Introduction

The year covered by this annual report has seen substantial change for LEAH:

- Taking over the ESOL teaching of an established charity
- Appointing a CEO
- Adding capacity and expertise to the Board of Trustees
- Amending our Charitable Objectives to reflect more clearly the work of the charity

These changes build upon the changes at LEAH over many years. LEAH was established in 1982 and registered as a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO) in August 2013. Our longstanding vision is to create 'Inclusion through Language' and our services are specifically designed to unlock the potential of asylum seekers, refugees, and migrants to create positive and rewarding lives for themselves in the UK. This was reflected in our previous Objectives and continues to be so in our amended Objectives which now also emphasise our work to help integrate beneficiaries and to help them become part of their communities and become more resilient:

"To advance the education and integration of asylum seekers, refugees and migrants who do not speak English as a first language, improving their access to support services and future education, employment and volunteering opportunities; and to further such other charitable purposes according to the law of England and Wales as the Trustees see fit"

At the time of writing, we are developing a new Theory of Change and a new Strategic Plan 2026-29.

LEAH delivers free English lessons to those who are unable to attend adult education classes. We are flexible in what we provide: 1:1s and classes, on-line and face to face to suit the diverse backgrounds and unique challenges facing our beneficiaries. They may be living in a women's refuge, experiencing precarious housing, or caring for small children, meaning they are often becoming isolated through language barriers. The focus of our lessons is to empower learners to communicate independently and contribute to their local community in areas of:

- Education
 - Increase confidence and proficiency in English – focused on functional language to navigate transport, shopping, accessing health, education, and society generally
 - Learning about ESOL provision and navigating opportunities to further improve language skills
 - Signposting to ESOL and skills-based courses
 - Visits and speakers to/from local education colleges
 - If parents, learning about and navigating the school system
- Health and wellbeing
 - Helping beneficiaries to access services – navigating online systems
 - Providing information, advice and guidance in accessible language on improving health and wellbeing and accessing local health services and support.
- Employability
 - Developing employability skills
 - Advice and guidance
 - Offering opportunities for volunteering
 - Liaising with Jobcentre Plus

The above helps our beneficiaries integrate into and contribute to the communities they live in.

Until the acquisition of the ESOL teaching, we primarily worked across the London Boroughs of Kingston, Richmond, and Hounslow, but we now also provide services in Merton. Often our support goes further afield as we have made a commitment to continue supporting those who have been moved out of their temporary accommodation often to parts of the country where they have no existing networks.

As mentioned, many of our beneficiaries have many complex needs, having been dislocated from their homes. Our beneficiaries include those who have experienced trafficking, modern slavery, or domestic violence.

There are no other organisations across Kingston, Hounslow, Richmond, or Merton who provide our specialist volunteer-led support for learners who would otherwise be unable to access education. We work in partnership with service providers who are unable to help and so refer to us for support. These include Council Refugee resettlement and domestic violence teams, NHS Trusts and mental health services, and other charities, including the Medaille Trust, Hestia, the St John of God Hospitaller Services, Refugee Action Kingston, and the Migrant Advocacy Service.

In the year, a team of over 143 trained volunteers delivered free language, digital awareness, wellbeing, local service signposting, and progression support. This enables people with very low levels of English to improve their lives socially, emotionally, and/or financially. By connecting refugees and asylum-seekers with volunteers from diverse backgrounds, we enable the building of supportive and compassionate relationships, which are crucial in helping people secure their rights to social justice, develop their capabilities and reach their potential.

We provide our volunteers with a 4 week initial training, regular refreshers, and a resource bank they can access for their 1:1 and class-based sessions. They also have opportunities to meet and share their experience of tutoring and obtain support in regular café-style sessions.

