*We paid tuition fees of US$1 000.00 (£791.73) to a young Zimbabwean - Ralph Tadiwanashe Musonza who had dropped out of his BA Gen 2nd year studies at University of Johannesburg due to failure to raise the tuition. The parents have promised to make a donation to Lux E Tenebris once they are back on their feet.

*We no longer have students at Magaya Primary School in receipt of fees from Lux E Tenebris. We have discussed with the school to pursue a gardening project which would provide skills to the children and food to the community. We would provide the tools and seeds. Our volunteers will work with the school to ensure the project is a success. The new head of Magays will be coming back to Lux E Tenebris after discussing with his staff and Education Officers in the District Offices.

*The team have received donations of clothing and groceries throughout the year that has been passed on to one family whose head - Taurai Mufudza, was involved in an accident while mining and whose story was aired on social media. He had all fees and uniforms purchased and therefore did not require fees for the children paid. Due to Covid 19 lockdown and the challenges experienced in making contact, it was unanimously agreed among the trustees that all five trustees continue to serve as trustees and suspend the recruitment of new trustees until a review is conducted – possibly in a couple of years.

4 International Committee: The committee meets at least three times a year and is charged with overseeing the Charity's international work, considering future approaches, and reviewing progress on existing projects.

Activities carried out during the year:

Zimbabwe:

* Our Zimbabwe project coordinator – Yolanda Muzomba continued to head the Zimbabwe team of volunteers and the projects. However, Yolanda is currently being assisted in her role by volunteer - Rutendo Musoni.

School fees beneficiaries further declined to three primary school pupils: In addition to the economic downturn, schools were not open for most of the year, further reducing motivation for sending children to school at Magaya Primary School. Parents became unemployed and informal trading also became impossible as lockdown was implemented. Poverty levels rose as the financial and physical effects of the Covid 19 pandemic took effect through unemployment, lack of food and resources, illness, and multiple deaths. This was compounded by Magaya Primary school closing. Making it difficult to continue focusing on our education project.

* We paid fees which comprised of tuition, building fund, teachers' wages, school levy and general-purpose fund for 3 children. It was disappointing to lose more pupils who moved communities during the pandemic.

*As schools reopened, we provided Magaya Primary school with 3 tap buckets, 91 bottles of hand sanitizers, and 60 face masks.

*The team distributed 10 oximeters received from UK to 3 rural clinics and 2 to Magaya Primary School to support in monitoring saturation levels for those affected by Covid 19 in their communities. Doctors and health facilities were charging for testing oxygen saturation levels which was far above what the community could afford. By donating these oximeters, it was agreed tests would be done free to the communities, hence we were able to provide access to health facilities otherwise out of reach for many.

*Our Zimbabwe team held video meetings throughout the year and agreed to focus on a different project within the capital city - Harare where they identified an orphanage - Shammah Children's Home to support temporarily following the orphanage experiencing a spate of robberies and thefts. Our volunteers collected clothes donations from donors which they delivered to the orphanage.

We paid fees for three children at the orphanage to clear all their fees arrears.

The committee made a decision to support Shammah orphanage as it is one of a few organisations owned by a Christian church that funds it. We preferred to support those without any other form of support.

*For the Christmas event, I met up with volunteers in Zimbabwe and had a Christmas luncheon as a way to come together and appreciate the work done throughout the year.

UK

*To assist in the delivery of the charitable objectives, the activities for 2021 continued to be restricted by the Covid 19 pandemic policies that made it very less favourable for physical contact.

*Meetings continued to be held online using Zoom.

*We continued to host Zoom workshops in "Death and Dying – responses to bereavement" which have been very popular especially among females. People were experiencing a new kind of grieving in privacy and with little or no physical support. This increased the popularity of the Death workshops which in turned increased attendance.

Lux E Tenebris Plans for the future

Structure, Governance and Management

Lux E Tenebris is governed by its Constitution dated 5 February 2016. This constitution is filed with the Charity Commission.

Governance

The governing body of Lux E Tenebris consisting of at least three trustees who are legally responsible for its governance and management, meets a minimum of four times annually. There were five (5) Trustees who served throughout the year namely:

Luxley M Musoni - Chairperson

Esther Jana - Trustee

Rutendo L Juru - Trustee

Rumbidzai G S Gabi - Trustee

Tsitsi R V Rabeca – Trustee

Due to Covid 19 lockdown and the challenges experienced in making contact, it was unanimously agreed among the trustees that all five trustees continue to serve as trustees and suspend the recruitment of new trustees until a review is conducted – possibly in a couple of years.

