including Parish Safeguarding Officers in the Diocese of Sheffield and Beginwell antenatal education. We also delivered all three levels of our training to 50 clergy trainees from the HTB Church of England Network.

A major milestone was beginning a licensing agreement with the Church of England, to include our Level 1 course to their mandatory safeguarding training for leaders. As a result, over 1,700 clergy and lay leaders received the training within the first six weeks, dramatically increasing our impact. We have agreed a similar agreement with the Church in Scotland.

We distributed 743 copies of our Guide for Churches to Address Domestic Abuse, as well as 335 posters including signposting information and the Church Domestic Abuse Charter.

“Your expertise and passion for the subject was evident throughout the training. The practical strategies and case study examples you shared significantly enhanced our understanding. The knowledge and skills we gained from your training are crucial for our ongoing efforts to support and protect those affected by domestic abuse.”

Restored Beacon Network

Seven new churches joined our Restored Beacon Network, and a further two began the training process. A total of 54 individuals from these new Beacon Churches have received our domestic abuse training. The Network is now made up of 16 Restored Beacon churches.

89 individuals signed up to join our webinars to explore becoming a Restored Beacon church.

More than 116 survivors have found support through the Restored Beacon Network through 1:1 befriending, small groups and recovery courses.

"It has been so healing for me to belong. I'm accepted and loved. I'm not looked down on, or treated as less than. They don't see me as a mad woman or a troublemaker. I have a safe place where I can continue to get to know the God who sees and loves me." - Survivor & Restored Beacon Church member

"Domestic abuse is happening in our churches; we've got to be prepared to deal with that. You can deal with that outside of Restored, but it's really hard. If you're part of Restored, you've got a lot of resources and a lot of help and guidance." - Restored Beacon Church Leader

Supporting survivors

The Survivors Network reached over 750 members, with 152 women joining this year.

We ran 4 recovery courses for 38 women. The majority of attendees reported that the courses had helped them feel more confident in themselves, their understanding of mental wellbeing, or that the course had helped them feel less isolated.

We delivered 375 recovery handbooks to survivors.

We hosted the first-ever Survivors Network retreat, which was attended by 42 women. The retreat included time to get to know other network members, spiritual reflections and creative activities.

“Thank you for a wonderful, joyful, healing retreat...You all gently and carefully helped me, and I'm sure others too, navigate and see the gold, the joy we have of finding more of our true selves, restoring and shifting our gaze so we can look in the mirror and see beauty not blame, splendour not shame and destiny not despair.” - Survivors Retreat attendee

“I love the writing group! It has enabled me to process thoughts, memories and feelings that I didn't even realise I remembered or needed to process. It has been hugely therapeutic and a great encouragement to hear from others about their own feelings. It makes me less alone and less weird for having these emotions!” - Survivors Network member

FINANCIAL REVIEW

The financial position at 31st March 2025 is stronger than anticipated, mainly due to higher than expected one-off giving and major donors in the year. Regular individual giving has remained stable, but overall donation income has increased by 16%, on a like-for-like basis. The operating costs have increased overall by 17%, reflecting the growth in the number of survivors, who we have been supporting during the year.

Restored's principal sources of funding:

- 1. Regular givers £65,568
- 2. One-off donations £72,886
- 3. Individual fundraising £5,694
- 4. Restored Beacon Income £24,005
- 5. Trusts and foundations £103,525

During the year the charity received donations totalling £1,282.13 (2024: £1,020) from related parties (which includes trustees, any other members of key management and anyone closely connected to them)

Income and Expenditure

Reserves

The reserves policy is based on providing a basic level of unrestricted funding in the context of risks faced by Restored after taking into account the following areas of risk:

- Income vulnerability
- Unanticipated expenditure
- Loss of assets
- Accumulation of funds to meet a specific future cost.

Reserves should not be too low so that financial shocks can be absorbed, nor too high. Donors give to support the purpose of the charity, not to build up funds. Restored's reserves policy is to hold three months' budgeted expenditure on a rolling basis. This had been met as at 31 March 2025 with reserves held totalling £210,255. Plans are in place to use part of this balance in 2025.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Restored is a charitable company limited by guarantee without a share capital registered in England on 5 May 2010, Company Number 7243226. Restored was registered with the Charity Commission of England and Wales on 7 July 2010, under number 1136774. Restored is governed by its Memorandum and Articles of Association as adopted on 16 April 2010 and amended by special resolutions 30 June 2010 and 10 December 2021.

Trustees

The trustees are the directors of Restored for the purposes of company law and trustees for the purposes of charity law. All trustees are also Members in accordance with its Articles of Association.

The Articles of Association provide for a minimum of four trustees, but with no maximum. As at 31 March 2025 there were eight trustees. The Board of Trustees meets four times a year. Day-to-day management of Restored is delegated to and performed by the CEO.

The Articles of Association provide for the retirement of one-third of its Board of Trustees at each Annual General Meeting after the initial AGM.

The existing trustees appoint any new trustees following the provision laid out in the charity's governing instrument.

Retirement and appointment of new trustees will continue to take place each year, as recommended by the Board or Trustees and as approved by the Members in AGM, in accordance with the Articles of Association. The term of office for a trustee is three years upon which a trustee may retire or offer themselves for re-appointment.

Induction and training of new trustees

On appointment to the Board of Trustees, trustees receive a copy of the Memorandum and Articles of Association and Charity Commission and Good Governance information alongside a copy of Restored's Board Manual. Training is offered to those trustees without appropriate experience.

In its approach to the recruitment of trustees, Restored aims to ensure that it has a broad range of financial, commercial, legal and operational experience.

