Contribution made by volunteers	The club wishes to acknowledge the considerable contribution from volunteers who support all functions of this club. Without the dedicated support of these volunteers the club would not run or offer activities. Volunteers fill all the trustee positions, offer coaching and courses, deliver competitions and support paddlers. Many of the club paddlers also help with peer coaching and leading, and with voluntary activities for the club. Volunteers also take responsibility for the maintenance of club equipment, and the club compound.
---------------------------------	---

Achievements and Performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	During the year the club widened the offer that was made to paddlers and ensured that safety training was at the core of what was offered. As more people take up paddling the club sees itself having a key role in offering education and basic skills training to all who might want to start paddling. Our Saturday morning sessions are open to anyone, and temporary membership is available giving them the opportunity to access the sessions and try out paddling in a safe environment. We are delivering the NGB basic safety courses encouraging paddlers to take responsibility for their own safety out on the water, and to know how to deal with a capsize and getting back into, or onto their craft. Our Slalom and Freestyle sections have been supporting paddlers to improve their skills and enter competitions, and in slalom paddlers have been moving through the divisions. The rafting section now competes nationally and internationally and is used as the base for the Great Britain team. The club carried out some pennywort removal and river clean ups.

Achievements and Performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	During the year the club widened the offer that was made to paddlers, and ensured that safety training was at the core of what we offered. This included delivering the new paddle safer training created by British Canoeing. As more people take up paddling the club sees itself having a key role in offering education and basic skills training to all who might want to start paddling. To encourage acquisition of basic skills the club funds the cost of the Discover and Explore Awards for all paddlers. Our Saturday morning sessions are open to anyone, and temporary membership is available giving them the opportunity to access the sessions and try out paddling in a safe environment.

Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	Income has remained steady with paddling income down somewhat from last year, partially due to a loss of paddling sessions due to poor weather during the winter, and a decrease in the number of slalom paddlers within the club. After the large purchases the previous year, less has been spent on equipment this year and a review of equipment will be undertaken. Greater income and expenses have been incurred for pool sessions, as the freestyle section have started running their own pool sessions at Clifton pool, releasing spaces for other paddlers on the Saturday sessions.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	The reserves held have increased slightly from the previous year and remain suitable for the ambitions of the club. A proportion of the reserves are held for the refurbishment of the compound to generate more storage space.
Amount of reserves held	£47147

Without the dedicated support of these volunteers the club would not run or offer activities. Volunteers fill all the trustee positions, offer coaching and courses deliver competitions and support paddlers.
Covid 19	The period of this report covers the resumption of paddling following the various periods of lockdown, and many of the club's processes have changed permanently as a result of changes made through the pandemic. These processes worked well during this period and enabled the club to restart activities in a good place and able to encourage new members in what was to be an Olympic year. Historically, Olympic years have always seen an increase in the number of people wanting to try canoeing as they watch it on the TV possibly for the first time.

Achievements and Performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	This year has seen a consolidation of the changes made during Covid and an expansion of club activities to deal with the numbers of paddlers now coming forward. We reached out to a number of Schools to engage them in our Slalom development programme and over 40 young people started attending regular slalom training. Our rafting racing section offered open introduction day sessions to encourage people new to the sport to come and try it out. The recreational section offered taster sessions every Saturday morning throughout the summer, enabling a large number to take up paddling for the first time. In addition, sessions were run to support paddlers to improve their skills including for the first time since the pandemic sessions at the pool during the winter. Working with Severn Trent Water we began a programme of litter picking along the River Trent and local Canals offering the chance for paddlers to give back to the local communities by clearing rubbish and litter from the water way and from the banks. We saw an increase in the number of new paddlers wanting to join the club following the pandemic, with people wanting to get out and experience nature and the outdoors safely. The club ran a number of safety sessions to support paddlers and ensure that they were safe on the water and knew how to look after themselves. In addition, a number of paddlers who had bought craft during lock down attended the club to receive tuition and to progress their skills. A number started attending the club to receive Whitewater skills training where they had developed their skills either on their own or at other clubs. A considerable investment was made in this year in equipment to support the growing number of paddlers, especially in the white-water section. The considerable growth in the popularity of WW paddling, touring and Stand up Paddleboarding is driving the need for more equipment, and greater storage space.

Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	The income for the year has bounced back to beyond pre-pandemic levels and has seen the greatest level of paddling fees ever. Equipment expenditure has also been at a record high, but much of this equipment has at least a 10 year lifespan so will be an asset for years to come.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	The reserves held have decreased from the previous year due to the considerable expenditure on kit, but remain suitable for the ambitions of the club. A proportion of the reserves are held for the purchase of equipment containers to generate more storage space for the Slalom and Rafting groups.
Amount of reserves held	£43459

Statement confirming whether the trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit	The trustees have had due regard to ensure that the activities provided are for the public benefit in so far as they are open to anyone and provide health benefits through increased exercise and recreation.

Additional information

Contribution made by volunteers	The club wishes to acknowledge the considerable contribution from volunteers who support all functions of the club. Without the dedicated support of these volunteers the club would not run or offer activities. Volunteers fill all the trustee positions, offer coaching and courses, deliver competitions and support paddlers.
Covid 19	This trustee's report covers a period where the normal functioning of the club was seriously affected by Covid and the trustees have needed to make a number of decisions to ensure the long term viability of the club for the members. The club was fortunate to have a good level of reserves going into the pandemic and was able to reduce expenditure during the pandemic to minimal levels. The club was also exceedingly fortunate to be supported by the members who continued to renew memberships through this period, ensuring that the club received income through the pandemic.

Achievements and Performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	At the start of the reporting period the club closed for all paddling activity when the country entered lockdown. It was a considerable period of time before activities could resume, and then at this point it was with a considerable reduction in the numbers that were able to take part. However, when paddling resumed, we were delighted to see members returning, and received many enquiries from potential new members. Many members commented that they had missed the opportunity to be in the outdoors and to meet up with friends and paddling partners. The club saw a large influx of new members as paddling became one of the few activities that was accessible during some of the lockdown periods. During the year membership grew from 330 pre-pandemic to 380 at the end of the financial year. Our rafting programme was severely disrupted as rafting was one of the last paddling activities to resume due to the close proximity of paddlers, but individual rafters continued their training regime. Our Rafters against Rubbish project was awarded £10000 from Severn Trent Community Fund, for a series of litter picks on the River Trent and for the purchase of rafts and stand up paddleboards. This programme was seriously disrupted by Covid, and Severn Trent agreed an extension to the end of the project to ensure that we were able to complete our objectives. Slalom paddling received a boost when our main slalom coach was able to get into schools to run some taster sessions, and this was highly successful with a great conversion rate to young people taking out membership and staying with the club as young athletes. Considerable work was done to retain the engagement of these young people through progressive lockdowns. Recreational paddling resumed with the key change that all sessions needed to be pre-booked and paid for to ensure that social distancing could be maintained and that where necessary covid bubbles could be maintained. The system introduced has been exceedingly successful and it is unlikely that the club will return to an adhoc turn up and pay arrangement. Coaching courses were delayed with little activity taking place during the year, and coaches who were working towards assessment had to put their plans on hold.
--	---

Financial Review

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period	The income and expenditure for this year are both at a level equating to 50% of the transactions for the previous year. However, due to a high number of members continuing their membership through the lockdowns the club was able to break even and show a small surplus for the year.
Statement explaining the policy for holding reserves stating why they are held	The reserves held at the end of the year was £52,381, of which a portion equated to a grant from Severn Trent Community Fund for the Rafters against Rubbish project. Reserves are also being held for the purchase of two new containers for storage to be installed at the centre. This will be a considerable cost to the club but will make a major difference to our operations, allowing equipment to be stored safely and securely. The increase in space will also allow us to expand our capacity, so allowing more people to participate.
