One-to-One Support for Faith and Community Organisations in 2024

Throughout 2024, Transformation Cornwall provided bespoke, in-depth support to faith-based and secular organisations across Cornwall to strengthen their social action and better serve their communities. This tailored assistance ranged from clarifying project vision and mission, to developing teams, identifying funding sources, designing consultation processes, and strengthening governance.

Requests for support came from a wide variety of churches, charities, and grassroots initiatives—many working directly with vulnerable individuals and many themselves operating in precarious or under-resourced circumstances.

Examples of Our 2024 One-to-One Support:

- SkillSHARE Cornwall – Supported the group through funding identification, project planning, and the successful launch of a new skills-based community programme.
- Hidden Help – Provided advice on strengthening governance, refining charitable aims, and securing funding for household goods distribution to people in crisis.
- Inspiring Women Network – Advised on project development, bid writing, and planning inclusive activities for women experiencing isolation and hardship.
- Delivered training in social media use for small charities, and led "Worry About Money?" leaflet training sessions to help frontline workers signpost emergency financial help more effectively.

Our support enabled these groups to grow in resilience, scale their impact, and better respond to the social and economic challenges facing their communities.

Strengthening Links Between Faith and Mainstream Organisations

In 2024, we continued to embed cross-sector collaboration at the heart of our work, focusing on six interlinked priority themes:

- Food Poverty
- Mental Health
- Modern Slavery
- Homelessness
- Financial Inclusion
- Climate Emergency

Our approach centred on building meaningful partnerships between churches, faith-based groups, public sector agencies, and secular organisations—ensuring that expertise, insight, and resources were shared across boundaries.

Key Outcomes in 2024:

- Facilitated joint working between churches and foodbanks, enhancing coordination and reducing duplication during the winter hardship period.
- Built new connections between faith groups and safeguarding bodies to tackle modern slavery through improved early identification and response.
- Engaged church leaders in climate justice conversations, linking them with environmental networks and campaign groups across Cornwall.
- Continued participation in networks including the Cornwall Modern Slavery Network, Mental Health Alliance, and financial hardship forums.

Tools for Change

Our Tools for Change toolkit series supported this bridge-building work by offering practical, values-based resources to help communities address systemic inequalities. The toolkits remained a vital part of how we helped groups:

- Navigate issues around diversity, equality, and inclusion
- Develop just and sustainable practices
- Lead informed, compassionate responses to complex social challenges

We remain committed to ensuring that all voices—especially those most affected by poverty and exclusion—are heard, valued, and empowered in the shaping of Cornwall’s future.

“We are partnered with a outdoor education centre in Bodmin providing them with clothing so that children accessing their services have the appropriate clothing for activities that they do... We are also being sustainable and keeping quality clothes in circulation instead of going to landfill.” 1:1 project support recipient

Causes:

1. Mental Health:

Strengthening Mental Health and Wellbeing Through Partnership and Communication (2024)

In 2024, Transformation Cornwall deepened its commitment to improving mental health and wellbeing across Cornwall by focusing on partnership building, strategic information-sharing, and the amplification of local, community-led initiatives.

As an active member of the Cornwall Mental Health Alliance, co-ordinated by Cornwall Voluntary Sector Forum (VSF), we worked closely with NHS representatives, council services, and charitable providers to identify gaps in mental health support and explore collaborative solutions. We helped highlight the unique role churches and grassroots faith groups play in supporting mental health in isolated and under-served communities.

Key Contributions in 2024:

- Regular engagement with the Mental Health Alliance to represent the voice of faith and community organisations in strategic discussions.
- Promoted dozens of local support groups, listening services, and wellbeing programmes via our newsletters and social media channels—connecting hundreds of people to services that addressed loneliness, grief, anxiety, and family pressures.
- Shared key updates during high-profile moments such as Mental Health Awareness Week (May 2024), when we focused on encouraging community engagement and promoting preventative mental health activities.

During Mental Health Awareness Week 2024:

- Promoted free, accessible training opportunities including Mental Health First Aid, SafeTALK, and youth-focused resilience workshops.
- Amplified the work of faith-led mental health initiatives, such as:
  - Church listening spaces
  - Pastoral counselling hubs
  - Community cafés offering informal peer support.

In October 2024, we also supported communications around the People in Mind Community Wellbeing Fund, a grant programme managed by the Cornwall Community Foundation with backing from the NHS and Cornwall Council. We helped share the impact of earlier funded projects and encouraged churches and community groups to apply for the upcoming round, highlighting the fund's value for small, place-based mental health work.

