C&D Where The Music Takes You

Annual Return 2023

Summary of Activities and Public Benefit:

During this reporting period, C&D Where the music takes you continued its mission to support children and young adults through creative arts, music, and performance.

The charity operates entirely through voluntary support, community goodwill, and donated spaces. We do not charge fees, handle cash, or hold monetary reserves, ensuring our support remains accessible and free at the point of delivery.

Key activities carried out included:

- Providing creative, inclusive art and music sessions for young people to build confidence, self-expression, and well-being.
- Working with volunteer mentors and creatives to deliver supportive workshops.
- Utilizing gifted materials and shared community venues to run sessions without financial overheads.

The trustees confirm that all activities were undertaken for the public benefit in direct furtherance of our charitable objects, powered entirely by community volunteer time.
