Report of the Trustees
for the year ended 30 June 2022

The trustees who are also directors of the charity for the purposes of the Companies Act 2006, present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 30 June 2022. The trustees have adopted the provisions of Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019).

PRINCIPAL ACTIVITY

The principal activity of Georgetown University (USA) UK Initiatives Organisation (GU UK) is providing academic courses in London at the Center for Transnational Legal Studies (CTLTS) to students from around the world studying law at the tertiary or post-graduate level, as well as presenting public lectures and other educational events during the academic year.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

GU UK pursues the advancement of education by providing academic courses in London at CTLTS to students from around the world studying law at the tertiary or post-graduate level, as well as presenting public lectures and other educational events during the academic year. CTLTS was founded on the principle that it is increasingly important for legal education to be global in nature and to include international, comparative, and transnational law so as to reflect the increased impact of globalization on all manner of legal matters. In other words, as the world "shrinks," the importance of transnational and international legal issues grows. The following is a non-exhaustive list of past and current course topics presented within CTLTS, provided by way of illustration: transnational legal theory, comparative contract theory, world trade law, international investment law, comparative privacy law, regulation and development, and comparative legal institutions. Students and faculty at CTLTS are primarily drawn from Georgetown University Law Center and currently seven participating law schools from around the world: the City University of Hong Kong, ESADE Law School (Spain), the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, King's College London, National University of Singapore, the University of Fribourg (Switzerland), the University of Torino. Students enrolled at other, non-participating law schools may also apply individually to attend CTLTS. Students attend courses at CTLTS on a full-time basis for one academic term during their degree course at their "home" law school, or exceptionally for two terms. Students who have attended the CTLTS programme may go on to careers in law, the judiciary, academic, government service, international organisations, charities or non-governmental organisations (NGOs), or elsewhere. Due to the global scope of participation, each class includes students from a diverse set of legal and national backgrounds. Students of Georgetown University and the participating law schools do not pay tuition to GU UK for their attendance at CTLTS. Instead, students at participating law schools continue to pay their tuition directly to their "home" law school. Each of the participating law schools or universities pays a fixed annual fee to GU UK to participate. Georgetown University additionally provides grant funding to GU UK to support its operation.

In order to achieve GU UK's objectives, the Trustees have given careful consideration to the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit including its supplementary public benefit guidance on advancing education and on fee charging.

GU UK benefits the law students from around the globe who attend CTLTS who themselves may be in receipt at their home law schools of bursaries, scholarships, or other financial assistance. GU UK's activities also provide wider public benefit in advancing the state of legal education and knowledge in the area of transnational law and international law. It is also expected that a proportion of the students of CTLTS will use the international legal education that they gain at CTLTS in public service careers with government agencies, international organisations, charities, NGOs or other public interest organisations. In addition, GU UK presents free public lectures and other events during the academic year (from August to May), including the Transnational Law Colloquia series and the Lectures in Transnational Justice.

ACHIEVEMENT AND PERFORMANCE

The Center for Transnational Legal Studies resumed in-person operations during the 2021-22 academic year following the COVID-19 pandemic, offering a mostly in-person, hybrid program during the Fall 2021 semester, and a fully in-person program during the Spring 2022 semester.

CTLS continued to take advantage of the universal online platform necessitated by the COVID-19 pandemic to aid the return to in-person teaching. During the Fall 2021 semester, CTLS offered eight elective courses staffed by faculty from CTLS partner schools. Three courses were taught remotely via Zoom due to the uncertainty of the ongoing global health situation. Students were required to attend all courses in-person and engage with their colleagues at CTLS in London, even in cases where the faculty member was online. There were 43 students from ten schools in seven different countries enrolled in the Fall 2021 semester. The courses covered a wide variety of topics ranging from Competition Law to Criminal Law: Theory and Comparative Perspectives, from Intellectual Property and Popular Culture to Comparative Constitutional Law.

In the Spring 2022 semester, CTLS offered nine elective courses also staffed by faculty from CTLS partner institutions. The Spring 2022 semester saw the return of fully in-person teaching at CTLS, with all faculty present on site in London. There were 52 students from ten schools in ten different countries enrolled in courses such as AI, Algorithms, Software and the Law, Islamic Law in a Transnational Perspective, and Law Meets Film.