2024-25 key impacts:

Across Kingston, Richmond and Hounslow:

- 371 unique clients were supported from 64 different countries, speaking more than 43 languages
- 175 1:1 clients were provided with individual English language support - face to face, online or in community spaces
- 242 clients received English language support across nine different classes, either face to face or online
- 45 beneficiaries in all progressed from 1:1 support and gained the confidence to join LEAH's community and online group classes
- 59 new volunteers were trained, 45 of whom have been successfully paired or engaged in group tutoring

Across Merton:

- 258 learners supported by ESOL qualified teachers
- Delivered 16 face to face classes each week
- Delivered 3 volunteer-led conversation classes each week
- 75 learners were assessed as 'exceeding' by their teacher and able to move up to a higher-level class

Key challenges

- It became increasingly challenging to secure new income during the year. Following the appointment of the CEO, the Board of Trustees agreed to increase our fundraising capacity and a 2nd professional fundraiser will join the organisation in July 2025. We have also reviewed and taken action on expenditure, which at the time of writing is still underway.
- The more complex nature of clients, including greater mental health issues, financial difficulties, and housing.
- Learners are in more vulnerable situations, living more complex lives than ever before and requiring additional support aside from learning English. For example, in 2024-25, across Kingston, Hounslow and Richmond, we saw a 21% increase in learners living in temporary accommodation, 43 learners reported being trafficked or victims of modern slavery - nearly double the previous year's figure, and 85 learners reported a mental health condition - a 47% increase from the last year.
- Particularly across Kingston, Hounslow, and Richmond, we are seeing an increasing number of beneficiaries who are not literate in their own languages.

Despite the challenges, we continue to provide a service that is highly valued by our beneficiaries and the referral organisations, who recognise LEAH as the only source of support for those with the lowest levels of English.

We conduct regular beneficiary surveys:

Kingston, Hounslow, and Richmond:

- 88% said lessons helped them feel more confident
- 84% said they felt happier and healthier
- 79% said lessons helped them to feel less lonely
- 78% said lessons helped them to have more confidence online
- 83% said lessons helped them improve their speaking skills, 85% their listening skills, 81% their reading skills, and 66% writing skills.

Merton:

- 89% said they can speak and understand English better since starting their lessons
- 83% said they can talk more easily to their neighbours, their GP and to their child's teachers, as well as other people in the wider community
- 92% said lessons help to make them feel more at home in the UK
- 82% said they meet people socially more often
- 92% said they find it easier to travel on public transport
- 93% said lessons have improved their wellbeing

Chair's Statement

During the year we changed our Charitable Objectives, to reflect the changes in the support LEAH provides for our beneficiaries. The new Objectives specify our support for 'asylum seekers, refugees and migrants' and that we seek to 'improve their access to support services and future education, employment, and volunteering opportunities'. The change indicates that today, beneficiaries require additional support to enhance their resilience and inclusion in society. These changes were accepted by the Charity Commission.

As mentioned above, LEAH undertakes an annual survey with our beneficiaries so that we can ensure that we support them well. This year they reported that the top three benefits from working with LEAH are the ability to go shopping, do more things alone, and be able to engage with their GPs. They also mentioned practical items such as using the internet, filling in forms, and talking to a child's school. These are practical benefits which many beneficiaries gain from working with LEAH.

At the time of writing, the Board is developing the strategic plan for 2026 – 2029. Our revised Theory of Change will reflect our intent to enable beneficiaries, many of whom have suffered trauma, feel isolated and have other challenges, to feel empowered to live ordinary lives and contribute to society.

This year LEAH supported 371 beneficiaries: 175 in 1:1 tutoring sessions and 242 in classes across Kingston, Hounslow, and Richmond. Our ability to provide face-to-face and online, individual, and class sessions means that we support many beneficiaries in diverse situations. Our cadre of volunteers does a fantastic job. In addition to the initial training course, they have also benefited from refreshers, well-being sessions, additional ideas on resources, and best practice sessions. We continue to benefit from long tenured volunteers and during the year we had greater success at recruiting new volunteers, which has also raised our male and ethnic minority volunteer profile.

In 2024 we were approached by a similar nearby charity, Learn English Together in Merton – LETiM (registered charity number 1202110). The LETiM Board recognised the challenges facing small charities and decided to approach LEAH to take over their services as they felt that LEAH held a similar ethos, values, and vision and together the two charities would be stronger. The process was very amicable and concluded on 1 November 2024. At the time of writing, the LETiM Board of Trustees is winding up their charity.