By the end of 2024, our communications and partnership efforts had significantly boosted awareness of available services, improved mental health literacy among our networks, and strengthened the role of community organisations in shaping a more supportive and connected Cornwall.

Key Achievements: Mental Health and Wellbeing (2024)

- Actively contributed to Cornwall's Mental Health Alliance, working alongside the voluntary sector, NHS, and Cornwall Council to strengthen collaborative approaches to community mental health.
- Promoted the People in Mind Community Wellbeing Fund, helping raise awareness of its impact and encouraging grassroots groups and churches to apply for future funding rounds.
- Shared accessible training opportunities, including Mental Health First Aid, SafeTALK, and other community-based wellbeing courses, particularly during Mental Health Awareness Week in May 2024.
- Amplified faith-based mental health initiatives, such as listening cafés, grief support groups, and wellbeing sessions run by churches and partner organisations.
- Connected hundreds of individuals and organisations to relevant services via our social media, newsletter, and workshop networks—signposting help for anxiety, bereavement, and youth mental health.

2. Food Insecurity:

Addressing Food Insecurity in Cornwall (2024)

In 2024, Transformation Cornwall continued to champion a “cash-first” approach to food insecurity—advocating for access to financial support and advice before people are forced to turn to emergency food provision. Working in partnership with the Independent Food Aid Network (IFAN), Trussell Trust, and Cornwall Council, we expanded the reach of the “Worrying About Money?” resources—an interactive website and printed leaflet designed to help people in crisis navigate benefits, grants, and local financial support.

By the end of 2024, over 50,000 printed copies of the Cornwall-specific guide had been distributed across schools, GP surgeries, libraries, advice centres, and churches. These materials empower both individuals and frontline workers with information to reduce dependency on food banks and help people access the financial support they're entitled to.

Practical Training and Outreach

We co-delivered Citizens Advice Cornwall's Money Counts training, equipping hundreds of frontline workers and volunteers with the skills to guide clients through benefit applications, debt advice, and other financial issues. This training reinforced the importance of cash-first, dignity-centred interventions and helped expand the reach of financial advice to those most at risk of food poverty.

Advocacy and Dialogue: Crisis Support Schemes

In summer 2023 and again in January 2024, we co-convened community forums in St Austell alongside IFAN and local stakeholders to examine how Cornwall Council's crisis support schemes—including the Household Support Fund and Council Care Awards—were being delivered. Attended by charities, food banks, and community groups, the forums identified key barriers to access and made practical recommendations for improvements.

These insights were captured in a joint report published by IFAN, and we have continued to advocate for:

- Clearer communication about available crisis support
- Simplified application processes
- Better outreach to those most in need

In late 2024, we welcomed news that the Household Support Fund had been extended through March 2026, and we have called for accessible guidance and active promotion to ensure that the fund reaches vulnerable households.

Amplifying Voices and Tackling Stigma

As part of our wider food poverty advocacy, we participated in Trussell Trust's Hardship Times campaign, a national drive to share real stories of hunger with policymakers. Throughout 2024, we worked with volunteers to gather lived experiences from across Cornwall—stories that were shared directly with MPs as part of a national appeal for urgent action on hunger and cost-of-living pressures.

In the words of Trussell Trust CEO Emma Revie, “we stood shoulder to shoulder to amplify... powerful stories...: the UK government must act now.” Our local contribution ensured that the voices of Cornish residents were included in this campaign, demonstrating that food insecurity is not just a statistic—it is an everyday reality for thousands of people.

We also facilitated local fundraising and awareness events, including a Meet the Funders collection for foodbanks, and helped churches communicate the reality of hunger in their own communities.

Evidence of Ongoing Need

Food insecurity in Cornwall continues to rise, especially among disabled residents and low-income families. A March 2024 survey by YouGov and Trussell Trust found that nearly 1 in 5 disabled people on Universal Credit had used a food bank within the past month—a stark indicator of growing inequality and unmet need.

Our engagement with churches and grassroots groups has placed us at the heart of the local response. Many of the organisations we support are delivering frontline services including:

- Emergency food parcels
- Community kitchens
- Pay-what-you-can meals
- Wraparound debt and welfare support.

Through our workshops, one-to-one support, partnerships, and advocacy, we remain committed to sustainable, cash-first, and dignity-centred responses—helping to build a Cornwall where no one has to go hungry.

