Rowan Romania is a UK charity that is committed to supporting adults with special needs in a long-stay psychiatric hospital in Zarnesti, Romania. This hospital has around 150 patients, and is severely over-crowded and under-funded.

The charity has raised funds in the UK through such activities as the sale of donated goods, pub quizzes, and encouraging donations, and then used such funds (working alongside a local representative in Romania, and in collaboration with local officials) to help employ care-workers at the hospital, and source and supply basic essentials for the patients.

The trustees have had regard to the guidance on public benefit issued by the Charity Commission when exercising any powers or duties to which the guidance would be relevant.
