Significant activities

Ensuring Our Work Delivers Our Aims

This is the charity's 12th year and during this time we have reviewed our aims, objectives and activities at intervals. Future reviews will look at what we have achieved and the outcomes of our work in the previous 12 months. The review will look at the success of each key activity and the benefits they have brought to those groups of people we are set up to help. The review will also help to ensure our aim, objectives and activities remain focused on our stated purposes. We have referred to the guidance contained in the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit when reviewing our aim and objectives and in planning our future activities. In particular, the trustees consider how planned activities will contribute to the aims and objectives they have set.

The Focus of Our Work

Our main objectives for the year continued to be the promotion of contact between children and parents and reducing the emotional negative impact that conflict can have on children and adults involved. The strategies we used to meet these objectives included;

*Providing a range of services which are reflective of relevant quality standards and address the potential problems related to separation and conflict;

*Focusing upon limiting the harm which comes with conflict not only for the individual but also their family and friends such as reduced self-esteem, financial and emotional hardship, anti-social behaviour, depression, etc.

*Working within the accreditation guidelines as good practice as dictated by our accreditation with the National Association of Child Contact Centres (NACCC);

*Working in partnership with other agencies to secure the widest range of services is available that best match the needs of its client population.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Public benefit

How Our Activities Deliver Public Benefits

Our main activities and who we try to help are described below. All our charitable activities focus on the prevention of conflict and reduction of the negative emotional harm that this may have on those involved. And to support contact between separated families whatever the cause.

Supervised and Supported Contact

Supervised Family Time is currently a paid for service which provides a safe and neutral environment for children and adults where risk have been identified or significant allegations are being investigated.

The centre saw a significant increase in the later part of the last financial year from local authorities; this increase has kept a steady pace resulting in a waiting list for Supervised contact. There has also been an increase from parent's wishing to avoid the need to seek court interventions.

Who Used and Benefited from Our Services?

Our objectives and funding limit the services we provide to those resident or working in Kent. It is estimated that the number of children experiencing their parents separating is around 260,000 and more than one in three children experience this before they turn sixteen. The year has seen the Charity undertake over 4000 hours of Family Time.

Our current funding limits those we can help; Medway and Kent have a significant number of lone parents whose financial situation prevents them from accessing supervised services due to the cost. Currently funding for wages is from supervised family time preventing us from providing full subsidiary for these services to those in the greatest need.

The main areas of charitable activity are the provision of contact services, advice and information through drop in and; outreach support. These activities and the achievements that flow from our work are described below.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Social investments

Marketing and Services

With the use of volunteers, we continue to be able to market our services through a number of medias, currently marketing emails are sent via Microsoft Forms to current service users, local Social Services, Solicitors and Social Media. We have increased advertisement in the local area through the use of email providing information packs to available in doctors' surgeries, the Citizens' Advice Bureau, the Magistrates' Courts, Solicitors, Probation offices and Social Services Offices.

The mainstay of our service remains our staff and volunteers who provide support, supervised family time, coordination, marketing, human resources and finance, etc. In the past year costs for staff and volunteer expenses have been met with funding from, CAFCASS and local authorities. Funding for CAFCASS services is secured until end July 2025, and it is expected that this will be renewed in late spring 2025.

We continue with our drive to secure more volunteers from a wide sector of the community including those wishing to develop their CV (Workplace Volunteers), and volunteers who have recently retired and are prepared to support us in our aims. Also, to increase professional development (Social Workers, Solicitors) by offering volunteering either through the board of trustees or through supervised contact.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Financial position

The future of services was left uncertain last year due to our premises being sold for development. We were able to locate an appropriate venue; and the service is thriving. We have seen increased referrals, both private and public, and are working with our local authority, Medway as overflow for contracted services.

Principal Funding sources for the charity are currently by way of: contract income is from CAFCASS and income generated by supervised contacts, both privately funded and through Local Authorities.

Reserves policy

The Board of Trustees has examined the charity's requirements for reserves in light of the main risks to the organisation. It has established a policy whereby the unrestricted funds not committed or invested in tangible fixed assets held by the charity should be between 3 and 6 months of the expenditure. Budgeted expenditure per month is £20,000 and therefore the target is £60,000 in general funds, which has been secured. The reserves are needed to meet the working capital requirements of the charity and it is hoped that this will allow the Charity time to market and secure funding with the developed marketing and sustainability plan.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Financial position

The future of services was left uncertain this year due to our premises being sold for development. We were able to locate an appropriate venue; however, this has brought its own challenges including increased running costs as well as refurbishment. Despite these difficulties our new venue also allows for increased space allowing more families to access services. We are therefore pleased to report an increase in incoming resources.

Principal Funding sources for the charity are currently by way of contract income is from CAFCASS and income generated by supervised contacts, both privately funded and through Local Authority's.

Reserves policy

The Board of Trustees has examined the charity's requirements for reserves in light of the main risks to the organisation. It has established a policy whereby the unrestricted funds not committed or invested in tangible fixed assets held by the charity should be between 3 and 6 months of the expenditure. Budgeted expenditure per month is £15,000 and therefore the target is £45,000 in general funds, which has been secured within this financial year. The reserves are needed to meet the working capital requirements of the charity and it is hoped that this will allow the Charity time to market and secure funding with the developed marketing and sustainability plan.

PLANS FOR FUTURE PERIODS

The charity plans continuing the activities outlined above in the forthcoming years subject to satisfactory funding arrangements. Plans are also being developed to work in partnership with a number of agencies such as NACCC and local solicitors.

The organisation is a charitable company limited by guarantee, incorporated on 9th August 2012 and registered as a charity in on 6th February 2013. The company was established under a Memorandum of Association which established the objects and powers of the charitable company and is governed under its Articles of Association. In the event of the company being wound up members are required to contribute an amount not exceeding £1. The directors of the company are also charity trustees for the purposes of charity law and under the company's Articles are known as members of the Board of trustees. Under the requirements of the Memorandum and Articles of Association the members of the Board are elected to serve for a period of three years after which they must be re-elected at the next Annual General Meeting. All members of the Board members give their time voluntarily and received no benefits from the charity.

The Board seeks to ensure that the needs of this group are appropriately reflected through the diversity of the trustee body. To enhance the potential pool of trustees, the charity has, through selective advertising, sought to identify previous service users who would be willing to become members of the centre and use their own experience to assist the charity.

In an effort to maintain the skill mix, members of the Board are requested to provide a list of their skills (and update it each year) and in the event of particular skills being lost due to retirements, individuals are approached to offer themselves for election to the Board. Trustee Induction and Training. Most trustees are already familiar with the practical work of the charity having been involved in many aspects of its development. Additionally, new trustees are invited and encouraged to attend a series of short training sessions via Study Zone (Know How) to familiarise themselves with responsibilities of trustees and attend open days and team meetings to better understand the charity and the context within which it operates. Study Zone training and other materials covers:

" The obligations of Board members.

" The main documents which set out the operational framework for the charity including the Memorandum and Articles.

" A Question & Answer pack has now been prepared drawing information from the various Charity Commission publications signposted through the Commission's guide "the Essential Trustee" as a follow up to these sessions. This is distributed to all new trustees along with the Memorandum and Articles and will include the latest financial statements. Feedback from new trustees about their induction will also be sought.