LETiM was a very well-run charity, and came to LEAH with well-funded services, so that LEAH now provides 16 Merton-based weekly classes and 5 1:1 sessions. We provide 2 volunteer-led conversation classes and 2 volunteer-led English classes run in local schools as well. We have supported 258 beneficiaries in Merton (in addition to the numbers for 'original LEAH' mentioned in the previous paragraph). Two members of staff joined us from LETiM, I am delighted to say that they have integrated well, and we have seen the benefit of mutual learning across the team. At the time of writing, an existing volunteer has been appointed to a staff role.

Last year I wrote that LEAH and charities generally were operating in a tougher environment. That has not changed. The demands on funders and grant-making bodies have increased significantly. Where LEAH meets all the requirements of a grant-making body, we are considered but, given the competitive environment, that has been no guarantee of success. This has caused LEAH to focus even more tightly on our beneficiaries' needs, the impact that LEAH can have and review our internal costs. Hence, the work that is currently underway on the strategic plan and Theory of Change.

The previous Director, Abby Price, left in December 2024. We are very grateful to Abby for her leadership of the charity for the preceding two years. Our new CEO, Sohail Faruqi, joined in February.

He brings considerable cross-sector experience including local government, charities and education; and the benefit of looking at our operations with fresh eyes. One of his early successes was that LEAH was appointed by The Mayor of Kingston, Cllr Noel Hadjimichael, as one of the chosen charities to be supported by the Mayor's Charitable Trust.

I thank my fellow Trustees who give their time freely and with much enthusiasm. We created two new Board sub-committees:

(i) Governance, which has provided a forum for detailed review and freed up time at the Board meetings for more strategic discussions

(ii) Fundraising, which provides detailed oversight of the funding plan. This also frees up time for the Finance Committee to focus on financial records and processes.

The staff have continued to work with tremendous dedication and commitment to do what is best for our beneficiaries. They continue to be innovative and thoughtful.

In closing, I would like to thank Anne Worlledge (Chair of the LETiM Board), who ensured the smoothest handover from LETiM, Sohail Faruqi, our CEO who has brought a fresh perspective to LEAH and has been a good thought-partner, and to our volunteers who are committed, dedicated and put considerable effort into working with their clients. As one beneficiary, a Middle Eastern lady, who is now able to support her children with schooling said: "I can't thank you enough for all the support that I have received from LEAH and all the staff and for everything I have achieved during the last two years".

Sharon Landa,
Chair of Trustees

Trustees' report 2024 – 2025

The Trustees present below their report and the examined financial statements for the year ending 31st March 2025. The financial statements of the charity, which is a public benefit entity under FRS 102, have been prepared in accordance with the Charities SORP (FRS 102) 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice' applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland and the Charities Act 2011. The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention.

The annual report complies with The Charities (Annual Return) Regulations 2024 which came into force on 1 January 2025.

Public benefit

In making decisions about the way in which LEAH achieves its charitable objectives, the Trustees have regard to the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit. LEAH's work is beneficial in that it offers beneficiaries a means to overcome isolation and improve their chances in life through improved English language skills, increased confidence and self-belief, and greater knowledge of and access to local support services. LEAH's work changes people's lives. Through language, LEAH empowers people to become active members of their local communities, contributing to an integrated society where language unlocks people's potential to participate fully in family and community life.

LEAH's work is beneficial to a specific section of the public, refugees, asylum seekers, victims of modern-day slavery and migrants with very limited levels of English. LEAH's work is focused on this group because of their vulnerability and isolation, and their inability to access any other language support. LEAH works to ensure that all those who are eligible for LEAH's services can benefit, for example, through developing strong referral networks with statutory and voluntary partners and offering LEAH's services at no cost to the clients.

LEAH's Trustees work to manage risks of harm to the charity's beneficiaries and the public in general.

LEAH's services

Services include:

- 1:1 English language classes which are delivered face to face, online or on a hybrid basis.
- Small community-based or online language groups.
- School-based classes to help parents communicate with teachers and advocate for their children.
- Social integration activities to build social networks, reduce isolation and practice speaking English.
- Access to digital equipment and SIM cards that help clients join online lessons, as well as digital training, resources and support.