‘Really helpful in allowing their volunteers to directly signpost to supportive services’

3. Homelessness:

Broadening Our Impact: Homelessness and Housing Justice (2024)

In 2024, Transformation Cornwall significantly expanded its engagement with homelessness and housing-related hardship—responding to the deepening crisis across Cornwall. Our work focused on community-led action, partnership development, and raising awareness about housing injustice and the dignity of home.

Supporting Tenancy Sustainment Through Citadel Cornwall

In late 2024, we began work to support the introduction of the Citadel Cornwall project—an initiative delivered by Hope for Justice in partnership with Housing Justice, aimed at supporting individuals as they transition from temporary accommodation into longer-term housing.

Although the formal launch of Citadel Cornwall was scheduled for 2025, our 2024 groundwork was critical. We helped prepare for the project by:

- Connecting Citadel’s national team with Cornwall-based churches, charities, and support organisations.

- Facilitating early conversations with stakeholders about how trained volunteers can walk alongside people moving into tenancies—offering relational support, help with essentials, and a listening ear.
- Advocating for community involvement in tenancy sustainment, recognising the impact of relationship-based support on long-term housing outcomes.

Cornwall was ultimately selected as one of six UK regions to adopt this high-impact model, which previously demonstrated a 95% tenancy sustainment rate in pilot schemes in Wales. Citadel later acknowledged Transformation Cornwall’s “proactivity in connecting organisations with shared passions”, recognising our foundational role in preparing for the programme’s success.

Keep Cornwall Carpeted: A Campaign for Dignity in Social Housing

From autumn 2024 onward, we led the Keep Cornwall Carpeted campaign—highlighting the reality that many social housing tenants move into unfurnished homes with bare concrete or wooden floors, facing unsafe and uncomfortable living conditions.

This campaign:

- Raised public and media awareness about the link between housing conditions, wellbeing, and poverty.
- Engaged local councillors, housing associations, and national audiences in calls to follow Wales’ model, where flooring is now provided in social tenancies as standard.
- Encouraged community donations of rugs and flooring, practical support for newly housed individuals, and new conversations about what “dignity at home” really means.

Our communications featured real stories from Cornwall residents and helped to frame flooring not as a luxury, but as a basic housing right that impacts children’s health, safety, and mental wellbeing.

Partnership, Training and Advocacy.

Throughout 2024, we deepened our collaboration with local homelessness organisations, including Doorstep, St Petrocs, and Shelter Cornwall, by:

- Inviting them into our events and networks
- Promoting their training sessions and volunteer opportunities
- Helping secure funding by signposting relevant grant programmes and community foundations

We also supported national housing justice campaigns, such as the Centre for Progressive Change’s “Speak Up for Housing Justice”, which amplifies lived experience in policymaking around affordability, homelessness prevention, and home insecurity.

Churches and grassroots groups played a vital role in this work, and we provided guidance on how they could support local efforts—such as furnishing homes, offering tenancy mentoring, or providing pastoral care for people in housing crisis.

Key Achievements: Homelessness and Housing Justice (2024).

- Prepared groundwork for the Citadel Cornwall project, connecting Hope for Justice and Housing Justice with local networks and community groups.

- Led the Keep Cornwall Carpeted campaign (Autumn–Winter 2024):
  - Raised awareness about flooring poverty in social housing
  - Mobilised donations and practical help for newly housed tenants
  - Pressured housing providers and local authorities to adopt more dignified tenancy standards.
- Strengthened relationships with homelessness charities, including Doorstep, Shelter Cornwall, and St Petrocs, supporting collaboration and access to resources.
- Promoted national housing campaigns, including “Speak Up for Housing Justice,” spotlighting lived experience as a driver of policy reform.
- Helped churches and community groups access funding and deliver practical housing-related initiatives, such as move-in support, essential household item donations, and community companionship for newly housed individuals.

4. Modern Slavery:

Tackling Modern Slavery through Partnership and Awareness.

Modern slavery remains a growing concern in Cornwall, with vulnerable individuals increasingly at risk of exploitation. In 2025, Transformation Cornwall played a key leadership role in addressing this issue through convening partnerships, promoting awareness, and equipping frontline and faith-based organisations.

