Section C Objectives and activitiesSummary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The promotion of race equality and cultural diversity in the education system, specialising in the support of Black and Minority Ethnic children and young people, by: Providing a programme of educational activities, including supplementary schooling, mentoring and support services; Providing advice, information and advocacy support for parents/carers in relation to their children's education; Delivering projects aimed at promoting equality within the education system; Providing information and raising awareness on educational legislation and issues related to race equality and cultural diversity; Working in partnership with other equalities groups who provide services to young people.

The organisation's purpose is the promotion of race equality and cultural diversity in the education system. This purpose is beneficial to both the public in general and to individuals defined by reference to the protected characteristic of race.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

The organisation's purpose is of public benefit in the following ways: It aims to challenge racism and discrimination within the education system to reduce inequalities between different ethnic groups, particularly in relation to educational opportunities, academic achievement and school exclusion. It aims to reduce inequalities between different ethnic groups within the education system by delivering projects which tackle discrimination and promote equality, improving attainment and progression for Black and Minority Ethnic pupils.

This work is of benefit to the general public as it seeks to prevent racism and discrimination to create a fairer, just and more equal society where all pupils can achieve, progress and succeed regardless of ethnic background. In addition to the benefit to the general public the organisation's purpose is also of benefit to a particular section of the public who are defined by reference to the protected characteristic of race. This section of the public includes children and young people from minority ethnic backgrounds, and their parents, who suffer from racial discrimination, disadvantage and inequality in relation to the education system.

The main activities undertaken during this period by the charity to carry out its charitable purposes for the public benefit included the delivery of the following projects and services:

A Supplementary School programme to positively impact on the educational achievement, motivation and future aspirations of BME pupils and to promote a positive sense of identity in BME children and young people, enhancing confidence and self esteem and giving them a greater awareness of their history, heritage, culture and language.

A Mentoring programme for Black and Minority Ethnic young people to impact positively on their education and social and emotional well being; enhance their learning and engagement with education and reduce the risk of school exclusion.

An Advice and Advocacy service to support parents in relation to their children's education which seeks to enable parents of Black and Minority Ethnic children to participate more effectively in decisions about their children's education, helping them support their children by working in partnership with schools and voicing their views and concerns effectively on a range of issues including school exclusion.

In making decisions about the organisation's purpose and the activities to carry out that purpose the trustees have complied with their duty to have due regard to the commission's public benefit guidance when exercising any powers or duties to which the guidance is relevant.

Section D

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the year

Supplementary School Programme – The Supplementary School ran throughout the academic year for 2 hours each week on Saturdays for students aged 11-18. This year's curriculum for example continued our work to inspire and raise the aspirations of girls and young women from B&ME backgrounds including music workshops and tuition to create opportunities to create and perform music, culminating in a live performance at Bath Music Festival, building musical skills and developing confidence and self-esteem. The school also organised a cultural trip to London to support identity development and explore cultural heritage and set up an Alumni programme, providing opportunities for previous students to inspire the current cohort.

The organisation's Supplementary School has created a well organised, caring, positive and safe environment, with all the required policies and procedures in place and in which young people are engaged and positive about the service being provided. The organisation also continues to ensure that the children and young people who access its services are safe from harm and that its safeguarding policies and procedures are in line with current legislation and good practice guidance. In addition, staff make an active contribution to keeping children safe through local child protection procedures when necessary.

Advice and Advocacy Service - During this year the organisation continued to provide information, advice and advocacy support for families in relation to their children's education. The areas where information, advice and support are provided for families can cover a range of areas including exclusion from school and exclusion appeals; Support for families around Special Educational Needs and Disability; School admissions and school place appeals. In addition, the organisation works with schools, other voluntary organisations and services to continue to identify needs and implement support strategies for children and young people in relation to their education and issues of racial equality where necessary.

Mentoring Programme - The Mentoring Programme continued to provide 1:1 mentoring support face to face for children and young people in schools. The programme responded to new referrals coming in from schools throughout the year. It achieved positive outcomes for pupils specifically around ethnicity, race and racism. In relation to the mental health and emotional and social well being of students, the programme provided role models to impact positively on their identity and self esteem, building confidence and resilience and supporting them to manage situations to cope with experiences that impact on their education, peer relationships and well being.

Race Equality Policy and Practice Partnership Working - During this year the organisation has continued to work in partnership with schools, a range of organisations and services within the Local Authority in relation to progressing race equality and promoting good practice within the local education system. This year the organisation has focused on working to address key issues in relation to racial equality and education through the continued roll out of the Race Equality Charter for Schools achieved through working with its partners on the Bath and N.E. Somerset Race Equality and Education Task Group. The Charter aims to provide schools with a robust and consistent framework to enable them to identify issues relating to race and racism, develop effective actions to address those issues and achieve lasting, positive changes in relation to race equality within the education system across B&NES. The majority of schools across the Local Authority have signed up to the Charter and the organisation continued its work throughout this year with task group partners to support schools with the effective implementation of the Race Equality Charter, particularly through the introduction of a new Beacon School Initiative which aims to recognise, highlight and share good practice in relation to the charter between schools.

Funding and Sustainability In relation to funding, this year saw the organisation successfully bid to deliver a racial equality education service for Bath and North East Somerset Council for the next 5 years, which will allow us to continue to provide an Information Advice and Advocacy service for parents / carers in relation to their children's education alongside mentoring and race equality policy and practice work with schools. The Mentoring Programme and Race Equality Training Workshops also provided two small sources of income generation, continuing to diversify and strengthen the organisation's income streams and future sustainability going forward.

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

The trustees' policy on reserves is to maintain sufficient reserves to cover 6 months of operating costs for the organisation. This level of reserves is deemed as reasonable and sufficient to secure the organisation's future sustainability against any unforeseen circumstances or changes.
