Jewish Futures Trust Limited

Trustees' Report

The trustees, who are also directors of the charity for the purposes of the Companies Act, submit their annual report and the financial statements of the Jewish Futures Trust Group for the year ended 31 December 2024. The trustees confirm that the annual report and financial statements of the company comply with current statutory requirements, the requirements of the company's governing document and the provisions of the Statement of Recommended Practice (SORP) "Accounting and Reporting by Charities" issued in March 2015.

Legal and administrative information set out on page 1 forms part of this report.

Structure, Governance and Finance

The company is registered as a charitable company limited by guarantee and was set up by a Memorandum of Association on 16 December 2011. The charity's objects are set out below in the Charity's Objectives and Activities.

The trustees, who are also the directors for the purpose of company law, and who served during the year are listed on page 1. None of the trustees have any beneficial interest in the company. All of the trustees are members of the company and guarantee to contribute £1 in the event of a winding up. The Directors who served in the year were J Benarroch, D Hammelburger, K Harris, E Lee, E Misrahi, D Morris, N Schiff, D Sobel and S Zneimer.

The Board of Trustees is responsible for the overall governance, policy and strategic direction of Jewish Futures Trust. The members of the Board of Trustees have the legal responsibility for the operations of the charity and the use of resources in accordance with the objects of the charity. The appointment and training of a new trustee is subject to the oversight of current trustees.

There are no specific restrictions imposed by the governing document concerning the way the charity can operate.

Jewish Futures Trust has been a driving force in incubating and nurturing new educational initiatives and establishing and building other independent UK charities in the field of education and social action. These charities include Give It Forward Today, JRoots, Forum for Jewish Leadership, Klal-Chazon and Aish Hatorah UK. In this respect, Jewish Futures Trust aims to encourage aspirational strategic thinking for each organisation as well as achieve effective economies of scale through the sharing of both innovation, resources and best practises between all the charities. During the course of the year the Company provided central head office services to the subsidiary charities as detailed in the notes to the accounts, at cost, to enable the group to benefit from economies of scale. It encouraged group charities to use the resources of sister charities to benefit from their expertise, in furtherance of each other's' charitable objectives.

Neil Schiff has helped to establish charities in USA and Israel (JFT – Jewish Futures Foundation Inc in USA and JFT Netzach in Israel), with similar public benefit objectives to develop educational, religious and cultural programmes. Jewish Futures Trust and sister charities are encouraged to undertake initiatives and activities in conjunction with these charities to mutually benefit each other.

Many hundreds of volunteers are identified and deployed across all of the group charities to fulfil some educational and operational activities such as in GIFT, whose prime objective is to encourage members of the public to give up their time to help other people, and in FJL and Aish where part of their remits are to nurture youth leadership.

Charity's Objectives and Activities

The principal objects of the charity are exclusively to further, for the public benefit, the following charitable purposes:

- The advancement of Jewish connection, education and culture;
- The sharing of values that build good citizenship, social responsibility and goodness in society;
- To generate and incubate new educational initiatives that will further ensure a vibrant Jewish future;
- The promotion of the efficiency and effectiveness of charities and effective use of charitable resources through the facilitation of both creative and operational synergies between educational charities sharing a similar outlook and approach, thereby availing considerable overhead savings and calling for sharing of best practice; and
- The furtherance of such other charitable purposes that the directors may from time to time in their absolute discretion think fit.

The primary focus of the charity at its inception was to educate young Jewish people in the UK. Over the past few years the educational remit has widened to allow for a broader spectrum of the community to benefit from the educational expertise and experience of the organisation. The charity goes about achieving this objective through regular educational, social and religious events across the UK, alongside numerous overseas educational programmes at key points in the year.

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedTrustees' Report (continued)*Key Risks and Uncertainties

The trustees have assessed the major risks to which the charity is exposed and are satisfied that systems are in place to mitigate exposure to the major risks. A reduction in donor base could cause cash flow issues; any delayed receipt of pledged donations income could also potentially cause cash flow issues. The major risks facing the charity are reviewed regularly at management meetings. Regular reviews of cash flow projections and budget forecasts are also undertaken, as well as a continual drive to reduce expenditure and negotiate better terms and rates.

Reserves

Jewish Futures Trust needs free reserves to enable it to fulfil its charitable obligations and commitments that it enters into. The charity also requires reserves to ensure continuance of these obligations in the eventuality of any unexpected revenue shortfall.

Free reserves are defined by the Charity Commission as unrestricted funds available to spend on the general purposes of the charity and therefore excluding those designated for particular purposes and those already utilised in purchasing tangible fixed assets. Free reserves should not be mistaken for cash reserves. After adjusting unrestricted funds for functional fixed assets free reserves for the Company were in surplus by £127,943 (2023: £376,510).

Jewish Futures Trust policy aspires to hold free reserves equal to not less than two months and no more than four months normal running costs, approximately £200,000 to £400,000. The Charity's short-term objective is to ensure that the combination of cash and liquid assets is sufficient to meet current and anticipated obligations.

Pay policy for key management personnel

Pay and remuneration of key management personnel is determined by a variety of contributory factors, including the size of the charity, the pay scales for each role and the level of experience of the staff member. In addition to this, levels of pay may be affected by the ability to recruit key management personnel and retain them in post, which all coincides with the charity's appointment and pay policies. All amendments to key management personnel's pay and remuneration is discussed and agreed by the trustees.

Plans for the Future

The member organisations of Jewish Futures Trust were all established under the leadership of Rabbi Neil Schiff over the course of a decade. Since 2018 the trustees have set out to empower each organisational director so that they focused on a more hands on leadership style. Along with the trustees, Rabbi Neil Schiff, along with the Management Team, have taken on a more strategic and consultative role, in each charity and has been able to embark on further educational and funding opportunities for the Charity and member organisations.

The Charity is tenant of a substantial property in North West London and is progressing with plans toward creating a new educational and cultural centre as a magnet for the inspiration and engagement of the UK Jewish and wider community and as a base for all the Group charities. This will be a ground-breaking, step change for the Group and will involve a large capital fundraising campaign. This will be led by a new committee devoted specially for the purpose.

Public Benefit

The trustees acknowledge the duty in Section 17 of the Charities Act 2011 to have due regard to the Charity Commission's published general and relevant sub-sector guidance on public benefit.

All activities undertaken by the group are for the public benefit. With a focus on providing education, the organisation's operation is very much geared to providing benefit to the Jewish and wider community as is highlighted by the activities reported herein. The core of the educational philosophy is to share with young people a sense of moral responsibility and ethical values that instil a sense of pride in Jewish heritage as well as upright citizenship in wider society. This will also continue to be central to its future plans.

Each of the directors has confirmed that there is no information of which they are aware which is relevant to the audit, but of which the auditors are unaware. They have further confirmed that they have taken appropriate steps to identify such relevant information and to establish that the auditors are aware of such information.

Statement of Trustees' Responsibilities

The Trustees (who are also directors of Jewish Futures Trust Limited for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards).

Company law requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under company law the Trustees must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and the group and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable group for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- a. select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- b. observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP;
- c. make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- d. state whether applicable UK accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- e. prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in business.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the charitable company's transactions, disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006 and the provisions of the charity's constitution. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Charity and the group and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

In preparing this report, the Directors have taken advantage of the small companies exemption provided by section 415A of the Companies Act 2006.

Auditors

Goldwins Limited has expressed a willingness to be appointed auditors. A resolution to appoint them will be proposed at the Annual General Meeting.

This report has been approved by the trustees on 27 October 2025 and signed on their behalf by:

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedAuditor's Report*Independent Auditor's Report to the Members and Trustees of Jewish Futures Trust Limited*Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Jewish Futures Trust Limited (the "charitable company") for the year ended 31 December 2024 which comprise the Consolidated Statement of Financial Activities, Consolidated Balance Sheet, Company Balance Sheet, Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows and notes to the financial statements, including significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including Financial Reporting Standard 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the group's and the charitable company's affairs as at 31 December 2024 and of the group's incoming resources and application of resources, including its income and expenditure for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006 and the Charities Act 2011.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the group in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The trustees are responsible for the other information contained within the annual report. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether this gives rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedAuditor's Report*Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion based on the work undertaken in the course of our audit

- the information given in the trustees' report, which includes the directors' report prepared for the purposes of company law, for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the directors' report included within the trustees' report have been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In light of the knowledge and understanding of the group and the charitable company and their environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the directors' report included within the trustees' report.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- the parent company has not kept adequate accounting records; or
- the parent company's financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit; or
- the trustees were not entitled to prepare the financial statements in accordance with the small companies regime and take advantage of the small companies exemption in preparing the Trustees Annual Report.

Responsibilities of trustees

As explained more fully in the trustees' responsibilities statement set out on page 6, the trustees (who are also the directors of the charitable company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are responsible for assessing the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustees either intend to liquidate the charitable company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

We have been appointed as auditor under the Companies Act 2006 and report in accordance with the Act and relevant regulations made or having effect thereunder.

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedAuditor's Report

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below:

We obtained an understanding of the legal and regulatory frameworks within which the charitable company operates, focusing on those laws and regulations that have a direct effect on the determination of material amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The laws and regulations we considered in this context were the Charities SORP (FRS102) 2019 and Companies Act 2006.

We identified the greatest risk of material impact on the financial statements from irregularities, including fraud, to be the override of controls by management and the recognition of income. Our audit procedures to respond to these risks included enquiries of management about their own identification and assessment of the risks of irregularities, sample testing on the posting of journals, sample testing on income recognised in the accounts and reviewing accounting estimates for biases.

Owing to the inherent limitations of an audit, there is an unavoidable risk that we may not have detected some material misstatements in the financial statements, even though we have properly planned and performed our audit in accordance with auditing standards. We are not responsible for preventing non-compliance and cannot be expected to detect non-compliance with all laws and regulations.

These inherent limitations are particularly significant in the case of misstatement resulting from fraud as this may involve sophisticated schemes designed to avoid detection, including deliberate failure to record transactions, collusion or the provision of intentional misrepresentations.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charitable company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of part 16 of the Companies Act 2006, and to the charitable company's trustees, as a body. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charitable company's members and trustees those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charitable company, the charitable company's members as a body and the charitable company's trustees as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

Notes to the Accounts – 31 December 2024

1 Company information

The principal activity of Jewish Futures Trust Limited is the advancement of Jewish education and culture. The company is registered as a charitable company limited by guarantee (company number: 07884678, charity number 1151066). It is incorporated and domiciled in the UK. The address of the registered office is 379 Hendon Way, London, NW4 3LP.

