Section B Structure, governance and management

Description of the charity's trusts

Type of governing document
(eg. trust deed, constitution)

The Chillag Family Charitable Trust was set up in 2011. The Trust was registered with the Charity Commission in January 2011. The Governing Document is a Trust deed, submitted to the Charity Commission in November 2010.

How the charity is constituted
(eg. trust, association, company)

Family Charitable Trust

Trustee selection methods
(eg. appointed by, elected by)

The Trustees are all members of the Chillag family, who administer and operate the Chillag Family Charitable Trust. The lead Trustee is Laurence Chillag.

Additional governance issues (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant, about:

- policies and procedures adopted for the induction and training of trustees;
- the charity's organisational structure and any wider network with which the charity works;
- relationship with any related parties;
- trustees' consideration of major risks and the system and procedures to manage them.

The Trust's income derives from annual share dividends, from formerly family owned shares, which are now held in the name of this Trust. The Trust's aim is to donate the income derived from these dividends, to various registered charities, in accordance with the wishes and preferences of the Trustees.

The Trustees are family members, who have agreed upon the types of charities to which they would like to donate. The amounts to be allocated to each charity will vary according to the income available that year and the preferences of trustees.

The aim is to donate to a number of registered charities and to donate all or nearly all of the accumulated share income, each year.

The Trust does not undertake any fund raising or other activities, and does not have any additional costs. No money is paid from the Trust's income, other than to the chosen charities. There continues to be no staffing or running costs, for our charitable Trust.

Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The purpose of the Trust is to make donations to recognised and registered charities and charitable organisations, as the Trustees see fit.

The objects of the Trust are to further such objects or purposes which are exclusively charitable according to the law of England and Wales, in any part of the world and in such manner as the Trustees may in their absolute discretion think fit.

The donations are usually given on an “unrestricted” basis so that the recipient charity is able to use our donation in whatever way each charity feels it can be best used. If required, the Trust can also donate to specific projects.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

The Trust received an income from share dividend, in July 2022.

Donations were made to 29 registered charities during 2022 - 2023.

Charities supported by our trust included those dealing with - Overseas development and need (tackling disease, access to water, education, women's/ girls rights, child poverty, etc.); Mental Health and family support issues; Disability; Medical; Homelessness; Refugees, Asylum Seekers, Holocaust Education and Victims of Torture.

These charities included those working in the solely in the UK, as well as some involved in providing aid to some countries abroad.

Most beneficiary charities were selected because of existing particular interests and concerns of the Trustees.

A full list of the charities supported in 2022-23 is given below and in the Trust's annual accounts.

The Trustees are satisfied that the operation of our Family Charitable Trust fully meets their objectives with regard to The Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

Our trust receives many funding requests from a variety of different charities and organisations. Many of these are received through the post but some also come via email. These requests are looked at by the Trustees and some, which met our preferences and interests, have received donations in the past. Predominantly, charities which are known to the Trustees, or which were supported by family members before the Charitable Trust began, have received regular donations.

Preference has been given to charities from the categories stated above.

In future, we will continue to give mainly to charities on our database of existing Charities and potential recipients . We would prefer other charities who have not received funding from us previously, not to apply to us directly, since it is very unlikely that they will receive donations from the Chillag Family Charitable Trust.

Section D

Achievements and performance

Section D

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

The Chillag Family Trust has continued to meet its aim of donating its annual income to specified charities in accordance to the wishes of its trustees.

The Chillag Family Trust received dividend income of £129,672 for reporting period: 06/04/2022 - 05/04/2023.

At the end of the reporting period, the Charitable Trust held a balance of £133 in its current account.

A total of £130,500 was donated to 29 charities during the year to April 2022.

The following charities received donations amounts of between £1,000 - £10,000 (The amounts given to each charity are specified in the Annual Accounts which accompany this report):

Christina Noble Children's Foundation
Schistosomias Control Initiative (now Unlimit Health)

The Chillag Family Charitable Trust has continued to meet its main aim of donating its regular income (from share dividends) to a variety of charities supported by the Trustees.

There are no costs or expenses incurred in the running of the Trust and all of the income received, could therefore be donated.

Section E Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

The Trust receives its income through share dividend payments received annually.
A principal aim of the Trust is not to build up any significant cash reserves and an amount close to the full amount of the annual income received, will be donated on to various named charities.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

The principal source of funds for the Trust, is dividend from shares in a related family business. The ownership of these shares was transferred to the Charitable Trust in 2011.

No additional fund raising is undertaken by the Trust and there are no expenses or costs paid out by the Trust.

The Chillag Family Charitable Trust targets its charitable giving towards charities which have been supported by family members over a number of years; and those which may have particular interest and appeal to the individual trustees.

THIS INDEPENDENT EXAMINERS REPORT WILL BE FORWARDED TO THE CHARITY COMMISSION. THE ANNUAL REPORT AND ACCOUNTS FOR THIS CHARITABLE TRUST WERE SUBMITTED TO N R BARTON IN February 2024.

(remember to include the page numbers of additional sheets)

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144 of the Charities Act 2011 (the Charities Act) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the Charities Act,
- to follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission (under section 145(5)(b) of the Charities Act, and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement My examination was carried out in accordance with general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair' view and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention (other than that disclosed below *)

1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in, any material respect, the requirements:
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the Charities Act; and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Charities Act have not been met; or
2. to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
