Counselling For Social Change Limited

Trustees' annual report for the year ended 31 August 2023

The trustees present their report and the unaudited financial statements for the year ended 31 August 2023. Included within the trustees' report is the directors' report as required by company law.

Reference and administrative information set out on page 1 forms part of this report. The financial statements comply with current statutory requirements, the memorandum and articles of association and the Statement of Recommended Practice - Accounting and Reporting by Charities: SORP applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with FRS 102.

Objectives and activities

Our organisation's purposes as set out in the objects contained in the charitable company's memorandum and articles of association are "To relieve the mental and physical sickness of people suffering trauma and other mental health issues in particular but not exclusively as a result of campaign, care and relief work by the provision of counselling."

Our main objectives for the year continued to be the provision of free and low-cost counselling across the South West of England for people on low incomes and counselling to activists and campaigners.

The trustees review the aims, objectives and activities of the charity each year. This report looks at what the charity has achieved and the outcomes of its work in the reporting period. The trustees report the success of each key activity and the benefits the charity has brought to those groups of people that it is set up to help. The review also helps the trustees ensure the charity's aims, objectives and activities remain focused on its stated purposes.

The trustees have referred to the guidance contained in the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit when reviewing the charity's aims and objectives and in planning its future activities. In particular, the trustees consider how planned activities will contribute to the aims and objectives that have been set.

Achievements and performance

The charity's main activities and who it tries to help are described below. All its charitable activities focus on providing free and low-cost counselling and are undertaken to further the charity's charitable purposes for the public benefit.

In the 2022/2023 financial year we have provided 2593 hours of counselling support. This is a 7% increase on the previous year. We anticipate further growth in the coming year.

In this financial year, we successfully raised just over £17,000 in grants and donations.

One of our ongoing goals is to support counsellors' move from volunteering to paid work. We achieve this by partnering with other charities and through our fundraising successes. This year saw an almost 14% increase in paid work.

Volunteers

The success of Counselling for Social Change is dependent on our volunteer counsellors. Our work has now settled into a mix of face-to-face and remote counselling to suit both counsellors and clients.

Beneficiaries of our services

Our service has provided counselling to people on low incomes across the South West of England. We have worked with other charities to provide counselling support to their beneficiaries. We also provide counselling support to people across the UK that are volunteering in campaigning/social justice movements.

Financial review

Despite the ongoing challenges of the cost of living crisis, Counselling for Social Change (C4SC) is in a strong financial position as we end the year.

Counselling For Social Change Limited

The charity's funds at the end of the year were as follows:

Restricted income was £16,949 (2022: £20,373) and restricted expenditure was £15,053 (2022: £16,686) resulting in a surplus of £1,896 (2022: £3,687) for the year. Unrestricted income was £48,952 (2022: £42,581) and unrestricted expenditure was £53,792 (2022: £37,778) resulting in a deficit of £4,777 (2022: surplus of £4,803) for the year.

Total income for the year was £65,901 (2022: £62,954) and total expenditure was £68,782 (2022: £54,464).

The charity's funds at the year end were £28,001 (2022: £30,882) consisting of £5,583 restricted funds (2022: £3,687) and £22,418 unrestricted funds (2022: £27,195).

Reserves policy

The Trustees have examined the charity's requirements for reserves in light of the main risks to the organisation. It has established a policy whereby the unrestricted funds not committed or invested in tangible fixed assets held by the charity should be between 3 and 6 months of core expenditure. Budgeted core expenditure for 2023/24 is £50,000 and therefore the target is £12,500 to £25,000 in general funds. As we end our 10th year of operations we currently have just over 5 months of reserves, or £22,418.

Structure, governance and management

The organisation is a charitable company limited by guarantee, incorporated on 10 October 2012 and registered as a charity on 20 January 2015.

The charitable company was established under a memorandum of association which established the objects and powers of the charitable company and is governed under its articles of association.

Members of the charity guarantee to contribute an amount not exceeding £10 to the assets of the charity in the event of winding up. The total number of such guarantees at 31 August 2023 was 4 (2022: 4). The trustees are members of the charity but this entitles them only to voting rights. The trustees have no beneficial interest in the charity.

All trustees give their time voluntarily and receive no benefits from the charity. Any expenses reclaimed from the charity are set out in note 11 to the accounts.

