Volunteers

The charity is grateful for the efforts and support of its volunteers who are involved in the service delivery. As an incentive and appreciation to her volunteers, Nissi Homes continues to make payments by way of refunds for their cost of motoring fuel, transportation, vehicle maintenance and small allowance from petty cash for odd jobs and gratuity. With the operational changes that the Covid19 pandemic brought, there was a marked and expected reduction in overall volunteers' physical involvement as we had to change some of the ways we provided services to the local community. During the financial year, an average estimated minimum of 936 volunteer hours (3 volunteers x 6hrs per week x 52 weeks) were provided. When valued at £10 per hour, the efforts of the volunteers amount to £9360.

Paid Staff

The Charity continued to engage the services of recruitment agencies in the provision of experienced and reliable contract staff that manage and run the daily operations of the Charity.

Review of activities

In the year under review, we resumed most of our activities after 2 years of COVID 19 restrictions, which forced us all to do things differently. There was a slow trickle of funding sources as a result of the global shutdowns and economic uncertainty presented thereof. Despite funding shortages and grave challenges faced, NHL continued to cope with the challenges with frugal economic policies. The Charity continued to engage in various activities for the benefit of its service users and the general public. Many activities were shut down or scaled down due to the funding challenges. Nissi Homes made significant value-added benefits and contributions to the spiritual, mental and physical wellbeing of her numerous service users and the public. Four formal coaching and motivational training sessions were conducted for the benefit of all the service users during the year, despite the shortages of resources. These sessions proved to be very helpful with the mental health and wellbeing of the service users.

During the year, Nissi Homes continued to be inundated with referrals from external agencies and was able to expand her supported accommodation provisions by opening two additional schemes in the Dudley Council area of operation. This provided an additional 5 bed spaces to continue meeting the ever-increasing demand in housing for the vulnerable and homeless in the community. At the same time, we continued to maintain the existing stock available and operated them efficiently.

Nissi Homes was unable to operate a sit-down soup kitchen since the covid restrictions. To continue with the service, food parcels were prepared and distributed to those in need in the local community. An average of 1080 food parcels were delivered from our soup kitchen. Nissi Homes also continued to be a benefactor of the Neighbourly Scheme which pools surplus food stock from a number of supermarkets. Through that initiative, she was able to provide food items, fresh fruits, bakery and pastry items not just for her many service users, but also to community members in need during the lockdown period.

In December, a Christmas meal was organised under the sponsorships of TK Max and Lifegate Outreach Community Centre for the vulnerable and homeless around the Walsall Council area. Many gifts were presented on the occasion which was well attended. Unlike previous years where sit-down meals were served, take away meals were provided for the third year running, but the attendees were able to sit down and enjoy the joyous occasion.

We are grateful to organisations like TK Max/ TJX Europe, Lifegate Outreach Centre, the Neighbourly Food Scheme, Lidl Walsall, the Salvation Army, The Black Country Food Bank, The Well Food Bank, Champions Kitchen, some individuals and other local food banks for their continued support and kind donations.

On a daily basis, through the help of its dedicated support officers and volunteers, care, support, prayers and supervision was offered to service users with deliverable positive outcomes that have been recognised by the service users and their families, Local Councils, Police, HM Probation, CRC, HM Prison Services, The NHS and various drug and alcohol dependency support agencies.

Nissi Homes carries out risk assessments on every referral received from the various agencies, organisations, Local Councils and develops an inclusive care/support plan tailor made to suit the needs of the individual service user.

Service users are encouraged and motivated with the various organised programmes and activities for public benefit which focuses on the relief of poverty, skills training, community engagement, spiritual and economic empowerment. These are all designed to put service users back in charge of their lives, reintegrate them with the community, reduce recidivism, find paid or volunteer jobs and foster good relationships with their families and the authorities. Specific activities included: bi weekly visits, seminars / workshops, training sessions, weekly prayer meetings / fellowship meetings, recreational activities, Community fun fares, Christmas meals, community outreach events and financial empowerment conferences. The charity also provided clothing, food items, personal hygiene products, transportation, Easter eggs, Christmas presents, material and financial assistance to service users; many of which have just been released from prison, homeless and facing hardship with no money or future prospects. Nissi Homes also provided material and financial assistance to other charities in the course of the financial year.

Future developments

Since 2020, Nissi Homes had been planning to open a Recycling Project in its area of operation. Unfortunately, the restrictions and unusual challenges of covid19 as well as funding shortages, did not make this possible in 2022. It is in the plan for 2023 to make this possible.

The growing utilisation of plastics in industrial and consumer applications, combined with increased consumer awareness surrounding solid waste recycling, has led to an increased demand for recycled plastic resins. One of the fastest growing types of collected plastic materials for recycling is polyethylene terephthalate ("PET") from post-consumer beverage and water bottles. Nissi Homes Recycling Project will capitalise on the opportunities in the recycled resin and packaging markets to deliver a cleaner and a more sustainable environment.

The Company will create a PET cleaning and refining plant located in Loxdel Industrial Estate, Bilston, West Midlands. Its initial capacity will be 460 tons annually, and it will utilize post-consumer bottle feed stock presently collected within the West Midlands and gradually grow into a nationwide collection. The Charity will compress the materials into bales and these will be sold to raise funds from external organisation. The future plan is to produce extruded sheet from the collected plastics which will be sold to manufacturers, who will thermoform it into high-visibility packaging or use it in other high value added manufacturing operations. There will be an expansion to also include metal recycling in a few years.

Objectives of the Recycling Project

- Provide full time employment for the vulnerable people in society most especial ex-offenders
- Engage the employed in a positive way to reduce their desire to re-offend or recidivism by 95%
- Act as a blueprint for cleaner and sustainable environment
- Reinvest in society 50% of its income margin.

Nissi Homes is also intending to further expand her support activities by securing more properties to provide supported accommodation to vulnerable adults and replicating the same good works in neighbouring Local Authorities. During the financial year, all activities were carried out in the Sandwell, Dudley and Wolverhampton Council areas, but it is the intention to expand to other neighbouring local authorities within the West Midlands.

It is also planned to open community activity hubs named Nissi Hubs which will operate between the hours of 9am and 5pm Mondays to Fridays. These places will provide recreational activities, opportunities to hang out, browse the internet and receive advice regarding welfare benefits.

In view of the future plans, the charitable company continues to develop her staff, members and volunteers through various capacity-building seminars, training and programmes which will equip and enable them to make lasting contributions to the public.

Nissi Homes will continue to engage with other charities, local authorities and organisations known for their commitment to the relief of those in need and the provision of shelter and accommodation by providing support through partnership and funding.

Risk management

The trustees have assessed the major risks to which the charitable company is exposed, in particular those related to the operations and finances and are satisfied that systems are in place to mitigate our exposure to the major risks.