Our central platform for this work is the Cornwall Modern Slavery Network, which we co-convene bi-monthly in partnership with Churches Together Cornwall and the Cornwall Refugee Resource Network. This cross-sector network brings together stakeholders from the police, statutory services, charities, faith communities, and local businesses to share information, flag emerging risks, and coordinate referral and training opportunities.

A significant moment in 2025 was our April 2024 meeting, which welcomed Hilary Agg, the new Anti-Slavery Partnership Co-ordinator from Unseen. Her presentation was made available through our website, further broadening the reach of her insights and strengthening local engagement.

We also refreshed and promoted our Anti-Slavery Day Church Toolkit (originally released in 2023), once again in partnership with Churches Together Cornwall. This updated toolkit supported churches in marking Anti-Slavery Week with services, prayer, social media engagement, and educational displays.

Throughout the year, we stressed the urgency of the issue, echoing the National Crime Agency’s warning that “modern slavery is increasing steadily and the threat is growing.” Our network circulated key resources and training opportunities—such as Hope for Justice’s “Spotting the Signs”—to ensure that frontline workers and congregations remained alert and equipped to respond.

Key Achievements: Tackling Modern Slavery (2024–2025)

- Convened the Cornwall Modern Slavery Network bi-monthly, bringing together law enforcement, statutory bodies, faith groups, and charities for joint learning, collaboration, and referrals.
- Hosted the Anti-Slavery Partnership Co-ordinator from Unseen (Hilary Agg) and published her guidance for wider use across Cornwall.
- Updated and re-promoted our Anti-Slavery Day Church Toolkit, empowering faith communities to mark Anti-Slavery Week with services, prayer, and educational activities.
- Promoted high-impact training resources, including Hope for Justice's "Spotting the Signs", helping local leaders and congregations identify exploitation and respond safely.
- Strengthened the role of churches and community organisations in safeguarding vulnerable individuals and supporting victims of modern slavery.

5. Financial Inclusion:

Financial Inclusion: Supporting Dignity Through Cash-First Strategies (2024)

Financial inclusion remained central to Transformation Cornwall's anti-poverty work in 2024.

We focused on ensuring that individuals and families facing hardship had access to timely, accurate, and empowering financial advice—supporting people to navigate welfare systems, avoid crisis, and maintain dignity.

In addition to distributing practical resources, we strengthened partnerships and deepened local engagement through training, campaigning, and strategic advocacy.

Cash-First Advocacy and Regional Engagement

In October 2024, we co-hosted a regional cash-first webinar with the Independent Food Aid Network (IFAN) and the Trussell Trust, attracting over 80 participants from across the South West. The session explored the potential of Scotland's national cash-first model and reflected on three years of Cornwall-based collaboration, including:

- The creation of the Worrying About Money? guide (2021)
- Joint campaigning around crisis support (2021–2024)
- Hosting local public forums in 2023 and early 2024 to inform improvements to Cornwall Council's welfare funds

Our Campaigns Manager shared how this sustained work had shifted the local narrative:

"We are determined to build on what we've done so far and further the delivery of a cash-first approach—for one and all."

Tools and Training for Financial Resilience

- In January 2024, we published an updated edition of the Telephone Signposting List—a widely used A3 resource listing local benefits, debt, housing, and emergency advice providers. This tool has been adopted in schools, libraries, GP surgeries, and churches.
- We co-delivered Advice First Aid workshops in partnership with Citizens Advice Cornwall, training volunteers in listening, crisis signposting, and referral skills to help people access appropriate support before hitting breaking point.
- Throughout the year, we distributed over 10,000 copies of the Worrying About Money? Cornwall leaflet, ensuring people in financial difficulty had clear pathways to help—prioritising cash-based options over food bank use wherever possible.

Key Achievements: Financial Inclusion (2024).

Promotion of a Cash-First Approach.

We continued to champion a cash-first response to financial crisis, advocating that support—wherever possible—should prioritise direct financial assistance over food parcels or vouchers. This approach maintains individual dignity and improves long-term resilience.

Expansion of the Worrying About Money? Leaflet.

In collaboration with the Trussell Trust and IFAN, we updated and distributed the Cornwall edition of this resource—now adopted by a wide range of public, faith-based, and voluntary sector partners. Over 10,000 leaflets were shared in 2024 alone.

Financial Wellbeing Workshops

We ran a series of training workshops across Cornwall, covering:

- Welfare entitlements and crisis grants
- Budgeting tools
- Financial signposting for frontline workers

These sessions were well attended by churches, community organisations, and volunteers.