2 Accounting Policies

a. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention and in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice, Accounting and Reporting by Charities (SORP 2015), applicable UK accounting standards including the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102), and the Companies Act 2006. The company meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS 102. Assets and liabilities are initially recognised at historical cost or transaction value unless otherwise stated in the relevant accounting policy notes. The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are as follows:

b. Basis of Consolidation

Consolidated financial statements have been prepared in respect of Jewish Futures Trust Ltd and its subsidiaries Forum for Jewish Leadership Ltd, JRoots Ltd, Aish Hatorah UK Ltd, Klal-Chazon Ltd and Give It Forward Today Ltd. No separate SOFA or Income and Expenditure Account have been presented for the Charity alone as permitted by the Companies Act 2006 and the Charities SORP 2015. Both parent and all subsidiaries have the same reporting date of 31 December 2024.

c. Going Concern

The Charitable group currently has assets that exceed its liabilities. In addition, the Trustees are expecting to generate a surplus for the year ended 31 December 2024 reflecting continuing control on expenditure and support from donors. Having reviewed the financial position of the Charity, the Trustees consider that, with current cash resources, general reserves and the potential appeal for fundraising, there are no material uncertainties about the Charity's ability to continue as a going concern and have reasonable expectations that the Charity has adequate resources to continue its digital activities for the foreseeable future. Accordingly, they continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the annual financial statements.

d. Income

All incoming resources are included on the Statement of Financial Activities when the Charity is legally entitled to the income and the amount can be quantified with reasonable accuracy.

e. Expenditure

Cost of fundraising activities are those costs incurred in attracting voluntary income.

Charitable activities include expenditure associated with the delivery of its activities and include both the direct costs and support costs relating to these activities.

Governance costs include those costs associated with meeting the constitutional and statutory requirements of the Charity and include the independent examination fees and costs linked to the strategic management of the charity.

Support costs include related staff remuneration, premises costs, travel costs and core professional fees. These costs have been allocated to the expenditure categories based on the management's estimate of the proportion of time and resources consumed by each of the key activities of the charity.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

f. Liability Recognition

Liabilities are recognised as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the Charity to the expenditure.

g. Tangible Fixed Assets

Tangible fixed assets are stated at cost less depreciation. Depreciation is provided at rates calculated to write off the costs of fixed assets, less their estimated residual value, over their expected useful lives on the following bases:

Improvements to leasehold property	- Over the term of the lease
Plant and equipment	- 25% reducing balance
Fixtures and fittings	- 25% reducing balance/33% straight line
Motor vehicles	- 25% reducing balance

Assets greater than £1,000 are capitalised.

h. Heritage Assets

The subsidiary, Aish Hatorah UK Ltd, owns religious scrolls. These assets are untarnished and used to further the charity's objectives. Heritage assets are included in the Balance Sheet at cost. Their carrying amounts are reviewed where evidence of impairment exists and reduced where an impairment is deemed to have incurred.

In accordance with FRS102, depreciation is not provided on heritage assets as they are considered to have indefinite lives. The cost of maintenance and repair of heritage assets is written off in the year incurred.

i. Translation of Foreign Currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at rates of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date.

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at the rate ruling on the date of the transaction.

Exchange gains and losses are recognised in the Statement of Financial Activities.

j. Operating Leases

Rentals under operating leases are charged to the Statement of Financial Activities on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Benefits received and receivable as an incentive to sign an operating lease are recognised on a straight-line basis over the period until the date the rent is expected to be adjusted to the prevailing market rate.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

Notes to the Accounts – 31 December 2024

2 Accounting Policies (continued)k. Financial Instruments

The Company holds only financial assets and financial liabilities of a kind that qualify as basic financial instruments. Basic financial instruments include debtors and creditors. Debtors and creditors are initially recognised at transaction value and subsequently measured at fair value. Note 21 provides more information on financial instruments where future cash flows are anticipated, with financial assets referring to debtor balances excluding prepayments, and financial liabilities referring to all creditor balances excluding deferred income and other taxation and social security.

1. Government Grants

Grants are accounted for under the performance model as permitted by the charity SORP. Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme grant income was therefore recognised on a straight-line basis over the furlough period for each relevant employee, as was Kick Start job creation income during the year.

3 Key Judgements and Estimates

In the application of the Company's accounting policies, which are described in note 2, Trustees are required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and underlying assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an on-going basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects the current and future periods.

The Trustees consider that there are no material judgements in applying accounting policies or key sources of estimation uncertainty.

Trustees' Report

The trustees, who are also directors of the charity for the purposes of the Companies Act, submit their annual report and the financial statements of the Jewish Futures Trust Group for the year ended 31 December 2023. The trustees confirm that the annual report and financial statements of the company comply with current statutory requirements, the requirements of the company's governing document and the provisions of the Statement of Recommended Practice (SORP) "Accounting and Reporting by Charities" issued in March 2015.

Legal and administrative information set out on page 1 forms part of this report.

Structure, Governance and Finance

The company is registered as a charitable company limited by guarantee and was set up by a Memorandum of Association on 16 December 2011. The charity's objects are set out below in the Charity's Objectives and Activities.

The trustees, who are also the directors for the purpose of company law, and who served during the year are listed on page 1. None of the trustees have any beneficial interest in the company. All of the trustees are members of the company and guarantee to contribute £1 in the event of a winding up. The Directors who served in the year were J Benarroch, D Hammelburger, K Harris, E Lee, E Misrahi, D Morris, N Schiff, D Sobel and S Zneimer.

The Board of Trustees is responsible for the overall governance, policy and strategic direction of Jewish Futures Trust. The members of the Board of Trustees have the legal responsibility for the operations of the charity and the use of resources in accordance with the objects of the charity. The appointment and training of a new trustee is subject to the oversight of current trustees.

There are no specific restrictions imposed by the governing document concerning the way the charity can operate.

Jewish Futures Trust has been a driving force in incubating and nurturing new educational initiatives and establishing and building other independent UK charities in the field of education and social action. These charities include Give It Forward Today, JRoots, Forum for Jewish Leadership, Klal-Chazon and Aish Hatorah UK. In this respect, Jewish Futures Trust aims to encourage aspirational strategic thinking for each organisation as well as achieve effective economies of scale through the sharing of both innovation, resources and best practises between all the charities. During the course of the year the Company provided central head office services to the subsidiary charities as detailed in the notes to the accounts, at cost, to enable the group to benefit from economies of scale. It encouraged group charities to use the resources of sister charities to benefit from their expertise, in furtherance of each other's' charitable objectives.

Neil Schiff has helped to establish charities in USA and Israel (JFT – Jewish Futures Foundation Inc in USA and JFT Netzach in Israel), with similar public benefit objectives to develop educational, religious and cultural programmes. Jewish Futures Trust and sister charities are encouraged to undertake initiatives and activities in conjunction with these charities to mutually benefit each other.

Many hundreds of volunteers are identified and deployed across all of the group charities to fulfil some educational and operational activities such as in GIFT, whose prime objective is to encourage members of the public to give up their time to help other people, and in FJL and Aish where part of their remits are to nurture youth leadership.

Charity's Objectives and Activities

The principal objects of the charity are exclusively to further, for the public benefit, the following charitable purposes:

- The advancement of Jewish connection, education and culture;
- The sharing of values that build good citizenship, social responsibility and goodness in society;
- To generate and incubate new educational initiatives that will further ensure a vibrant Jewish future;
- The promotion of the efficiency and effectiveness of charities and effective use of charitable resources through the facilitation of both creative and operational synergies between educational charities sharing a similar outlook and approach, thereby availing considerable overhead savings and calling for sharing of best practice; and
- The furtherance of such other charitable purposes that the directors may from time to time in their absolute discretion think fit.

The primary focus of the charity at its inception was to educate young Jewish people in the UK. Over the past few years the educational remit has widened to allow for a broader spectrum of the community to benefit from the educational expertise and experience of the organisation. Jewish Futures Trust LimitedTrustees' Report (continued)*Key Risks and Uncertainties

The trustees have assessed the major risks to which the charity is exposed and are satisfied that systems are in place to mitigate exposure to the major risks. A reduction in donor base could cause cash flow issues; any delayed receipt of pledged donations income could also potentially cause cash flow issues. The major risks facing the charity are reviewed regularly at management meetings. Regular reviews of cash flow projections and budget forecasts are also undertaken, as well as a continual drive to reduce expenditure and negotiate better terms and rates.

Reserves

Jewish Futures Trust needs free reserves to enable it to fulfil its charitable obligations and commitments that it enters into. The charity also requires reserves to ensure continuance of these obligations in the eventuality of any unexpected revenue shortfall.

Free reserves are defined by the Charity Commission as unrestricted funds available to spend on the general purposes of the charity and therefore excluding those designated for particular purposes and those already utilised in purchasing tangible fixed assets. Free reserves should not be mistaken for cash reserves. After adjusting unrestricted funds for functional fixed assets free reserves for the Company were in surplus by £376,510 (2022: £682,545).

Jewish Futures Trust policy aspires to hold free reserves equal to not less than two months and no more than four months normal running costs, approximately £200,000 to £400,000. The Charity's short-term objective is to ensure that the combination of cash and liquid assets is sufficient to meet current and anticipated obligations.

Pay policy for key management personnel

Pay and remuneration of key management personnel is determined by a variety of contributory factors, including the size of the charity, the pay scales for each role and the level of experience of the staff member. In addition to this, levels of pay may be affected by the ability to recruit key management personnel and retain them in post, which all coincides with the charity's appointment and pay policies. All amendments to key management personnel's pay and remuneration is discussed and agreed by the trustees.

Plans for the Future

The member organisations of Jewish Futures Trust were all established under the leadership of Rabbi Neil Schiff over the course of a decade. Since 2018 the trustees have set out to empower each organisational director so that they focused on a more hands on leadership style. Along with the trustees, Rabbi Neil Schiff, along with the Management Team, have taken on a more strategic and consultative role, in each charity and has been able to embark on further educational and funding opportunities for the Charity and member organisations.

The Charity is tenant of a substantial property in North West London and is progressing with plans toward creating a new educational and cultural centre as a magnet for the inspiration and engagement of the UK Jewish and wider community and as a base for all the Group charities. This will be a ground-breaking, step change for the Group and will involve a large capital fundraising campaign. This will be led by a new committee devoted specially for the purpose.

Public Benefit

The trustees acknowledge the duty in Section 17 of the Charities Act 2011 to have due regard to the Charity Commission's published general and relevant sub-sector guidance on public benefit.

All activities undertaken by the group are for the public benefit. With a focus on providing education, the organisation's operation is very much geared to providing benefit to the Jewish and wider community as is highlighted by the activities reported herein. The core of the educational philosophy is to share with young people a sense of moral responsibility and ethical values that instil a sense of pride in Jewish heritage as well as upright citizenship in wider society. This will also continue to be central to its future plans.

Each of the directors has confirmed that there is no information of which they are aware which is relevant to the audit, but of which the auditors are unaware. They have further confirmed that they have taken appropriate steps to identify such relevant information and to establish that the auditors are aware of such information.

Statement of Trustees' Responsibilities

The Trustees (who are also directors of Jewish Futures Trust Limited for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards).

