Objects

The object of the CIO is, for the public benefit, the advancement of education in accordance with Christian principles, in the United Kingdom and such other parts of the world as the charity trustees may from time to time decide.

Aims and Activities

1. To nurture and support Early Years practitioners and settings holding Christian values

This was delivered through regular newsletters and emails, our magazine Early Days; our website www.Love Early Years.com.

We held a day conference at Heart Preschool in Nottingham to celebrate our 20th Anniversary with guest speakers.

We continued our 10th of the month prayer for early years children by partners and friends who were provided with topics for prayer and encouraged to pray at home on their own or with others in their locality.

The public benefit is that through nurturing and supporting practitioners we reduce the isolation in which many operate and create meaningful networks.

2.To advocate a holistic approach to Early Years care and education and encourage the highest quality care and education by offering mentoring and training.

We used articles in our magazine Early Days, Zoom meetings and personal contact to encourage and train practitioners.

We kept our partners up to date with current research and campaigns and shared relevant articles via Facebook and Instagram. Our book Firm Foundations – Rooting a Child's Early Years in Love and Faith was published in March and warmly received.

The public benefit is improved quality as settings reflect on and adapt their practice. This distinctive play-based approach to education with a Christian ethos offers a wider choice for parents.

3. To foster relationships between individuals and organisations holding similar values and rationale, in the UK and overseas.

During the year our presence on Facebook continued to grow and the use of other social media helped to build relationships between partners and with a much wider constituency.

The public benefit is that we encouraged practitioners to learn from national and international settings in order to inform their professional knowledge and understanding which encourages the development of strong practice based on knowledge and understanding of how children learn.

Performance

Our presence was maintained on social media. The practical manual Firm Foundations Rooting a Child's Early Years in Love and Faith was made available on Amazon and introduced to settings and churches.

Early Days magazine continued to be a valuable resource to our partners , partner settings and subscribers.

Early Days magazine continued to be a valuable resource to our partners. Due to various pressures we were only able to produce two issues during the year.

There were two Trustees who completed their terms of service at the AGM . Jo Gilks and Lucy Waterman and we are grateful for all their service to Love Early Years and rejoice in their ongoing work with early years children.

We again held our AGM and Trustee Meeting at The Highbury Centre in London in March at which we reviewed the past year and planned our programme for 2024-25.

Annual Trustees Report 2020-21

CIO: Christian Initiatives in Early Years Education (Love Early Years)

Registered Charity No. 1156884

Address: 100 Heathlands Park, Foxhall Road, Ipswich IP4 5TQ

Trustees

Mrs Ruth Andrews (chair); Rev Brian Andrews; Mrs Lucy Waterman; Rev Peter Michell; Mrs Angela Msumba; Mrs Jo Gilks; Mrs Helen Kear

Objects

The object of the CIO is, for the public benefit, the advancement of education in accordance with Christian principles, in the United Kingdom and such other parts of the world as the charity trustees may from time to time decide.

Aims and Activities

1. To nurture and support Early Years practitioners and settings holding Christian values

This was delivered through regular newsletters and emails, our magazine Early Days; our website www.Love Early Years.com. We were able to offer Zoom webinars in Developing a Loving Pedagogy, Seeing your child God's way, Understanding the EYFS reforms, Setting up a Rural Kindergarten and Reviewing an Ofsted Inspection, and replaced meetings and visits with phone calls, emails, an online Manager's Forum and support notes by our Development Coordinator. We also increased the number of magazine articles available through our website and social media platforms. We changed our monthly prayer meeting from a day where partners were encouraged to pray at home on their own, to a Zoom prayer meeting monthly where partners and church members could connect and pray together.

The public benefit is that through nurturing and supporting practitioners we reduce the isolation in which many operate and create meaningful networks.

2.To advocate a holistic approach to Early Years care and education and encourage the highest quality care and education by offering mentoring and training.

During the past year training took place on Zoom for Developing a Loving Pedagogy, Seeing your child God's way, Understanding the EYFS reforms, Setting up a Rural Kindergarten and Reviewing an Ofsted Inspection, and via an increased number of website blogs and social media posts on Developing a Loving Pedagogy, Physical Play, Supporting Transitions into Nursery and Preschool, Supporting Children and families during the pandemic. We substantially increased the number of free Early Years resources on our website to enable easy access, and introduced an online system for magazine subscriptions. Articles in Early Days magazine also included a training element. We kept our partners up to date with current research and campaigns and shared relevant articles via Facebook and Twitter. Our main project during the pandemic has been the preparation of a manual that explores how young children develop spiritual awareness.

The public benefit is improved quality as settings and churches reflect on and adapt their practice. This distinctive play-based approach to education with a Christian ethos offers a wider choice for parents.

3. To foster relationships between individuals and organisations holding similar values and rationale, in the UK and overseas.

During the year our presence on Facebook continued to grow and the use of other social media helped to build relationships between partners and with a much wider constituency.

The public benefit is that we encouraged practitioners to learn from national and international settings in order to inform their professional knowledge and understanding which encourages the development of strong practice based on knowledge and understanding of how children learn.

Performance

Lucy Waterman continued to serve as freelance Development Coordinator. She maintained our presence on social media and developed some well attended webinars online. She has been gathering material and writing a practical manual on Nurturing Spirituality in the Under Fives.

Early Days magazine continued to be a valuable resource to our partners . The editor, Peter Michell continues to find relevant and informative articles from contributors in several countries.

There were no new trustees added during the year. We held our AGM and Trustee meetings on Zoom throughout the year.
