Section B - Structure, governance and management

Type of governing document: DECLARATION OF TRUST

How the charity is constituted: TRUST

Trustee selection methods: TRUSTEES, INTERVIEW AND IF SUCCESSFUL BY MAJORITY VOTE WITH THE CHAIRMAN HAVING THE FINAL AND DECISIVE VOTE.

Additional governance issues

Individuals aspiring to become trustees are briefed on the responsibilities entailed and are expected to demonstrate a commitment to attending as many trustee meetings as possible, including the annual general meeting. All trustees are encouraged to contribute their ideas and efforts towards promoting the Temple and advancing the teachings and way of life, not only for the monks but also for the broader Thai community.

We have fostered deeper connections within both the local and wider communities, extending beyond Swansea to different part of the United Kingdom. The presence of the temple has provided many Thai families with opportunities for prayer and blessings, whether in their homes, workplaces, or local community venues.

Our primary affiliated institution is the Wat Buddhapadipa Temple in London, and we also maintain connections with other Thai temples in England and Scotland while upholding our distinct individuality.

Section C - Objectives and activities

Objectives

1. To advance the Buddhist religion in the Welsh Valleys, South, Mid, West Wales and elsewhere when required or requested.
2. To advance the education of the public in the beliefs and traditions of the Buddhist religion and in the subject of Thai culture.

Main Activities and Public Benefit Statement

We have visited numerous individual homes, restaurants, schools, local community centers, within the vicinity of Thai community members who, for various reasons, are unable to visit the temple. Our presence in these community centers has attracted a significant turnout from the local Thai community, allowing them to invite family members, extended relatives, friends, and other members of the local community to witness and partake in Thai customs, cuisine, prayers, and blessings.

Although the Temple follows the Buddhist faith, this does not preclude anyone who is curious to learn more about the Buddhist way of life.

At times, individuals come to the temple seeking teachings on meditation, with some opting to stay for a day, a few days, or even a week to immerse themselves in our way of life. Many simply come to connect with others and share their personal experiences, whether positive, negative, or neutral.

Regardless of one's background or beliefs, all are welcome to attend our temple or meetings, as individuals are free to follow their own spiritual paths and do not need to be Buddhist or Thai to participate.

The Thai Buddhist calendar features several significant festivals throughout the year. During each festival, individuals generously donate their time and skills, whether it's through cooking, assisting with setting up outdoor events, or providing general support to ensure the smooth running of the festival.

No remuneration is provided for these services, except for professional services such as those offered by solicitors, even then, they typically offer reduced fees through assistance in minimising expenses.

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to all our dedicated volunteers for their invaluable contributions throughout the year. Your time, skills, and enthusiasm have been instrumental in achieving our mission. We are truly fortunate to have such a committed and supportive team.

Section D - Achievements and performance

Community Integration and Outreach

The Temple has focused on increasing its integration within the local and regional community, ensuring the benefits are accessible to all:

Expanded Local Engagement: We have become increasingly integrated with the local community and community groups. These activities aim to bring people from diverse backgrounds together in local community halls, extending a general invitation for everyone to attend, ask questions, and sample food from various cultures.

Wider Access: We have accepted numerous invitations to attend different areas and venues from those unable to visit the Temple directly. This ensures that people who face accessibility challenges can still receive prayer and blessings.

Pastoral Care: We are increasingly asked to perform blessings and are invited to homes, businesses, and community centres for prayer, blessings, and meditation.

Inter-Temple Collaboration

Our network extends beyond Wales, fostering connections with other Buddhist institutions and supporting significant charitable efforts:

UK Temple Visits: We organised trips to the Wat Buddhapadipa Temple in London and facilitated visits to different temples around the UK. These trips allow attendees to enjoy the ambiance and partake in celebrations of various festivals in the Thai calendar.

Collaborative Events: We have expanded our collaborative efforts with other charities and institutions, including inviting monks from other temples to participate in various events. This strategy successfully increases engagement and footfall at the Temple.

Charitable Donations: Funds raised during these festivals are shared between the temples, serving as a means of fundraising. This fundraising approach is not commercial, rather, people donate funds to support their local Temple and others in the community.

Section E - Financial review

Reserves Policy Summary

The results of the charity are shown in the Statement of Receipts and Payments on page 8. The net incoming/(outgoing) resources of unrestricted funds, which are the operational reserves of the charity, were -£4,551 (2024: £20,819). There were no net incoming/(outgoing) resources of restricted funds £0 (2024: £0).

Material Deficits

The Sanghapadipa Temple does not have any funds that are materially in deficit.