Restored aims to have equal numbers of male and female trustees consistent with the Charity's vision of men and women working together to end violence against women. The current trustees include an associate pastor, a business owner, an army officer and several members with extensive charity, domestic abuse and international development experience. In addition, one trustee position is a designated representative of the Survivors Network. As a result, the trustees are able to ensure that the interests of those people whom the charity seeks to support are well represented by direct first-hand experience, in a variety of different fields.

Our volunteer trustees:

Tracy Wild (Chair of the Board of Trustees)[appointed chair 12th July 2024]

Mike Coffin (Treasurer)

Sara Hamilton (Company Secretary)[retired from Board 26th April 2024]

Other leadership:

The authority to conduct the day-to-day operations of the charity is delegated to the Chief Executive Officer, who is responsible for carrying out the strategies and objectives set by the trustees in accordance with specified policies.

Agreement with Tearfund

Office accommodation and support services were provided by Tearfund throughout FY24-25. These services were terminated in March 2025.

SAFEGUARDING

We consider the welfare of every child, young person or adult with additional care and support needs (vulnerable adult), who engages with Restored to be of paramount importance, and we are committed to ensuring that they are valued, listened to, and respected within the work that we do.

Prevention

Everyone at Restored is responsible for creating and maintaining an environment that neither tolerates nor condones the maltreatment of children or adults. Activities and efforts to promote safeguarding primarily focus on stringent preventative interventions which reduce risk factors.

These include:

- Governance and Leadership – our Board of Trustees and CEO take their safeguarding responsibilities very seriously, continually considering how to strengthen this area of our work. We have a trustee with specific responsibility for safeguarding as well as Designated and Deputy Designated Safeguarding Officers within the staff team.
- Safer Recruitment – safeguarding is embedded in the recruitment processes for staff, trustees and volunteers, including background and DBS checking and high standards of behaviour being set.
- Training and Development – all staff and volunteers receive safeguarding training as part of their initial onboarding.

Reporting

Everyone at Restored is responsible for reporting any potential incident, abuse or concern they witness or are made aware of. Restored has an appropriate and accessible process for reporting safeguarding concerns available to all.

Whilst our work focus is mainly on the experience of domestic abuse, we recognise that many people experience other types of abuse and neglect. Further, we will remain mindful of the ‘think family’ approach. We will guard against not sharing concerns in the belief that we are protecting a person’s cultural or religious beliefs.

Restored has a ‘Whistleblowing Policy and Procedure’ intended to encourage and enable anyone to raise serious concerns without fear of victimisation, subsequent discrimination or disadvantage.

Response

Restored's greatest responsibility is to protect women and children from harm. Where we are made aware of a risk to safety, Restored takes seriously the responsibility to prioritise safety in reporting to the appropriate authorities.

Some individuals we come into contact with may have additional vulnerabilities or experience additional hurdles in their lives. This may be due to the impact of their previous experiences, their family or environmental situation or their personal characteristics. All those involved in our Survivor's Network have experienced actual or suspected domestic abuse and possibly other types of harm as well which may impact on their physical, emotional or social well-being as well as their relationships, including parenting. We will always remain mindful of these vulnerabilities when offering our communication and services.

FUNDRAISING STATEMENT

Restored has maintained its membership with the Fundraising Regulator and complied with the Code of Fundraising Practice and the Fundraising Promise.

Restored's fundraising activities are conducted by staff and volunteers. This primarily involves working with local churches, speaking at Christian events, conducting fundraising campaigns and building relationships with supportive individuals.

Additionally, Restored engages the services of professional fundraisers to consult and support the CEO with trust and grant applications.

Restored has a number of supporters who undertake fundraising activities either on our behalf or through their own initiative.

We have taken reasonable steps to monitor and review fundraising activities undertaken by third-party organisations acting on our behalf, including applying robust due diligence procedures; reviewing agreements and contractual clauses in relation to compliance with the Code of Fundraising Practice; and performance reviews.

When conducting our direct marketing activities, we remain committed to:

- offering choice and control to personalise permissions and preferences to hear about our work;
- ensuring we have robust data protection and privacy policies;
- treating those who come into contact with our work respectfully and fairly.

We monitor opt-in numbers and communication channels that our supporters prefer. We are also signed up to the Fundraising Preference Service (FPS) and ensure any opt-out requests are actioned promptly. There were no FPS requests received in the last year.

TRUSTEES' RESPONSIBILITIES IN RELATION TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The trustees (who are also the directors of Restored for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law, the trustees have elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and applicable law).

Under company law, the trustees must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and the income and expenditure of the charity for that period.

In preparing these financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- Observe the methods and principles in the Charities Statement Of Recommended Practice (SORP);
- Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- State whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- Prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in business.

The trustees are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the charity's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006, the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended).

They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

This report, which has been prepared in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act 2006 relating to small companies, was approved by the trustees and signed on their behalf by:

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES OF RESTORED FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31ST MARCH 2025

I report to the charity trustees on my examination of the accounts of the Company for the year ended 31 March 2025 on pages 22 to 40 preceding, which have been prepared on the basis of the accounting policies set out on pages 20 to 21.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the charity's trustees of the Company (and also its directors for the purposes of company law) you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006 ('the 2006 Act').

Having satisfied myself that the accounts of the Company are not required to be audited under Part 16 of the 2006 Act and are eligible for independent examination, I report in respect of my examination of your charity's accounts as carried out under section 145 of the Charities Act 2011 ('the 2011 Act'). In carrying out my examination I have followed the Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5) (b) of the 2011 Act.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe:

1. accounting records were not kept in respect of the Company as required by section 386 of the 2006 Act; or
2. the accounts do not accord with those records; or
3. the accounts do not comply with the accounting requirements of section 396 of the 2006 Act other than any requirement that the accounts give a 'true and fair' view which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination; or
4. the accounts have not been prepared in accordance with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice for accounting and reporting by charities applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102).

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
