

London Economics Symposium - Trustee's annual report 2021

Mission statement

The London Economics Symposium was founded for students with the commitment to offer a platform for open discussion on global socio-economic and political events in a dynamic setting.

We believe stimulus for inspiration comes from listening to and interacting with influential and prominent people in their fields. The London Economics Symposium aims to form an effective dialogue between students, academics and leaders to foster a holistic view on world affairs.

The key goal of this event is for all parties to actively seek debate on today's relevant and pressing issues. Consequently, these discussions should enhance students' contextual appreciation of current events as well as share speakers' accumulated knowledge. Greater understanding of the present is the link, which leads to creative far-sighted and visionary thinking for our future. It is the responsibility of the world leaders to guide and contribute their insight to the next generation.

We see the continuum of the London Economics Symposium as imperative. We hope to further engage, inspire and educate a broad range of students from diverse cultural backgrounds in sight of preparing future global leaders for the challenges of tomorrow.

Charitable purpose / public benefit

- No change to last year's purpose

What have we done to carry out the purpose

Given COVID-19, there has been very little progress in handing over the charity. As a result, the goal is to complete the winding down of the charity over the next months. The charity's assets have been stable. The remaining funds will either be donated to another charity with a similar purpose, if possible, or the charity commission will be asked for advice.