One-to-One Support for Community-Led Initiatives.

We supported a range of local groups to develop or improve financial resilience projects, including:

- Hosting benefits drop-in sessions
- Launching hardship funds
- Developing partnerships with local debt advice agencies

Engagement with Cornwall Council and Strategic Forums

We contributed to local anti-poverty working groups, helping inform Council approaches to crisis grants and emergency support. Our advocacy ensured that the voices of churches and grassroots organisations—as well as those directly affected—were considered in decision-making.

Building the Role of Faith Communities

We equipped over 45 churches and community groups to take an active role in tackling financial exclusion. This included:

- Hosting financial advice sessions and “warm spaces” with money signposting
- Supporting partnership work with credit unions, food banks, and advice centres
- Promoting benefit awareness through newsletters, events, and parish outreach

Looking Ahead.

Building on our 2024 achievements, we are preparing targeted outreach for 2025 and beyond. Plans include:

- Monthly advice drop-ins in high-deprivation areas to promote cash-first tools
- An external evaluation of the Worrying About Money materials, to better understand their impact in reducing foodbank use
- Continued work with Cornwall Council and voluntary partners to improve access to and visibility of crisis support

6.Climate Emergency:

Climate Emergency: Building Community Resilience in Cornwall:

Responding to the Climate Emergency Through Community Action (2024).

In 2024, Transformation Cornwall deepened its focus on the climate emergency by empowering churches and grassroots groups to respond locally, practically, and collaboratively. Our goal was to help communities become agents of change—tackling environmental challenges while building resilience and reducing inequality.

Energy Awareness Training with Community Energy Plus

In partnership with Community Energy Plus, we delivered Energy Awareness training sessions aimed at frontline workers and volunteers. These sessions provided:

- Practical tips for reducing household energy use
- Guidance on accessing grants and support for energy-efficient upgrades
- Strategies to help low-income households stay warm and manage energy bills more sustainably

This work directly addressed the intersection between climate justice and fuel poverty, helping to ensure that environmental action also improved wellbeing and reduced hardship.

Promoting the Eco Church Initiative.

Throughout 2024, we actively encouraged and supported congregations across Cornwall to engage with the Eco Church framework, which integrates care for creation into five key areas:

- Worship and teaching
- Buildings
- Land
- Community engagement
- Lifestyle

Dozens of churches progressed on their Eco Church journey—hosting climate-themed services, installing energy-saving measures, improving biodiversity on their land, and using their platforms to foster community dialogue on environmental issues.

Sustainable Practice and Climate Communications.

Our digital communications consistently highlighted:

- Green initiatives accessible to churches and small groups
- Climate justice theology and the role of faith in environmental stewardship
- Practical sustainability tips such as eco-friendly event planning and energy-saving ideas.

We promoted a wide range of free resources, toolkits, and funding opportunities to help faith groups act on the climate crisis within their communities.

Advocacy and Collaboration.

In 2024, we partnered with Cornwall Council and local stakeholders to:

- Advocate for improved home insulation programmes
- Raise awareness of the links between fuel poverty, housing quality, and environmental responsibility
- Contribute to policy discussions on how faith and community groups can support just transition efforts—ensuring climate action also addresses social justice

Key Achievements: Climate Action (2024).

- Delivered Energy Awareness training with Community Energy Plus to equip frontline workers supporting vulnerable households
- Supported Eco Church engagement across Cornwall—encouraging sustainable worship, land use, and building management
- Shared climate action resources widely through newsletters and social media, including guidance on theology, sustainability, and energy efficiency

- Collaborated with local authorities to amplify the voices of faith communities in environmental advocacy and link climate solutions with poverty reduction

Partnerships in 2024.

Throughout 2024, Transformation Cornwall forged and deepened a wide range of strategic partnerships to strengthen community action, amplify local voices, and build sustainable responses to poverty and inequality across Cornwall. These collaborations enhanced our reach and ensured that churches and grassroots organisations were effectively connected to wider systems of support and advocacy.

Key Partnerships and Collaborations, Diocese of Truro

Co-delivered the Meet the Funders programme, reinforcing the Church's vital role in community-led social action. Through this partnership, we connected with over 60 parish communities, extending our grassroots support network across Cornwall

Cornwall Community Foundation

Served as a principal funder of Meet the Funders and led the People in Mind Community Wellbeing Fund. We promoted this initiative and encouraged grassroots groups to apply, supporting increased access to mental health funding for small-scale community projects.

