- 1. Maintaining and enhancing the provision of collective youth music making;*
- 2. Promoting and encouraging the achievement of excellence in youth music making;*
- 3. Broadening the range of vocal and instrumental music genres; and*
- 4. Networking with music provisions in other regions to provide the widest possible range of musical experiences for students.*

Review of Activities and Achievements

This year we delivered activities against all of our charitable objects.

Every Saturday morning during school term time we run a music centre at Manorbrook Primary School, with over 120 children aged from 4 to 18, delivering :

- Foundation music classes
- Group instrument lessons on trombone, cornet, clarinet, cello, saxophone, flute and violin through our Let's Play scheme
- Our Let's Play orchestra to give the first experience of playing in a group
- Junior training groups for strings and wind
- Senior training groups for strings and wind
- Junior and senior orchestra
- Swing Band
- Choir
- Composing and Improvising
- Music theory support and tuition

We had concerts at the end of each term to demonstrate and celebrate the students' achievements. At Easter we had a special concert with all the children involved and set to a narrated story, with a theme of space. It was supported by an outreach team from the UK Space Agency leading to valuable extra publicity.

We are really grateful for the hard work of our amazing team of music tutors, parent volunteers, administrator and treasurer. Without them none of our work would be possible.

Impact of our Work

We increased the number of students this year. Now over 120 children, aged from 4 to 18, have had the opportunity to enjoy collective music making which otherwise would not be available in our immediate area.

Our work is a direct and practical response to the decline in funding and emphasis on musical education activities in local primary schools

Through our Let's Play scheme we have delivered elementary instrumental tuition. This innovative scheme is designed to take away the barriers to learning an instrument and gives children with no musical background a fun and rewarding grounding in playing their first "real" instrument. The groups also encourage self-confidence and esteem in the children, supporting their general social development and education.

We also provided instrumental tuition for those students unable to access it in schools or privately. It has been popular with parents and successful for the children.

We have worked in partnership with other local music education providers to provide broader experiences for our students, for example with the outreach musicians from the Rockhampton Folk Festival.

Our charity and its activities are as inclusive as possible. We believe strongly that music can have a positive impact on all children, whatever their academic or social background. We also offer financial support so that money is not a barrier to participation in music and provide free places and instruments to children of Ukrainian refugee families.

Future Plans

We will look to increase the numbers of students in the centre through active marketing, open mornings and publicity. We will particularly target younger primary school children to join our Let's Play and Early Years activities, they will become the junior and senior musicians in our centre in the years to come.

Our Finances

Our activities are funded through a combination of fees paid by students, grants, fundraising and donations. Trustees set an annual budget which aims to keep student fees as low as possible.

Our costs are mainly fixed, related to tutor fees and hire of facilities. In contrast our income depends heavily on student fees, making it very sensitive to changes in student numbers. This requires Trustees to make prudent budget assumptions to ensure that the centre remains financially sustainable.

We have been successful this year in obtaining grants from local charitable organisations and businesses. We have used these for specific purposes, for example to purchase instruments to rent to our students on the Let's Play scheme.

We claim Gift Aid on eligible income.

Trustees regularly review the finances, budgets and spend against a budget cost model. We have invested in new instruments for our Let's Play scheme and will repay this through rental fees from students.

Trustees recognise the need to maintain a cash reserve to ensure the future financial sustainability of the charity and provide a safety net in case student numbers or grant income does not meet our budget.

Structure, Governance and Management

At the conclusion of this year there were five trustees. The Trustees met approximately twice per academic term.

All Trustees give of their time freely and no remuneration or expenses were paid for their activities as Trustees.

Management of the Saturday music centre is delegated to the Head of Centre. She is responsible for the delivery of the programme of music activities agreed by the Trustees, management of the team of tutors and ensuring the safety and safeguarding of the children at the centre.

Trustees regularly review the risks faced by the charity.

Trustees have developed and regularly review policies for example related to Child Protection and Safeguarding and Anti Bullying. These policies are implemented through operating procedures that are agreed by the Trustees. Appropriate DBS checks are carried out on all Tutors and Trustees.