Three case studies

1. Building confidence and feeling empowered

Bibi, a mother of five from Afghanistan, was referred to LEAH by the Hounslow Resettlement Team after arriving in the UK through the Afghan Resettlement Scheme. With limited formal education and no digital skills, she wasn't comfortable joining a group or online classes. Her youngest child was still at home, so she needed a flexible, face-to-face option.

LEAH matched Bibi with a female volunteer tutor who visited her weekly at home. Over the course of the year, Bibi made remarkable progress. She learned to say and write her name and address, use a calendar, and form simple sentences. Her confidence grew – she began initiating conversations and asking questions in English.

The lessons were practical and empowering. Bibi learned how to talk about appointments, ask for help, and understand key information like dates and emergency numbers. She also shared her culture – teaching her tutor how to make Afghan pancakes.

With support from LEAH and her tutor, Bibi connected with local services, joined a Children's Centre, and began attending a group English class. Her journey shows how personalised support and learning can open doors to independence, confidence, and community.

2. Building independence and resilience

M, a woman from China, was referred to LEAH in April 2024 while living in a safehouse after surviving domestic violence and exploitation. Though she had lived in the UK for ten years, she had very limited English and relied on interpreters or Google Translate to communicate. Isolated and shy, she had few opportunities to connect with English-speaking communities.

Despite leaving school at 14, M was highly motivated. She worked hard between lessons and quickly began to build her vocabulary and confidence. Lessons focused on everyday topics like health, food, transport, and routines. The structure gave her something positive to focus on while waiting for news about her asylum claim.

"The teacher was very nice and patient with me. Thank you, teacher, thank you."

By the end of the year, her tutor noted a clear improvement in her speaking confidence. M is now ready to join a small online group class – her first step into learning alongside others and building new connections.

3. Progression

"My name is D. I come from Hong Kong and arrived in London about 3.5 years ago. I have been studying for 3 years at Vestry Hall [LEAH's Merton base], since 2022. I really enjoy life in the UK, as it is completely different from when I lived in Hong Kong. I will apply for Indefinite Leave to Remain next year, and I hope everything will go smoothly."

"After studying English lessons for 3 years, I feel confident speaking with people who work in banks, clinics, and hospitals, even if I sometimes make mistakes. However, when I write messages, I always double-check the grammar and tenses to make sure they are correct before sending. Recently, I took a computer class at Merton Thames College to learn the basics of Word and Excel."

Strategic Goals and progress to date

LEAH's 3 Year Strategic Goals (2022 - 2025) were:

Goal 1 - Sustainability

To become a sustainable organisation for the future, LEAH will maximise income generation opportunities, maximise commissioned opportunities, and keep abreast of national initiatives to secure funding for development and growth.

Goal 2 - Collaboration

LEAH will continue to work brilliantly together as a LEAH team, work with other agencies, authorities, organisations and commissioners in the interests of 'Inclusion through Language' and work with clients to continue to understand, adapt to and meet their changing needs.

Goal 3 - Digital Transformation

LEAH will utilise technology that meets the needs of the diverse population it helps to increase accessibility, invest in technology infrastructure for clients, volunteers and staff and consult with sector leaders around digital options.

Goal 4 - Development

To enable LEAH to adapt to meet demand, it will scale up and adapt services to meet the needs of people who fall into "gaps" in service provision. To achieve this, LEAH will expand volunteer roles, invest in staff and volunteers' development, and build the LEAH profile.

Goal 5 - Equity, Diversity & Inclusion

LEAH will become a champion for equity, diversity and inclusion, accessible to all, culturally appropriate and led by the needs of their clients, staff and volunteers.

LEAH has continued to work towards meeting its 3-year strategic plan objectives. The plan has now come to the end of the 3-year timespan and highlights include:

1. Investment in and development of a new fundraising strategy and pipeline to provide a greater depth and breadth of income opportunities.
2. Introduction of staff and volunteer training and development opportunities to increase knowledge, participation, retention and satisfaction.
3. Development of holistic support for learners with more focused signposting and recording of progression.
4. Development and launch of new 'ESOL in the workplace' toolkit, designed to help organisations provide their own in-house English language support.
5. Launch of a new volunteer 'stories' recruitment campaign to increase awareness and interest in volunteering for LEAH.
6. Development and implementation of a new Standard Operating Procedure to deliver consistent and high-quality experience for staff, volunteers and learners.