Citizens Advice Cornwall.

Worked in partnership to deliver Money Counts and Advice First Aid training, equipping hundreds of frontline workers and volunteers with essential knowledge on debt, welfare support, and crisis referrals.

Cornwall Council & NHS Cornwall Integrated Care Board (ICB).

Engaged with the Council and ICB through joint cash-first forums and strategic working groups. Council representatives participated in our events to explain access to Household Support Fund and other crisis grants. We also provided community feedback to help improve the design and delivery of these schemes.

Independent Food Aid Network (IFAN) & Trussell Trust.

Our key partners in promoting a cash-first approach to food insecurity. In October 2024, we co-hosted a South West regional webinar with IFAN and Trussell, sharing best practice from Cornwall and building momentum for cash-first advocacy and welfare reform.

Housing Justice (with Hope for Justice).

Supported the development of the Citadel Cornwall project, a volunteer-based homelessness support initiative. We facilitated local connections and played a pivotal role in introducing the national Citadel model to Cornwall's churches and local authorities.

Community Energy Plus.

Partnered to deliver Energy Awareness training for frontline workers, providing practical support to households facing fuel poverty and promoting sustainable, cost-saving measures.

Cornwall Voluntary Sector Forum (VSF).

Participated actively in county-wide forums hosted by VSF, contributing to collaborative work on mental health, food poverty, and Living Wage campaigns.

Additional Networks and Engagement

In 2024, we also played an active role in several sectoral and regional networks, including:

- Cornwall Food Partnership – Engaged on food justice, food waste, and access.
- Cornwall Youth Providers Partnership – Supported youth outreach and inclusion.
- The Together Network (Church Urban Fund) – Contributed to national faith-led social action initiatives.
- Feast Cornwall – Partnered to support church engagement in poverty alleviation.
- The Centre for Progressive Change – Supported advocacy campaigns on housing justice and expanded sick pay.
- Christians Against Poverty (CAP) – Promoted CAP debt support services through our networks.
- The Clewer Initiative – Shared training and resources on tackling modern slavery through faith-based channels.
- Carbon Neutral Cornwall & Good Growth Programme – Included these secular partners in event discussions and shared learning on sustainability, inclusion, and local economic resilience.

Impact of Our Partnerships in 2024

These collaborations significantly expanded our ability to serve and support communities:

- Through the Diocese of Truro, we connected with over 60 parish communities.
- Through Citizens Advice and VSF, we supported dozens of frontline charities and volunteers.
- Through local councils and national networks, we ensured that community voices from Cornwall were represented in policy conversations—from county level to Westminster.

Case Studies and Successes.

Meet the Funders Impact (2024)

At our Spring 2024 Conference, held at St Martin's Church in Liskeard, over 80 community projects connected directly with national and local funders—and with one another.

"An application discussed at the event received match funding within weeks."

— Faith leader participant

Donations collected during the event supported Liskeard and South East Cornwall foodbanks, at a time when demand remained high and supplies were strained.

"Demand has not decreased while donations have dropped, so our support was greatly needed."

— Simon Fann, Truro Food Bank Manager

Cash-First Workshop Outcomes (2024).

In January 2024, following an initial session in June 2023, we ran cash-first workshops for advisors and campaigners—including church welfare officers, Citizens Advice volunteers, and Cornwall Council staff.

These sessions explored better use of the Household Support Fund, Crisis Grants, and referral pathways to reduce reliance on foodbanks.

"I better understand how to guide people through Crisis Grant and Household Support applications."

— Workshop participant

Insights from these workshops informed an August 2023 joint report with IFAN and Trussell Trust, praised by Cornwall Council's Social Fund team.

People in Mind (Mental Health Fund)

The People in Mind 2023 impact report (promoted in early 2024) highlighted the award of £185,455 across 17 grassroots groups to strengthen mental health support in Cornwall.

One recipient—an outreach service supporting people who self-harm—was able to double its drop-in nights due to the funding.

Later in 2024, we supported the promotion of the upcoming 2025 grant round, working with Cornwall Community Foundation, NHS Cornwall, and Public Health.

"Keep Cornwall Carpeted" Campaign (2024).

Our campaign to raise awareness about flooring poverty in social housing gained traction throughout autumn and winter 2024, with national and regional coverage (including BBC News and Premier Radio).

"Zack" from Falmouth spent half his savings carpeting a bare-floored flat, then relied on foodbank support to recover.