Company law requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under company law the Trustees must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and the group and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable group for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- a. select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- b. observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP;
- c. make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- d. state whether applicable UK accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- e. prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in business.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the charitable company's transactions, disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006 and the provisions of the charity's constitution. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Charity and the group and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

In preparing this report, the Directors have taken advantage of the small companies exemption provided by section 415A of the Companies Act 2006.

Auditors

Goldwins Limited has expressed a willingness to be appointed auditors. A resolution to appoint them will be proposed at the Annual General Meeting.

This report has been approved by the trustees on 29th September 2024 and signed on their behalf by:

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedAuditor's Report*Independent Auditor's Report to the Members and Trustees of Jewish Futures Trust Limited*Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Jewish Futures Trust Limited (the "charitable company") for the year ended 31 December 2023 which comprise the Consolidated Statement of Financial Activities, Consolidated Balance Sheet, Company Balance Sheet, Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows and notes to the financial statements, including significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including Financial Reporting Standard 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the group's and the charitable company's affairs as at 31 December 2023 and of the group's incoming resources and application of resources, including its income and expenditure for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006 and the Charities Act 2011.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the group in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The trustees are responsible for the other information contained within the annual report. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether this gives rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedAuditor's Report*Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion based on the work undertaken in the course of our audit

- the information given in the trustees' report, which includes the directors' report prepared for the purposes of company law, for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the directors' report included within the trustees' report have been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In light of the knowledge and understanding of the group and the charitable company and their environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the directors' report included within the trustees' report.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- the parent company has not kept adequate accounting records; or
- the parent company's financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit; or
- the trustees were not entitled to prepare the financial statements in accordance with the small companies regime and take advantage of the small companies exemption in preparing the Trustees Annual Report.

Responsibilities of trustees

As explained more fully in the trustees' responsibilities statement set out on page 6, the trustees (who are also the directors of the charitable company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are responsible for assessing the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustees either intend to liquidate the charitable company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

We have been appointed as auditor under the Companies Act 2006 and report in accordance with the Act and relevant regulations made or having effect thereunder.

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedAuditor's Report

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below:

We obtained an understanding of the legal and regulatory frameworks within which the charitable company operates, focusing on those laws and regulations that have a direct effect on the determination of material amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The laws and regulations we considered in this context were the Charities SORP (FRS102) 2019 and Companies Act 2006.

We identified the greatest risk of material impact on the financial statements from irregularities, including fraud, to be the override of controls by management and the recognition of income. Our audit procedures to respond to these risks included enquiries of management about their own identification and assessment of the risks of irregularities, sample testing on the posting of journals, sample testing on income recognised in the accounts and reviewing accounting estimates for biases.

Owing to the inherent limitations of an audit, there is an unavoidable risk that we may not have detected some material misstatements in the financial statements, even though we have properly planned and performed our audit in accordance with auditing standards. We are not responsible for preventing non-compliance and cannot be expected to detect non-compliance with all laws and regulations.

These inherent limitations are particularly significant in the case of misstatement resulting from fraud as this may involve sophisticated schemes designed to avoid detection, including deliberate failure to record transactions, collusion or the provision of intentional misrepresentations.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charitable company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of part 16 of the Companies Act 2006, and to the charitable company's trustees, as a body. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charitable company's members and trustees those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charitable company, the charitable company's members as a body and the charitable company's trustees as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Notes to the Accounts – 31 December 2023

1 Company information

The principal activity of Jewish Futures Trust Limited is the advancement of Jewish education and culture. The company is registered as a charitable company limited by guarantee (company number: 07884678, charity number 1151066). It is incorporated and domiciled in the UK. The address of the registered office is 379 Hendon Way, London, NW4 3LP.

2 Accounting Policies

a. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention and in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice, Accounting and Reporting by Charities (SORP 2015), applicable UK accounting standards including the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102), and the Companies Act 2006. The company meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS 102. Assets and liabilities are initially recognised at historical cost or transaction value unless otherwise stated in the relevant accounting policy notes. The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are as follows:

b. Basis of Consolidation

Consolidated financial statements have been prepared in respect of Jewish Futures Trust Ltd and its subsidiaries Forum for Jewish Leadership Ltd, JRoots Ltd, Aish Hatorah UK Ltd, Klal-Chazon Ltd and Give It Forward Today Ltd. No separate SOFA or Income and Expenditure Account have been presented for the Charity alone as permitted by the Companies Act 2006 and the Charities SORP 2015. Both parent and all subsidiaries have the same reporting date of 31 December 2023.

c. Going Concern

The Charitable group currently has assets that exceed its liabilities. In addition, the Trustees are expecting to generate a surplus for the year ended 31 December 2024 reflecting continuing control on expenditure and support from donors. Having reviewed the financial position of the Charity, the Trustees consider that, with current cash resources, general reserves and the potential appeal for fundraising, there are no material uncertainties about the Charity's ability to continue as a going concern and have reasonable expectations that the Charity has adequate resources to continue its digital activities for the foreseeable future. Accordingly, they continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the annual financial statements.

d. Income

All incoming resources are included on the Statement of Financial Activities when the Charity is legally entitled to the income and the amount can be quantified with reasonable accuracy.

e. Expenditure

Cost of fundraising activities are those costs incurred in attracting voluntary income.

Charitable activities include expenditure associated with the delivery of its activities and include both the direct costs and support costs relating to these activities.

Governance costs include those costs associated with meeting the constitutional and statutory requirements of the Charity and include the independent examination fees and costs linked to the strategic management of the charity.

Support costs include related staff remuneration, premises costs, travel costs and core professional fees. These costs have been allocated to the expenditure categories based on the management's estimate of the proportion of time and resources consumed by each of the key activities of the charity.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

f. Liability Recognition

Liabilities are recognised as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the Charity to the expenditure.

g. Tangible Fixed Assets

Tangible fixed assets are stated at cost less depreciation. Depreciation is provided at rates calculated to write off the costs of fixed assets, less their estimated residual value, over their expected useful lives on the following bases:

Improvements to leasehold property	- Over the term of the lease
Plant and equipment	- 25% reducing balance
Fixtures and fittings	- 25% reducing balance/33% straight line
Motor vehicles	- 25% reducing balance

Assets greater than £1,000 are capitalised.

h. Heritage Assets

The subsidiary, Aish Hatorah UK Ltd, owns religious scrolls. These assets are untarnished and used to further the charity's objectives. Heritage assets are included in the Balance Sheet at cost. Their carrying amounts are reviewed where evidence of impairment exists and reduced where an impairment is deemed to have incurred.

In accordance with FRS102, depreciation is not provided on heritage assets as they are considered to have indefinite lives. The cost of maintenance and repair of heritage assets is written off in the year incurred.

i. Translation of Foreign Currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at rates of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date.

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at the rate ruling on the date of the transaction.

Exchange gains and losses are recognised in the Statement of Financial Activities.

j. Operating Leases

Rentals under operating leases are charged to the Statement of Financial Activities on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Benefits received and receivable as an incentive to sign an operating lease are recognised on a straight-line basis over the period until the date the rent is expected to be adjusted to the prevailing market rate.

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedNotes to the Accounts – 31 December 2023*2 Accounting Policies (continued)*k. Financial Instruments

The Company holds only financial assets and financial liabilities of a kind that qualify as basic financial instruments. Basic financial instruments include debtors and creditors. Debtors and creditors are initially recognised at transaction value and subsequently measured at fair value. Note 21 provides more information on financial instruments where future cash flows are anticipated, with financial assets referring to debtor balances excluding prepayments, and financial liabilities referring to all creditor balances excluding deferred income and other taxation and social security.

l. Government Grants

Grants are accounted for under the performance model as permitted by the charity SORP. Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme grant income was therefore recognised on a straight-line basis over the furlough period for each relevant employee, as was Kick Start job creation income during the year.

3 Key Judgements and Estimates

In the application of the Company's accounting policies, which are described in note 2, Trustees are required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and underlying assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an on-going basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects the current and future periods.

The Trustees consider that there are no material judgements in applying accounting policies or key sources of estimation uncertainty.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

Trustees' Report

The trustees, who are also directors of the charity for the purposes of the Companies Act, submit their annual report and the financial statements of the Jewish Futures Trust Group for the year ended 31 December 2022. The trustees confirm that the annual report and financial statements of the company comply with current statutory requirements, the requirements of the company's governing document and the provisions of the Statement of Recommended Practice (SORP) "Accounting and Reporting by Charities" issued in March 2005.

Legal and administrative information set out on page 1 forms part of this report.

Structure, Governance and Finance

The company is registered as a charitable company limited by guarantee and was set up by a Memorandum of Association on 16 December 2011. The charity's objects are set out below in the Charity's Objectives and Activities.

The trustees, who are also the directors for the purpose of company law, and who served during the year are listed on page 1. None of the trustees have any beneficial interest in the company. All of the trustees are members of the company and guarantee to contribute £1 in the event of a winding up. The Directors who served in the year were J Benarroch, S Farhi, D Hammelburger; K Harris; E Lee; E Misrahi; D Morris; N Schiff and D Sobel.

The Board of Trustees is responsible for the overall governance, policy and strategic direction of Jewish Futures Trust. The members of the Board of Trustees have the legal responsibility for the operations of the charity and the use of resources in accordance with the objects of the charity. The appointment and training of a new trustee is subject to the oversight of current trustees.

There are no specific restrictions imposed by the governing document concerning the way the charity can operate.

Jewish Futures Trust has been a driving force in incubating and nurturing new educational initiatives and establishing and building other independent UK charities in the field of education and social action. These charities include Give It Forward Today, Jroots, Forum for Jewish Leadership, Chazak, Klal-Chazon, Aish Hatorah UK. In this respect, Jewish Futures Trust aims to encourage aspirational strategic thinking for each organisation as well as achieve effective economies of scale through the sharing of both innovation, resources and best practises between all the charities. During the course of the year the Company provided central head office services to the subsidiary charities as detailed in the notes to the accounts, at cost, to enable the group to benefit from economies of scale. It encouraged group charities to use the resources of sister charities to benefit from their expertise, in furtherance of each other's' charitable objectives.

Neil Schiff has helped to establish charities in USA and Israel (JFT – Jewish Futures Foundation Inc in USA and JFT Netzach in Israel), with similar public benefit objectives to develop educational, religious and cultural programmes. Jewish Futures Trust and sister charities are encouraged to undertake initiatives and activities in conjunction with these charities to mutually benefit each other.

Many hundreds of volunteers are identified and deployed across all of the group charities to fulfil some educational and operational activities such as in GIFT, whose prime objective is to encourage members of the public to give up their time to help other people, and in FJL and Aish where part of their remits are to nurture youth leadership.

Charity's Objectives and Activities

The principal objects of the charity are exclusively to further, for the public benefit, the following charitable purposes:

- The advancement of Jewish connection, education and culture;
- The sharing of values that build good citizenship, social responsibility and goodness in society;
- To generate and incubate new educational initiatives that will further ensure a vibrant Jewish future;
- The promotion of the efficiency and effectiveness of charities and effective use of charitable resources through the facilitation of both creative and operational synergies between educational charities sharing a similar outlook and approach, thereby availing considerable overhead savings and calling for sharing of best practice; and
- The furtherance of such other charitable purposes that the directors may from time to time in their absolute discretion think fit.