The trustees of the charity are also directors under the charity's Articles and are known as 'Directors' in the Articles of Association.

Recruitment and appointment of trustees

Under the requirements of the Memorandum and Articles of Association one third of directors must retire each year in order of length of time in office, after which they must be re-elected at the next Annual General Meeting. Lucy Allen retired by rotation and was re-elected.

Due to the nature of counselling much of the charity's work focuses upon people with mental health issues, some of whom may be considered vulnerable adults. The trustees seek to ensure that the needs of this group are appropriately reflected through the diversity and experience of the trustee body. Mental health and management experience is well represented by the trustees. In an effort to maintain a broad skill mix, prospective trustees are requested to provide a list of their skills, and in the event of particular skills being lost due to retirements, individuals are approached to offer themselves for election to the board.

Related parties and relationships with other organisations

No trustees or related parties received remunerations. Please refer to Notes 10 and 11 in the accounts for other relevant information.

The charity worked closely with the Pearl Exchange this year. We continue our ongoing counselling support for their clients.

Remuneration policy for key management personnel

It is the aim of Counselling for Social Change (C4SC) to recruit and retain high calibre individuals who not only contribute to the achievement of the charity's aims and objectives but also understand and support the ethos and culture of the organisation. The charity's aim is to provide a remuneration package and working environment that is attractive and comparable to other similar organisations.

The charity's trustees have ultimate responsibility for setting salary levels for staff. Trustees will conform with the Equality Act 2010.

The trustees are committed to ensuring a proper balance between paying staff and others fairly in order to attract and retain the best people for the job whilst ensuring careful management of charity funds.

Levels of Salary and Benefits

In deciding the levels of salary and benefits, trustees will consider:

- the purposes, aims and values of the charity and its beneficiaries' needs
- how salary is linked to the skills, experiences and competencies that the charity needs from staff and the scope of their roles
- the number of staff the charity can reasonably afford
- general inflation rates, e.g. RPI (Retail Price Index) or CPI (Consumer Price Index)
- information on pay policies and practices in similar organisations that could help guide a decision on whether a level of pay is fair
- the charity's track record in attracting and retaining committed and motivated employees.

Proportionality

C4SC does not believe in supporting excessive management/executive salaries at the cost of other employees. We have therefore pegged management's salary to always be no higher than the highest hourly rate paid to other staff or contracted counsellors, nor lower than the lowest hourly rate.

The charity undertakes to review salaries periodically, generally annually, although there is no guarantee that any changes to salaries will be made as a result of the review.

Risk management

The trustees have identified the following areas of potential risk:

Governance – as the charity grows the trustees are aware of the need to bring in new trustees to enhance the skills base. Trustees aim to develop a skills audit for the charity and agree a recruitment process.

Expenses - As we face the cost-of-living crisis we anticipate increases in our costs including room hire, clinical supervision and the fees charged by counsellors.

Statement of responsibilities of the trustees

The trustees (who are also directors for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing the trustees' annual report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Company law requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of the charity for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently
- Observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP
- Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent
- State whether applicable UK Accounting Standards and statements of recommended practice have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements
- Prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in operation

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charitable group and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charitable company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

This report has been prepared in accordance with the provisions applicable to companies subject to the small companies' regime of the Companies Act 2006.

The trustees' annual report has been approved by the trustees on 18 / 01 / 2024 and signed on their behalf by

Trustee

Independent examiner's report to the trustees of Counselling for Social Change Limited

I report on the accounts of the charity for the year ended 31 August 2023 set out on pages 7 to 20.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144 of the Charities Act 2011 ("the Charities Act") and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the Charities Act,
- to follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission (under section 145(5)(b) of the Charities Act, and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement

My examination was carried out in accordance with general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair' view and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the requirements:
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the Charities Act; and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Charities Acthave not been met; or
2. to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

b Preparation of the accounts on a going concern basis

The trustees consider that there are no material uncertainties about the charitable company's ability to continue as a going concern.

c Income

Income received in advance of a provision of a specified service is deferred until the criteria for income recognition are met.

d Interest receivable

Interest on funds held on deposit is included when receivable and the amount can be measured reliably by the charity; this is normally upon notification of the interest paid or payable by the Bank.

e Fund accounting