Our strategy has helped and supported our beneficiaries in several ways that have promoted our charitable objectives, as the following quotations demonstrate:

“Taking LEAH’s lessons has made my life in England easier and has helped me feel happier.”

“When I started living in the UK, I couldn’t speak English. I was afraid to talk to people. But when started learning English at LEAH, I could have confidence.”

“I arrived this course when I was living in a hotel as an asylum seeker, and all staff were very welcoming and helpful. I went to a trip to the museum and it was really lovely.”

2024-25 organisational and service achievements

Important highlights for the year across our 4 Boroughs:

Kingston, Hounslow and Richmond

- Heston class, thanks to GLA funding, has transformed the class model into a stepping-stone towards Adult Education. We have built a strong partnership with Hounslow Adult Education, who register Heston learners for their classes at the end of each term. In January 2025 learners went on a trip from Heston to Meadowbank Adult and Community Education Centre to access the ‘multiply through numbers’ college course.
- Newly arrived asylum seekers can start to learn English straight away through accessing the Heston class, as they cannot register for college given the requirement to have been in the UK for 6 months. Many of our learners are illiterate in their own language, so the teaching style has changed at Heston, with more support tutors being present to support the lower-level learners. LEAH created a pre-entry workbook that has helped this group to show some progression.
- We have had external talks in the class from The Mulberry Centre, Work Hounslow, Hounslow Council Housing services, West Thames College, and Hounslow Adult Education.
- We have worked hard to build a strong working relationship with Hounslow Local Authority and now have a direct pathway to help support homelessness and immigration issues with our learners who reside in bridging hotels.
- At the time of writing, and having secured funds, we are developing a fruitful partnership with Hounslow Council for Refugee Week 2025, building a community project on the theme of ‘Community as a Superpower’. We are co-creating resources with learners to help them understand and feel connected to their community.
- We have a good relationship with Heston library and have had visits to the library to register learners for their services.
- Due to the changes to the asylum process - faster review of refugee status leading to increased risk of homelessness or being moved out of London - we helped learners find alternative ESOL support in their new area - one effective case study example has been published on the GLA website: Skills for Londoners Community Outreach Programme | London City Hall
- Hounslow Councillor, Ajmer Grewal, visited our Heston English class in October 2024 and subsequently nominated LEAH for an award for our outstanding work within the local community.

- Managed to progress isolated learners from their 1:1 support to the Heston Class - mainly illiterate Afghan ladies.

Merton

- The new class started at the YMCA in Wimbledon. The class is entry level and mainly serves the residents of the YMCA who have refugee status. Some learners from outside of the YMCA join this class. This class will end the year with a boat trip on the Thames, giving learners their first taste of many parts of London.
- Continued and expanded our volunteer programme, by using current learners who assist in class. We had 3 current “higher” level learners assisting in a “lower” level learners’ class. This has been an effective way for some beneficiaries to join the volunteer ladder, gain confidence, and feel that they are able to give back.
- New class run in a local primary school. This class had great success for the learners who were all parents at the school. About half of these learners have progressed to a higher level and are now joining classes at our main site in Merton.
- LEAH links with Merton College enhanced the employability of our learners. In the spring and summer terms, we held workshops for some of our “higher” level learners, covering progression to college and interview tips.

Online group learning

- 116 students benefited from one of the six volunteer led online group courses that were held over 31 weeks of the year from April 2024 - April 2025.
- We refined how we set lesson aims and track progress, and students achieved aims related to communication, expressing feelings, accessing local services, booking appointments and health and wellbeing.
- In May 2024, students had a visit from the British Red Cross and learnt basic emergency first aid skills. In November, a GP visited the classes to discuss healthy living and diabetes prevention.
- In October 2024 we celebrated Getting Online Week. Lessons focused on digital wellbeing and online communication. Tutors attended training to further support students’ digital skills. This training responded to the fact that many of our students access their online classes via a mobile phone.
- In March 2025 we received funding from Awards for All to facilitate an online art workshop. Learners received art materials in the post and one of our higher-level learners, who is also an artist, was given the opportunity to lead a portrait drawing activity alongside one of our volunteers.
- We sought other opportunities to make our classes more student-led, and tutors improved the way that they use breakout rooms and gather feedback.
- The learner surveys showed that beneficiaries wanted more opportunities to practice speaking and as a result, LEAH opened a conversation club open to all beneficiaries. This commenced in January 2025 and proved to be a popular addition to the remote class timetable. The conversation club enables learners to improve their English and connect with other students in a relaxed and friendly environment.