Initially the primary aim of the charity was only to educate young Jewish people in the UK. Over the past few years the educational remit has widened to allow for a broader spectrum of the community to benefit from the educational expertise and experience of the organisation. The core of the educational philosophy is to share with young people a sense of moral responsibility and ethical values that instil a sense of pride in Jewish heritage as well as upright citizenship in wider society. The charity goes about achieving this objective through regular educational, social and religious events across the UK, alongside numerous overseas educational programmes at key points in the year.

- Continuing to develop and support its group charities, educational programming in person and “on line”;
- Supporting its group charities to make effective savings on their cost bases of programming and administration to maximise the economic usage of their fundraising resources;
- Providing resource optimisation alongside best governance practises, health and safety advice and financial guidance, for each charity, following ever changing government legislation and regulations;
- Delivering consultancy and support for each group charity to help them design and implement successful online fundraising campaigns including Gift, Aish, and Klal Chazon.
- Launching Eilecha to create opportunities for spiritual growth and experiential education; Chelkeinu to create invigorating learning programmes for women; and making Perspectives Magazine the in-house publication for the Jewish Futures Family;

There have been no complaints about fundraising activities reported in the year to 31 December 2022, or subsequently.

Jewish Futures Trust and its group charities have used one third party organisation, CharityExtra, to help raise funds for matched funding, targeted appeals. It has special technology and know how to run 24-hour telethon campaigns. These campaigns are targeted at the charities known database of supporters. The relationship with the organisation is monitored by the Fundraising Team.

Financial Review

During the year the group successfully raised £8.085m through fundraising activities (2021: £7.099m) and, generated participant contributions for trips and events of £3.069m (2021: £0.725m). While in 2021, the group received government employment grants of £496,006, in 2022 the grants under Kickstart were only £1,882.

Total incoming resources for the year were £11.162m (2021: £8.353m) and resources expended totalled £10.656m (2021: £7.750m) resulting in net surplus for the Group of £0.506m (2021: £0.602m).

The group finished the year with total net funds of £3.426m (2021: £3.435m). At the year end the Group had total free reserves of £3.205m (2021: £3.122m). On 1 January 2022 Chazak Ltd left the Jewish Futures group and so its consolidated accounts were adjusted downwards by the value of Chazak net assets at 31 December 2021 of £0.515m

The group is supported by a broad spectrum of donors from across the community, ranging from grassroots student-level program participants and alumni to a broad range of philanthropists who partner with the charities in the group and help encourage their activities.

Most fundraising is done through direct relationships with our partners and through effective communication of the importance of our work to the wider audience of our supporters.

During Covid-19 Lockdown all of the group charities had to innovate their fundraising processes and created highly effective online campaigns during the year. These continued during 2022. The success of the campaigns are a testament to the broadened reach of participants from the online education programmes of 2021 and in person activities relaunched in 2022.

All of the group's expenditure is focused on creating the wide range of successful high-quality educational courses and popular, impactful activities that deliver our stated charitable objectives.

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedTrustees' Report (continued)*Key Risks and Uncertainties

The trustees have assessed the major risks to which the charity is exposed and are satisfied that systems are in place to mitigate exposure to the major risks. A reduction in donor base could cause cash flow issues; any delayed receipt of pledged donations income could also potentially cause cash flow issues. The major risks facing the charity are reviewed regularly at management meetings. Regular reviews of cash flow projections and budget forecasts are also undertaken, as well as a continual drive to reduce expenditure and negotiate better terms and rates.

The impact of Covid-19 in 2022

Covid-19 had significantly less impact on the Group than in the last 2 years and its charitable activities are now operating without any restrictions prevalent in 2020 and 2021. Our donors have recognised how well the Group has re-adapted and needs to re-invest in in person programmes to re-connect with participants in a live framework and continue to be supportive.

Management and Trustees are monitoring the Charity and Group cost base on a regular basis to ensure that programme, event and educational costs do not exceed foreseeable income. The Management Teams are regularly assessing the operational and logistical capabilities and finance consequences to update plans and budgets.

Reserves

Jewish Futures Trust needs free reserves to enable it to fulfil its charitable obligations and commitments that it enters into. The charity also requires reserves to ensure continuance of these obligations in the eventuality of any unexpected revenue shortfall.

Free reserves are defined by the Charity Commission as unrestricted funds available to spend on the general purposes of the charity and therefore excluding those designated for particular purposes and those already utilised in purchasing tangible fixed assets. Free reserves should not be mistaken for cash reserves. After adjusting unrestricted funds for functional fixed assets free reserves for the Company were in surplus by £682,545 (2021: £649,859).

Jewish Futures Trust policy is to hold free reserves equal to not less than two months and no more than four months normal running costs, approximately £200,000 to £400,000. The Charity's short-term objective is to ensure that the combination of cash and liquid assets is sufficient to meet current and anticipated obligations.

Pay policy for key management personnel

Pay and remuneration of key management personnel is determined by a variety of contributory factors, including the size of the charity, the pay scales for each role and the level of experience of the staff member. In addition to this, levels of pay may be affected by the ability to recruit key management personnel and retain them in post, which all coincides with the charity's appointment and pay policies. All amendments to key management personnel's pay and remuneration is discussed and agreed by the trustees.

Plans for the Future

The member organisations of Jewish Futures Trust were all established under the leadership of Rabbi Naftali Schiff over the course of a decade. Since 2018 the trustees have set out to empower each organisational director so that they focused on a more hands on leadership style. Along with the trustees, Rabbi Naftali Schiff, along with the Management Team, have taken on a more strategic and consultative role, in each charity and has been able to embark on further educational and funding opportunities for the Charity and member organisations.

The Charity is tenant of a substantial property in North West London and is progressing with plans toward creating a new educational and cultural centre as a magnet for the inspiration and engagement of the UK Jewish and wider community and as a base for all the Group charities. This will be a ground-breaking, step change for the Group and will involve a large capital fundraising campaign. This will be led by a new committee devoted specially for the purpose.

Public Benefit

The trustees acknowledge the duty in Section 4 of the Charities Act 2011 to have due regard to the Charity Commission's published general and relevant sub-sector guidance on public benefit.

All activities undertaken by the group are for the public benefit. With a focus on providing education, the organisation's operation is very much geared to providing benefit to the Jewish and wider community as is highlighted by the activities reported herein. The core of the educational philosophy is to share with young people a sense of moral responsibility and ethical values that instil a sense of pride in Jewish heritage as well as upright citizenship in wider society. This will also continue to be central to its future plans.

Disclosure of information to Auditors

Each of the directors has confirmed that there is no information of which they are aware which is relevant to the audit, but of which the auditors are unaware. They have further confirmed that they have taken appropriate steps to identify such relevant information and to establish that the auditors are aware of such information.

Statement of Trustees' Responsibilities

The Trustees (who are also directors of Jewish Futures Trust Limited for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards).

Company law requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under company law the Trustees must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and the group and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable group for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- a. select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- b. observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP;
- c. make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- d. state whether applicable UK accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- e. prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in business.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the charitable company's transactions, disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006 and the provisions of the charity's constitution. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Charity and the group and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities. In preparing this report, the Directors have taken advantage of the small companies exemption provided by section 415A of the Companies Act 2006.

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedAuditors' Report*Independent Auditor's Report to the Members and Trustees of Jewish Futures Trust Limited*Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Jewish Futures Trust Limited (the "charitable company") for the year ended 31 December 2022 which comprise Consolidated Statement of Financial Activities, Consolidated Balance Sheet, Company Balance Sheet, Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows and notes to the financial statements, including significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including Financial Reporting Standard 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the group's and the charitable company's affairs as at 31 December 2022 and of the group's incoming resources and application of resources, including its income and expenditure for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006 and the Charities Act 2011.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the group in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The trustees are responsible for the other information contained within the annual report. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether this gives rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedAuditors' Report*Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion based on the work undertaken in the course of our audit

- the information given in the trustees' report, which includes the directors' report prepared for the purposes of company law, for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the directors' report included within the trustees' report have been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In light of the knowledge and understanding of the group and the charitable company and their environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the directors' report included within the trustees' report.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- the parent company has not kept adequate accounting records; or
- the parent company financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit; or
- the trustees were not entitled to prepare the financial statements in accordance with the small companies regime and take advantage of the small companies exemption in preparing the Trustees Annual Report.

Responsibilities of trustees

As explained more fully in the trustees' responsibilities statement set out on page 6, the trustees (who are also the directors of the charitable company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are responsible for assessing the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustees either intend to liquidate the charitable company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

We have been appointed as auditor under section 151 of the Charities Act 2011 and under the Companies Act 2006 and report in accordance with the Acts and relevant regulations made or having effect thereunder

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedAuditors' Report

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below:

We obtained an understanding of the legal and regulatory frameworks within which the charitable company operates, focusing on those laws and regulations that have a direct effect on the determination of material amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The laws and regulations we considered in this context were the the Charities SORP (FRS102) 2019 and Companies Act 2006.

We identified the greatest risk of material impact on the financial statements from irregularities, including fraud, to be the override of controls by management and the recognition of income. Our audit procedures to respond to these risks included enquiries of management about their own identification and assessment of the risks of irregularities, sample testing on the posting of journals, sample testing on income recognised in the accounts and reviewing accounting estimates for biases.

Owing to the inherent limitations of an audit, there is an unavoidable risk that we may not have detected some material misstatements in the financial statements, even though we have properly planned and performed our audit in accordance with auditing standards. We are not responsible for preventing non-compliance and cannot be expected to detect non-compliance with all laws and regulations.

These inherent limitations are particularly significant in the case of misstatement resulting from fraud as this may involve sophisticated schemes designed to avoid detection, including deliberate failure to record transactions, collusion or the provision of intentional misrepresentations.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charitable company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of part 16 of the Companies Act 2006, and to the charitable company's trustees, as a body, in accordance with Part 4 of the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charitable company's members and trustees those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charitable company, the charitable company's members as a body and the charitable company's trustees as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

1 Company information

The principal activity of Jewish Futures Trust Limited is the advancement of Jewish education and culture. The company is registered as a charitable company limited by guarantee (company number: 07884678, charity number 1151066). It is incorporated and domiciled in the UK. The address of the registered office is 379 Hendon Way, London, NW4 3LP.

