I report to the trustees on my examination of the accounts of the above charity ("the Trust") for the year ended 31 March 2024.

Responsibilities and

As the charity's trustees, you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ("the Act").

I report in respect of my examination of the Trust's accounts carried out under section 145 of the 2011 Act and in carrying out my examination, I have followed all the applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act.

examiner's statement

The charity's gross income exceeded £250,000 and I am qualified to undertake the examination by being a qualified member of The Association of Chartered Certified Accountants.

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination (other than that disclosed below *) which gives me cause to believe that in, any material respect:

- the accounting records were not kept in accordance with section 130 of the Charities Act; or
- the accounts did not accord with the accounting records; or
- the accounts did not comply with the applicable requirements concerning the form and content of accounts set out in the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 other than any requirement that the accounts give a 'true and fair' view which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination.

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Achievements and Performance

	SORP reference
Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	Awareness raising activities Our 'Your Area' page on our website continues to serve as an interactive dashboard tracking the number of stop and searches in England and Wales per Police Force Area. StopWatch staff contributed key information on police misconduct and stop and search data to national newsprint (The Times, The Guardian, The Observer), web and broadcast media (ITV Meridian). To grow StopWatch's presence across UK universities and communities, we became a key partner with social justice organisation, Cultiv8, and commissioned them to host a series of personal development exhibitions / events across UK universities and target communities with Stopwatch as a key partner. Legal Advocacy In September 2023 a Legal Advocacy Officer was appointed to revamp support materials, facilitate training courses. coordinate legal and wellbeing groups to deal with casework and pick up the relationships with affected communities and groups across England and Wales. Girls and young women’s experiences of stop and search project Our participatory action research project explores young women’s experience of policing. Following the nationwide collection of interviews with young women by young women about their lived experience, the peer researchers underwent data analysis training to interpret the data. Becky Clarke (Manchester Metropolitan University) and Naima Sakande (Consultant) provided expert facilitation in data analysis and report writing skills. The remainder of the project will be the production of a publication, outputs and the organisation of a national advocacy tour to raise awareness about the findings of the research. ChangeMakers We went into partnership with Hackney-based racial justice organisation, Account, to deliver a personal development and social action programme where young people learn about identity, self-esteem, trauma, and resilience and how this can be affected by policing practices. The young people that participate will also learn what their rights are and share that information among their peers in the community. Consultation submissions We continue to respond to public consultations on police use of powers, including: • The National Security Act 2023 (August 2023) • Revised PACE Code A (August 2023) • Community Scrutiny Panels (October 2023) • Police Use of Force Terms of Reference (November 2023) Research projects We are working on a number of research projects, including: • Driving While Black 2: Updating our 2017 report; in light of the pilot commissioned by the Met in 2021 following the controversial stops of athletes Ricardo dos Santos and Bianca Williams, and of Dawn Butler MP. • Legal research briefs: we have partnered with a legal firm to produce a batch of research notes on the following topics:

		1) searches of children; 2) cannabis searches; and 3) handcuffs and other restraints used during stop-searches. We will be looking to use the findings for our advocacy work from 2024. • Out of order report: we are in the process of completing a mini-report on the rise of stop and search in hybrid orders legislation. • Serious Violence Reduction Orders: an ongoing joint project with the Centre for Crime and Justice Studies, in which we have researched the implications of the legislation. • Political Quarterly: we submitted a journal article to PQ on defunding the police and StopWatch trustees Rebekah Delsol, Michael Shiner and Neena Samota submitted a second titled 'Caught in a Vicious Cycle: Where are we with Stop and Search?' Section 60: we continued work an ongoing long-term project about the police power 30 years on, focusing on the human rights implications of the use of these powers.

Independent Examiner's Report

Report to the trustees

On accounts for the year ended

Charity no
(if any)

Set out on pages

(remember to include the page numbers of additional sheets)

I report to the trustees on my examination of the accounts of the above charity ("the Trust") for the year ended 31 March 2024.