Socialisation and inclusion

- Facilitated trips, and pathways to volunteering, to Kew Gardens, Boston Manor House and Bushy Park.
- Have joined community access schemes with Royal Palaces, Kew Gardens and Ham House.
- Created volunteer and student 1:1 visits to Kew Gardens and Ham House.
- Plans finalised for a trip for learners and family members, funded by Kingston Council – part of Kingston celebrating the 1100 anniversary of King Athelstan. We are developing an ESOL worksheet to make Kingston Museum more accessible to learners.
- We designed two ESOL readers that include a trip feedback form for learners to complete about their reflections before and after the trip - one of the most memorable reflections was when a learner came across a drawing of what New Malden is believed to have looked like in Saxon times. It reminded her of her hometown in Somalia, and she shared how this connection helped her feel more in touch with her roots.
- We continued to make links to the Merton community and offered volunteering opportunities for our learners.

Volunteers

- Overall volunteer recruitment and engagement was up: the number of applications increased by 39% (from 72 to 100), and those completing the training course rose from 47 to 59. This reflected a strong upward trend in both interest and commitment level.
- There was a notable increase in volunteers from a wider range of ethnic backgrounds and who speak additional languages.
- The volunteer retention rate increased to 69% from 56%.
- We are finalising a volunteering pathway.

Other achievements and developments

- Responding to the high need in the area, planning started to establish two classes at Burlington Infants, New Malden.
- New website developed. Further development will continue in response to feedback and strategic and operational need.
- Increased our social media activity via a volunteer.

Structure, governance, and management

Governing document

The charity was registered with the Charity Commission as a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO) on 15th August 2013.

The CIO was established under a constitution which sets out its objects and powers. In the event of the CIO being wound up, the Trustees have no liability to contribute to its assets and no responsibility for settling its debts and liabilities.

Recruitment and appointment of new trustees

New trustees are appointed, for a term of three years, by a resolution passed at a convened meeting of the charity Trustees. Trustees may serve for a total of two terms. LEAH seeks trustees with the skills and experience to complement LEAH's existing Board and support the organisation as it grows and develops. LEAH advertises widely for new Trustees, using national websites, social media, posters in local community settings, and Trustee and staff networks. LEAH appointed a new Trustee during this reporting year.

Organisational structure

LEAH's Trustees work to manage risks of harm to the charity's beneficiaries and the public in general, for example through LEAH's safeguarding and health and safety policies and processes. Trustees:

- Provide oversight and scrutiny
- Manage risks and where necessary ensure mitigations
- Act as thought partners to the CEO

The Trustees are responsible for the overall management and strategic direction of LEAH. The CEO was appointed by the Trustees to manage the day-to-day operations of the charity. The CEO has delegated authority from the Trustees for operational matters including finance, employment and representing the charity. Trustees work to support and supervise the CEO and to set strategy, manage risks and maintain financial oversight.

Induction and training of new Trustees

On appointment, Trustees are given an induction including a policy pack, Constitution, key strategic documents, and opportunities to meet staff and visit LEAH services. Ongoing training is made available.

An annual 1:1 survey of all Trustees has provided the Chair and CEO with feedback. This has led to improved governance and communications. The most recent survey showed a high level of Trustee engagement.

Risk management

The Trustees have a duty to identify and review the risks to which the charity is exposed and to ensure appropriate controls are in place to provide reasonable assurance against fraud and error.

The Risk Register underwent a substantial review in March 2025. The Trustees use an annually reviewed organisational risk framework (based on Charity Commission Guidance) to assess the major risks to which the charity is exposed, in those risks related to the operations and finances of the organisation and are satisfied that systems are in place to mitigate the charity's exposure to these risks.