2 Accounting Policies

a. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention and in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice, Accounting and Reporting by Charities (SORP 2015), applicable UK accounting standards including the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102), and the Companies Act 2006. The company meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS 102. Assets and liabilities are initially recognised at historical cost or transaction value unless otherwise stated in the relevant accounting policy notes. The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are as follows:

b. Basis of Consolidation

Consolidated financial statements have been prepared in respect of Jewish Futures Trust Ltd and its subsidiaries Forum for Jewish Leadership Ltd, Jroots Ltd, Aish Hatorah UK Ltd, Klal Chazon Ltd Give It Forward Today Ltd and Jlink Ltd. No separate SOFA or Income and Expenditure Account have been presented for the Charity alone as permitted by the Companies Act 2006 and the Charities SORP 2015. Both parent and all subsidiaries have the same reporting date of 31 December 2022 with the exception of JLink Ltd (dormant company) which has a reporting date of 28 February 2023.

c. Going Concern

The Charitable group currently has assets that exceed its liabilities. In addition, the Trustees are expecting to generate a surplus for the year ended 31 December 2023 reflecting continuing control on expenditure and support from donors. Having reviewed the financial position of the Charity, the Trustees consider that, with current cash resources, general reserves and the potential appeal for fundraising, there are no material uncertainties about the Charity's ability to continue as a going concern and have reasonable expectations that the Charity has adequate resources to continue its digital activities for the foreseeable future. Accordingly, they continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the annual financial statements.

d. Income

All incoming resources are included on the Statement of Financial Activities when the Charity is legally entitled to the income and the amount can be quantified with reasonable accuracy.

e. Expenditure

Cost of fundraising activities are those costs incurred in attracting voluntary income.

Charitable activities include expenditure associated with the delivery of its activities and include both the direct costs and support costs relating to these activities.

Governance costs include those costs associated with meeting the constitutional and statutory requirements of the Charity and include the independent examination fees and costs linked to the strategic management of the charity.

Support costs include related staff remuneration, premises costs, travel costs and core professional fees. These costs have been allocated to the expenditure categories based on the management's estimate of the proportion of time and resources consumed by each of the key activities of the charity.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

f. Liability Recognition

Liabilities are recognised as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the Charity to the expenditure.

g. Tangible Fixed Assets

Tangible fixed assets are stated at cost less depreciation. Depreciation is provided at rates calculated to write off the costs of fixed assets, less their estimated residual value, over their expected useful lives on the following bases:

Improvements to leasehold property	- Over the term of the lease
Plant and equipment	- 25% reducing balance
Fixtures and fittings	- 25% reducing balance/33% straight line
Motor vehicles	- 25% reducing balance

Assets greater than £1,000 are capitalised.

h. Heritage Assets

The subsidiary, Aish Hatorah UK Ltd, owns religious scrolls. These assets are untarnished and used to further the charity's objectives. Heritage assets are included in the Balance Sheet at cost. Their carrying amounts are reviewed where evidence of impairment exists and reduced where an impairment is deemed to have incurred.

In accordance with FRS102, depreciation is not provided on heritage assets as they are considered to have indefinite lives. The cost of maintenance and repair of heritage assets is written off in the year incurred.

i. Translation of Foreign Currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at rates of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date.

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at the rate ruling on the date of the transaction.

Exchange gains and losses are recognised in the Statement of Financial Activities.

j. Operating Leases

Rentals under operating leases are charged to the Statement of Financial Activities on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Benefits received and receivable as an incentive to sign an operating lease are recognised on a straight-line basis over the period until the date the rent is expected to be adjusted to the prevailing market rate.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

2 Accounting Policies (continued)k. Financial Instruments

The Company holds only financial assets and financial liabilities of a kind that qualify as basic financial instruments. Basic financial instruments include debtors and creditors. Debtors and creditors are initially recognised at transaction value and subsequently measured at fair value. Note 21 provides more information on financial instruments where future cash flows are anticipated, with financial assets referring to debtor balances excluding prepayments, and financial liabilities referring to all creditor balances excluding deferred income and other taxation and social security.

l. Government Grants

Grants are accounted for under the performance model as permitted by the charity SORP. Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme grant income was therefore recognised on a straight-line basis over the furlough period for each relevant employee, as was Kick Start job creation income during the year.

3 Key Judgements and Estimates

In the application of the Company's accounting policies, which are described in note 2, Trustees are required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and underlying assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an on-going basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects the current and future periods.

The Trustees consider that there are no material judgements in applying accounting policies or key sources of estimation uncertainty.

Trustees' Report

The trustees, who are also directors of the charity for the purposes of the Companies Act, submit their annual report and the financial statements of the Jewish Futures Trust Group for the year ended 31 December 2021. The trustees confirm that the annual report and financial statements of the company comply with current statutory requirements, the requirements of the company's governing document and the provisions of the Statement of Recommended Practice (SORP) "Accounting and Reporting by Charities" issued in March 2005.

Legal and administrative information set out on page 1 forms part of this report.

Structure, Governance and Finance

The company is registered as a charitable company limited by guarantee and was set up by a Memorandum of Association on 16 December 2011. The charity's objects are set out below in the Charity's Objectives and Activities.

The trustees, who are also the directors for the purpose of company law, and who served during the year are listed on page 1. None of the trustees have any beneficial interest in the company. All of the trustees are members of the company and guarantee to contribute £1 in the event of a winding up. The Directors who served in the year were J Benarroch, S Farhi, D Hammelburger; K Harris; E Lee; E Misrahi; D Morris; S Neerkin; N Schiff and D Sobel.

The Board of Trustees is responsible for the overall governance, policy and strategic direction of Jewish Futures Trust. The members of the Board of Trustees have the legal responsibility for the operations of the charity and the use of resources in accordance with the objects of the charity. The appointment and training of a new trustee is subject to the oversight of current trustees.

There are no specific restrictions imposed by the governing document concerning the way the charity can operate.

Jewish Futures Trust has been a driving force in incubating and nurturing new educational initiatives and establishing and building other independent UK charities in the field of education and social action. These charities include Give It Forward Today, Jroots, Forum for Jewish Leadership, Chazak, Klal-Chazon, Aish Hatorah UK. In this respect, Jewish Futures Trust aims to encourage aspirational strategic thinking for each organisation as well as achieve effective economies of scale through the sharing of both innovation, resources and best practises between all the charities. During the course of the year the Company provided central head office services to the subsidiary charities as detailed in the notes to the accounts, at cost, to enable the group to benefit from economies of scale. It encouraged group charities to use the resources of sister charities to benefit from their expertise, in furtherance of each other's' charitable objectives.

Neil Schiff has helped to establish charities in USA and Israel (JFT – Jewish Futures Foundation Inc in USA and JFT Netzach in Israel), with similar public benefit objectives to develop educational, religious and cultural programmes. Jewish Futures Trust and sister charities are encouraged to undertake initiatives and activities in conjunction with these charities to mutually benefit each other.

Many hundreds of volunteers are identified and deployed across all of the group charities to fulfil some educational and operational activities such as in GIFT, whose prime objective is to encourage members of the public to give up their time to help other people, and in FJL, Aish and Chazak where part of their remits are to nurture youth leadership.

Charity's Objectives and Activities

The principal objects of the charity are exclusively to further, for the public benefit, the following charitable purposes:

- The advancement of Jewish connection, education and culture;
- The sharing of values that build good citizenship, social responsibility and goodness in society;
- To generate and incubate new educational initiatives that will further ensure a vibrant Jewish future;
- The promotion of the efficiency and effectiveness of charities and effective use of charitable resources through the facilitation of both creative and operational synergies between educational charities sharing a similar outlook and approach, thereby availing considerable overhead savings and calling for sharing of best practice; and
- The furtherance of such other charitable purposes that the directors may from time to time in their absolute discretion think fit.

Initially the primary aim of the charity was only to educate young Jewish people in the UK. Over the past few years the educational remit has widened to allow for a broader spectrum of the community to benefit from the educational expertise and experience of the organisation. The core of the educational philosophy is to share with young people a sense of moral responsibility and ethical values that instil a sense of pride in Jewish heritage as well as upright citizenship in wider society. The charity goes about achieving this objective through regular educational, social and religious events across the UK, alongside numerous overseas educational programmes at key points in the year.

Achievements and Performance

Jewish Futures Trust is the sole member and has legal control over 6 independent charities and companies: Jroots, Give It Forward Today, Aish Hatorah UK, Forum for Jewish Leadership, Chazak, Klal Chazon. These set of accounts consolidate the results of all these entities.

The main achievements of the Charity in the period under review include:

- In the wake of the lockdown under the 2020 Covid-19 Pandemic, the Charity continued to develop and support its group charities, educational programming “on line” as well as the creation of numerous socially distanced, innovative educational opportunities;
- Supporting its group charities to make effective savings on their cost bases to maximise the economic usage of their fundraising resources;
- Providing resource optimisation alongside best governance practises, health and safety advice and financial guidance, for each charity, following ever changing government legislation and regulations;
- Delivering consultancy and support for each group charity to help them design and implement successful online fundraising campaigns during the Covid-19 period, including Gift, Aish, Klal Chazon and Chazak.
- The ongoing development of systems and processes in operations, procurement and finance which has led to considerable cost savings and administrative efficiencies and the strengthening of finance processes and governance;
- Expanding The Netzach Jewish Leadership Institute;
- The continued incubation of outreach projects Ta'am (promoting cultural and culinary programmes) and Shelanu (engaging with Israeli citizens working in London and a range of activities to support the community during Lockdown).

Fundraising

Jewish Futures Trust group is committed to the highest standards in fundraising. At all times the Charity aims to ensure that its processes and staff are respectful, open, honest and accountable to our supporters and the public.

Jewish Futures Trust is a medium sized charity that principally raises funds from individuals, family trusts and foundations, and companies who have a connection with and support the work of the charity. Its approach is generally on a personal level, but the group also raises funds through community events and activities.

Fundraising approaches made by Jewish Futures Trust are personal and targeted, focussed on those individuals and institutions who have expressed interest in its work. The Company does not engage in large scale fundraising activities like mass mailings, unsolicited telephone fundraising or door-to-door campaigns. This approach has expanded under the guidance of Jewish Futures Trust for each charity out of necessities dictated by the Covid-19 restrictions

Jewish Futures Trust has a small fundraising team. The Chief Executive and Chief Operating Officer are responsible for the day to management of fundraising activities. The Trustees provide oversight of fundraising strategy and delivery. The Fundraising Team receive regular training and guidance and aim to adhere to methods of best practise including the Fundraising Regulator's Code of Fundraising Practice.

Under no circumstances does The Company share personal information of its supporters for the purposes of third-party marketing or processing.

There have been no complaints about fundraising activities reported in the year to 31 December 2021, or subsequently.

Jewish Futures Trust and its group charities have used two third party organisations to help raise funds for matched funding, targeted appeals, Causematch and CharityExtra, that has special technology and know how to run 24-hour telethon campaigns. These campaigns are targeted at the charities known database of supporters. The relationship with the third-party organisation is monitored by the Fundraising Team.

