Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144 of the Charities Act 2011 (the Charities Act) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the Charities Act,
- to follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission (under section 145(5)(b) of the Charities Act, and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement My examination was carried out in accordance with general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair' view and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention (other than that disclosed below *)

1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in, any material respect, the requirements:
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the Charities Act; and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Charities Act have not been met; or
2. to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

- policies and procedures adopted for the induction and training of trustees;
- the charity’s organisational structure and any wider network with which the charity works;
- relationship with any related parties;
- trustees’ consideration of major risks and the system and procedures to manage them.

The Bible Trust has a Safeguarding Policy, last reviewed in August 2023, to protect everyone who is in any way connected with the work of the Trust.

Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The advancement of the Christian religion, in particular but not exclusively by creating and distributing Christian literature in traditional (printed) and electronic (digital) formats either at cost or free of charge.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

Booklets introducing the gospels from the Bible have been published and distributed through churches and other organisations showing the relevance of the Christian religion to all members of the public.

A completely new Easy-Read Bible and Gospel Story has been created comprising 365 selections retold in story form from the English Bible printed on dyslexic-friendly pastel coloured pages.

‘Meet Jesus’ books have been prepared and Bible Gospels continue to be produced in an easy reading format.

Books and publications produced by the Bible Trust and related organisations, such as a commentary under the title ‘Open your Bible’, are also available on-line through various web-site companies including the Bible Trust web-site, www.bibletrust.org.uk

The sale and distribution of selected republished works of Prof. FF Bruce has continued in conjunction with F.F. Bruce Copyright International based in Nashville, www.ffbruce.com.

Further containers of Easy-Read Bibles and Bible teaching resources have been sent free of charge to Oasis South Africa for distribution by churches and other Christian and educational agencies throughout Africa and also to the OM ship ‘Logos’ via the USA.

The Trustees have read and had regard to the guidance on public benefit issued by the Charity Commission and have considered this and reviewed it at Trustees’ meetings to ensure that the projects developed by the Trust are relevant and topical for the public benefit.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include

Section E Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

Adequate reserves are retained at all times to meet all reasonable anticipated liabilities. Expenditure is not incurred by the Trust until adequate income has been received.

Details of any funds materially in deficit

Further financial review details (Optional information)

You may choose to include additional information, where relevant about:

- the charity's principal sources of funds (including any fundraising);
- how expenditure has supported the key objectives of the charity;
- investment policy and objectives including any ethical investment policy adopted.

Requests for resources for distribution in Africa have grown substantially during this period.

The work of the Bible Trust continues to be supported by Robert & Annabelle Hicks in their personal capacity.
