C&D Where The Music Takes You

Annual Report 2024

During this reporting period, C&D Where the music takes you continued to support children and young people through creative arts, music, and performance workshops.

The charity operates entirely on volunteer time, gifted equipment, and community goodwill, handling £0 in income or expenditure. Activities focused on offering free, safe creative spaces where young people could explore artistic expression, build confidence, and connect with peers.

All work was delivered voluntarily for public benefit in accordance with our charitable objectives.