Financial Review

Against the backdrop the Covid-19 pandemic, which challenged the fundraising capabilities of all charities, the group successfully raised £7.099m through fundraising activities (2020: £7.311m) and, generated participant contributions for post lockdown trips and events of £0.725m (2020: £1.393m). In addition, the Group benefited from the Job Retention Scheme and applied for grants of £464,479 from the government scheme (2020: £699,697) as well as £31,527 from the Kickstart job creation scheme

Total incoming resources for the year were £8.353m. (2020: £9.422m) and resources expended totalled £7.750m. (2020: £7.639m) resulting in net surplus for the Group of £0.602m (2020: £1.783m). The group finished the year with total net funds of £3.435m (2020: £2.832m). At the year end the Group had total free reserves of £3.122m (2020: £2.529m).

The group is supported by a broad spectrum of donors from across the community, ranging from grassroots student-level program participants and alumni to a broad range of philanthropists who partner with the charities in the group and help encourage their activities.

Most fundraising is done through direct relationships with our partners and through effective communication of the importance of our work to the wider audience of our supporters.

All of the group charities had to innovate their fundraising processes to adapt to the restrictions of the COVID-19 lockdown, and created highly effective online campaigns during the year. It is primarily through these efforts and activities that each charity has achieved a boost to year end reserves, to strengthen their balance sheets and have effective resources for 2022 and future years. The success of the campaigns are a testament to the broadened reach of participants of the online education programmes.

All of the group's expenditure is focused on creating the wide range of successful high-quality educational courses and popular, impactful activities that deliver our stated charitable objectives.

A summary of the results of the subsidiary entities for the year was as follows:

	Total Incoming resources	Total resources expended	Charitable expenditure	Net Surplus/ (Deficit)

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

Key Risks and Uncertainties

The trustees have assessed the major risks to which the charity is exposed and are satisfied that systems are in place to mitigate exposure to the major risks. A reduction in donor base could cause cash flow issues; any delayed receipt of pledged donations income could also potentially cause cash flow issues. The major risks facing the charity are reviewed regularly at management meetings. Regular reviews of cash flow projections and budget forecasts are also undertaken, as well as a continual drive to reduce expenditure and negotiate better terms and rates.

The impact of Covid-19 in 2021

The ongoing COVID-19 crisis significantly impacted upon the Charity's planned activities and programmes. All activities involving social interaction had to stop in March 2020, but the charity was able to move, with remarkable alacrity and professionalism, to digital platforms to deliver events and programmes. The result of this has been a huge increase in educational engagement as evidenced by the table below:

Staff were put on furlough and actions taken to reduce costs of operations to limit the drain on resources. The Covid-19 crisis has impacted on the ability of the Charity to raise funds in the normal way, compared to previous years. However, supporters have recognised that the Charity has still been able to deliver high quality programmes and remain supportive of its work. The Group created a number of successful on-line fundraising campaigns. Fundraising initiatives are still producing appropriate income for the Group.

Management and Trustees are monitoring the Charity cost base on a regular basis to ensure that programme, event and educational costs do not exceed foreseeable income. The Management Team are regularly assessing the operational and logistical capabilities and finance consequences to update plans and budgets.

Reserves

Jewish Futures Trust needs free reserves to enable it to fulfil its charitable obligations and commitments that it enters into. The charity also requires reserves to ensure continuance of these obligations in the eventuality of any unexpected revenue shortfall.

Free reserves are defined by the Charity Commission as unrestricted funds available to spend on the general purposes of the charity and therefore excluding those designated for particular purposes and those already utilised in purchasing tangible fixed assets. Free reserves should not be mistaken for cash reserves. After adjusting unrestricted funds for functional fixed assets free reserves for the Company were in surplus by £649,859 (2020: surplus £423,309).

Jewish Futures Trust policy is to hold free reserves equal to not less than two months and no more than four months normal running costs, approximately £200,000 to £400,000. In the light of Covid-19 crisis, the Charity's short-term objective is to ensure that the combination of cash and liquid assets is sufficient to meet current and anticipated obligations.

Pay policy for key management personnel

Pay and remuneration of key management personnel is determined by a variety of contributory factors, including the size of the charity, the pay scales for each role and the level of experience of the staff member. In addition to this, levels of pay may be affected by the ability to recruit key management personnel and retain them in post, which all coincides with the charity's appointment and pay policies. All amendments to key management personnel's pay and remuneration is discussed and agreed by the trustees.

Plans for the Future

The member organisations of Jewish Futures Trust were all established under the leadership of Rabbi Naftali Schiff over the course of a decade. Since 2018 the trustees have set out to empower each organisational director so that they focused on a more hands on leadership style. Along with the trustees, Rabbi Naftali Schiff, along with the Management Team, have taken on a more strategic and consultative role, in each charity and has been able to embark on further educational and funding opportunities for the Charity and member organisations.

The Charity is tenant of a substantial property in North West London and is progressing with plans toward creating a new educational and cultural centre as a magnet for the inspiration and engagement of the UK Jewish and wider community and as a base for all the Group charities. This will be a ground-breaking, step change for the Group and will involve a large capital fundraising campaign. This will be led by a new committee devoted specially for the purpose.

Public Benefit

The trustees acknowledge the duty in Section 4 of the Charities Act 2011 to have due regard to the Charity Commission's published general and relevant sub-sector guidance on public benefit.

All activities undertaken by the group are for the public benefit. With a focus on providing education, the organisation's operation is very much geared to providing benefit to the Jewish and wider community as is highlighted by the activities reported herein. The core of the educational philosophy is to share with young people a sense of moral responsibility and ethical values that instil a sense of pride in Jewish heritage as well as upright citizenship in wider society. This will also continue to be central to its future plans.

Disclosure of information to Auditors

Each of the directors has confirmed that there is no information of which they are aware which is relevant to the audit, but of which the auditors are unaware. They have further confirmed that they have taken appropriate steps to identify such relevant information and to establish that the auditors are aware of such information.

Statement of Trustees' Responsibilities

The Trustees (who are also directors of Jewish Futures Trust Limited for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards).

Company law requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under company law the Trustees must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and the group and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable group for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- a. select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- b. observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP;
- c. make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- d. state whether applicable UK accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- e. prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in business.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the charitable company's transactions, disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006 and the provisions of the charity's constitution. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Charity and the group and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities. In preparing this report, the Directors have taken advantage of the small companies exemption provided by section 415A of the Companies Act 2006.

- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006 and the Charities Act 2011.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether this gives rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

- the parent company financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit; or
- the trustees were not entitled to prepare the financial statements in accordance with the small companies regime and take advantage of the small companies exemption in preparing the Trustees Annual Report.

Responsibilities of trustees

As explained more fully in the trustees' responsibilities statement set out on page 6, the trustees (who are also the directors of the charitable company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are responsible for assessing the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustees either intend to liquidate the charitable company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

We have been appointed as auditor under section 151 of the Charities Act 2011 and under the Companies Act 2006 and report in accordance with the Acts and relevant regulations made or having effect thereunder

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedAuditors' Report

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below:

We obtained an understanding of the legal and regulatory frameworks within which the charitable company operates, focusing on those laws and regulations that have a direct effect on the determination of material amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The laws and regulations we considered in this context were the the Charities SORP (FRS102) 2019 and Companies Act 2006.

We identified the greatest risk of material impact on the financial statements from irregularities, including fraud, to be the override of controls by management and the recognition of income. Our audit procedures to respond to these risks included enquiries of management about their own identification and assessment of the risks of irregularities, sample testing on the posting of journals, sample testing on income recognised in the accounts and reviewing accounting estimates for biases.

Owing to the inherent limitations of an audit, there is an unavoidable risk that we may not have detected some material misstatements in the financial statements, even though we have properly planned and performed our audit in accordance with auditing standards. We are not responsible for preventing non-compliance and cannot be expected to detect non-compliance with all laws and regulations.

These inherent limitations are particularly significant in the case of misstatement resulting from fraud as this may involve sophisticated schemes designed to avoid detection, including deliberate failure to record transactions, collusion or the provision of intentional misrepresentations.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charitable company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of part 16 of the Companies Act 2006, and to the charitable company's trustees, as a body, in accordance with Part 4 of the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charitable company's members and trustees those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charitable company, the charitable company's members as a body and the charitable company's trustees as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

1 Company information

The principal activity of Jewish Futures Trust Limited is the advancement of Jewish education and culture. The company is registered as a charitable company limited by guarantee (company number: 07884678, charity number 1151066). It is incorporated and domiciled in the UK. The address of the registered office is 379 Hendon Way, London, NW4 3LP.

2 Accounting Policies

a. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention and in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice, Accounting and Reporting by Charities (SORP 2015), applicable UK accounting standards including the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102), and the Companies Act 2006. The company meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS 102. Assets and liabilities are initially recognised at historical cost or transaction value unless otherwise stated in the relevant accounting policy notes. The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are as follows:

b. Basis of Consolidation

Consolidated financial statements have been prepared in respect of Jewish Futures Trust Ltd and its subsidiaries Forum for Jewish Leadership Ltd, Chazak Ltd, Jlink Ltd, Jroots Ltd, Aish Hatorah UK Ltd, Klal Chazon Ltd and Give It Forward Today Ltd. No separate SOFA or Income and Expenditure Account have been presented for the Charity alone as permitted by the Companies Act 2006 and the Charities SORP 2015. Both parent and all subsidiaries have the same reporting date of 31 December 2021 with the exception of JLink Ltd (dormant company) which has a reporting date of 28 February 2022.

c. Going Concern

The Charitable group currently has assets that exceed its liabilities. In addition, the Trustees are expecting to generate a modest surplus for the year ended 31 December 2022 reflecting continuing control on expenditure and support from donors in spite of the slow end to the Covid-19 crisis. Having reviewed the financial position of the Charity, the Trustees consider that, with current cash resources, general reserves and the potential appeal for fundraising, there are no material uncertainties about the Charity's ability to continue as a going concern and have reasonable expectations that the Charity has adequate resources to continue its digital activities for the foreseeable future. Accordingly, they continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the annual financial statements.

d. Income

All incoming resources are included on the Statement of Financial Activities when the Charity is legally entitled to the income and the amount can be quantified with reasonable accuracy.

e. Expenditure

Cost of fundraising activities are those costs incurred in attracting voluntary income.

Charitable activities include expenditure associated with the delivery of its activities and include both the direct costs and support costs relating to these activities.

Governance costs include those costs associated with meeting the constitutional and statutory requirements of the Charity and include the independent examination fees and costs linked to the strategic management of the charity.

Support costs include related staff remuneration, premises costs, travel costs and core professional fees. These costs have been allocated to the expenditure categories based on the management's estimate of the proportion of time and resources consumed by each of the key activities of the charity.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

f. Liability Recognition

Liabilities are recognised as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the Charity to the expenditure.

g. Tangible Fixed Assets

Tangible fixed assets are stated at cost less depreciation. Depreciation is provided at rates calculated to write off the costs of fixed assets, less their estimated residual value, over their expected useful lives on the following bases:

Improvements to leasehold property	- Over the term of the lease
Plant and equipment	- 25% reducing balance
Fixtures and fittings	- 25% reducing balance/33% straight line
Motor vehicles	- 25% reducing balance

Assets greater than £1,000 are capitalised.

h. Heritage Assets

The subsidiary, Aish Hatorah UK Ltd, owns religious scrolls. These assets are untarnished and used to further the charity's objectives. Heritage assets are included in the Balance Sheet at cost. Their carrying amounts are reviewed where evidence of impairment exists and reduced where an impairment is deemed to have incurred.