Alongside these offerings, the Transnational Law Colloquia series returned in-person during the 2021-22 academic year. Classes were given by guest speakers from a range of legal backgrounds, who presented topics in the field of public law, private law and legal theory. The Global Practice Exercise also resumed - an intensive, multi-day exercise in transnational and/or comparative law. The exercise provided an opportunity for the diverse students and faculty at CTLS to work together on a common legal problem.

In the Spring 2022 semester, the Core Course: Introduction to Transnational Law was able to resume as a requirement for all students, as was the Lectures in Transnational Justice series. CTLS welcomed Aidan O'Neill KC and The Rt Hon. the Baroness Hale of Richmond DBE to speak to students, faculty and members of the wider legal and academic community.

In-person social events were also offered during both semesters, enabling students and faculty to engage with the program and each other. Events included walking tours of legal London, mid-semester pub nights, and several movie nights, including a showing of "Baghdad in my Shadow", and a discussion with the director, Samir.

Teaching Innovation

CTLS offered a hybrid approach to teaching in the 2021-22 academic, which required faculty to engage with technology to deliver engaging and innovative course content.

CTLS in Action

CTLS held its Annual Conference in April 2022 on "The UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights", which was attended by students, faculty and members of the public.

CTLS also hosted two roundtable events during the summer of 2022, which brought legal scholars and practitioners from across the world to London to think collaboratively about two very timely topics. The first expert roundtable focused on the "Draft EU Due Diligence Directive" and the second focused on "Constitutional Democracy Around the Globe: Contemporary Challenges & Future Direction".

FUTURE DEVELOPMENTS

CTLS will offer a fully in-person program during the 2022-23 academic year. The recruitment drive for new partners to increase diversity continues in the 2022-23 academic year.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

The Statement of Financial Activities set out on page 10 of the financial statements shows how GU UK's incoming resources were expended in the year ended 30 June 2022.

Total unrestricted incoming resources amounted to $993,140 (2021 - $899,217), $350,000 (2021 - $300,000) received in the form of gifts and $643,140 (2021 - $599,217) of tuition and fees received.

Resources expended amounted to $1,269,946 (2021 - $871,663) on education. An analysis of the resources expended is provided in notes 4 to 5 of the financial statements.

The resulting deficit for the year on unrestricted funds was ($276,806) (2021 - $27,554 surplus), which gave a total funds deficit of $3,733,481 (2021 - $3,456,675).

The balance sheet set out on page 11 of the financial statements shows the financial position of GU UK at 30 June 2022.

Current assets are represented by debtors of $39,011 (2021 - $17,197) and cash at bank and in hand of $10,914 (2021 - $90,170)

Total assets less current liabilities amounted to ($3,733,481) (2021 - ($3,456,675)) which is represented by the closing balance of ($3,733,481) (2021 - ($3,456,675)) of unrestricted funds and $nil of restricted funds.

GU UK is committed to using its resources in pursuit of its charitable objectives. Although the financial statements of GU UK reflected a negative reserve balance at 30 June 2022, GU UK is committed to securing a level of reserves that is sufficient to ensure that all commitments can be met and to protect the long-term future of its operations. Until GU UK can secure a level of reserves to meet its on-going liabilities, the University is committed to provide the resources needed to sustain GU UK's activities. GU UK is assessing new initiatives that will stabilize the operating results going forward. These new initiatives include increased tuition, increased enrollment, and the pursuit of other educational programs such as executive education. Increased revenues will positively affect the future financial results and reduce GU UK's dependency on the University.

GU UK relies very much on the financial and operational support of the University and is grateful to the University for its support.

Reserves policy

The charity is funded by Georgetown University and there are no reserves carried forward.

Going concern

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis as the parent undertaking has indicated its willingness to provide the necessary financial support to enable the company to meet its liabilities for a period of at least twelve months from the date of approval of these financial statements.

FUTURE PLANS

The planning committee established in the Spring 2020 semester in response to the COVID-19 pandemic was discontinued in July 2021 after recommending the continuation of fully in-person teaching from the 2022-23 academic year and going forward. The program has the ability to move to hybrid or fully-virtual teaching if the need arises.

The University of Toronto re-joined as a Founding Partner in Fall 2022 and the University of Melbourne will re-join in the Spring of 2023. From 2023, CTLS will welcome the University of New South Wales as an Intermediate Partner, and Universidad Panamericana and Universidad de Las Américas (UDLA) as Partners.

