The trust's objects are the promotion of charitable purposes as defined by the Charities Act 2011, by provision of funding and other resources for specifically charitable purposes among the disadvantaged, marginalised, vulnerable, needy and incapacitated people worldwide and there has been no change in these during the year.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

The trustees have continued to receive donations and invested funds for the purpose of generating income for the charity. The trustees have made grants to various charities which seek to share the love of God in all sorts of situations and cultures worldwide. Charities that have benefited from grants during the year include –

The Trussell Trust

 Cross Rhythms
 Glassdoor (Homeless Charity)
 International China Concern

Section E

Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

The trustees intend to build up a reserve of funds to generate income which will be applied for charitable purposes. Currently, the trustees intend to invest all gifts and donations received each year into listed investments for the purpose of generating funds for use in fulfilling its charitable purposes in the longer term. During the year under review no gift was received by the trust. The trustees will decide from time to time how much of the gift aid tax recoverable will be distributed and how much invested for generating funds. Although legally funds held as investments are unrestricted funds they are regarded as "expendable endowment funds" rather than reserves.

Independent Examiner's Report to the Trustees of An Extra Mile Charitable Trust

I report to the trustees on my examination of the accounts of An Extra Mile Charitable Trust ('the charity') for the period ended 05 April 2022, which comprise the summary of receipts and payments and the statement of assets and liabilities.

This report is made solely to the charity's trustees, as a body, in accordance with section 145 of the Charities Act 2011. My work has been undertaken so that I might state to the charity's trustees those matters I am required to state to them in this report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, I do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charity and the charity's trustees as a body, for my work, for this report, or for the opinions I have formed.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the trustees of the charity, you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ('the Act').

I report in respect of my examination of the charity's accounts carried out under section 145 of the Act and in carrying out my examination I have followed all the applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act.

An independent examination does not involve gathering all the evidence that would be required in an audit and consequently does not cover all the matters that an auditor considers in giving their opinion on the accounts. The planning and conduct of an audit goes beyond the limited assurance that an independent examination can provide. Consequently I express no audit opinion on the accounts and my report is limited to those specific matters set out in the independent examiner's statement.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination giving me cause to believe that in any material respect:

- accounting records were not kept in respect of the charity as required by section 130 of the Act; or
- the accounts do not accord with those records.

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
