Structure, Governance, and management

Churches Together in Bedfordshire (CTB) is a constituent part of Churches Together in England and both bodies work in tandem to foster ecumenical links and good practice across the County of Bedfordshire. The group meets usually three times a year with an Annual General Meeting open to all in the county interested in the work of ecumenism. CTB is supported by the following denominations:

Church of England
Methodist Church
United Reformed Church
Roman Catholic Church
Baptist Union
Salvation Army
Society of Friends
Congregational Federation

Bedfordshire Ecumenical Committee (BEC) is governed by a Constitution that was adopted on the 23rd January 2013 and registered with the Charity Commission on 3rd April 2013 as a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO)

Trustees' report

For the year ended December 2020

The trustees meet at least 4 times per year with other members of Churches together in Bedfordshire to discuss the strategic direction of the charity and to monitor progress both financially and in terms of successful delivery of its activities.

The day-to-day management is undertaken by the trustees and members.

Objectives and Activities

As stated in the trust deed:

To Advance the Christian religion and education by

(a) participating in the life and works of Churches together in England (CTE) as an intermediate body

(b) Sponsoring Local Ecumenical Partnerships

(c) Encouraging those bodies and individuals in the churches who share a similar remit or concern to work together.

(d) Taking any further actions which may encourage the development of the Ecumenical Agenda

To relieve financial hardship anywhere in the World by making grants from funds raised directly or coordinated fundraising efforts by member churches.

Achievements and Performance

The pandemic meant that our usual round of meetings was much curtailed. The Forum met this year via Zoom and was addressed by the Reverend Paul Goodliff, outgoing secretary of Churches Together in England. It was a year in which our churches have experienced great change and have found new ways of worshipping and witnessing, and a year in which there have been new opportunities for service and mission. CTB met only once during the course of the year, but the Trustees have met three times, monitoring progress between committee meetings and dealing with specific issues as requested by the committee.

Financial Review

Trustees' report

For the year ended December 2020

The trustee's records of the financial transactions undertaken by the charity from which the annual statements of accounts are prepared have been maintained as required by Part 6 of the Charities Act 1993, as amended by the Charities Act 2006.

Income during the year did not reach the threshold requiring an independent auditor.

At the time of writing the charity does not have a reserves policy.

The charity does not hold any fixed assets.

Duty of prudence - the trustees are aware that the charity should remain solvent, and assets should only be used to further the purposes and interests of the charity

This report was approved by the Trustees on.....24/1/.....2023