Other Financial Details:

Our Temple relies solely on voluntary donations and contributions for income. We do not engage in commercial practices for generating revenue, as this would not only contravene our Trust Deed but also go against our way of life.

We do not engage in investment activities. However, we maintain two accounts: our general Community Account and a Savings Account where any surplus funds are allocated maintenance of the temple.

Section F - Other Information

Volunteers

The Sanghapadipa Temple relies on a robust volunteer force, estimated at 45 individuals this year (2024: 50). Their contribution is primarily practical and event focused including cooking setting up outdoor events, general operations support, and volunteer drivers for pastoral outreach. A significant portion of this essential work supports the Thai Buddhist calendar's major festivals.

Plans for Future Periods

The Temple's future plans are strategically focused on Community Integration, which involves expanding educational and cultural outreach via visits to community groups to promote Thai culture and the Buddhist faith, and Pastoral Reach, which involves systematically expanding spiritual support by responding to growing requests for blessings, prayer, and meditation in homes, businesses, and community centres.

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

1. To advance the Buddhist religion in the Welsh Valleys, South, Mid, West Wales and elsewhere when required or requested.
2. To advance the education of the public in the beliefs and traditions of the Buddhist religion and in the subject of Thai culture.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

We have visited numerous individual homes, restaurants, schools, local community centers, within the vicinity of Thai community members who, for various reasons, are unable to visit the temple. Our presence in these community centers has attracted a significant turnout from the local Thai community, allowing them to invite family members, extended relatives, friends, and other members of the local community to witness and partake in Thai customs, cuisine, prayers, and blessings.

Although the Temple follows the Buddhist faith, this does not preclude anyone who is curious to learn more about the Buddhist way of life.

At times, individuals come to the temple seeking teachings on meditation, with some opting to stay for a day, a few days, or even a week to immerse themselves in our way of life. Many simply come to connect with others and share their personal experiences, whether positive, negative, or neutral.

Regardless of one's background or beliefs, all are welcome to attend our temple or meetings, as individuals are free to follow their own spiritual paths and do not need to be Buddhist or Thai to participate.

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;

contribution made by volunteers.

The Thai Buddhist calendar features several significant festivals throughout the year. During each festival, individuals generously donate their time and skills, whether it's through cooking, assisting with setting up outdoor events, or providing general support to ensure the smooth running of the festival.

No remuneration is provided for these services, except for professional services such as those offered by solicitors; even then, they typically offer reduced fees through assistance in minimising expenses.

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to all our dedicated volunteers for their invaluable contributions throughout the year. Your time, skills, and enthusiasm have been instrumental in achieving our mission. We are truly fortunate to have such a committed and supportive team.

Section D

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

We have become increasingly integrated with the local community. Plans are underway for visits to local schools and other community groups. These activities aim to bring together people from diverse backgrounds in local community halls, extending a general invitation for everyone to attend, ask questions, and sample food from various cultures.

We have accepted numerous invitations to attend different areas and venues from those unable to visit us.

We have organised trips to the Temple in London and facilitated visits to different temples around the UK. These trips allow attendees to enjoy the ambiance and partake in celebrations of various festivals in the Thai calendar. Funds raised during these festivals are shared between the temples, serving as another means of fundraising.

We have expanded our collaborative efforts with other charities/institutions. This includes inviting monks from other temples to participate in various events, with the aim of increasing footfall and engagement with our temple.

It's important to note that this fundraising approach is not commercial; rather, people donate funds to support their local Temple and others in the community.

We are increasingly being asked to perform blessings and are invited to homes, businesses, and community centers for prayer, blessings, and meditation.

Section E

Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

The results of the charity are shown in the Statement of Receipts and Payments on page 8. The net incoming/(outgoing) resources of unrestricted funds, which are the operational reserves of the charity, were £20,819 (2023: £30,952). There were no net incoming/(outgoing) resources of restricted funds £0 (2023: £0).

Details of any funds materially in deficit

The Sanghapadipa Temple does not have any funds that are materially in deficit.

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

Our Temple relies solely on voluntary donations and contributions for income. We do not engage in commercial practices for generating revenue, as this would not only contravene our Trust Deed but also go against our way of life.

We do not engage in investment activities. However, we maintain two accounts: our general Community Account and a Savings Account where any surplus funds are allocated maintenance of the temple.

Section C

Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

1. To advance the Buddhist religion in the Welsh Valleys, South, Mid, West Wales and elsewhere when required or requested.
2. To advance the education of the public in the beliefs and traditions of the Buddhist religion and in the subject of Thai culture.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

In accordance with our trust deed, we have visited numerous individual homes and local community centres within the vicinity of Thai community members who, for various reasons, are unable to visit the temple. Our presence in these community centres has attracted a significant turnout from the local Thai community, allowing them to invite family members, extended relatives, friends, and other members of the local community to witness and partake in Thai customs, cuisine, prayers, and blessings.

