Section C Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

1. To advance the Coptic Christian faith for the public benefit in such ways as the trustees from time to time may think fit.
2. To promote social inclusion for the public benefit by working with people who are socially excluded on the grounds of their ethnic origin, religion belief or creed (In particular, person of the Coptic Christian faith who are of Egyptian nationality , origin and descent and who live in England, including those seeking asylum and those granted refugee statues) to relieve the needs of such people and assist them to integrate into society, in particular by:
 - (I) Providing education in English language and communication skills;
 - (II) providing support and opportunities to encourage and enable members of the Egyptian Coptic community to participate more effectively with the wider community;
3. To provide or assist in the provision of facilities in the interests of social welfare for recreation or other leisure time occupation of individuals who have need of such facilities by reason of their youth, age infirmity or disability, financial hardship or social circumstances with the object of improving their condition of life.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

We exist to support families through activities. We promote social inclusion for the benefit of people who are socially excluded, in particular people who are of Egyptian nationality, origin and descent. This includes those seeking asylum and/or granted refugee status.

We help meet people's needs and integrate them into society by providing education in English language and communication skills, and support and opportunities to encourage and enable members to participate more effectively within the wider community.

We provide, and support provision of, facilities for individuals with specific needs (e.g. due to age, disability or financial hardship).

Children are a big part of our community, so we organise special social and educational activities for our children. During lockdown, we moved our children's tutoring classes (Science, Maths and English for Years 5 to 8, taught by sessional workers) online. These prevent the children from being disadvantaged in their studies by providing education in English language and communication skills, and help them integrate into society by offering opportunities to participate within the wider community.

These classes have helped the children keep up with their school work while learning remotely, which has been hugely supportive for our families over the last year, and we have received many positive comments from parents and carers.

our family meetings held in Hangleton Community Centre fortnightly between 18 – 20 families attend each week, and these have continued to bring together community members of all ages – helping people to connect and feel less isolated .

Since March 2020 we have been running weekly online and face to face cookery classes, with volunteer chefs from our community teaching members to make a range of dishes; including recipes from our community's heritage. The classes are inclusive of all genders and suited to all abilities. We have delivered meals prepared during the classes to older, isolated members of our community.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.