"Julia" from St Austell dreads winter in her uncarpeted home, with no insulation from the cold.

“Everyone deserves a warm and safe home.”

— Sam Williams, Campaigns Manager

The campaign’s petition gained over 1,000 supporters, and influenced local election candidates to pledge improved housing standards.

Preparing for the Citadel Cornwall Project (2024).

In 2024, we laid the groundwork for the launch of Citadel Cornwall, a volunteer-led tenancy sustainment project.

We connected Housing Justice and Hope for Justice with local churches, homelessness charities, and Cornwall Council to co-develop the pilot.

“It was clear there is a need for in-tenancy support and that volunteers can actively reduce homelessness.”

— Sarah Bassett, Citadel National Manager

By year-end 2024, Citadel Cornwall was preparing to recruit mentors and launch in Truro and Camborne in early 2025.

Our 2024 Strategic Work & Priorities for 2025

Transformation Cornwall

2024 Financial Report – Strategic Overview

Rooted in Faith. Committed to Justice. Acting for Cornwall.

2024 Activities and Impact

In 2024, Transformation Cornwall strengthened its leadership in tackling poverty, exclusion, and inequality across the county. Working in deep collaboration with churches, charities, local authorities, and grassroots groups, our work centred on capacity-building, strategic advocacy, and practical support.

Expanded Support to Cornish Foodbanks

We supported foodbanks across Cornwall through advocacy, direct engagement, and awareness campaigns. As cost-of-living pressures persisted, we championed a cash-first approach, working alongside partners like IFAN and the Trussell Trust to ensure people received financial support before reaching crisis point.

Workshops and One-to-One Support

We delivered tailored workshops and 1:1 guidance to over 45 community organisations and churches. These sessions focused on funding readiness, governance, and project development, helping groups grow their resilience and expand their social action.

Service User Engagement and Participation

Through our Meet the Funders programme, we amplified the voices of people with lived experience. Their feedback informed resource design, event planning, and strategy—ensuring our work stayed grounded in real community need.

Modern Slavery Awareness and Action

We expanded our contribution to Cornwall's anti-slavery response, delivering church-based awareness sessions and participating in safeguarding partnerships. This strengthened frontline recognition of exploitation and expanded referral pathways.

Strengthened Communications and Outreach

Following a 2022 strategy review, 2024 saw the launch of improved digital communications. We increased our reach through newsletter growth, social media campaigns, and widely shared resources like the Telephone Signposting List and Worrying About Money? guides.

Deeper Collaboration Across Sectors

Transformation Cornwall played a bridging role—bringing together churches, charities, funders, and statutory services. From co-hosting cash-first forums to supporting new programmes like Citadel Cornwall, we worked to ensure collaboration was practical, values-driven, and impactful.

Looking Ahead: Hopes for 2025

As we move into 2025, Transformation Cornwall is committed to building on this strong foundation with renewed focus and bold ambition. Our hopes for the coming year include:

- Scaling Up Cash-First Outreach
Embedding financial signposting into more churches and community centres, expanding training for frontline volunteers, and evaluating the real-world impact of our Worrying About Money? materials.
- Sustaining Meet the Funders Innovation
Delivering both spring and autumn events, alongside year-round small group clinics. We aim to increase participation from new funders—including local trusts and representatives of the UK Shared Prosperity Fund.
- Strengthening Core Thematic Work
  - Homelessness: Supporting the rollout of Citadel Cornwall and exploring youth-focused interventions.
  - Modern Slavery: Hosting two Cornwall Modern Slavery Network meetings and launching school engagement tools.
  - Mental Health: Promoting equitable access to People in Mind grants for underrepresented communities.
  - Climate and Housing: Offering more energy-saving training and continuing advocacy around housing insulation through the Keep Cornwall Carpeted campaign.
- Expanding Collaboration
We plan to engage new networks—health charities, business groups, and interfaith leaders—while tracking national policy shifts on welfare and employment rights to facilitate informed local dialogue.
- Organisational Growth
We will pursue new income streams and invest in data systems, multilingual resources, and communications upgrades to help track impact and reach Cornwall's diverse communities more effectively.

“Transformation Cornwall is not just responding to crisis—we’re reshaping how our communities fight injustice. We are building a movement rooted in compassion, courage, and the belief that everyone deserves dignity and hope.”

— Clinton Cameron Sealy Jnr, Operations Director
