COHI Aims and Objectives

Our charity's objective is 'The prevention or relief of poverty in India by providing grants, items and services to individuals in need or charities or other organisations working to prevent or relieve of poverty'.

The aims of our charity is to:

- Reduce the poverty in economically weak areas of India and uplift their living status.
- Improve poor individual's health by providing medical help as grants and by conducting medical awareness classes.
- Improve children's education level by providing study kits and providing grants for poor children etc.
- Reduce the struggle for drinking water in drought areas by helping to develop drinking water projects.
- Help individuals who are hit by natural disasters like flood with grant or other medical helps etc.

We have reviewed our objectives for the year and ensured they are benefiting public in our target areas. We reviewed the activities conducted by our charity and they are in line with stated objectives and is in the interest of public benefit.

Focus of our work this year

During this report year (1st June 2022 to 31st May 2023), we have been involved in supporting people who have been struggling to get shelter/house, job and to get medical treatment across Kerala, along with educational help towards students from remote area of India to complete their education. A major part of the fund raised during the year was distributed among widows across India to support their livelihood as they were struggling to meet their basic needs due to loss of their loved ones.

Most of them have no jobs or any other means of earnings to support their family. We have also been able to contribute towards marriage expenses and house construction of poor families. We also took part in educational activities during the year by supporting students from poor families. Our medical help was to support families of patients suffering from serious illness to get access to medication and treatments.

How our Activities Deliver Public Benefit

Current year, COHI has aimed to help jobless people, widow and orphan. Many of them have lost their job and other earnings and have no shelter; thus, we have supported them financially to overcome their hardships. We have also been fortunate to raise money in order to provide educational support to students from poor families who were not able to complete their studies due to financial hardship. Furthermore, we have helped a few patients with their medical bills and supported them by providing daily household expenses. Our funds have aided many individuals to access treatment and resuming their normal life.

Similarly to previous years, the availability of fund was limited for our activities as the funds were primarily obtained through public voluntary donations. COHI also helps with any appeals referred by the public which are reported in Indian dailies or from social media. COHI will aim to ensure that the claim is genuine by contacting and verifying with the local authorities involved. In genuine cases of plea, COHI will aim to aid those in need by providing help using available funds, if there is a lack of funds available, we will aim to raise fund.

Financial Review

Planning the financial year was much difficult, similarly to last year, as the funding and resources were limited due to the huge demand from our target beneficiary community. However, with rapid public respond to some of the appeals and with some reserve fund available, COHI was able to successfully meet all the prominent appeals. This was also possible due to the public volunteer donations, in which a total of £25,827.58 was raised. The principal funding source is through public voluntary donations in forms of either cash or bank transfers along with matched fund raise from Vodafone UK.

Financial Investment and Reserve Policy

Having looked at the Reserve Policy, we have developed a Reserve Policy in order to avoid the situation in which the organisation could have insufficient funds to aid an immediate appeal for life threatening cases from poor areas or any immediate administration requirements. The Reserve Policy created aims to maintain at least £500 in reserve for such cases. This is again raised through public voluntary donations. Due to the limited funds, there is currently no plans for any further investment.

Plan for Future Period

COHI will continue to engage in fundraising activities to achieve our aims (See COHI Aims and Objectives, for more details). The source of fundraising will be increased with more appeals to the general public and through other activities such as charity events and gatherings. We are planning to keep the funds currently available at a satisfactory level to meet any immediate requirements. COHI takes an active approach in which visits are made to areas with direct needs of help and create a plan to aid improve their current situation.

Structure, Governance and Management

COHI is a charitable incorporated organisation registered on 26th May 2015. There is no changes or amendments to governing documents or its structure or management since its registration. There are four trustees to the CIO for 8 years, no new trustees recruited or no retirement from the existing ones.
