Objectives and Activities

	SORP reference
Summary of the purposes of the charity as set out in its governing document	Para 1.17	<ul style="list-style-type: none">To create a world where all women have menstrual dignity We are committed to ensuring that women have adequate access to menstrual products and education. Our campaigns encourage open and honest conversations about periods, helping to eliminate stigma and shame so that women do not experience health issues as a result of their menstrual cycle. We also work with international communities to address the lack of basic amenities and actively campaign for policy change that supports menstrual dignity. In addition, Binti collaborates with organisations to implement period dignity in the workplace, working closely with HR and Facilities teams to create meaningful and lasting change.

Summary of the main activities in relation to those purposes for the public benefit, in particular, the activities, projects or services identified in the accounts.	Para 1.17 and 1.19	Binti’s Impact Binti has carried out a wide range of impactful initiatives, supporting communities in the UK, The Gambia, the US and India. We use social media to reach audiences beyond those nations. Period Dignity in The Gambia <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Continued our relationship with the High Commissioner to the UK from The Gambia, including participation in events where we discussed our work with the Gambian community in the UK. This included the Summer Fair, where our Ambassador Hussain Dada performed. We also supported the Foreign Minister’s campaign to become Secretary General for the Commonwealth, which helped establish new partnerships. • Participated in BBC’s Focus on Africa, where our Ambassador highlighted the importance of menstrual education in The Gambia. • Delivered menstrual health workshops for children and community members. • Completed the second phase of menstrual education, expanding topics to include FGM, menopause, polygamy, and “Good Touch, Bad Touch.” • Our Ambassador Hussain Dada promoted menstrual dignity to a large audience via big screens at his concert — the first initiative of its kind. • Recognised with an award for the positive empowerment of women and girls during The Gambia’s 60th Independence celebrations. • Period Dignity India <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Delivered menstrual education to a school in Lakhsee, Punjab.

- Interviewed students to participate in video blogs, sharing their personal experiences and stories around menstruation.
- Visited a nurses' college to create video content and research how gynaecological and menstrual education is delivered within the curriculum.

Period Dignity London

- Participated in community events, including a fair in Weybridge, where we distributed free period products as part of our campaign with Surrey County Council, and raised funds through donated clothing sales.
- Expanded our campaign by partnering with additional retailers, including a dentist in Woking and Tesco in Weybridge, and onboarding Punjab Restaurant in Covent Garden as the first restaurant participant.
- Contributed to a podcast discussing the importance of including men in conversations about menstruation, reaching a wide audience within the Asian community.
- Continued partnerships as a selected charity for AFSA and APNA, hosting stands at conferences to raise funds and integrate menstrual awareness within the Fire Service and NHS nationally.
- Produced a film with Nottingham Fire and Rescue to highlight the importance of menstrual dignity in the workplace.
- Delivered period products to Thomson Reuters as their charity partner, supporting dignity at work initiatives across their international organisation.
- Invited to judge the BBC Surrey and Sussex Make a Difference Awards.
- Nominated for Stars in Surrey and won.
- Awarded Outstanding Contribution to Charity by AFSA.

- Supported the design and development of a website for a Chinese period product manufacturer, ensuring appropriate language and messaging around menstrual dignity (four-month project).
- Attended key events at the House of Commons, engaging in discussions on health and women's issues throughout the year.
- Created social media video content using a period simulator to highlight menstrual pain and its real-life impact.
- Acted as charity partner for International Women's Day with Theramex, delivering global activities including webinars in Spanish, Italian, and English, as well as internal menstrual education. Contributed to their HR policy and supported multiple fundraising initiatives.
- Invited to present and host a stand at Unison in Newcastle, delivering a range of activities.
- Keynote speaker at the Menstruation Network Research Conference with UEL.
- Panelist on the Gender Equality Network.

Period Dignity USA

- Met with politicians and community leaders in Florida to conduct research.
- Explored fundraising opportunities.
- Connected with schools to assess opportunities for delivering remote menstrual education.
- Our Ambassadors attended the World Bank Spring Fair in Washington.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	Binti signed the first council in the UK to our Dignity at Work campaign with Surrey County Council. This means we are in 55 locations across the county. We are working towards ensuring all public places provide free period products as they do toilet paper and soap. The project has been sustainable and instrumental in changing the conversation around periods to create normalcy. In The Gambia we signed an MOU with the Government to deliver menstrual education across the country. It will also become part of the curriculum. We have now delivered the menstrual training to 200 teachers locally. We launched the first Period Charity Shop in Walton on Thames. This was a wonderful way of initiating a conversation about periods. Many girls and women came into discuss menstruation and explored the various types of products available. It's almost like we have never had an opportunity to talk about it before.

Summary of the main achievements of the charity, identifying the difference the charity's work has made to the circumstances of its beneficiaries and any wider benefits to society as a whole.	Para 1.20	Binti Launched a campaign with Surrey County Council to provide free period products to anyone that needs them across the county and became the first County in England to do so. Anyone can walk into nearly 60 locations across the county and pick up period products or donate pads for those that need them. This ground breaking initiative is designed to ensure nobody has to use toilet paper in between buying period products or when they get cut short. SCC will also work with Binti to eradicate stigma and taboo with our Dignity at Work Campaign. Morrisons in Weybridge also joined the Dignity at Work campaign along with a number of smaller businesses. The church in Weybridge has also started with the free provision. Binti was able to diversify its offerings during the Pandemic and help a local housing estate for the elderly with the provision of free food bi-weekly and running errands for them during lockdown and whilst they were vulnerable with the effects of Covid. We signed up several organisations internationally too, including Theramex a pharmaceutical company with over 500 employees globally to our Dignity at Work Campaign. They also ran a fundraising event internally for International Women's Day. Our Founder and CEO Manjit K Gill was awarded an MBE for her services of the provision of period products globally by Her Majesty the Queen for her birthday honours.