Although the Temple follows the Buddhist faith, this does not preclude anyone who is curious to learn more about the Buddhist way of life.

At times, individuals come to the temple seeking teachings on meditation, with some opting to stay for a day, a few days, or even a week to immerse themselves in our way of life. Many simply come to connect with others and share their personal experiences, whether positive, negative, or neutral.

Regardless of one's background or beliefs, all are welcome to attend our Temple or meetings, as individuals are free to follow their own spiritual paths and do not need to be Buddhist or Thai to participate.

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
 - policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

Our Temple relies solely on voluntary donations and contributions for income. We do not engage in commercial practices for generating revenue, as this would not only contravene our Trust Deed but also go against our way of life.

The Thai Buddhist calendar features several significant festivals throughout the year. During each festival, individuals generously donate their time and skills, whether it's through cooking, assisting with setting up outdoor events, or providing general support to ensure the smooth running of the festival.

No remuneration is provided for these services, except for professional services such as those offered by solicitors; even then, they typically offer reduced fees through assistance in minimizing expenses.

We do not engage in investment activities. However, we maintain two accounts: our general Community Account and a Savings Account where any surplus funds are allocated maintenance of the temple and promo

Section D

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

We have become increasingly integrated with the local community. Plans are underway for visits to local schools and other community groups. These activities aim to bring together people from diverse backgrounds in local community halls, extending a general invitation for everyone to attend, ask questions, and sample food from various cultures.

We have accepted numerous invitations to attend different areas and venues from those unable to visit us.

We have organised trips to the Temple in London and facilitated visits to different temples around the UK. These trips allow attendees to enjoy the ambiance and partake in celebrations of various festivals in the Thai calendar. Funds raised during these festivals are shared between the temples, serving as another means of fundraising.

It's important to note that this fundraising approach is not commercial; rather, people donate funds to support their local Temple and others in the community.

We are increasingly being asked to perform blessings and are invited to homes, businesses, and community centres for prayer, blessings, and meditation.

Independent Examiners Report to the Trustees of the Charity

on the accounts of the Charity for the year ended 30 April 2023

I report on the financial statements of the Charity for the year ended 30 April 2023 which have been prepared on a Receipts and Payments basis. A Receipts and Payments basis does not account for debtors, creditors, accruals and prepayments, but such a presentation is permitted by law for smaller charities.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The Charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The trustees are satisfied that the audit requirements of Section 144(1) of the Charities Act 2011 (the Act) do not apply, and that there is no requirement in the governing document or constitution of the Charity for the conducting of an audit. As a consequence, the trustees have elected that the accounts be subjected to independent examination.

Having satisfied myself that the Charity is not subject to audit, and is eligible for independent examination, it is my responsibility to:

- a) Examine the accounts under section 145 of the Act.
- b) To follow procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5) of the Act.
- c) To state whether particular matters have come to my attention

Basis of opinion and scope of work undertaken

I conducted my examination in accordance with the General Directions given by the Charity Commissioners for England & Wales in relation to the conducting of an independent examination, referred to above. An independent examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the Charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and information supplied by the trustees in the course of the examination is not subjected to audit tests and enquiries, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts, and in particular, I express no opinion as to whether the accounts give true and fair view of the affairs of the clarity, and my report is limited to the matters set out in the statement below.

I planned and performed my examination so as to satisfy myself that the objectives of the independent examination are achieved and before finalising the report, I obtained written assurances from the trustees of all material matters.

Independent Examiner's Statement, Report and Opinions

Subject to the limitations upon the scope of my work as detailed above in connection with my examination. I can confirm that this is a report in respect of an examination carried out under section 145 of the Act and in accordance with any directions given by the Commission under subsection (5)b of that section which are applicable and that no matter has come to my attention in connection with my examination which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements.

- ii. To prepare accounts which accord with the accounting requirements of the Act.

Those who wish to become trustees are informed what role they would be undertaking and they must show a willingness to attend as many of the trustee meeting as possible in addition to the annual general meeting.

All trustees are encourage to have an input to the work and ideas of how to promote the Temple and how to better further the teaching and way of life not only of the monks but also the general way of Thai life.

We have had a greater understanding within the community both locally and the wider community not only in Swansea but anywhere we have been invited to attend. Being where the temple is has allowed many Thai families to benefit from prayer and blessing meeting in their home, place of work and local community halls.

Our main related party is the Wat Buddhapadipa Temple in London and we also have links with the other Thai Temples in England and Scotland but maintain our own individuality.