Responsibilities and

As the charity's trustees, you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ("the Act").

I report in respect of my examination of the Trust's accounts carried out under section 145 of the 2011 Act and in carrying out my examination, I have followed all the applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the Act.

Independent
examiner's statement

The charity's gross income exceeded £250,000 and I am qualified to undertake the examination by being a qualified member of The Association of Chartered Certified Accountants.

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention in connection with the examination (other than that disclosed below *) which gives me cause to believe that in, any material respect:

- the accounting records were not kept in accordance with section 130 of the Charities Act; or
- the accounts did not accord with the accounting records; or
- the accounts did not comply with the applicable requirements concerning the form and content of accounts set out in the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 other than any requirement that the accounts give a 'true and fair' view which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination.

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Summary of the purposes of the charity as set out in its governing document	Para 1.17	For the public benefit: 1) to promote the sound administration and development of the law, in particular in relation to the use of stop and search powers. 2) to promote ethical standards of conduct in policing, in particular, in relation to the use of stop and search powers to ensure policing is fair, effective and accountable.

Para 1.17 and 1.19	Working with academics, lawyers, community members and civil liberties campaigners, we aim to address excess and disproportionate stop and search, promote best practice and ensure fair, effective policing for all. Our activities aim to: • Raise awareness and inform the public about the use of police stop and search powers, • Develop, conduct and publish research on stop and search and alternatives to it, • Create opportunities for impacted communities (particularly young people) to participate in the public debate on stop and search, • Highlight good practice in the use of stop and search, • Recommend improvements to the law and regulations governing stop and search, • Provide support to people seeking to challenge the unlawful use of stop and search powers, • Advance human rights through our work across the period.

Achievements and Performance

	SORP reference
Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	Awareness raising activities Following on from the successful revamp of our website, we modified our 'Your Area' page into an interactive dashboard tracking the number of stop and searches in England and Wales per Police Force Area. Girls and young women's experiences of stop and search project Our participatory action research project explores young women's experience of policing. Teams of young women in London, Manchester and Nottingham were trained in research and advocacy skills in order to carry out interviews with other young women about their lived experience. The remaining phases of the project are data analysis during which the young women will receive data analysis training and report writing skills, after which a national advocacy tour will be organised to raise awareness about the findings of the research. Consultation submissions We continue to respond to public consultations on police use of powers, including: • A joint civil society response to revisions of PACE Code A in light of the Police, Crime and Sentencing Courts Act (June 2022) • The consultation on 'Extraction of information from electronic devices: code of practice' (July 2022) • A consultation on standards for ethnicity data (August 2022) • A Home Affairs Select Committee on policing priorities (October 2022) Research projects We are working on a number of research projects, including: • Driving While Black 2: Updating our 2017 report; in light of the pilot commissioned by the Met in 2021 following the controversial stops of athletes Ricardo dos Santos and Bianca Williams, and of Dawn Butler MP. So far, we have received a handful of responses from police forces with the second batch of freedom of information requests submitted. We are in negotiations with several pollsters over the planned nationwide survey of drivers and passengers. • Legal research briefs: we have partnered with a legal firm to produce a batch of research notes on the following topics: 1) searches of children; 2) cannabis searches; and 3) handcuffs and other restraints used during stop-searches. We will be looking to use the findings for our advocacy work from 2024. • Out of order report: we are in the process of completing a mini-report on the rise of stop and search in hybrid orders legislation. • Serious Violence Reduction Orders: an ongoing joint project with the Centre for Crime and Justice Studies, in which we have researched the implications of the legislation, and are waiting for freedom of information responses submitted to forces. Section 60: we are completing an ongoing long-term project about the police power 30 years on, focusing on the human rights implications of the use of these powers. Evidence-based advocacy We continue to attend meetings with statutory bodies representing the police. We met with: • Independent Office for Police Conduct on several occasions in the last year, including a Race Discrimination National Advisory Group meeting in June 2022, followed by a National Advisory Group meeting in December of the same year. • HMICFRS in August 2022 over the methodology for the next round of their PEEL inspections. They also interviewed us as part of an evidence-gathering exercise for the Criminal Justice Alliance's super-complaint. We contributed evidence with INQUEST on the use of force to a legal hearing (R v W80) in which an officer involved in the fatal use of a firearm is appealing the threshold by which his actions were judged by the police watchdog.

