Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144 of the Charities Act 2011 (the Charities Act) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the Charities Act,
- to follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission (under section 145(5)(b) of the Charities Act), and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement

My examination was carried out in accordance with general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair' view and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention (~~other than that disclosed below~~):

- (1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in, any material respect, the requirements:
- to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the Charities Act;
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Charities Act have not been met; or
- (2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Trustees Annual Report 2024

Animal Rescue Cymru is a small animal charity, taking in and rescuing all types of domestic animals from all over Wales. We hold micro chipping days to promote micro chipping at a far reduced rate. We have displays set up to educate the public to the plight of these abandoned animals and how to prevent and help.

We start this report with sad news – the passing of one of our trustees – Maxine Hazell-Thomas. Maxine was not only a trustee, but she was one of the founders of Animal Rescue Cymru & she took an active part in everything that the charity did. She devoted her life to the welfare & wellbeing of all the charity's animal & she will be greatly missed by all who knew her & our thoughts go out to her husband & children.

The year has been busy with regards to the animals – more coming into the rescue, & it seems that a large number of these were given up due to the ever increasing cost of veterinary treatment. To this end, we are increasing our Permanent Foster programme, specifically for the older animals. This means that the charity covers all vet fees for the life of the animal. On the subject of vets, the charity has changed to another independent vet to try & keep costs down.

We attended several fundraising events throughout the summer, & these proved to be popular with the volunteers. More planned for next year, as these help to raise awareness of the charity.

We continue to rescue & rehome the all the animals & as well as dogs there were rabbits, some cats, hamsters & other small domestic animals.

The charity's aim for next year is to raise funds to refurbish the play area for the dogs & to continue to rescue & rehome all those animals who come into the rescue through no fault of their own,

TRUSTEES ANNUAL REPORT 2022/2023

Animal Rescue Cymru is a small animal charity, taking in and rescuing all types of domestic animals from all over Wales. We hold micro chipping days to promote micro chipping at a far reduced rate. We have displays set up to educate the public to the plight of these abandoned animals and how to prevent and help. School talks & Club talks are undertaken for educating young and old alike.

Another busy year for our volunteers. The adoptions have increased, despite the economic climate, but on the reverse, the number of animals that have come in for rehoming has also increased. This has put added pressure on the boarding kennels that we use & we have been forced to find more foster homes to help cope with the numbers. We are mindful that kennels are a business & we are therefore reluctant to use too many kennels, thus reducing the kennels' income.

We are still receiving dogs that are not micro chipped, despite the fact that it has been a legal requirement since 2016. We occasionally run micro chipping sessions in our shop, but the take-up is minimal.

Several other species of animals have come through our doors this year, including rabbits, guinea pigs, hamsters & even a snake! All of which were rehomed.

A number of new volunteers have joined the dog-walking team, & we are delighted to find that there have not been any issues with either the dogs or the walkers. The shop has also benefited from an influx of new volunteers, & the shop has undergone a refresher. As a result the customer numbers have increased, together with the weekly takings & it is now going from strength to strength.

Publicity this year has expanded & the charity has featured in two local magazines, & been mentioned on a local radio programme & we had a few successful adoptions as a result.

The charity is moving forward successfully & it may now be time to consider opening another shop to increase our fundraising.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144 of the Charities Act 2011 (the Charities Act) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the Charities Act,
- to follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission (under section 145(5)(b) of the Charities Act, and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement

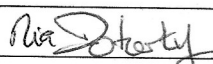

My examination was carried out in accordance with general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair' view and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention (other than that disclosed below *)

1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in, any material respect, the requirements:
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the Charities Act; and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Charities Act have not been met; or
2. to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Animal Rescue Cymru is a small animal charity, taking in and rescuing all types of domestic animals from all over Wales. We hold micro chipping days to promote micro chipping at a far reduced rate. We have displays set up to educate the public to the plight of these abandoned animals and how to prevent and help. School talks & Club talks are undertaken for educating young and old alike.

This year has been busier than ever, with more dogs coming into the rescue, but the number of adoptions has dropped, partly we believe, due to the cost of living, & this is also one of the main reasons why so many dogs are coming in.

The kennels that we use have been able to build extra kennels for our use, for which we are grateful & they have maintained our boarding fees at the same level as agreed since we first boarded there. However, our vet fees have increased along with the transport costs.

Our charity shop is doing well, however & we now have a number of volunteers who help both in the shop & walking the rescue dogs & will now enable us to attend many fund raising events next year – something we have been unable to do, due to the lack of volunteers to help at these events.

Due to the cattery closing, we are now unable to take any rescue cats, but we can advise people of other local cat rescues that can help. However, there are a couple of cat chalets that are for any emergency use.

We are hoping next year will be as busy but with more volunteers to help & look forward to rehoming even more animals.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144 of the Charities Act 2011 (the Charities Act) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the Charities Act,
- to follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission (under section 145(5)(b) of the Charities Act), and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement

My examination was carried out in accordance with general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair' view and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention (other than that disclosed below*):

(1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in, any material respect, the requirements:

- to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the Charities Act;
- to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Charities Act have not been met; or

(2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