Financial review

The financial results are set out in the Statement of Financial Activities on page 23, Balance Sheet on page 24 and the Notes on pages 25 to 33.

The financial year 2024/25

LEAH has been through a year of some change, and the financial results reflect this. From 1st November 2024, LEAH took over the provision of services to clients in Merton from LETiM who provided funding in the shape of a donation of their remaining funds to facilitate this. LEAH has committed to using these funds for the provision of services in Merton and designated any unrestricted funds received. Expenditure on the provision of services in Merton from 1st November has been included in our overall expenditure on Charitable Activities.

The final figure for LEAH's charitable income in 2024/25 was £540,145 (including income from LETiM of £186,294) compared with £294,419 in 2023/24. Our total expenditure was £486,516 in 2024/25, compared with £386,381 in 2023/24. The major increase was due to the provision of services in Merton from 1st November and some governance work relating to the transaction.

The final surplus for the year was £53,629 compared with the prior year's deficit of £92,262.

Fundraising

LEAH continues to be principally funded through grant sources, and are grateful to the range of funders who have made LEAH's work possible, including:

Garfield Weston Foundation, London Borough of Hounslow Domestic Violence Team, London Borough of Hounslow Thriving Communities Mental Health Fund, Isleworth and Hounslow Charity, Network Homes Charitable Fund, Persula Foundation, Postcode Society Trust, Richmond Parish Lands Charity, Royal Borough of Kingston upon Thames Active Commissioning, Swire Charitable Trust, Tesco Stronger Starts, The 29th May 1961 Charitable Trust, The Bromley Trust, The Hampton Fund, The National Lottery Community Fund, The Rayne Foundation, Thomas Wall Trust and Trust for London.

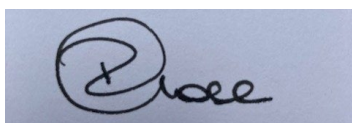

Reserves policy

LEAH's total reserves at the end of the financial year increased to £357,072 from £303,443 at the end of the previous year. The reserves are split between Unrestricted, Designated and Restricted. See Note 10 on page 25.

LEAH's policy is to hold five months' running costs in reserves, to enable business continuity in the event of unanticipated changes in the funding environment. Due to the nature of our Restricted funding being largely for our ongoing work, we include the Restricted reserve in this calculation. At the end of the year, our total reserves represented 9 months of budgeted expenditure; however, the reserves split shows that fully unrestricted reserve stands at £83,728 which represents only 2 months, and we have a designated fund largely dedicated to Merton clients only. Given the challenging fundraising landscape being experienced by all small charities, we are focusing on improving this picture in the coming year.

The donation from LETiM of £186,294 was split between Restricted and Unrestricted funds in accordance with the treatment of the funds when they were received by LETiM. The Unrestricted element was designated by the LEAH trustees in order to ring fence it for providing services to our new Merton clients. This meant an increase in our Designated reserve of £120,397. This amount was reduced by some spending against the Freda Lambert Memorial Fund of £1,420 making the net movement on Designated Reserve of £118,977.

Independent Examiners Report to the Trustees of Learn English at Home

I report on the accounts for the year ended 31 March 2025 set out below.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's Trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year (under Section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 Act) and that an independent examination is required.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under Section 145 of the 2011 Act
- to follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commission (under Section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act); and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of the independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the General Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair view' and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statements below.

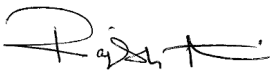

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

(1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the requirements

- to keep accounting records in accordance with Section 130 of the 2011 Act; and
- to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and to comply with the accounting requirements of the 2011 Act have not been met; or

(2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

1. Accounting policies

Basis of preparing the financial statements

The financial statements of the charity, which is a public benefit entity under FRS 102, have been prepared in accordance with the Charities SORP (FRS 102) 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2015)', Financial Reporting Standard 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland' and the Charities Act 2011. The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention.

Going concern

After making appropriate enquiries, the Trustees have a reasonable expectation that the Charity has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. Accordingly, the Charity continues to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the financial statements.