Management:

Trustees set the charity's strategy and policy and ensure these are appropriately implemented through four committees that meet regularly and refer to Council with recommendations, except where urgent decisions are required. In this case, the Chairman is consulted to carry out specified tasks until Council can fully consider the issues involved. Trustees in turn are supported by volunteers and advisors in UK and in Zimbabwe.

1 Wellbeing Committee: The committee meets regularly to advise the trustees on all aspects of wellbeing affecting beneficiaries of funding, trustees, volunteers and the local and international community that the CIO can address. They provide knowledge and consider requests for support. They are responsible for assessing requests for support as well as initiating projects to be involved in.

2 General Purposes and Finance Committee: The Committee is responsible for the appointment of auditors and recommendation of expenditure. They are responsible for formulating the budget and monitoring it. The Committee is responsible for maintaining the bank account and responsible for investments and borrowings on behalf of the CIO.

3 Fundraising Committee: The committee meets three times a year and is primarily responsible for reviewing the financial affairs of the Charity and making recommendations to Council. This includes considering the strategic plan, annual budget and performance against budget, management of the Charity's investments, and the annual accounts and report of the auditors. The committee also acts as a sounding board to consider proposals from the Executive prior to presentation to Council. The committee is responsible for fundraising and ensures strategy matches its aims and objectives.

4 International Committee: The committee meets at least three times a year and is charged with overseeing the Charity's international work, considering future approaches, and reviewing progress on existing projects.

Activities carried out during the year:

Zimbabwe:

* Our Zimbabwe project coordinator – Yolanda Muzomba continued to head the Zimbabwe team of volunteers and the projects. However, Yolanda is currently being assisted in her role by volunteer - Rutendo Musoni.

School fees beneficiaries further declined to three primary school pupils: In addition to the economic downturn, schools were not open for most of the year, further reducing motivation for sending children to school at Magaya Primary School. Parents became unemployed and informal trading also became impossible as lockdown was implemented. Poverty levels rose as the financial and physical effects of the Covid 19 pandemic took effect through unemployment, lack of food and resources, illness, and multiple deaths. This was compounded by Magaya Primary school closing. Making it difficult to continue focusing on our education project.

* We paid fees which comprised of tuition, building fund, teachers' wages, school levy and general-purpose fund for 3 children. It was disappointing to lose another beneficiary as further pupils are not coming back to school. Although schools were only open for half of the year, fees were not waived and therefore full fees were paid for the whole year.

*As schools reopened, we provided Magaya Primary school with 3 tap buckets, 91 bottles of hand sanitizers, and 60 face masks.

* The team provided exam kits to pupils who came back to school to write their end of year exams. These kits were not only given to our three beneficiaries but to all the 45 grade 7 pupils at the school. Each kit given to each child contained an exercise book, 2 pens, 2 pencils, 1 eraser and 1 ruler.

*Our Zimbabwe team held video meetings throughout the year and agreed to focus on a different project within the capital city - Harare where they identified an orphanage - Shammah Children's Home to support temporarily following the orphanage experiencing a spate of robberies and thefts. Our volunteers have made a list of ways that they can get involved with Shammah ranging from paying school fees arrears for those in primary school to fundraising to replace stolen bedding and clothes including uniforms. Arrangements are underway in 2021 for the volunteers to visit Shammah Children's home and agree the support that can be offered.

UK

*To assist in the delivery of the charitable objectives, the activities for 2020 were restricted by the Covid 19 pandemic policies that made it very difficult to make physical contact as many people isolated.

*Meetings ceased to be made physically and continued to be held online using Zoom.

*We continued to host Zoom workshops in "Death and Dying – responses to bereavement" which have been very popular especially among females.

*For our Christmas event, we got our regular donors some tokens to thank them of their support.

Lux E Tenebris Plans for the future

The Charity's strategic objectives for the 2021 will focus on:

*Recruiting sponsors and regular donors.

*Recruitment of trustees

*Adoption of different projects i.e. supporting struggling informal orphanages

*Starting income generating projects in Zimbabwe.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

We declare that there are no serious incidents or other matters that trustees should have reported to the Commission but have not done so.