Responsibilities and

As the charity's trustees, you are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 ("the Act").

- the accounts did not accord with the accounting records; or
- the accounts did not comply with the applicable requirements concerning the form and content of accounts set out in the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 other than any requirement that the accounts give a 'true and fair' view which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination.

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Achievements and Performance

	SORP reference
Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	The COVID19 pandemic has continued to have a significant impact on our work, limiting opportunities for in-person meetings, events and trainings with stakeholders and impacted communities. Awareness raising activities StopWatch remains dedicated to raising awareness of the practice, experience and impact of stop and search. StopWatch has organised a variety of events, over the last year aimed at raising awareness, offering training, sharing resources and providing safe spaces for those experiencing policing to be heard. This included youth training, parents' groups, report launches, conferences and policy seminars. Many of these have been done on-line to ensure access. Rights and Well-being (RAW) StopWatch launched a new 'Rights and Wellbeing' project, aimed at providing resources, group workshops, and individual support to equip individuals with the knowledge of preventing and reducing harm resulting from police encounters, while also addressing the broader impacts of stop and search by providing therapeutic support to help people process and deal with its after-effects. The first online RAW summit took place in October 2021. This allowed us to test the concept and explore need and interest. We have followed this up with a series of in-depth workshops beginning in March 2022 and will hold the RAW 2 summit in-person in late 2022. Girls and young women's experiences of stop and search project Our participatory action research project explores young women's experience of policing. Having trained teams of young women in London, Manchester and Leicester, in research, analysis and advocacy skills, they are currently interviewing other young women on their experiences. The project will run over 18 months. Early results have been shared at events and through blogs and podcasts, presented, written and recorded by the researchers involved. Accessible information: factsheets, articles, reports and data visualisations StopWatch has launched a new website that is easier to navigate and hosts new resources such as the factsheets, consultation submissions, opinion articles, reports and ways to access advice and support after poor experiences of policing. The website contains information about the the different types of stop and search powers, namely:

		• Section 60 factsheet - StopWatch (stop-watch.org) • PACE section 1 factsheet - StopWatch (stop-watch.org) • Terrorism Act 2000 factsheet - StopWatch (stop-watch.org) • Traffic stops factsheet - StopWatch (stop-watch.org) Alongside this, we will soon launch a refreshed 'Your Area' data visualisation page that maps out stop and searches by police force area. We have increased our presence on social media including Twitter and Instagram and have a well-received monthly newsletter that round up our activities, policing developments, news and opportunities. Consultation submissions We continue to respond to public consultations on police use of powers. For example: November 2021: StopWatch response to 'Data: A new direction' consultation Our response to the Department for Digital, Culture, Media & Sport's consultation 'on reforms to create an ambitious, pro-growth and innovation-friendly data protection regime that underpins the trustworthy use of data.' September 2021: StopWatch response to 'Use of handcuffs: Proposed addition to APP on stop and search' consultation StopWatch response to the stakeholder consultation on handcuffing expresses concern over the lack of accountability for improper use of the tactic. May 2021: StopWatch response to HMICFRS's 2021/22 policing inspection programme Our response to the consultation on the policing inspection programme and framework run by Her Majesty's Inspectorate of Constabulary and Fire & Rescue Services. Research projects As a result of the high profile stops of Dawn Butler MP and athletes Bianca Williams and Ricardo dos Santos, with Liberty, we are collaborating on updating the Driving while Black briefing. Marsha de Cordova MP, Labour's Shadow Women and Equalities minister met with a small selected group of organizations to discuss the party's approach to issues of race. StopWatch shared the Colour of Injustice report and suggested that its recommendations could be adopted as policy positions. The Met announced it would be conducting a pilot recording ethnicity of individuals stopped in vehicles. As it has been over a year since the Met promised to do this (link), we're working with Liberty Investigates to push for information on the availability and timing of its release. We also in the process of trying to ascertain the breakdown of police-retrieved offensive weapons by type. We asked London Assembly Member Caroline Green to ask for the number of knives seized / recovered by the Met from stop and searches compared with other methods over a 12-month period (link) and were told the data 'is not held in a retrievable format', but we are working with journalists to obtain that information in another form. We are working with two legal firms on a pro bono research project exploring legal grey areas in stop and search regulation. Research teams have worked on two briefings focusing on the regulations around stop and search and children and low-level drug stops. These research notes will form the basis for our policy papers, sharing our analysis and positions and supporting evidence-based advocacy. Evidence-based advocacy We continue to attend meetings with statutory bodies representing the police. This includes IOPC (race discrimination) National Advisory Group meetings featuring regional director Sal Naseem and Met assistant commissioner Neil Basu to raise concerns about the Met police's conduct issues and Her Majesty's Inspectorate of Constabulary. In April/May 2022, we attended a 'TASER Community Testimony Day' and a 'Hostile environment data-sharing' workshop lending evidence and support for both issues from a stop and search perspective.