Financial reporting standard 102 - reduced disclosure exemptions

The charity has taken advantage of the following disclosure exemption in preparing these financial statements, as permitted by FRS 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland': the requirements of Section 7 Statement of Cash Flows.

Income

All income is recognised in the Statement of Financial Activities once the charity has entitlement to the funds, any performance conditions attached to the item(s) of income have been met, it is probable that the income will be received and the amount can be measured reliably.

Where income has related expenditure (as with fundraising or contract income), the income and related expenditure are reported gross in the Statement of Financial Activities.

Interest on deposit funds held is included when receivable and the amount can be measured reliably which is normally upon notification of the interest paid or payable by the bank.

Expenditure

Liabilities are recognised as expenditure as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the charity to that expenditure, it is probable that a transfer of economic benefits will be required in settlement and the amount of the obligation can be measured reliably. Expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis and has been classified under headings that aggregate all costs related to the category. Where costs cannot be directly attributed to particular headings, they have been allocated to activities on a basis consistent with the use of resources.

Charitable activities

The income for charitable activities which provides free one-to-one English tuition via online lessons and face-to-face; conversation classes – again via online and face-to-face; and we also support socialisation and integration via activities such as museum visits. These aspects of our work and support are provided through the charities fundraising activities and includes donations received from individual and community supporters, grants from Trusts and Foundations, and through commissioning and partnership contracts.

Allocation of support costs

Support costs are those functions that assist the work of the charity but do not directly undertake charitable activities. Support costs include back-office costs, finance, HR, payroll, and governance costs which support the charity's programmes and activities. These costs have been allocated between restricted and designated funds in expenditure on charitable activities.

Taxation

The charity is exempt from tax on its charitable activities.

Tangible fixed assets and depreciation

All assets over the value of £1,000 are capitalised and valued at historical cost. Depreciation is charged on Property Plant and Equipment on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful life of 3 years from the month of acquisition.

Fund accounting

Unrestricted funds can be used in accordance with the charitable objectives at the discretion of the trustees.

Designated funds are set aside by the trustees out of unrestricted general funds for specific future purposes or projects. The aim and use of each designated fund is set out by the trustees.

Restricted funds can only be used for particular restricted purposes within the objects of the charity.

Restrictions arise when specified by the donor or when funds are raised for particular restricted purposes.

Pension costs and other post-retirement benefits

LEAH staff with qualifying earnings are entered into a salary sacrifice workplace pension scheme with contributions matched by LEAH up to 6 % of salary.

Donated services and facilities

Donated professional services and donated facilities are recognised as income when the charity has control over the item, and conditions associated with the donated item have been met, the receipt of economic benefit from the use by the charity of the item is probable and that economic benefit can be reliably measured. In accordance with the Charities SORP (FRS 102) general volunteer time is not recognised. Refer to the Trustees' Annual Report for more information about their contribution.

2. Donation from Merton

1 November 2024 LEAH took over the provision of services to clients in Merton from Learn English Together in Merton (LETiM). It provided 1:1 tuition and classes in Merton borough. Its existing grants will continue to being spent fulfilling the requirements of those funders. Staff members from LETiM transferred to LEAH and continue to work for their clients under the same terms.

The unrestricted funds of LETiM that were donated to LEAH were reclassified as designated funds by LEAH Trustees' decision.

3. Investment income

All of the investment income arises from money held in interest bearing deposit accounts.

4. Trustees' remuneration and benefits

There were no trustees' remuneration or other benefits for the year ended 31 March 2025 nor for the year ended 31 March 2024.

One of the trustees has claimed expenses of £74 in the year 31 March 2025 (£157 in 2024).

Social security costs	27,072	22,508
Other pension costs	17,102	17,283
Total	390,477	329,995

The average monthly number of employees during the year was as follows:

	31.03.25	31.03.24
Total number on payroll	26	15
Full-time staff equivalent	9.2	8.4

Total staff numbers include full-time and part-time staff plus all active members of our group of creche workers. The FTE figure therefore gives a more accurate picture of our staffing capacity. The increase in staff numbers is attributable to the transfer of staff from LETiM.

No employees received emoluments more than £60,000 (none in 2024).