In the upcoming year, CTLS also expects:

- To strengthen teaching by continuing to emphasize co-teaching and faculty and student engagement.
- To continue developing a curriculum which is well-balanced between business and non-business subjects, public law and private law, theoretical and doctrinal/practical.
- To continue increasing the diversity of the program participants and the curriculum.
- To continue developing CTLS as a platform for lectures, panels, and high-profile speakers by building on the research and scholarship aspect of the enterprise.

STATEMENT OF TRUSTEES' RESPONSIBILITIES

The trustees (who are also the directors of Georgetown University (USA) UK Initiatives Organisation for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Report of the Trustees and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Company law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable company for that period. In preparing those financial statements, the trustees are required to

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charity SORP;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in business.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

In so far as the trustees are aware:

- there is no relevant audit information of which the charitable company's auditors are unaware; and
- the trustees have taken all steps that they ought to have taken to make themselves aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the auditors are aware of that information.

AUDITORS

The auditors, Grant Harrod Lerman Davis LLP, will be proposed for re-appointment at the forthcoming Annual General Meeting.

Approved by order of the board of trustees on March 27, 2023 and signed on its behalf by:

D Green - Trustee

Report of the Independent Auditors to the Members of
Georgetown University (USA) UK
Initiatives Organisation

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Georgetown University (USA) UK Initiatives Organisation (the 'charitable company') for the year ended 30 June 2022 which comprise the Statement of Financial Activities, the Balance Sheet, the Cash Flow Statement and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the charitable company's affairs as at 30 June 2022 and of its incoming resources and application of resources, including its income and expenditure, for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the charitable company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The trustees are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report, other than the financial statements and our Report of the Independent Auditors thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether this gives rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of the audit:

- the information given in the Report of the Trustees for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the Report of the Trustees has been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Report of the Independent Auditors to the Members of
Georgetown University (USA) UK
Initiatives Organisation

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the charitable company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the Report of the Trustees.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters where the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit; or
- the trustees were not entitled to take advantage of the small companies exemption from the requirement to prepare a Strategic Report or in preparing the Report of the Trustees.

Responsibilities of trustees

As explained more fully in the Statement of Trustees' Responsibilities, the trustees (who are also the directors of the charitable company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are responsible for assessing the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustees either intend to liquidate the charitable company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Report of the Independent Auditors to the Members of Georgetown University (USA) UK
Initiatives Organisation

Our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue a Report of the Independent Auditors that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below:

We have obtained an understanding of the legal and regulatory frameworks applicable to the Company and the industry it operates. We determined that the following laws and regulations were most significant: FRS102, Companies Act 2006, Health and Safety,

We obtained an understanding of how the Company is complying with those legal and regulatory frameworks by making enquiries of management, those responsible for legal and compliance procedures and the company secretary. Our findings were corroborated by review of the board minutes and papers prepared by the board of directors.

We assessed the susceptibility of the Company's financial statements to material misstatement, including how fraud might occur. Audit procedures performed by the audit team included:

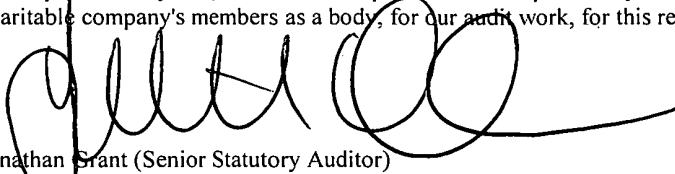

- Obtaining an understanding of how those charged with governance considered and addressed the potential for override of controls or other inappropriate influence over the financial reporting process.
- Challenging assumptions and judgements made by management in its significant accounting estimates.
- Identifying and testing journal entries, with a focus on entries made with unusual accounting combinations.
- Identifying and assessing the design and effectiveness of controls management has in place to prevent and detect fraud.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our Report of the Independent Auditors.

Report of the Independent Auditors to the Members of
Georgetown University (USA) UK
Initiatives Organisation

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charitable company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charitable company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditors' report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charitable company and the charitable company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Incoming resources are accounted for on an accruals basis with the exception of incoming resources relating to pledges which are accounted for on a cash basis.

Where costs cannot be directly attributed to particular headings, they have been allocated to activities on a basis consistent with the use of resources.
