To achieve the objects, the charity carried out the following :

A- Educational Programmes :

The centre is opened usually three days a week plus dates where there are special occasions. There are three programmes for men , women and children .

The programme is usually of educational and social nature. The recreational activities are run during religious festivals and include competition , poetry, speeches and songs. All these activities are done by the members of the community and according to their talents. The people who are running educational programmes including religious teaching are specialist in their field.

As members of our organisation are drawn from various backgrounds and work on voluntary basis we are able to allocate topics according to their speciality.

Doctors provide health promotion, psychologists on family and relationship issues, teachers on education system and examination techniques and so on.

We provide a regular educational sessions for adults and young people regarding issues like citizenship, the teaching of Islam regarding respect of other faiths and obeying the law of the land.

We invite clergymen from UK and abroad who are scholars and well known speakers during religious festivals. Most of them are graduate from religious schools or universities.

Everyone is invited to social activities whether they attend to pray and receive religious education or not. They can bring their friends from various religious ,social or cultural background. Half or more of our attendees are women and girls . We provide health promotion lectures about women health, encourage women to attend English language lessons at the colleges, provide them with guidance about dealing with statutory bodies like health and education. We also invite speakers to talk about family issues like domestic violence.

We usually advertise our activities through text messages, e-mails, website , whataspp, social media and word of mouth.

B-Youth programmes

We run the following activities for young people but not on daily basis :

Football games supervised by registered coaches.

Cookery and cake making classes.

Visiting local attractions.

Games and activities inside the building like table tennis.

We use qualified youth workers who are CRB certified .

We do not charge for our activities . The cost is provided by donations to the centre in general or to special activities or projects.