In accordance with FRS102, depreciation is not provided on heritage assets as they are considered to have indefinite lives. The cost of maintenance and repair of heritage assets is written off in the year incurred.

i. Translation of Foreign Currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at rates of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date.

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at the rate ruling on the date of the transaction.

Exchange gains and losses are recognised in the Statement of Financial Activities.

j. Operating Leases

Rentals under operating leases are charged to the Statement of Financial Activities on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Benefits received and receivable as an incentive to sign an operating lease are recognised on a straight-line basis over the period until the date the rent is expected to be adjusted to the prevailing market rate.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

Notes to the Accounts – 31 December 2021

2 Accounting Policies (continued)k. Financial Instruments

The Company holds only financial assets and financial liabilities of a kind that qualify as basic financial instruments. Basic financial instruments include debtors and creditors. Debtors and creditors are initially recognised at transaction value and subsequently measured at fair value. Note 21 provides more information on financial instruments where future cash flows are anticipated, with financial assets referring to debtor balances excluding prepayments, and financial liabilities referring to all creditor balances excluding deferred income and other taxation and social security.

l. Government Grants

Grants are accounted for under the performance model as permitted by the charity SORP. Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme grant income was therefore recognised on a straight-line basis over the furlough period for each relevant employee, as was Kick Start job creation income during the year.

3 Key Judgements and Estimates

In the application of the Company's accounting policies, which are described in note 2, Trustees are required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and underlying assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an on-going basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects the current and future periods.

The Trustees consider that there are no material judgements in applying accounting policies or key sources of estimation uncertainty.

The appointment and training of a new trustee is subject to the oversight of current trustees.

There are no specific restrictions imposed by the governing document concerning the way the charity can operate.

Jewish Futures Trust has been a driving force in incubating and nurturing new educational initiatives and establishing and building other independent UK charities in the field of education and social action. These charities include Give It Forward Today, Jroots, Forum for Jewish Leadership, Chazak, Klal-Chazon, Aish Hatorah UK. In this respect, Jewish Futures Trust aims to encourage aspirational strategic thinking for each organisation as well as achieve effective economies of scale through the sharing of both innovation, resources and best practises between all the charities. During the course of the year the Company provided central head office services to the subsidiary charities as detailed in the notes to the accounts, at cost, to enable the group to benefit from economies of scale. It encouraged group charities to use the resources of sister charities to benefit from their expertise, in furtherance of each other's' charitable objectives.

Neil Schiff has helped to establish charities in USA and Israel (JFT – Jewish Futures Foundation Inc in USA and JFT Netzach in Israel), with similar public benefit objectives to develop educational, religious and cultural programmes. Jewish Futures Trust and sister charities are encouraged to undertake initiatives and activities in conjunction with these charities to mutually benefit each other.

Many hundreds of volunteers are identified and deployed across all of the group charities to fulfil some educational and operational activities such as in GIFT, whose prime objective is to encourage members of the public to give up their time to help other people, and in FJL, Aish and Chazak where part of their remits are to nurture youth leadership.

Charity's Objectives and Activities

The principal objects of the charity are exclusively to further, for the public benefit, the following charitable purposes:

- The advancement of Jewish connection, education and culture;
- The sharing of values that build good citizenship, social responsibility and goodness in society;
- To generate and incubate new educational initiatives that will further ensure a vibrant Jewish future;
- The promotion of the efficiency and effectiveness of charities and effective use of charitable resources through the facilitation of both creative and operational synergies between educational charities sharing a similar outlook and approach, thereby availing considerable overhead savings and calling for sharing of best practice; and
- The furtherance of such other charitable purposes that the directors may from time to time in their absolute discretion think fit.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

Initially the primary aim of the charity was only to educate young Jewish people in the UK. Over the past few years the educational remit has widened to allow for a broader spectrum of the community to benefit from the educational expertise and experience of the organisation. The core of the educational philosophy is to share with young people a sense of moral responsibility and ethical values that instil a sense of pride in Jewish heritage as well as upright citizenship in wider society. The charity goes about achieving this objective through regular educational, social and religious events across the UK, alongside numerous overseas educational programmes at key points in the year.

Achievements and Performance

Jewish Futures Trust is the sole member and has legal control over 6 independent charities and companies: Jroots, Give It Forward Today, Aish Hatorah UK, Forum for Jewish Leadership, Chazak, Klal Chazon. These set of accounts consolidate the results of all these entities.

The main achievements of the Charity in the period under review include:

- Immediate adaptation to the stark reality of lockdown under the 2020 Covid-19 Pandemic by the highly professional and successful moving of all its, and group charities, educational programming “on line” as well as the creation of numerous socially distanced, innovative educational opportunities;
- Helping all the charities make significant savings on their cost bases to maximise the economic usage of their fundraising resources;
- Providing resource optimisation alongside best governance practises, health and safety advice and financial guidance, for each charity, following ever changing government legislation and regulations;
- Delivering consultancy and support for each group charity to help them design and implement successful online fundraising campaigns during the Covid-19 period, including Gift, Aish, Jroots, Klal Chazon and Chazak.
- The ongoing development of systems and processes in operations, procurement and finance which has led to considerable cost savings and administrative efficiencies and the strengthening of finance processes and governance;
- The launch of a new initiative called Netzach Jewish Leadership Institute;
- The continued incubation of outreach projects Ta'am (promoting cultural and culinary programmes) and Shelanu (engaging with Israeli citizens working in London and a range of activities to support the community during Lockdown).

Fundraising

Jewish Futures Trust group is committed to the highest standards in fundraising. At all times the Charity aims to ensure that its processes and staff are respectful, open, honest and accountable to our supporters and the public.

Jewish Futures Trust is a medium sized charity that principally raises funds from individuals, family trusts and foundations, and companies who have a connection with and support the work of the charity. Its approach is generally on a personal level, but the group also raises funds through community events and activities.

Fundraising approaches made by Jewish Futures Trust are personal and targeted, focussed on those individuals and institutions who have expressed interest in its work. The Company does not engage in large scale fundraising activities like mass mailings, unsolicited telephone fundraising or door-to-door campaigns. This approach has expanded under the guidance of Jewish Futures Trust for each charity out of necessities dictated by the Covid-19 restrictions

Jewish Futures Trust has a small fundraising team. The Chief Executive and Chief Operating Officer are responsible for the day to management of fundraising activities. The Trustees provide oversight of fundraising strategy and delivery. The Fundraising Team receive regular training and guidance and aim to adhere to methods of best practise including the Fundraising Regulator's Code of Fundraising Practice.

Under no circumstances does The Company share personal information of its supporters for the purposes of third-party marketing or processing.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

There have been no complaints about fundraising activities reported in the year to 31 December 2020, or subsequently.

Jewish Futures Trust and its group charities have used two third party organisations to help raise funds for matched funding, targeted appeals, Causematch and CharityExtra, that has special technology and know how to run 24-hour telethon campaigns. These campaigns are targeted at the charities known database of supporters. The relationship with the third-party organisation is monitored by the Fundraising Team.

Financial Review

Against the backdrop the Covid-19 pandemic, which challenged the fundraising capabilities of all charities, the group successfully raised £7.311m through fundraising activities (2019: £6.392m) and, generated participant contributions (mostly pre-Lockdown) for trips and events of £1.393m (2019: £3.166m). In addition, the Group benefited from the Job Retention Scheme and applied for grants of £699,697 from the government scheme (2019 £nil).

Total incoming resources for the year were £9.422m (2019: £9.590m) and resources expended totalled £7,639m (2019: £9.409m) resulting in net surplus for the Group of £1.783m (2019: £180,603). The group finished the year with total net funds of £2.832m (2019: £1,049,718). At the year end the Group had total free reserves of £2.529m (2019: £666,278).

The group is supported by a broad spectrum of donors from across the community, ranging from grassroots student-level program participants and alumni to a broad range of philanthropists who partner with the charities in the group and help encourage their activities.

Most fundraising is done through direct relationships with our partners and through effective communication of the importance of our work to the wider audience of our supporters.

All of the group charities had to innovate their fundraising processes to adapt to the restrictions of the COVID-19 lockdown, and created highly effective online campaigns during the year. It is primarily through these efforts and activities that each charity has achieved a boost to year end reserves, to strengthen their balance sheets and have effective resources for 2021 and future years. The success of the campaigns are a testament to the broadened reach of participants of the online education programmes.

All of the group's expenditure is focused on creating the wide range of successful high-quality educational courses and popular, impactful activities that deliver our stated charitable objectives.

A summary of the results of the subsidiary entities for the year was as follows:

	Total Incoming resources £	Total resources expended £	Charitable expenditure £	Net Surplus/ (Deficit) £

The trustees have assessed the major risks to which the charity is exposed and are satisfied that systems are in place to mitigate exposure to the major risks. A reduction in donor base could cause cash flow issues; any delayed receipt of pledged donations income could also potentially cause cash flow issues. The major risks facing the charity are reviewed regularly at management meetings. Regular reviews of cash flow projections and budget forecasts are also undertaken, as well as a continual drive to reduce expenditure and negotiate better terms and rates.

The impact of Covid-19 in 2020

The ongoing COVID-19 crisis significantly impacted upon the Charity's planned activities and programmes. All activities involving social interaction had to stop in March 2020, but the charity was able to move, with remarkable alacrity and professionalism, to digital platforms to deliver events and programmes. The result of this has been a huge increase in educational engagement as evidenced by the table below:

Staff were put on furlough and actions taken to reduce costs of operations to limit the drain on resources. The Covid-19 crisis has impacted on the ability of the Charity to raise funds in the normal way, compared to previous years. However, supporters have recognised that the Charity has still been able to deliver high quality programmes and remain supportive of its work. The Group created a number of successful on-line fundraising campaigns. Fundraising initiatives are still producing appropriate income for the Group.

Management and Trustees are monitoring the Charity cost base on a regular basis to ensure that programme, event and educational costs do not exceed foreseeable income. The Management Team are regularly assessing the operational and logistical capabilities and finance consequences to update plans and budgets.

Reserves

Jewish Futures Trust needs free reserves to enable it to fulfil its charitable obligations and commitments that it enters into. The charity also requires reserves to ensure continuance of these obligations in the eventuality of any unexpected revenue shortfall.

Free reserves are defined by the Charity Commission as unrestricted funds available to spend on the general purposes of the charity and therefore excluding those designated for particular purposes and those already utilised in purchasing tangible fixed assets. Free reserves should not be mistaken for cash reserves. After adjusting unrestricted funds for functional fixed assets free reserves for the Company were in surplus by £423,309 (2019: surplus £345,636).