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	Covid-19 had a profound and unprecedented impact on everyone. It set the context for policing, and this meant we had to adapt our work to ensure we were reaching the communities impacted by stop and search. Black and Asian communities while suffering higher rates of Covid-19, were subject to higher rates of police contacts and fines across the enforcement of lockdown restrictions. Policing remained focused on enforcement, with increases in stop and search, use of force and disproportionate responses to protest. Despite the disruptive impact of the pandemic, StopWatch continued to raise awareness of the impact of stop and search while monitoring and challenging the disproportionate use of these powers. - Conducted research on impact of COVID laws and police accountability, initiating research on new policing technology, age and ethnic profiling, data gathering and gendered policing responses. - Developed and hosted online events with community groups, statutory bodies and key partner organisations. - Released a statement on the use of new legislation created to handle the COVID-19 pandemic. Developed a webpage for more information and shared widely with members, networks and via Twitter. - Wrote an open letter, supported by partner organisations and academics, to the Home Secretary over the proposed introduction of Serious Violence Reduction Orders. These proposals subvert existing legal safeguards on the use of stop and search – the 'reasonable suspicion' test for all searches covered by the Police and Criminal Evidence Act 1984 and relevant code of practice (Code A). - Submitted a detailed response to the Home Office stop and search consultation, which was developed through consultation with over 40 StopWatch members. - Developed a series of resources to increase awareness and help those affected to manage their interactions with the police. For example, in consultation with parents, we developed a guide for parent and children, which was re-evaluated by consulting parents groups online. - Initiated initial discussions to research the use of the exceptional stop and search power, Section 60. Suspicionless Section 60 search powers have resulted in some of the most egregious racial disproportionalities in all policing; StopWatch analysis of police data found that in 2018/19, black people were searched under Section 60 at almost 45 times the rate of white people. - StopWatchorganised a variety of events,during the pandemic, aimed at raising awareness, offering training, sharing resources and providing safe spaces for those experiencing policing to be heard. This included youth training, parents' groups, report launches, conferences and policy seminar. - StopWatch developed a series of resources to increase awareness and help those affected to manage their interactions with the police. This included latest developments in police practice such as increased use of handcuffing and force, searching of mobile phones and technology. - To assist people in understanding their rights, StopWatch developed a COVID webpage, specific email and a downloadable bookletwhich was shared throughout our network and on Twitter. - Planning underway to update the Y-Stop resources in keeping with community consultation and evaluation. Our short films have been viewed more than 1.7 million times; and the Y-Stop app has been downloaded by more than 10,000 people.