Section C

Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

1. To advance the Buddhist religion in the Welsh Valleys, South, Mid, West Wales and elsewhere when required or requested.
2. To advance the education of the public in the beliefs and traditions of the Buddhist religion and in the subject of Thai culture.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

In keeping with our trust deed we have attended many individual homes and community centres local to members of Thai the community who for one reason or another have not been able to attend the temple.

By attending the community centres, the Thai community to that area have attended in numbers and has allowed them to bring members of their family, extended family, friends and members of the local community in general to see and experience Thai life, food, prayer and blessings.

While the Temple is of the Buddhist faith, this does not stop anyone who wishes to know, learn and experience more about the Buddhist way of life.

On occasions we have people who come and stay at the temple for teachings about meditation and some stay for a day, few days or a week and live and learn our way of life.

Most just come to meet others and share their experiences good, bad or indifferent.

Whoever attends our Temple or meetings wherever they are, follow their own beliefs and do not have to be a Buddhist or Thai to join in.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

Our Temple income is solely from volunteer donations and contributions.

We do not use commercial methods for income as this would not only be against our Trust Deed but also our way of life.

The Thai Buddhist calendar has several important festivals throughout the year.

Each festival people will donate their time and their skills whether by cooking, assisting with the erecting of gazebos of outdoor events, and in general support to make the smooth running of the festival a success.

No one is paid for their services except for professional services such as solicitors; even then, these generally reduce their bills by way of help and assistance by minimising expenditure.

We do not invest, however we have two accounts our general Community Account and a Savings Account in which we place any surplus finds toward our main aim, which at this time is to purchase a bigger premises that is more accessible for those who wish to attend the Temple for whatever reason.

Section D

Achievements and performance

Section D

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

We have been able to get more acquainted with the local community. There are plans for visits to local schools and other community groups as part of the local Police activities in 'getting to know us', which is aimed at all groups from different walks of life to get together in a local community hall and a general invite for everyone to attend and ask questions and sample food from around the world.

We have attended many different areas and venues as invited by those who wish for us to go to them as they are unable to come to us.

We have been able to take coach loads of people to the Temple in London and arrange for people to attend the Temple in Birmingham where contributions from those attending, which are vast in numbers as London Temple has many acres of ground and the Birmingham temple has a large garden area, to enjoy the atmosphere and celebrate the various festivals in the Thai calendar.

The funds raised through these festivals are then shared between the temples and this is one other way our funds are raised.

As stated, this is not a commercial way of fund raising, but people donate funds to help and support their local Temple and those around them.

We are still relatively new to Wales and there is far more work for us to do and we are being asked to undertake more blessings and being invited to people homes, businesses and community centres for prayer, blessings and meditation.

The Sanghapadipa Temple
Independent Examiner's Report to the Trustees of the Charity

on the accounts of the Charity for the year ended 30 April 2021

I report on the financial statements of the Charity on pages 8-12 for the year ended 30 April 2021 which have been prepared on a Receipts and Payments basis. A receipts and Payments basis does not account for debtors, creditors, accruals and prepayments, but such a presentation is permitted by law for smaller charities.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The Charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The trustees are satisfied that the audit requirement of Section 144(1) of the Charities Act 2011 (the Act) does not apply, and that there is no requirement in the governing document or constitution of the Charity for the conducting of an audit. As a consequence, the trustees have elected that the accounts be subject to independent examination.

Having satisfied myself that the charity is not subject to audit, and is eligible for independent examination, it is my responsibility to:-

- a) examine the accounts under section 145 of the Act;
- b) to follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act; and;
- c) to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of opinion and scope of work undertaken

I conducted my examination in accordance with the General Directions given by the Charity Commissioners for England & Wales in relation to the conducting of an independent examination, referred to above. An independent examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the Charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning such matters.

The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and information supplied by the trustees in the course of the examination is not subjected to audit tests or enquiries, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts, and in particular, I express no opinion as to whether the accounts give true and fair view of the affairs of the charity, and my report is limited to the matters set out in the statement below.

I planned and performed my examination so as to satisfy myself that the objectives of the independent examination are achieved and before finalising the report I obtain written assurances from the trustees of all material matters.

Independent Examiner's Statement, Report and Opinion

Subject to the limitations upon the scope of my work as detailed above, in connection with my examination, I can confirm that this is a report in respect of an examination carried out under section 145 of the Act and in accordance with any directions given by the Commission under subsection (5)(b) of that section which are applicable;

and that no matter has come to my attention in connection with my examination which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements

(i) to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the Act;

(ii) to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Act;

have not been met;
