Background Information of some of the Projects carried out

Rickshaws for men - To promote self sustainability

The self-sustainable Rickshaw projects will be phasing out and replaced with battery powered rickshaw. This will continue to provide opportunities for men to be able to acquire basic necessities for their family. By using local knowledge for selection process has helped identify the most needed for this project.

Sewing Machine for women - To promote self sustainability

The self sustainable Sewing Machine projects provides opportunities for women to acquire basic necessities for their family, the primary objective of this programme is to assist women who are the main breadwinner for their family, although the ideal beneficiary would be a widow or when in situation such as their spouse unable to work due to disabilities, Helping Humanity also recognises the need to empower women. In recognition to this the charity supports younger beneficiaries.

Water Pump Project

Helping Humanity recognises the need for clean water accessibility, in Bangladesh many people suffer from illnesses due to water borne diseases causing health disorders, such as renal failure and high blood pressure. From our research when conducting local inspection for potential beneficiaries, we've learnt some families resort to local lakes and ponds for water, we also learnt some families and communities have to walk distance for clean water. Our support in this area of work promotes healthy living and basic survival requirement.

House Project

The primary objectives of this project is to offer vulnerable families, whose life may be endangered due to flooding and harsh weather condition. We realise this may be the first step away from the cycle of poverty. In order to create a safe and secure atmosphere, our house projects are mainly built with a strong foundation and bricked wall with tin roof. This provides a long sustainable home for families who may never get another opportunity for support.

Orphans Support

Without parents they may not have the advantages and privileges like other children. Orphans are the most vulnerable in society, especially in emerging countries such as Bangladesh. In partnership with local Bangladeshi authorities.

Zakatul- Fitr

Helping Humanity has been providing a service to their donors in fulfilling their annual food distribution before the Eid ceremony as documented in the Islamic religion. We understand the importance of this charitable act as a service provider, therefore we have carefully followed the guidance from the teachings of Prophet Muhammad and have distributed food as prescribed by the Prophetic tradition.

Qurbani Projects

Qurbani is another charitable act prescribed by the Islamic religion, we as a service provider for our donors, we have undertaken this responsibility in carefully executing this project. This involves purchasing of cattle's who are free from illnesses and defects, providing sacrificial facilities by ensuring animals are treated with respect and slaughtered humanly, distributing the meat amongst the most deprived in society on Eid day.

Iftar and Fidyah Events

Every Ramadan we provide food for people to break their fast. The Iftar event is a unique programme, which not only provides food but rather promotes a vibrant festive atmosphere for the under privileged to get together and enjoy breaking their fast together as a community. We've learnt the people value these event dearly as men, women and children are engaged in the activities. We have served thousands of people with foods in rural areas in Bangladesh.

Roadside Kiosks

Roadside Kiosks is a new initiative as part of our self-sustainable project which provides opportunity for an individual to become self-employed and acquire a sustainable income to. The roadside kiosk initiative also provides an opportunity to those with restricted mobility