Jewish Futures Trust policy is to hold free reserves equal to not less than two months and no more than four months normal running costs, approximately £200,000 to £400,000. In the light of Covid-19 crisis, the Charity's short-term objective is to ensure that the combination of cash and liquid assets is sufficient to meet current and anticipated obligations.

Pay policy for key management personnel

Pay and remuneration of key management personnel is determined by a variety of contributory factors, including the size of the charity, the pay scales for each role and the level of experience of the staff member. In addition to this, levels of pay may be affected by the ability to recruit key management personnel and retain them in post, which all coincides with the charity's appointment and pay policies. All amendments to key management personnel's pay and remuneration is discussed and agreed by the trustees.

Plans for the Future

The member organisations of Jewish Futures Trust were all established under the leadership of Rabbi Naftali Schiff over the course of a decade. Since 2018 the trustees have set out to empower each organisational director so that they focused on a more hands on leadership style. Along with the trustees, Rabbi Naftali Schiff, along with the Management Team, have taken on a more strategic and consultative role, in each charity and has been able to embark on further educational and funding opportunities for the charity and member organisations.

The Charity is tenant of a substantial property in North West London and is progressing with plans toward creating a new educational and cultural centre as a magnet for the inspiration and engagement of the UK Jewish and wider community and as a base for all the Group charities. This will be a ground-breaking, step change for the Group and will involve a large capital fundraising campaign. This will be led by a new committee devoted specially for the purpose.

Public Benefit

The trustees acknowledge the duty in Section 4 of the Charities Act 2011 to have due regard to the Charity Commission's published general and relevant sub-sector guidance on public benefit.

All activities undertaken by the group are for the public benefit. With a focus on providing education, the organisation's operation is very much geared to providing benefit to the Jewish and wider community as is highlighted by the activities reported herein. The core of the educational philosophy is to share with young people a sense of moral responsibility and ethical values that instil a sense of pride in Jewish heritage as well as upright citizenship in wider society. This will also continue to be central to its future plans.

Disclosure of information to Auditors

Each of the directors has confirmed that there is no information of which they are aware which is relevant to the audit, but of which the auditors are unaware. They have further confirmed that they have taken appropriate steps to identify such relevant information and to establish that the auditors are aware of such information.

Statement of Trustees' Responsibilities

The Trustees (who are also directors of Jewish Futures Trust Limited for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the Trustees' Annual Report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards).

Company law requires the Trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under company law the Trustees must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charitable company and the group and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charitable group for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the Trustees are required to:

- a. select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- b. observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP;
- c. make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- d. state whether applicable UK accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- e. prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charitable company will continue in business.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the charitable company's transactions, disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006 and the provisions of the charity's constitution. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and the group and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities. In preparing this report, the Directors have taken advantage of the small companies exemption provided by section 415A of the Companies Act 2006.

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedAuditors' Report*Independent Auditor's Report to the Members and Trustees of Jewish Futures Trust Limited*Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Jewish Futures Trust Limited (the "charitable company") for the year ended 31 December 2020 which comprise Consolidated Statement of Financial Activities, Consolidated Balance Sheet, Company Balance Sheet, Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows and notes to the financial statements, including significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including Financial Reporting Standard 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the group's and the charitable company's affairs as at 31 December 2020 and of the group's incoming resources and application of resources, including its income and expenditure for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006 and the Charities Act 2011.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the group in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the trustees' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the trustees with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The trustees are responsible for the other information contained within the annual report. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether this gives rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedAuditors' Report*Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion based on the work undertaken in the course of our audit

- the information given in the trustees' report, which includes the directors' report prepared for the purposes of company law, for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the directors' report included within the trustees' report have been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In light of the knowledge and understanding of the group and the charitable company and their environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the directors' report included within the trustees' report.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- the parent company has not kept adequate accounting records; or
- the parent company financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of trustees' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit; or
- the trustees were not entitled to prepare the financial statements in accordance with the small companies regime and take advantage of the small companies exemption in preparing the Trustees Annual Report.

Responsibilities of trustees

As explained more fully in the trustees' responsibilities statement set out on page 6, the trustees (who are also the directors of the charitable company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the trustees determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are responsible for assessing the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the trustees either intend to liquidate the charitable company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

We have been appointed as auditor under section 151 of the Charities Act 2011 and under the Companies Act 2006 and report in accordance with the Acts and relevant regulations made or having effect thereunder

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Jewish Futures Trust LimitedAuditors' Report

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below:

We obtained an understanding of the legal and regulatory frameworks within which the charitable company operates, focusing on those laws and regulations that have a direct effect on the determination of material amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The laws and regulations we considered in this context were the Charities SORP (FRS102) 2019 and Companies Act 2006.

We identified the greatest risk of material impact on the financial statements from irregularities, including fraud, to be the override of controls by management and the recognition of income. Our audit procedures to respond to these risks included enquiries of management about their own identification and assessment of the risks of irregularities, sample testing on the posting of journals, sample testing on income recognised in the accounts and reviewing accounting estimates for biases.

Owing to the inherent limitations of an audit, there is an unavoidable risk that we may not have detected some material misstatements in the financial statements, even though we have properly planned and performed our audit in accordance with auditing standards. We are not responsible for preventing non-compliance and cannot be expected to detect non-compliance with all laws and regulations.

These inherent limitations are particularly significant in the case of misstatement resulting from fraud as this may involve sophisticated schemes designed to avoid detection, including deliberate failure to record transactions, collusion or the provision of intentional misrepresentations.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charitable company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of part 16 of the Companies Act 2006, and to the charitable company's trustees, as a body, in accordance with Part 4 of the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charitable company's members and trustees those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charitable company, the charitable company's members as a body and the charitable company's trustees as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

1 Company information

The principal activity of Jewish Futures Trust Limited is the advancement of Jewish education and culture. The company is registered as a charitable company limited by guarantee (company number: 07884678, charity number 1151066). It is incorporated and domiciled in the UK. The address of the registered office is 379 Hendon Way, London, NW4 3LP.

2 Accounting Policies

a. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention and in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice, Accounting and Reporting by Charities (SORP 2015), applicable UK accounting standards including the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102), and the Companies Act 2006. The company meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS 102. Assets and liabilities are initially recognised at historical cost or transaction value unless otherwise stated in the relevant accounting policy notes. The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are as follows:

b. Basis of Consolidation

Consolidated financial statements have been prepared in respect of Jewish Futures Trust Ltd and its subsidiaries Forum for Jewish Leadership Ltd, Chazak Ltd, Jlink Ltd, Jroots Ltd, Aish Hatorah UK Ltd, Klal Chazon Ltd and Give It Forward Today Ltd. No separate SOFA or Income and Expenditure Account have been presented for the charity alone as permitted by the Companies Act 2006 and the Charities SORP 2015. Both parent and all subsidiaries have the same reporting date of 31 December 2020 with the exception of JLink Ltd (dormant company) which has a reporting date of 28 February 2021.

c. Going Concern

The Charitable group currently has assets that exceed its liabilities. In addition, the Trustees are expecting to generate a modest surplus for the year ended 31 December 2021 reflecting continuing control on expenditure and support from donors in spite of the Covid-19 crisis. Having reviewed the financial position of the Charity, the Trustees consider that, with current cash resources, general reserves, the potential appeal for fundraising and a reduced level of overheads, there are no material uncertainties about the charity's ability to continue as a going concern and have reasonable expectations that the charity has adequate resources to continue its digital activities for the foreseeable future. Accordingly, they continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the annual financial statements.

d. Income

All incoming resources are included on the Statement of Financial Activities when the charity is legally entitled to the income and the amount can be quantified with reasonable accuracy.

e. Expenditure

Cost of fundraising activities are those costs incurred in attracting voluntary income.

Charitable activities include expenditure associated with the delivery of its activities and include both the direct costs and support costs relating to these activities.

Governance costs include those costs associated with meeting the constitutional and statutory requirements of the charity and include the independent examination fees and costs linked to the strategic management of the charity.

Support costs include related staff remuneration, premises costs, travel costs and core professional fees. These costs have been allocated to the expenditure categories based on the management's estimate of the proportion of time and resources consumed by each of the key activities of the charity.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

f. Liability Recognition

Liabilities are recognised as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the charity to the expenditure.

g. Tangible Fixed Assets

Tangible fixed assets are stated at cost less depreciation. Depreciation is provided at rates calculated to write off the costs of fixed assets, less their estimated residual value, over their expected useful lives on the following bases:

Improvements to leasehold property	- Over the term of the lease
Plant and equipment	- 25% reducing balance
Fixtures and fittings	- 25% reducing balance/33% straight line
Motor vehicles	- 25% reducing balance

Assets greater than £1,000 are capitalised.

h. Heritage Assets

The subsidiary, Aish Hatorah UK Ltd, owns religious scrolls. These assets are untarnished and used to further the charity's objectives. Heritage assets are included in the Balance Sheet at cost. Their carrying amounts are reviewed where evidence of impairment exists and reduced where an impairment is deemed to have incurred.

In accordance with FRS102, depreciation is not provided on heritage assets as they are considered to have indefinite lives. The cost of maintenance and repair of heritage assets is written off in the year incurred.

i. Translation of Foreign Currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at rates of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date.

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at the rate ruling on the date of the transaction.

Exchange gains and losses are recognised in the Statement of Financial Activities.

j. Operating Leases

Rentals under operating leases are charged to the Statement of Financial Activities on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Benefits received and receivable as an incentive to sign an operating lease are recognised on a straight-line basis over the period until the date the rent is expected to be adjusted to the prevailing market rate.

Jewish Futures Trust Limited

Notes to the Accounts – 31 December 2020

2 Accounting Policies (continued)k. Financial Instruments

The Company holds only financial assets and financial liabilities of a kind that qualify as basic financial instruments. Basic financial instruments include debtors and creditors. Debtors and creditors are initially recognised at transaction value and subsequently measured at fair value. Note 20 provides more information on financial instruments where future cash flows are anticipated, with financial assets referring to debtor balances excluding prepayments, and financial liabilities referring to all creditor balances excluding deferred income and other taxation and social security.

l. Government Grants

Grants are accounted for under the performance model as permitted by the charity SORP. Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme grant income is therefore recognised on a straight-line basis over the furlough period for each relevant employee.

3 Key Judgements and Estimates

In the application of the Company's accounting policies, which are described in note 2, Trustees are required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and underlying assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an on-going basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects the current and future periods.

The Trustees consider that there are no material judgements in applying accounting policies or key sources of estimation uncertainty.

Aish Hatorah UK, a group charity, owns religious scrolls that originally cost £48,000. They were classified as Heritage Assets in the year ended 31 December 2011 and until 2018 there have been no changes needed to be reflected in the accounts, to their valuation or status.

During 2018 one of the scrolls was gifted to another charity and its historic cost, £24,000, was treated as a charitable donation.

During 2018 a supporter made donations to the Charity to commission a new religious scroll, which was completed in 2019. The costs to write the scroll have been added to the asset account. At 31 December 2020 Aish Hatorah has control over 2 scrolls.
