Governance and Management

The Evan Roberts Institute is a Charitable Incorporated Organisation which is governed in accordance with the Institute's constitution dated 28th June 2013. The Institute's affairs are managed by its three founding trustees, all of whom are volunteers offering their skills, knowledge and experience to the Institute without charge.

Aims and Objectives

The aims and objectives of the Institute are as follows:

- The advancement of Christianity in Wales for the benefit of the public through the preservation of sacred and spiritually significant sites.
- To educate the public in the subject of Welsh Christian heritage.

The Institute's motto 'Respice et Prospice' reflects its goal that in reminding and educating people of the rich Christian history of Wales, people will be inspired to look forward to experiencing and building the Christian heritage of the future.

Evan Roberts

The great Welsh revivalist Evan Roberts, who was an instrument used by God in the last nationwide revival in Wales in 1904, was the inspiration for the establishment of the Institute which bears his name. His life and work had a remarkable and global impact which put Wales on the centre stage of Christianity and gave it a special place in the history of the Church worldwide.

Achievements and Future Plans

The Evan Roberts Institute has enjoyed a successful year promoting Welsh Christian heritage to people from Wales, the wider United Kingdom and around the world.

Following a hiatus of activity in 2021, the relaxation of Covid-19 restrictions in early 2022 enabled the Institute to fund and facilitate the delivery of both the St David's Parliamentary Prayer Breakfast in the Welsh Parliament's Pierhead Building and an International Reception on the eve of the Breakfast in the Senedd. Both events took place in the week of St David's Day on the 2nd and 3rd of March. More than 20 nations were represented at the events and both the First Minister of Wales and Llywydd were present.

A Friends of the Institute Dinner was also held at the St David's Hotel in Cardiff on the 2nd March 2022. More than 70 guests were in attendance.

The theme for this year's events was 'Welsh Awakenings: Revival and its Impact' and the keynote speakers were Professor Medwin Hughes, Vice-Chancellor of the University of Wales Trinity Saint David, who spoke at the Breakfast, and Paul Williams, Chief Executive Officer of the Bible Society, who spoke at the International Reception. Both the Bible Society and the National Library of Wales displayed items from their archives during the events including the personal diaries of famous Welsh revivalists and historic Welsh Bibles.

In addition to the St David's Parliamentary Prayer Breakfast events, this year the Institute also offered an extended programme to the leaders of other European prayer breakfasts and other international guests. Twelve nations took part in the programme which included visits to the Bible College of Wales in Swansea and Pysgah Chapel in Loughor. During these visits guests learnt about Welsh awakenings and their leaders. An old Bible from Pysgah was presented to the European Fellowship of Prayer Breakfast Leaders to travel as a baton between national prayer events across the continent.

Pysgah Chapel, the reversionary freehold interest of which is owned by the Institute, continues to receive many visitors with numbers on the rise after falling during the pandemic. The Institute continues to be vigilant for other opportunities to acquire Welsh Christian heritage at risk.

The Chair represented the Institute at the European and Finnish National Prayer Breakfasts during the year. Engagement with the Austrian, Nordic-Baltic and European Prayer Breakfasts is planned in 2022. The Institute hopes to send a delegation of Welsh politicians to the latter which will mark its 25th Anniversary in Brussels in December.

Links with theological colleges and universities remain strong with relationships with both the Bible College of Wales and the University of Wales Trinity Saint David prospering.

Plans to hold St David's Parliamentary Prayer Breakfast events in March 2023 are underway.

Financial Performance and Reserves Policy

The Institute covers the costs of its work through donations and the financial support of its trustees. It benefits from a very low cost base and as a consequence is not required to hold large sums in reserves to be financially resilient. After a quiet year in 2021, financial performance for the year ended 31st March 2022 was healthy and puts the Institute in a good position for the future.

The trustees are grateful for the continued, prayerful and practical support of a growing network of friends and partners of the Institute around the world.

1 Accounting Policies

a Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice: Accounting and Reporting by Charities (SORP FRS 102) issued by the Charity Commission, and applicable charity law in the England and Wales. The accruals basis of accounting has been adopted, and the principal accounting policies set out below are applied consistently.

b Fund Accounting

Unrestricted funds are available for use at the discretion of the Institute in furtherance of its charitable objectives. Restricted funds are subjected to restrictions on their expenditure imposed by the donor, or contained in the terms of a grant.

c Incoming Resources

All donations are included in the financial statements for the period in which they were received. All other income is recognised when the Institute becomes entitled to the resources; the trustees are confident that they will receive the resources; and the monetary value can be measured with sufficient reliability.

Most of the management and activity of the Institute is undertaken by volunteers, but the value of this is not included in the financial statements as this voluntary contribution to the work of the Institute is incalculable.

d Resources Expended and Liabilities

Resources expended are recognised in the period to which they are incurred and include attributable taxes which cannot be recovered.

Liabilities are recognised as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the Institute to pay out resources.

e Fixed Assets

Fixed assets are capitalised if they can be used for more than one year and cost £500 or more. They are valued at cost or valuation, less depreciation. A list of fixed assets is maintained in an Asset Register at the Institute's registered office.

Heritage assets may be acquired by agreement of the Trustees in accordance with the Institute's constitution and furtherance of its charitable objects. Access to such assets, including their management and preservation, is a matter for the Trustees and/or any such person(s) or organisation(s) designated as custodian(s) of the assets by the Trustees. Heritage assets may be disposed of by agreement of the Trustees provided that they consider such disposals to be in the interests of the Institute and in accordance with its charitable objects.

2 Donations

The Institute received donations from a number of individuals during the year. None of these donations were restricted for use on particular activities.

3 Income from Charitable Activities

The Institute held a dinner for friends of the charity during the year. The event provided an opportunity for networking and fellowship. Sponsorship and donations from guests raised a total income of £3,507. In addition, a programme of heritage related visits in South Wales was organised for international friends, donations towards these raised a further £960.

4 Gift Aid

The Institute is registered with HM Revenue and Customs for claiming Gift Aid on eligible donations received.

5 Expenditure on Charitable Activities

A summary of expenditure on charitable activities in the year is as follows:

	£
St David's Parliamentary Prayer Events	7,741
Institute Dinner	3,510
Heritage Programme	1,873
Balance as at the end of the year	13,124

6 Grants Awarded

No grants were awarded during the year.

7 Tangible Assets

The Institute owns the freehold of Pisgah Chapel, Loughor. The property is an important heritage asset given its association with the revivalist Evan Roberts and the Welsh Revival of 1904-5. The Institute granted a 50 year lease on Pisgah Chapel to Cornerstone Community Church in 2015. No other tangible assets have been or are held by the Institute. Plans to revalue the asset have been postponed due to market instability during the coronavirus pandemic.
